MEMORANDUM TO THE PRESIDENT
THE FIRST LADY

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

CC: Leon Panetta

Janice Enright
Tim Keating

From: Harold Ickes

Re: The swearing in ceremony, Monday 20 January

There are several specific points to be brought to your attention and a number of issues in connection with the swearing in ceremony on Monday 20 January that need to be resolved.

For the purposes of the this memorandum the "swearing in ceremony" consists of the coffee with the Joint Congressional Committee on Inaugural Ceremonies ("JCCIC") at the White House, the configuration of the motorcade from the White House to the Capitol and the seating configuration for the inner platform, the outer platform, the terrace and the lower terrace at the Capital in connection with the swearing in ceremonies.

JCCIC very much wants our final seating configuration by noon Thursday. Therefore, I request that you review this memo at your very earliest possible convenience.

1. Coffee with members of JCCIC: At approximately 10:30AM on Monday, the 7 members of JCCIC will come to the White House to have a very short coffee with the President, the Vice President, the First Lady and Mrs. Gore. The members of the cabinet will gather at the White House and at approximately 10:50, will leave for the Capital. At the same time, the President, et al., the members of JCCIC and a limited number of other guests will proceed to the motorcade in front of the White House to drive to the Capital. Attached as schedule A is the proposed configuration for the Presidential motorcade.

The President's party should arrive at the Capital no later than 11:10AM and will be immediately taken into holding room S104. The First Lady and Chelsea will go to holding room S105 which connects to S104.

The Vice President and Mrs. Gore will go to holding room S108.

Shortly before 11:30AM, when the official ceremony begins, the President will be escorted to the inner platform in front of the Capital where the swearing in ceremony will take place.

2. Seating near the podium: Tim Keating has done an absolutely superb job as the White House liaison to the JCCIC in securing a large number of seats and preferential standing room tickets for PIC as well as handling all other arrangements with JCCIC. There are 4 seating areas near the podium. JCCIC, which controls this ceremony, has allocated to the Presidential Inaugural Committee ("PIC") specific numbers of seats for the inner platform, the outer platform, the terrace, the lower terrace and seats on the mall facing the Capital.

The inner platform is where the podium is located and where the swearing in will actually take place.

The outer platform is the semicircle behind the inner platform.

The terrace is bleacher seats in back of and higher than the outer platform.

The lower terrace is at each side of the base of the inner platform and provides good seats except people must look up to see the inner platform/podium.

The number of seats that PIC has been allocated by JCCIC for each of these areas are as follows:

- inner platform: 145
- outer platform: 120
- terrace: 70
- lower terrace: 190

In addition to these seats, JCCIC has given PIC approximately 4,500 seats on the "mall" area facing the podium.

Finally, JCCIC has given PIC approximately 54,000 standing area tickets on the mall facing the podium, of which some 30,000 are fairly close.

Attached as schedule B is an 11 page document captioned "Swearing In Ceremony Seating" dated 15 January 1997, 11:00AM in the upper right hand corner. It lists the proposed people to be seated in each of the 4 prime areas (inner platform, outer platform, terrace and lower terrace).

The number of people in the specific categories proposed for each area are as follows:

Inner platform (145 available) (see pp. 1-4 of schedule B)

President's family	10
Vice President's family	15
Statutory Cabinet + 1 guest per	40
Extended Cabinet + 1 guest per	26
(including Panetta and Bowles)
Other guests (including Dole + King)
+ 1 guest per	27
PIC officials (only 2 of the 7	9
PIC officials will be permitted a guest on inner)
COS	3
-assigned	130
-unassigned	15

Outer platform (120 available) (see pp5-6 of schedule B)

Assistants to the President	21
(no guests)
President's guests	27
Vice President's guests	30
President's staff (Nancy Hemreich	2 and Betty Currie)
PIC Vice Chairs (no guests)	15 (Tish not coming)
Others	12
-assigned	107
-unassigned	13

Terrace (70 available) (see p. 7 if Schedule B)

-assigned	35
-unassigned	35

Lower Terrace (190 available) (see pp. 8-9 of Schedule B)

-President's friends (see p. 8)	12
-Deputy Assistant's to the President	58
+ 1 guest per (see p. 8)
-C/G campaign + 1 guest per	20
-assigned	90
-unassigned	100

Under this proposed configuration, there are 28 unassigned seats on the inner and outer platforms, combined.

There are several points to be brought to your specific attention and several issues that need to be resolved. NOTE: As you make decisions on the following points keep in mind that if the configuration for the inner and outer platforms set forth in attached Schedule B is accepted, there are only 15 unassigned seats on the inner platform and only 13 unassigned seats on the outer platform. Of course you can decide to move some of the existing people out and replace them. Or you could decide not to permit the Cabinet/extended Cabinet to have guests on the inner platform. This would free up some 33 seats. Or you could decide that the 21 Assistants to the President should sit elsewhere than on the outer platform.

Inner platform:

1. Cabinet/extended cabinet: The inner platform has all incoming and outgoing cabinet members and one guest each for both the 14 member statutory cabinet as well as the extended cabinet. This group of 66 people also includes Erskine and Crandell Bowles.

There are 6 outgoing Cabinet members (Kantor, Perry, O'Leary, Cisneros, Reich, Christopher, Deutsch (who is not attending) plus their guests.

Maggie Williams, Nancy Hernreich, Ann Stock, Capricia Marshall, Janice Enright, Tim Keating, I and others met last night (Tuesday) and strongly recommend that the cabinet and extended cabinet be permitted either to have one guest or that none of them be permitted to have a guest. We do not think it advisable to permit those who have spouses to bring them but not to permit those who do not have spouses not to bring a guest. If you were to decide no spouses/guests for the cabinet/extended cabinet, this would open up approximately 33 seats.

2. Senator Dole: After consulting with the Vice President, the First Lady, Leon will invite Senator and Mrs. Dole to sit on the inner platform.

3. Mayor Barry: You agreed that Mayor Barry and one guest would be invited to seat on the inner platform.

4. Jesse Jackson: By virtue of the fact that his daughter Santita is singing at the swearing in, she has one seat for a guest. We therefore propose to offer Reverend Jackson one seat without a guest, telling him that his daughter Santita can make available her guest seat for Reverend Jackson's wife.

5. Labor: John Sweeney and a guest, Gerald McEntee and a guest and Bob Chase (NEA) and a guest are currently seated on the inner platform. Since neither Rich Trumpka nor Linda Chavez Thompson (both of whom are officers of the AFL-CIO, which McEntee is not), I strongly suggest that McEntee be seated on the ground facing the podium.

6. James Carville: He is seated on the inner platform.

7. PIC official: At my suggestion, only Terry McAuliffe and Ann Jordan, of the 7 PIC officials (see page 4 of schedule B), would be permitted to have a guest. Thus, Craig Smith, Deborah Willhite, Harold Ickes, Laura Hartigan and Dan Dutko will not have guests on the inner platform. Rather their guests will be seated on the terrace level.

8. Other COS's: Likewise with Ron Klain, Maggie Williams and Skila Harris. They will be seated on the inner platform, but their guests will be seated on the terrace.

9. Dexter King: Although Mrs. King will not attend, her son Dexter will. I understand that he must be seated on the inner platform, but his guest can be seated elsewhere.

Outer platform:

10. Assistants to the President: Assistants to the President will be seated on the outer platform without guests. Their guests will be seated on the terrace.

11. President's guests: Additional Presidential guests will be seated on the outer platform. See page 5 of schedule B.

12. President's staff: Nancy Hernreich and Betty Curie will be seated on the outer platform without guests. Others of the President's Oval Office staff will be seated on the terrace.

13. PIC Vice Chairs: The 16 PIC Vice Chairs, without guests, will be seated on the outer platform. Their guests will be seated on the ground facing the podium.

14. Others on outer platform: Phil and Linda Lader will be seated on the outer platform as will Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kelley and Senator Dodd's guest as will Chairman Fowler and one guest.

14a. Craig Smith: I have been told that Craig Smith very much wants his wife to be seated with him on the inner platform, but, like all other PIC officials (other than Terry McAuliffe and Ann Jordan), it is proposed that his "guest" will be seated on the terrace.

Terrace level:

15. 70 seats are available. Page 7 of schedule B lists 35 people proposed for that area. They include the guests of the 5 other PIC officials, the guests of Ron Klain, Maggie Williams and Skila Harris, guests of the Assistants to the President, as well as the rest of the personal Oval Office staff of the President.

There are 35 seats still unassigned.

Lower terrace:

16. The President's friends: Page 8 of schedule B lists the 12 friends of the President to be seated in this area.

17. Deputy Assistants to the President: All Deputy Assistant to the President including those who are incoming, plus one guest each, are seated in this area.

17a. Note: Special Assistants to the President and other White House staff not seated in one of these 4 sections (inner platform, etc.) will be seated on the ground facing the podium or will receive preferred standing tickets.

18. Clinton/Gore campaign/DNC: Top people from Clinton/Gore and the DNC are also seated in the lower terrace, including Debra DeLee.

19. Pending decisions: Page 10 of schedule B is a partial list of people who I need your advice as to which area you would prefer them to be seated, including Kofi Annan, the new Secretary General of the United Nations (the NSC advises that he should be seated with all other diplomats and that it is not necessary to have him on either platform), Frank Greer and Stephanie Soline, Marsha Scott, Kevin O'Keefe and others.

20. Finance: Page 10A lists the names of 11 finance people who Dan Dutko, Terry McAuliffe and Laura Hartigan urge be seated on the inner or outer platforms. They are listed in order of priority. Their spouses/guests do not necessarily have to be seated with them.

Miscellaneous issues:

21. Al Shanker: Should Al Shanker be seated on the outer platform, since the NEA National President is seated on that same platform? This will probably be "unacceptable" to the AFL-CIO.

22. Assistants to the President: I think a strong argument can be made for the Assistants to the President to be seated in either the terrace or the lower terrace, thereby freeing up an additional 21 seats on the outer platform for friends and supporters from around the country.

23. Debra DeLee: Given that she was a former DNC Chair and the CEO of the National Convention, I urge that she be seated on the outer platform.

24. David Wilhelm: Should he be seated on the outer platform?

25. Marvin Rosen: Should he be seated on the outer platform?

26. Scott Pastrick: Should he as DNC Treasurer be seated on the outer platform?

27. Truman Arnold: Should he as DNC former Finance Chair, (and his wife?) Be seated on the outer platform?

28. George Stephanopoulos: I am told George will be working for ABC and, therefore, will not be attending. I will double check.

29. Stan Greenberg: Should Stan Greenberg be seated on the outer platform? Both Paul and Diane Begala are seated there and James Carville is seated on the inner platform.

30. Mandy Grunwald: Should Mandy Grunwald be seated on the outer platform?

31. Roy Firman: As the first DNC treasurer under David Wilhelm, should Roy Firman be seated on the outer platform?

32. Bob Matsui: Since he is seated with the Congress, as former Treasurer of the DNC and current Deputy Chair of the DNC does not have to be seated on the outer platform?

33. Roy Romer: Since he is seated in the governors box, he does not have to be seated on the outer platform?

34. Steve Grossman: Should he be seated on the outer platform?

35. Mike Berman: Should he be seated in one of these 4 areas?

36. Gerry McEntee: Gerry McEntee is not an officer of the AFL-CIO (Rich Trumpka and Linda Chavez Thompson are). I do not think that he should be seated on the platform. Rather, he should be given a "front row" seat on the mall facing the platform. Likewise for Mr. Shanker.

37. George Mitchell: Should he (and a guest?) be asked to sit on the inner or outer platform?

38. Mike Dukakis: Should he (and a guest?) be asked to sit on the inner or outer platform?

39. Ann Lewis: Currently slated for the lower terrace. Probably should be moved to the outer platform.

40. Recapitulation: Under this proposed configuration (Schedule B), the following seats are unassigned:

inner platform	15
outer platform	13
terrace	35
lower terrace	100

Below is a partial list of people either not yet seated in one of these 4 areas or whose seat you may want to change to a different location (including moving some to seats on the ground facing the podium).

The list below shows 55 people who could be considered for either the inner or outer platform. Yet if the proposed configuration for the inner and outer platforms set forth in attached schedule B are accepted, only 28 seats remain (15 inner and 13 outer); unless you decide to not permit the 33 Cabinet guests on the inner platform or the 21 Assistants to the President to sit elsewhere than on the outer platform. PRESIDENT WILLIAM J. CLINTON

INAUGURAL ADDRESS
U.S. CAPITOL
JANUARY 20, 1997

My fellow citizens:

At this last Presidential inauguration of the 20th Century, let us lift our eyes toward the challenges that await us in the next century. It is our great good fortune that time and chance have put us not only on the edge of a new century, in a new millennium, but on the edge of a bright new prospect in human affairs. A moment that will define our course, and our character, for decades to come. We must keep our old democracy forever young. Guided by the ancient vision of a promised land, let us set our sights upon a land of new promise.

The promise of America was born in the 18th Century out of the bold conviction that we are all created equal. It was extended and preserved in the 19th Century, when our nation spread across the continent, saved the union, and abolished the scourge of slavery.

Then, in turmoil and triumph, that promise exploded onto the world stage to make this the American Century.

What a century it has been. America became the world's mightiest industrial power; saved the world from tyranny in two world wars and a long cold war; and time and again, reached across the globe to millions who longed for the blessings of liberty.

Along the way, Americans produced the great middle class and security in old age; built unrivaled centers of learning and opened public schools to all; split the atom and explored the heavens; invented the computer and the microchip; made a revolution in civil rights for minorities, and extended the circle of citizenship, opportunity, and dignity to women.

Now, for the third time, a new century is upon us, and another time to choose. We began the 19th century with a choice to spread our nation from coast to coast. We began the 20th century, with a choice to harness the Industrial Revolution to our values of free enterprise, conservation, and human decency.

Those choices made all the difference. At the dawn of the 21st Century, a free people must choose to shape the forces of the Information Age and the global society, to unleash the limitless potential of all our people, and form a more perfect union.

When last we gathered, our march to this new future seemed less certain than today. We vowed then to set a clear course, to renew our nation.

In these four years, we have been touched by tragedy, exhilarated by challenge, strengthened by achievement.

and secured the well spring of justice by making a revolution in civil rights for all minorities & extending America stands alone as the world's indispensable nation. Once again, our economy is the strongest on earth. Once again, we are building stronger families, thriving communities, better educational opportunities, a cleaner environment. Problems that once seemed destined to deepen now bend to our efforts: our streets are safer and record numbers of people have moved from welfare to work.

And once again, we have resolved for our time a great debate over the role of government. Today we can declare: Government is not the problem; government is not the solution. We, the American people, we are the solution.

Our Founders understood that well, and gave us a democracy strong enough to endure for centuries, flexible enough to face our common challenges and advance our common dreams.

As times change, so government must change. We need a new government for a new century, a government humble enough not to try to solve all our problems for us, but strong enough to give us the tools to solve our problems for ourselves. A government that is smaller, lives within its means, and does more with less.

Yet where it can stand up for our values and interests in the world, and where it can give Americans the power to make a real difference in their everyday lives, government should do more, not less. The preeminent mission of our new government is to give all Americans an opportunity -- not a guarantee -- but a real opportunity to build better lives.

Beyond that, my fellow citizens, the future is up to us. Our Founders taught us that the preservation of our liberty and our union depends upon responsible citizenship.

And we need a new sense of responsibility for a new century. There is work to do, work that government alone cannot do. Teaching children to read. Hiring people off welfare. Coming out from behind locked doors and shuttered windows to help reclaim our streets from drugs, gangs and crime. Taking time out from our own lives to serve others.

Each and every one of us, in our own way, must assume personal responsibility -- not only for ourselves and our families, but for our neighbors and our nation.

Our greatest responsibility is to embrace a new spirit of community for a new century. For any one of us to succeed, we must succeed as one America.

The challenge of our past remains the challenge of our future: Will we be one nation, one people, with one common destiny -- or not? Will we all come together, or come apart?

The divide of race has been America's constant curse. Each new wave of immigrants gives new targets to old persecutions. Prejudice and contempt, cloaked in the pretense of religious or political conviction, are no different.

They have nearly destroyed us in the past. They plague us still. They fuel the fanaticism of terror. They torment the lives of millions in fractured nations around the world.

These obsessions cripple both those who are hated, and those who hate. We cannot -- we will not -- succumb to the dark impulses that lurk in the far regions of the soul, everywhere. We shall overcome them, and replace them with the generous spirit of people who feel at home with one another.

Our rich texture of racial, religious and political diversity will be a Godsend in the 21st Century. Great rewards will come to those who can live together, learn together, work together, forge new ties that bind together.

As the new era approaches, we can already see its broad outlines. Ten years ago, the Internet was the mystical province of physicists; today, it is a commonplace encyclopedia for millions of schoolchildren. Scientists are decoding the blueprint of human life. Cures for our most feared illnesses seem close at hand.

The world is no longer divided into two hostile camps; instead, we are building bonds with nations that once were our adversaries. Growing connections of commerce and culture give us a chance to lift the fortunes and spirits of people everywhere. And for the very first time in history, more people live under democracy than dictatorship.

My fellow Americans, can we hope not just to follow, but to surpass the achievements of the 20th Century, and to avoid the awful bloodshed that stained its legacy? To that question, every American must answer a resounding, "Yes."

This is the heart of our task: With a new vision of government, a new sense of responsibility, a new spirit of community, we will sustain America's journey. The promise we sought in a new land, we will find again in a land of new promise.

In our land, education will be every citizen's most prized possession, our schools will have the highest standards in the world, igniting the spark of possibility in the eyes of every girl and every boy, and the doors of higher education will be open to all. The knowledge and power of the Information Age will be within the reach not of a few, but of every classroom, every library, every child.

Parents and children will have time to read and play together, and the plans they make at their kitchen table will be those for a better home, a better job, the certain chance to go to college.

no one should be their n self

Our streets will echo with the laughter of children, because our ~~neighborhoods are safe~~ ~~again~~! Everyone who can work, will work, with today's permanent underclass a part of tomorrow's growing middle class. New miracles of medicine at last will reach children and hardworking families too long denied.

then drugs anyone

We will stand mighty for peace and freedom, and maintain a strong defense against the dark forces of terror and destruction. Our children will sleep free from the threat of nuclear, chemical or biological weapons. Ports and airports, farms and factories will thrive with trade and innovation and ideas. And the world's greatest democracy will lead a whole world of democracies.

Our land of new promise will be a nation that meets its obligations: A nation that balances its budget, and never loses the balance of its values. A nation where grandparents have secure retirement and health care, and their grandchildren know we have made the reforms necessary to sustain the benefits for their time.

A nation that fortifies the world's most productive economy even as it protects our great natural bounty of water, air, and majestic land.

And we will reform our politics so that in this land, the voice of the people will always speak louder than the din of narrow interests -- regaining the participation and deserving the trust of all Americans.

Let us build that America, a nation ever moving forward toward realizing the full potential of all its citizens.

Prosperity and power are important, and we must maintain them. But let us never forget:
The greatest progress we have made, and the greatest progress we have yet to make, is in the human heart. In the end, all the world's wealth and a thousand armies are no match for the strength and decency of the human spirit.

Thirty-four years ago, the man whose life we celebrate today spoke to us -- there -- from the other end of this mall, in words that moved the conscience of a nation. Like a prophet of old, he told of his dream, that one day America would rise up and treat all its citizens as equals before the law and in the heart.

Martin Luther King's dream was the American Dream. His quest is our quest: the ceaseless striving to live out our true creed. Our history has been built on such dreams and labors. And by our dreams and labors we will redeem the promise of America in the 21st Century.

To that effort, I pledge all my strength and every power of my office. I ask the members of Congress here to join in that pledge. The American people returned to office a President of one party and a Congress of another. Surely, they did not do this to advance the politics of petty bickering and extreme partisanship they plainly deplore. No, they call on us instead to repair the breach, and to move on with America's eternal mission.

America demands and deserves big things from us -- and nothing big ever came from being small. Let us remember the wisdom of Cardinal Bernadin, facing the end of his own life: "It is wrong to waste the precious gift of time . . . on acrimony and division."

We must not waste the precious gift of this time. For all of us are on that same journey of life, and our journey, too, will come to an end. But the journey of America must go on.

And so, my fellow Americans, we must be strong, for there is much to dare. The demands of our time are great, and they are different. Let us meet them with faith and courage, with patience and a grateful heart. Let us shape the hope of this day into the noblest chapter of our history. Yes, let us build our bridge, wide enough and strong enough for every American to cross over to a blessed land of new promise.

Re: Mack Statham (Organist)

Thanks for receiving the information I gave to you recently regarding Mack Statham. I suggested his name to you as a possible organist to play the Postlude at the end of the National Prayer Service on Monday, January 20, 1997. Apart from being an excellent musician, I suggested Dr. Statham for two additional reasons which I now want to bring to your attention.

First, Dr. Statham is local; he lives in Laurel. He wrote and performed a musical trilogy about the life of Dr. Martin Luther King ("Trilogy of Dreams"), and it was performed last year with the Baltimore Symphony. He is not a friend of mine, though I respect his work enormously, and regard him as a first rate musician. His postludes, many of which are original, at our church have been powerful, and have often evoked both ovations and tears of joy.

Second, Dr. Statham is Minister of Music at Asbury United Methodist Church. Asbury is a 160 years old downtown church with a predominantly African-American congregation. Its sanctuary is registered as a National Historic landmark, and it is one of the largest churches in the Baltimore-Washington Conference. More significantly, Asbury was born out of the Foundry United Methodist Church, which, if I am not mistaken, is the church in Washington most frequently attended by the President and First Lady. For many years prior to the Emancipation, black parishioners worshipped in the balcony of Foundry. At some point, the black worshippers began to outnumber the white ones, and the Methodist conference at that time made a land grant for the blacks to start and build their own church. Asbury has been a church home to a number of prominent national and local citizens, including Mary McLeod Bethune, Althea Gibson, Carol Thompson Cole, Clive Callender, among others. I say all of this to suggest that it would be an honor not just for Dr. Statham to render the postlude at the church service, but a source of pride for all Asburyans.

I do not know what relevance this will have on your decision, but I felt it important to catalog some of these thoughts. I hope that you will call upon Dr. Statham, but, if not, I appreciate the effort you have made to try.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Flo McAfee

RE: National Prayer Service

For your review and approval, attached is the final draft of the service of worship for the National Prayer Service. There are two major changes. Rabbi Genack, although he truly wanted to do the Old Testament reading, will not be able to because he is orthodox (see attached letter). Rabbi Kushner has agreed to give the reading.

Andrew Young, unfortunately, will not be able to attend the service. He has a long-standing commitment in Minnesota on Sunday evening. He also seems to be quite tired from his extensive traveling since the Olympics. Linda Lader suggests that we ask Tony Campolo to share a few words on building community. With Jesse Jackson and Tony Campolo, it is a good balance of speakers giving brief remarks with no main sermon. Tony has not been asked, but he will be attending the service.

Please let me know if you approve of the draft of the service. The program needs to go to press tomorrow, January 16.

FAITH AND ASSURANCE

E PLURIBUS UNUM (Powerful song...recorded with London National Philharmonic)

Long, Long ago
And so far away
The dream was born in man
To be free.
Men who believed
In God's mighty power
Joined their hearts as one
To be free.

Chorus:

Freedom to worship, and to love
To work together
Freedom to pray to God
With their children.
America, America
Lighthouse in a lonely world
Shining high for freedom.
God bless America
His grace is on you
E pluribus unum
In God we trust.

Trumpet Solo

REPEAT CHORUS

Here's to George Washington
And Abraham Lincoln
Here's to the men who died
To give us freedom.
Flying High
Like the eagle
God bless America
Land of freedom.
My land of freedom
Long live freedom.

Prayer Chorus
by Nancy Grandquist

With tender trusting hearts we come Into Your presence, Holy One.
And as Your Spirit draws us near,
Take all our doubts, take all our fear.

Lord, we ask that You would speak,
For by Your Word we are complete.
Prepare our hearts, anoint our ears,
And we will hear, yes, we will hear.

Have mercy, Lord, stretch out Your hand,
Bring us together, and we will stand.
Give us the power that You command,
Have mercy, Lord, and heal this land.

So by Your Spirit and Your Word
Revive us now, our hearts be stirred.
Lost ones will come and find their way.
These things we ask, these things we pray.

Holy Ground
by Geron Davis

When I walked through the doors, I sensed His presence,
And I knew this was a place where love abounds.
For this is a temple, Jehovah God abides here,
And we're standing in His presence on Holy Ground.

We are standing on Holy Ground,
And I know that there are angels all around.
Let us praise Jesus now,
For we are standing in His presence on Holy Ground.

In His presence, there is joy beyond measure,
And at His feet peace of mind can still be found.
If you have a need, I know He has the answer.
Reach out and claim it,
For you are standing on Holy Ground.
