Dear Elizabeth:

I just wanted to thank you for taking the time out to speak with me today and for whatever you might be able to do for Matt. I'm not surprised that Matt asked about opportunities at the White House. I've bragged about the quality of people with which I worked ever since last Spring, and I still keep in touch with a couple of my fellow interns from the DPC. Christine Dufner and I speak regularly, and we swap the latest stories about Paul Lee, Stefani Shaheen, and Rebecca Brown.

I was also glad to hear that the transition from Carol's direction to Bruce's has gone smoothly. The increased contact with the President and Vice-President will certainly bring greater recognition and administrative emphasis on the work the DPC does. This recognition coupled with your obvious enthusiasm for your new position makes for a great situation for you. I know you are enjoying yourself immensely even as you work under some of the most stressful conditions that can be found.

Thank you again for your time, and for all your help and guidance during my internship. For a guy that went 100 miles away for college, my internship at the White House was something I will certainly treasure for the rest of my life. If I can ever be of help to you in any way, please do not hesitate to contact me. Thank you again.

Sincerely,
