RECEPTION FOR WHITE HOUSE RESTORATION FUND DONORS

DATE:	September 29, 1993
LOCATION:	Blue Room
TIME:	7:05 p.m.
FROM:	Kim Tilley, Amy Nemko

I PURPOSE

To show appreciation for those who donated materials or funds for the White House restoration.

II BACKGROUND

Congress appropriates funding for White House maintenance, but most of the funding for interior decorations and historical restoration comes from private donations. The White House Historical Association, as well as private individuals, have been the major contributors.

Jacqueline Kennedy and the White House Historical Association

Jacqueline Kennedy initiated the project to restore the White House, and created the White House Historical Association. She personally dug through a warehouse containing a century and a half of White House furnishings not sold in auctions, and selected numerous pieces to be cleaned, restored, and displayed. She defined her project for the public: "...the White House does and must continue to represent the living, evolving character of the Executive Branch of the National Government," and wanted to have at least one object from every presidential family. At her request, Senator Anderson and Rep. Rutherford authored legislation that gave the White House museum status so that donated artifacts became the property of the White House.

III PARTICIPANTS

Approximately 250 people to attend.
List follows.

MEMORANDUM FOR MARGARET WILLIAMS

FROM: GARY WALTERS

SUBJECT: REDECORATION

Attached are the facts and figures that were requested at our meeting yesterday. Kaki met with Mr. Wurz of the Nelson Beck Co. this morning and they made the final decisions concerning the design of drapes for the bedroom and the Lincoln Sitting Room, as well as, the extent of the work yet to be done in those areas where fabrics have been donated or already purchased. After Kaki met with Mr. Wurz, I met with him and obtained firm bids for work yet to be done and work that is in various stages of completion.

I have not referred to previous estimates and projections as some of those numbers are no longer valid.

DETERMINED TO BE AN ADMINISTRATIVE
MARKING Per E.O. 12958 as amended, Sec. 3.3 (c)

Initials: By Date: 9/16/2013
2013-0359-5

Renovations

Nelson Wurz started in the window coverings field when he got a part time job as a drapery installer when he was in college. He was a theatre major and taught technical theatre at George Washington University for a time before returning to the drapery field. He and his wife, Dorothy, conducted a drapery business from their apartment for ten months before they formed a partnership with Marvin Beck and established Nelson Beck of Washington over a hardware store at 20th and M Sts. NW. Marvin Beck left the area in 1956 and Nelson Wurz became president and CEO of Nelson Beck of Washington. Dorothy Wurz is Vice Pres. & Sec.-Treas. of the Corporation.

Nelson Beck has specialized in hand made custom draperies, maintaining high standards and quality workmanship for 39 years. The list of services and products is long. Nelson has always said "If you get a gleam in your eye just draw it, ~~and we can make it.~~" and we can make it."

The firm has been active in the residential field - working for interior designers and architectural firms. In addition, they do a great deal of theatrical work - both manufacturing and designing auditorium, curtains, concert sets, television backdrops, furnishing stage hardware and movie screens. They do a great deal of exhibition and period draperies, working with curators at the National Trust, the National Portrait Gallery, the Renwick Gallery, the Museum of American Art, the Corcoran Gallery, the White House, the DAR Museum, and the Capitol, among others.

Many of you probably saw the November issue of Dossier magazine with the dramatic photograph of Nelson and Dorothy draped in the silk fabric used for wall upholstery in the Sioux City South Dakota Heritage Museum. Let me now introduce you to the Head Draper, the Pasha of Pleats, the Emir of Elegance, the Aga Khan of Cornices-----Nelson Wurz.

Outstanding jobs Nelson Beck performed:

At the White House:

Upholstered the walls of the Green Room

Upholstered ~~several~~ of the Bellingham chairs in the Blue Room

Slipcovers for the Bushes

Draperies for Entry & Chief Usher's Office

Upholstery in ~~the public rooms~~ during both Reagan & Bush administrations.

At the Treasury:

Draperies and window treatments in the restored period offices.

Vice President's House during Rockefeller's term: on Observatory Hill:

Drapery treatments and upholstery, including silk bedspread for the famed Max Ernst bed (work performed for Navy Dept.

Blair House:

Decorator: Camilla Payne - work performed when Wiley Buchanan was Protocol Chief.

Educational Background:

Nelson Wurz - George Washington University graduate - Drama

Dorothy Wurz - U. of Wisconsin-Oshkosh - received Outstanding Alumni Achievement Award 1985

FROM: Vincent W. Foster VF
Deputy Counsel to the President

RE: Donation of Goods for Clinton White House Project

The attached 1st list is of donations to the White House, by donor, which have been received.

The attached 2nd list is of gifts, by donor, which have not yet been received.

As we discussed, a couple wishes to donate the rug which is being crafted for the Oval Office but they wish to remain anonymous. You have suggested that they may either donate the rug to the White House Historical Society or donate to the Historical Society an amount equal to the cost of the rug with a direction that the donation be expended on the rug, and in either case, request anonymity. We can all revisit that issue when the rug is completed.

I understand you will coordinate with the National Park Service to assure that these donors receive acknowledgements both from the Executive Residence and from the National Park Service. Please furnish me copies of these acknowledgments.

The White House
Historical Association

In association with The Presidential Inaugural Committee, we would like to present to the White House Historical Association these funds to be used for the refurbishing and restoration of the White House. Through this gift, the First Family can further the efforts of the White House Historical Association to preserve this monument for the admiration of future generations.

Although constructed over 200 years ago, the White House remains one of the world's most impressive estates and welcomes over one million visitors a year. As many first families before us, we would like to revive the essence of the White House as both the home of the First Family and a national treasure.

The past twelve years have taken a toll on the furnishings. In particular, the furniture upholstery, draperies and carpets throughout the White House are worn and replacements are needed desperately. Through the generous contributions of The Presidential Inaugural Committee and others, we will be able to continue the restoration of the White House to its original grandeur.

All inquiries can be directed to Ms.
Maggie Williams who will be acting as spokesperson for the White House regarding all renovation matters.

Sincerely,

President, Bill Clinton

Mrs. Hillary Rodham Clinton

PRESIDENT CLINTON'S RESIDENCE OFFICE

During the first half of the 19th century, this room was used by the presidents as a sitting room or a private meeting room. President Franklin Pierce (1853-1857), however, used it as his office. During the Abraham Lincoln administration, it was a waiting room for appointments to the adjoining President's Office (today's Lincoln Bedroom).

In 1866, President Andrew Johnson made the room his Cabinet Room. It continued to be so used until 1902 under Presidents Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, Cleveland, Harrison, and McKinley and for the first year under Theodore Roosevelt, retaining most of the furnishings especially made for the room in 1869. On August 12, 1898, this room was the site of the signing of the Peace Protocol ending hostilities in the Spanish-American War.

In 1902, the Cabinet Room and the offices of the President and his staff were moved into the newly constructed West Wing, at which time this room became a private study for Presidents Theodore Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson, Harding and Coolidge. During the Hoover administration, it became a sitting room and was furnished by Mrs. Hoover with objects from the Monroe era and with reproductions of furniture that belonged to President Monroe. It then became known as the Monroe Room.

During the Kennedy administration, this room became a private meeting room for the President, furnished to resemble the Cabinet Room of the late 19th century and named the Treaty Room. On October 7, 1963, President Kennedy signed here the ratification of the Treaty for a Partial Nuclear Test Ban, and on September 30, 1972, President Nixon similarly signed the ratification of the Treaty on the Limitation of Anti-Ballistic Missile Systems.

In 1989, the room was converted back into a Residence office for President Bush. The badly deteriorated 1962 wallpaper was removed, and the walls were painted. The Victorian Cabinet furniture was replaced with other objects from the White House collection, including the "Resolute desk" which was returned to the Oval Office in 1993 at the request of President Clinton.

Remaining a Residence office for President Clinton, this room has been redecorated in 1993 in the manner of an English library. The painted woodwork installed in the Truman Renovation was removed to storage and replaced with matching woodwork in a dark-stained walnut. Inlaid walnut bookcases have been constructed for the east wall. Walnut cornices for the new draperies bear a gilt wreath motif derived from the fabric used to upholster several chairs. The cornice and ceiling medallion have been repainted with highlighted details, while the walls have been covered in a vinyl wallpaper simulating red leather. The 1869 Cabinet table has been returned as a desk along with other historic White House furnishings and artworks (described below counterclockwise from the door from the vestibule).

Perry and his naval squadron spent from July 1853 to January 1854 in China. This harbor scene, showing the steam frigates U.S.S. Powhatan and U.S.S. Benjamin Franklin by Benjamin Wilson (1721-1788).

oil on canvas, 1759. This half-length portrait, commissioned by Franklin in London in 1758, shows a streak of lightning at the left alluding to his electricity experiments, a subject about which the artist had also written. This painting was in Franklin's home in Philadelphia when British troops were quartered there during the Revolutionary War. Major John Andre, the infamous conspirator with Benedict Arnold, took the portrait with him to England, where it hung in Howick House, the home of his commanding officer, Major-General Sir Charles Grey. In 1906, in honor of the bicentenary of Franklin's birth, it was given to the United States by the Governor General of Canada, Albert Henry George, 4th Earl Grey.

Signing of the Peace Protocol Between Spain and the United States, August 12, 1898 by Theobald Chartran (1849-1907). oil on canvas, 1899. Support in the United States for the Cuban insurrection against Spanish rule, further incited by the sinking of the battleship U.S.S. Maine in Havana harbor (February 15, 1898), led President William McKinley to request and Congress to enact a state of war with Spain as of April 21. The brief hostilities, marked by dramatic naval victories in Manila Bay in the Philippine Islands (May 1) and off the coast of Santiago de Cuba (July 3) were halted after the signing of a peace protocol in the Cabinet Room of the White House on August 12. Shown signing is the French Ambassador, Jules Cambon, who had negotiated on behalf of the Spanish. Secretary of State William R. Day, who signed for the United States, is seated beside him with three American assistant secretaries and one French secretary standing behind them. Although photographs of the event show President McKinley at the north end of the 1869 Cabinet table (869.209.1), Chartran chose to reverse the scene to show the window and view out through the South Portico. Although it seems that industrialist, Henry Clay Frick, intended this to be a personal gift to President Theodore, it was sent from Oyster Bay to the White House because, as Roosevelt wrote, "the pictures of the White House [then almost exclusively portraits] are not all that fancy". 902.1537.1

North Wall- west

The Peacemakers by George Peter Alexander Healy (1813-1894). oil on canvas, 1868. This scene depicts a meeting late in the Civil War between President Abraham Lincoln and (left-to-right) Major-General William T. Sherman, Lieutenant-General Ulysses S. Grant, and Rear-Admiral David D. Porter. On March 27 and 28, 1865, these leaders met aboard the River Queen, the steamer which had brought the Lincolns to Grant's headquarters on the James River during the siege of Richmond, Virginia. They discussed the favorable prospects for a speedy peace, which engendered Healy's title and inclusion of an optimistic rainbow in the cabin window. The likeness of Lincoln in this group portrait, painted in Rome, closely resembles Healy's 1869 portrait of the president which currently hangs in the State Dining Room. Healy is also represented in the White House collection by six other presidential portraits. U.S. Government purchase. 947.2558.1

CONFERENCE TABLE

This walnut conference table was purchased for the Cabinet Room (then on the Second Floor of the White House) in 1869 during the administration of President Ulysses S. Grant. It was part of a suite of furniture made by the Pottier & Stymus Manufacturing Company, a New York firm known for its high-quality product uniquely designed for each commission.

It is fitted with locking drawers in which the President and his seven Cabinet officers (State, Treasury, War, Justice, Post Office, Navy, and Interior) could keep their papers. It is uncertain how an eighth Cabinet member was accommodated with the creation of the Department of Agriculture in 1889, but the table continued in use until 1902, when a new Cabinet Room was provided in the newly constructed West Wing.

In 1961, Mrs. Kennedy retrieved the remaining pieces from the suite - this table, a sofa, and four chairs - and returned them to the Second Floor room which had served as the Cabinet Room from 1865 to 1902, naming it the Treaty Room in honor of the many documents which had been signed there.

Among the historic documents which have been signed on this table are the following:

1. The Peace Protocol ending hostilities of the Spanish-American War, August 12, 1898.

In attendance in the Cabinet Room were President William McKinley, Secretary of State William Day, who signed for the United States, and French Ambassador Jules Cambon, who signed for Spain. The actual peace treaty, the Treaty of Paris, was signed on December 10.

2. The Pact of Paris (Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact), January 15, 1929.

The table was moved from the Second Floor to the East Room for President Calvin Coolidge to sign this pact after its ratification by the Senate. The pact, signed in Paris by 15 nations on August 27, 1928 and eventually adhered to by 48 others, provided that the contracting powers would "condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy". A war of self-defense, however, was understood to be excepted.

3. Arms Limitation Treaty with the Soviet Union, October 3, 1972.

The table was moved from the Treaty Room to the East Room for President Richard M. Nixon and Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet Minister of Foreign Affairs, to sign this "Treaty on Limitation of Anti-Ballistic Missile Systems and Interim Agreement on the Limitation of Strategic Offensive Arms".

4. Peaceful Nuclear Explosion Treaty with the Soviet Union,
May 28, 1976.

The table was again moved to the East Room for President Gerald R. Ford to sign this "Treaty on Underground Nuclear Explosion for Peaceful Purposes".

5. Egyptian-Israeli Peace Treaty, March 26, 1979.

The table was moved to the North Lawn in front of the North Portico for the signing by President Anwar Sadat of Egypt and Prime Minister Menachem Begin of Israel, with President Jimmy Carter witnessing, of the "Treaty of Peace Between the Arab Republic of Egypt and the State of Israel".

6. Intermediate Nuclear Forces Treaty with the Soviet Union,
December 8, 1987

The table was moved to the East Room for President Ronald W. Reagan and Mikhail S. Gorbachev, General Secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union, to sign this "Treaty... on the Elimination of Their Intermediate-Range and Shorter-Range Missiles".

7. Agreements and Protocols with the Soviet Union, June 1, 1990

The table was placed in the East Room for President George Bush and Mikhail S. Gorbachev, President of the Soviet Union, to sign an "Agreement on Destruction and Non-Production of Chemical Weapons" and a "Protocol to the Treaty on the Limitation of Underground Nuclear Weapon Tests", among other documents. The table was also used for a news conference held by the two presidents in the East Room on June 3.

8. Treaties and Agreements with several of the former Soviet Republics, 1992

The table was placed in the East Room for President George Bush for signing ceremonies with the Ukraine (May 6), Kazakhstan (May 19), Russia (June 17).
