Dear Hillary:

Thank you for your wonderful letter. I enjoyed hearing from you.

I think your poster was very creative and I am delighted that you won your race for student council. Leadership carries a lot of responsibility, and I am impressed that you are seeking this at such an early age.

I wish you much success as a council member.

Sincerely yours,

Hillary Rodham Clinton

Dear Mrs. Clinton,

My name is Hillary Anderson.

I live in Vincennes, Indiana.

This year I'm in fourth grade and I was running for Student Council, and the poster I sent you is one of the posters that I used to campaign, I won thank you for the help.

My dad thought of the idea of using your name.

Sincerely,

Hillary

Dear Mrs. Clinton & Mrs. Gore,

Dr. Mary S. Harper encouraged me to write this note, saying that you might need to hear this.

Being a business owner and constructive citizen, I know only too well that it only takes one measure of destructiveness to offset one hundred measures of constructiveness.

Though my personal sphere of effort and influence is very small, I have learned how difficult it is to achieve real progress and how much personal energy and enthusiasm it takes. While good will infuses us with the necessary energy; negativism steals it away from us. It is most unfortunate for you, for your families, and for our society that a whole new level of viciousness is at hand.

You will prevail through all of this and you must know that people who sincerely care about more than themselves wish you well being and pray for and with you.

Accept this note as one little spark of goodwill.

Sincerely yours,

Michael P. Lennon

Dear Mr. Lennon:

Thank you for your thoughtful letter. Your words of encouragement and support mean a great deal to me.

It is a pleasure to hear from individuals who share a vision of a better life for all Americans. A common belief in family, community, and country guides each of us as we work to realize the promise of America. Your ideas and thoughts offer added inspiration as the President works to ensure that every American's future is filled with courage, hope, and confidence.

I appreciate the interest and concern that your letter conveys. Thank you for taking the time to write.

Dear Ms. Clinton:

While driving to work this morning, I was almost moved to tears during a segment about you on National Public Radio.

I am appalled and saddened by the hate directed at you and the President. I want you to know that there are millions of us who admire and respect you. Please don't let the hostility hinder your work and goals.

I hope this letter is forwarded to you; everyone needs a little positive reinforcement now and then!

Very truly yours,

Attention: Letters to the Editor

Eight letters to the Editor attributing disdain for Hillary Clinton. Surely you must have received some letters from subscribers expressing a positive opinion for Hillary Clinton.

I am a subscriber to the Wall Street Journal. Morover, I dont share any of the spiteful views contained in those letters to the Editor. I do recognize that it took courage to present a Health Plan. Ultimately The United States Congress will adopt a Health Plan.

I predict that Historians will be more kind to Hillary Clinton.

Yours truly.

Dear Mrs. Clinton:

I enclose a copy of a letter which I directed to the Wall Street Journal. The copy speaks for itself. Hopefully the paper will publish the communication. If they dont, it will be evident that the Journal is very selective in their choice of letters which they publish.

I am a retired lawyer.

Dear Hillary,

I am writing to add my voice to the hundreds of thousands of others who have made known their love for you.

My awareness of people "out there" who oppose you and the President based on nothing but some visceral emotion having nothing whatsoever to do with reason is painful to me, as it must be even more so to you. I chalk it up partially to ignorance and bigotry, and one cannot discount a certain lynch-mob mentality.

In your own case, much of the negativism is clearly sexist--not only by males, but also on the part of women who are back in the Stone Age and believe women--no matter how brilliant and talented--belong in the kitchen (as you said, "baking cookies.")

For what it is worth, be assured that my friends and I love, admire, and respect you, and support you and President Clinton 100%.
