MEMORANDUM FOR ALEXIS HERMAN

FROM: DORIS MATSUI

ANN EDER

CC: LEE SATTERFIELD

CRAIG GARDENSWARTZ/with attachments

RE: WEEKLY REPORT/June 7, 1996

I. ASIAN PACIFIC AMERICANS

* Met with a small group of Pakistani Americans to discuss a variety of issues including the budget, education and Pakistani/Asian international relations. They were very interested in several domestic issues particularly on how they impact the economy. Besides education, medicare and welfare questions were also raised. They are very concerned with US

-Pakistan relations and the perceived potential threat of India and China to the region.

* Assisted appointees with message development talking points in regional roundtable meetings in Guam and Atlanta. The ethnic leaders in Guam were very receptive to the President's message, which could possibly reflect the attitudes of the broader Pacific Islander community.

- * Held weekly meeting with media working group to discuss themes that would be of interest to the broader APA community-

-affirmative action, small business opportunities, education and the number of APA appointees.

- * Met with appointees to discuss planning of a possible APA supporters day.

- * Interviewed by Asian Week, one of the largest and most widely read APA newspapers, to discuss the Clinton Administration's accomplishments.

II. Children and Families

- * Continue to receive faxes from child care providers from throughout the country on the CCDBG cut. The number we receive daily is increasing. We have now received several hundred.

- * Participated in two amplification meetings surrounding the Princeton speech and the HOPE Scholarship proposal. See HOPE Scholarship information.

- * Participated in a Parental Rights and Responsibility meeting.

III. EDUCATION

- * Mailed booklet on the 21st Century Teacher initiative to 30 core national education book.

- * See HOPE Scholarship information.

IV. NONPROFITS

- * Held a meeting of the Nonprofit Liaison Network, NPR, GSA and nonprofit community leaders to discuss the creation of the "NonProfit Advisor," a nonprofit on

-line service provided by the Administration. (adapted from US Business Advisor).

There is much enthusiasm on all sides of this project and it is moving forward. The primary focus of the meeting was to assess what technology and information was available at the individual agencies and what on -line systems were already in place that addressed the nonprofit community. Discussion was also geared toward focusing on who would use the system and what information would best benefit them.

* Met with HUD representatives and a nonprofit called Neigh borhood Artists that assists in creating and finding permanent homes for the homeless. The group, which has been in operation for 10 years, is concerned about the difficulties in the HUD grant/assistance process. It seems the problem for the group lies, not with HUD, but the City of New York's housing department. (HUD regulations put the assessment of need and programs with the local communities-

-which in other cities-

-both small and large-

-works very well) The group has gained prominence (as well as assistance and honors) from many businesses and New York State. They have been turned away from the City in a pre -application process that the city mandates without an explanation or a willingness to grant them a meeting to discuss their project.

V. OPL HOPE SCHOLARSHIP AMPLIFICATION

* There is a great amount of support for this issue that extends beyond the education community. While we have been working with the education community on this issue, we have focused much of our energy in getting the word out to others this proposal profoundly impacts such as children's groups, parents and students. The larger community-

-people that need to put their kids or themselves through schools, at times under difficult circumstances, are the ones that really need to know how this will impact their future.

* Faxed talking points with attached memo to over 500 national and grassroots education and children's groups.

* Faxed information with attached memo College to and University presidents including Ivy League and state institutions, and all black College Presidents.

* Faxed information to several hundred African American leaders across the United States. The community is very supportive of the proposal.

* Incorporated into several community briefings including:

Pakistani
Americans
Los Angeles
Jewish Federation

Hispanic
Leadership briefing

* Telephone interview with Methodist College and the Fayetteville Observer (Student outreach).

* Will be incorporated into the theme of the Democratic Youth Gala on Saturday. It will be the over

-riding
theme in Secretary Cisneros' remarks which OPL is preparing.

* Faxed to over 500 national and local health, disability and seniors groups.

* Reached out to the rural community by faxing to core group of agricultural organizations.

This morning, please let me know what you have done (or are planning to do) with the Hope scholarship. Also, let me know what, if anything, the groups are saying about the proposal. Just e-mail some bullet points.

Doris and I have an amplification meeting this afternoon and I would also like to include a report in the OPL weekly.

Thanks.

TEXT:

At Greg Simon's request, there will be a meeting tomorrow, June 11 at 2 pm in room 246 to discuss the public safety aspects of the proposal to auction 25 MHz of DARS spectrum. As you know, this proposal was used as an offset for the President's America's Hope Scholarship tax cut. However, since the announcement, the public safety community (state and local) has indicated that it wants to use this spectrum for its operations.

Also attending will be representatives from NTIA's Office of Spectrum Management and the FCC's Wireless Bureau. (Larry Irving and Bob Pepper are both out this week.)

MEMORANDUM FOR THE CHIEF OF STAFF

FROM: LAURA D'ANDREA TYSON

SUBJECT: NEC STAFF WEEKLY REPORT

The following is an update on NEC initiatives and policy development efforts:

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN_ITALIC

Natural Disaster Legislation: A new draft of the natural disaster legislation has been circulated which does what we were concerned it would: deletes mitigation and post

-disaster assistance, has a quite strong version of the loss cost commission, and includes an excess

-of

-loss provision very similar to what the Administration had in fact proposed (i.e., they got rid of the real killer provisions). It is quite clear that time is running out, and even advocates think this is for 1997, but Stevens may well try to push it through Committee. Treasury and FEMA have been urged to speed up work on their letter.

School Construction: NEC staff continued to work on an options memo on school construction financing and technical assistance.

Banking Legislation: Mr. Leach is still attempting to get his banking legislation reported out of committee, this time by moving Glass

-Steagall reform alone, and then adding reg reform on the floor. A markup started Thursday. Treasury sent up a letter condemning the bill; community groups sent a strong letter condemning both the bill and the strategy, as designed to gut CRA. So far the Democrats are holding together, and various industry groups are still wildly split. A second phase of the markup is scheduled for Tuesday.

PBGC Multiemployer Report: PBGC will issue the multiemployer report next Wednesday. NEC staff worked with them to make certain the central recommendation -- to double the guarantee -- is supported.

Pensions: NEC staff continued to work with the working group and White House Legislative Affairs on Senate legislative strategy.

The difficult part may be to convince Senate Finance Democrats not to give up on the broad coverage (1%) requirements in the NEST and 401(k) safe harbor in their desire to get a bill. The fact the Senate Republicans are now reported as ready to tank the bill for bigger reasons (minimum wage) may provide some leverage;

on the other hand, it may mean some time

-sensitive pension items (veterans, state/local 415 relief) don't get done here and will need to be slipped onto another tax bill.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN

Tracey Thornton is starting discussions with Senator Daschle's staff about strategy beyond the Finance Committee.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN_ITALIC

Homeownership Event: NEC staff participated in discussions concerning the FHA first -time homebuyer premium reduction, drafted talking points and questions and answers, and worked on the President's speech.

OCS Reserves Assessment: NEC staff worked with the Chief of Staff's office and OMB to develop questions and answers and an energy policy accomplishments document for release by DOI in conjunction with their new OCS oil and gas reserves assessment.
The assessment includes dramatic increases in estimates of potentially recoverable reserves. The materials are designed to respond to any criticism that one

-third to one

-half of OCS

reserves are "fenced off" by drilling moratoria.

Oil and Gasoline: NEC staff continued to monitor developments in the crude oil and gasoline markets, where prices have begun to moderate from the producer through the retail level. Staff also is working with the Department of Energy on the report requested by the President on the causes of the gasoline price runup that occurred earlier this year. This report should be completed by the mid

-June due date.

MEETING THE CHALLENGE OF EDUCATING OUR CHILDREN

Making It Easier To Get A College Education
On June 4, President Clinton announced the HOPE Scholarship Plan to make 14 years of education -- including two years of college
-- the standard for all Americans. President Clinton's HOPE

Scholarship Tax Cut makes clear that 2 years of college should be as universal as high school and helps to ensure that a college education is both accessible and affordable to all Americans. To reach this goal, the President announced the following proposals:

- * America's New Hope Scholarship -- Guarantees 2 Years of Tuition at the Average Community College for Any Student Who Earns a B Average. Provides all students with a $1,500 refundable tax credit for full

-time tuition in their first year ($750 for half

-time), and another $1,500 in their second year if they work hard, stay off drugs, and earn at least a B average in their first year.

- * $10,000 Tax Deduction for All Education and Training. The President's continues to support a $10,000 tax deduction for tuition for college, graduate school, community college, certified training and technical programs. This encourages lifetime investment in higher education.

- * Scholarship Increases (Pell Grants) for Lower

-Income

Students: The President's balanced budget plan increases Pell Grants each year. The maximum Pell Grant award will increase by 33% from fiscal 1995 to fiscal 2002. The proposed increase in fiscal 1997 is the largest in the program's 25

-year history.

On other education fronts:

- * Higher standards. President Clinton has called for national standards of excellence for the nation's schools. This includes more flexibility and choice for parents to choose which public schools their children will attend and for teachers to form new schools with charters that they can keep only if they do a good job.

- * On May 29, President Clinton announced a new volunteer initiative: "21st Century Teachers," a new voluntary corps to help teachers learn to how to use new technology to improve teaching and learning in every school, classroom, and home in America.

- * The President also urges bipartisan support from Congress for the $2 billion, 5

-year Technology Literacy Challenge

Fund which would encourage states to develop strategies with the private sector and local communities to ensure that all American schools make effective use of technology.

UPDATE ON DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

President Clinton has led the fight for passage of landmark legislation combining tough new penalties with programs to prosecute offenders and help women victims of violence:

* On May 24, 1996, the Justice Department announced the availability of $130 million in grant funding for the states to assist police, prosecutors, and victim service providers in "STOP grants" funding for the states to assist police, prosecutors, and victim service providers in combating domestic violence and sexual assault.

* He also created a national domestic violence hotline on February 21, 1996 which since its first day has received more than 25,000 calls. 87% of these calls are from females and 60% are from victims, many of whom are women being threatened or abused by hostile boyfriends or husbands. Hotline experts estimate that as many as half of all callers may have never before sought help elsewhere. The President's national hotline is being announced on TV shows, news sources and in Times Square on a Liz Claiborne sponsored billboard.

When one woman called in, a hotline worker wrote: "She is seeking shelter for herself and her children who are boys. 16 yrs, 13 yrs, 11 yrs old. None of the shelters would take them in because of them being boys. Last night was the most recent abuse. Abuser threaten[ed] to hit the woman with a[n] object. Children were involved as well. She is tired of the abuse. She wants to get out of the 16 year marriage. The abuse seems to escalate. She is scared for the children. He goes through these outbursts every month and even more when things get rough for him."

* The President supports the Kennedy

-Kassebaum bill health care reform bill which requires that insurance companies cover medical costs for women who have been abused, and requires insurance companies to stop calling being battered a "pre

-existing condition."

Meanwhile, Republicans are still trying to gut domestic violence programs and victims services. Senate Majority Leader Robert Dole voted against the 1994 Crime Bill containing the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). He led the GOP filibuster of the Crime Bill and voted against it and its $1.8 billion in funding for VAWA. Despite Dole's efforts, the bill passed by a 61

-38 vote.

The President's 1997 budget proposal calls on Congress to fully -fund VAWA, including youth runaway programs.

SAVING MEDICARE AND MEDICAID

The President's balanced budget guarantees the life of the Medicare Trust Fund for a decade. It has been estimated that the Administration's proposals would postpone [the insolvency] date to 2005.

Action is needed -- but the only cause for alarm is the Republicans' refusal to meet with the President on budget and medicare issues.

* The need for responsible intervention to improve the Trust Fund is real. The President's plan addresses this need in a responsible way, without imposing devastating provider cuts, increasing beneficiary costs, or enacting structural changes that hurt the program and the people it serves.

* Over $125 billion remains in the Trust Fund. While incoming revenues are somewhat less than outgoing payments, the current balance in the Trust Fund means that there is absolutely no danger that claims will not be paid. The Republicans' budget proposal would have cut $270 billion from Medicare, increasing health costs for senior citizens. 57% of Medicare beneficiaries are women. The GOP plan also would have cut $163 billion from Medicaid. The majority of Medicaid recipients are women.

PROTECTING CHILDREN

Protecting our children from tobacco. On May 7, the President traveled to New Jersey to participate in a "Kick Butts Day" program. The day was part of a multi

-city effort in which children and adults in their communities discussed the tobacco companies' marketing efforts geared to young people. The President reiterated his commitment to protect children from the early use of cigarettes and smokeless tobacco, and to ensure them the healthy future they deserve. Earlier this year, the President issued a final rule designed to ensure that states and territories adopt and enforce laws prohibiting the sale or distribution of tobacco products to children.

100,000 new police on the street. On May 15, President Clinton announced more than $604 million in funding for almost 9,000 new police. The President is continuing to fulfill his pledge to put 100,000 new police on the street, increasing our nation's police force by twenty percent. This announcement in May brought the total to 43,000 since the signing of the 1994 Crime Bill.

Community policing is helping to fight crime in America. The 100,000 new police that President Clinton is putting on our streets, in our communities and neighborhoods are bringing new security to the lives of the people on their beat. Because of the President's tough and smart decisions to put more cops on the street and get kids, guns and drugs off the street, we are now beginning to reverse the trend in violent crime.

Megan's Law. On May 17, President Clinton signed Megan's Law, requiring every state to tell communities when a dangerous sexual predator enters its midst. This signing builds on the President's 1994 Crime Bill, which gave states the power to provide such information to their communities. The Administration has also filed amicus briefs in courts across the country in defense of that right.

Supporting Community Efforts to Make Our Children Safe - Curfews.

On May 30, President Clinton addressed the Women's International Convention of the Church of God in Christ in New Orleans, where he announced a Justice Department report on curfews. President Clinton believes that curfews can play an important role in keeping our children safe, when they are backed by a community of support and are a part of a larger plan to help fight juvenile crime. Comprehensive curfew enforcement programs often bring together the law enforcement community and juvenile and family court judges with representatives from the social services and the education, recreation, religious and medical communities.

A New Drug Control Strategy

On April 29, President Clinton travelled to Miami to release his 1996 national drug control strategy. The President's goals are to motivate youth to reject illegal drugs and substance abuse; enhance the safety of Americans by reducing drug and violence; reduce health, welfare and crime costs resulting from illegal drug use; shield air, land and sea frontiers from the drug threat; and break foreign and domestic sources of supply.

-related crime

Cracking Down on Gangs

In remarks before federal prosecutors, state and local law enforcement and local officials, the President urged the nation's prosecutors to wage a full

-scale assault on gang

-related violent crime. The President's suggestions for fighting gangs included:

- * Improving cooperative efforts among state, local and federal law enforcement agencies
- * Involving communities and community police in anti

-gang efforts

- * Supporting effective early intervention programs that help keep young people out of gangs in the first place.
- The President has also sent juvenile violence/anti -drug legislative proposals to Congress to help stop the rise of youth violence and drug use. These proposals include:

- * Trying juvenile offenders as adults for violent and drug crimes
- * A new strategy to stop the spread of methamphetamine
- * Reinstating the ban on guns in schools
- * A $75 million grant program for juvenile drug and gun courts
- * Increasing the penalties for drug dealers who sell drugs to children, or use children to sell drugs
- * Restoring the ability of the courts to enhance the sentences of criminals convicted of using or carrying a firearm in connection with a drug

-related or violent crime.

Getting Results -- We have begun to turn the tide.

The President has already taken strong action to combat drugs including:

- * expanding drug treatment for hard

-core users and developing a drug testing program for all federal arrestees

- * strengthening and expanding the Safe and Drug

-Free Schools

Act, which provides school security, drug prevention and education programs

- * signing a directive enforcing "zero tolerance" for schools

-- you bring a gun to school, you don't come back for a year.

With drug enforcement and prevention as a top priority of the Clinton Administration, America has begun to see results. The number of Americans who use cocaine has been reduced to 30 percent since 1992. American expenditures for illicit drugs have declined from an estimated $64 billion five years ago to about $49 billion last year. For the first time in memory the nation's crime rate is actually declining. Murders are down by 12 percent. Robberies are down by 10 percent.

A FIFTEEN YEAR HIGH FOR HOMEOWNERSHIP.

According to a report issued on June 6 by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, 1.4 million Americans became homeowners in the last year -- the largest one -year increase in

30 years. Homeownership is at a fifteen year high. Homeownership numbers are up in our inner cities and our rural areas. They are up for women, African -Americans, Hispanics, young households, single

-parent households and households earning less than the median family income.

President Clinton announced on June 6 another way that he is making that home ownership available to more people. The Federal Housing Administration will reduce its upfront mortgage premium by 11 percent for first -time homebuyers who have completed homeownership classes. This will reduce closing costs an average of $200 per first -time homebuyer.

FAMILY AND MEDICAL LEAVE ACT

Strengthening America's families, achieving economic security. On May 1, a report was issued which shows that the Family and Medical Leave Act, which was the first bill President Clinton signed into law, has been a tremendous success in helping America's families find security in today's economy. By allowing working Americans to take leave of up to twelve weeks to care for sick relatives or new children without fear of losing their jobs, the FMLA provides the peace of mind that Americans will never have to choose between work and their family's health again. The Act is helping a larger cross -section of working Americans meet their medical and family caregiving needs while still maintaining their jobs and economic security, achieving the workable balance the President, and the nation, intended.

LEAVING THE EARTH CLEAN FOR OUR CHILDREN

National Parks for Tomorrow. On April 22, Earthday, President Clinton announced a comprehensive plan to restore and improve America's national parks through Presidential directives and legislative proposals.

President Clinton has taken strong measures to protect the environment. He has:

- * Given citizens the tools they need, through strong environmental standards and programs, to build better communities by taking care of the environment.
- * Fought attempts to both close National Parks and lift the ban on offshore oil drilling.
- * Worked to cut toxic air pollution from chemical plants by 90 percent.
- * Fought attempts in Congress to roll back the progress made in ensuring safe food and water for our families.
- * Led the charge for international agreements on global warming, bio -diversity and population control.

HELPING FAMILIES

Balancing the Budget While Protecting Working Families and Investing in Education

President Clinton submitted his fiscal year 1997 budget proposal in May. He is the first president in 17 years to submit a Balanced Budget using CBO (Congressional Budget Office) numbers -- while protecting Medicare, Medicaid, Education and the Environment, and cutting taxes for middle -class families. The President's proposal includes:

- * Tax Cuts for Middle Class Families
- * Continues Investments in Education, Training, and Technology including a 24% increase in major education and training programs in 1997 over 1993 levels and $60 billion more for education and training than the Senate FY97 budget

resolution from 1996

-2002 and an increase in funding for other successful education and training programs such as: Pell Grants, Safe & Drug Free Schools, Charter Schools, School to Work, and Goals 2000.

- * Major Expansion of Head Start including a $1.2 billion increase in 1997 over 1993 levels, support for nearly 800,000 Head Start opportunities in 1997, and a commitment to fund 1 million Head Start opportunities for preschool children by 2002.

- * Other New Education Initiatives including expanded Work Study, $1000 Honors Scholarships for the top 5% graduates from every high school and a $250 million job training initiative to reduce unemployment among low -income youth.

- * Continuing Commitment to AmeriCorps by funding 30,000 members in 1997.

- * Doubled Assistance For Dislocated Workers

- * New Protections For Working Families, including health insurance for laid

-off workers and pension simplification.

I went to an Amplification meeting last night for the HOPE Scholarship proposal. They want to get this information out and keep it out, building a strong base of support. People need to understand it is not campaign politics, it is part of our education policy that the President has been working on his entire term.

They are working on paper to get out. In the meantime, we should use the talking points in briefings, etc. We should also incorporate information on the program into our speeches, Suzanna, Ben, MDG, and Brian should be particularly concerned about the last point.

That's about it, but I can go into more detail at the next staff meeting if you would like. I'll keep you posted.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE CHIEF OF STAFF

FROM: LAURA D'ANDREA TYSON

SUBJECT: NEC STAFF WEEKLY REPORT

The following is an update on NEC initiatives and policy development efforts:

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN_ITALIC

School Construction: NEC staff continued to work on an options memo on school construction financing and technical assistance. The issue was discussed at an NEC principals meeting on Thursday, and we are preparing a more refined set of options for the NEC principals next week, with a view toward having something for the President by the end of the week.

Pensions: NEC staff continued to work with the working group and White House Legislative Affairs on Senate legislative strategy. Now that the pension simplification portions of the Small Business Tax Bill have been reported out of the Finance Committee with no amendments, the focus will shift toward a floor strategy that enables us to distinguish our proposal from what the Republicans have done, while still allowing us to claim credit for having started it all if we don't get any changes.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN

We also continued work on the women and pensions information package, which DOL and PBGC have essentially competed in draft. We discussed various opportunities both to roll this out as a news item and to get the information usefully into the hands of women.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN_ITALIC

Profit Sharing: NEC staff continued to work with the interagency group on development of profit

-sharing ideas. Subgroups were formed to scope out some of the more promising items for potential development into options for the NEC principals. Federal Home Loan Bank System: NEC Deputy Tarullo and NEC staff continued to work with Treasury, HUD and OMB on trying to find a way to get responsible legislation reform the Federal Home Loan Bank System enacted, in the face of an excessively broad piece of legislation with bipartisan support in the House that is pending in the House Banking Committee.

Energy Report to the President: Deputy Tarullo led the NEC's interactions this week with the Department of Energy leading up to the release of Secretary O'Leary's report to the

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN

President regarding crude oil and gasoline prices. The report concluded that a confluence of factors, including low inventories, high worldwide demand, and the cold, prolonged winter, contributed to the price run

-up. The report does not attempt to address the possibility of anti

-competitive behavior, which is still under examination by the Justice Department. Press accounts about the report featured DOE's prediction that retail gasoline prices will continue their downward trend. California has witnessed a 5 cents per gallon retail price drop over the past month.

Section 936: NEC staff (along with Treasury and White House Legislative Affairs) met with representatives of the Puerto Rico Manufacturers Association, the Puerto Rico Bankers Association, and the Puerto Rico Chamber of Commerce to discuss recent Congressional initiatives to repeal the tax benefits given to US firms locating operations in the Possessions (primarily Puerto Rico). The Puerto Rico private sector representatives indicated that they could possibly support the Administration's proposal to reform the Section 936 tax credit, but that they wanted the Administration to take a leading role in opposing the Congressional initiatives to repeal the credit. The discussion focused primarily on how the legislative strategy currently being pursued by the Administration could be communicated to interested parties in Puerto Rico.

Performance

-based Compensation: NEC staff are coordinating an inter

-agency process to determine the effects on worker productivity of firms adopting performance

-based pay schemes and to develop options for encouraging the use of performance

-based pay in appropriate circumstances. This process is at the "brain

-storming" stage, with numerous options being generated for subsequent evaluation.

Community Empowerment: NEC staff are coordinating a process on community empowerment initiatives that is focused on: (1) getting the Round II EZ/EC and Brownfields legislation introduced; and

(2) developing options that might be beneficial in steering financial capital to distressed communities (e.g., through funds established by Community Development Financial Institutions). The EZ/EC and Brownfields legislation is being cleared through OMB, Congressional sponsors are being lined up, and an introduction strategy is being created. Options for capital investments may be far enough along in the development process to warrant a Principals

-level meeting this coming week.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN_ITALIC

Small High

-Tech Businesses. The NEC held a briefing in the Indian Treaty Room for 60 CEOs of small high

-tech firms; OSTP and OVP participated. The CEOs are winners of the "Tibbetts Award" -

- which SBA gives to recipients of Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) grants who have had a significant impact on the economy.

San Fernando Valley Industry Group. NEC staff spoke to several dozen members of a San Fernando Valley industry group, VICA (Valley Industry and Commerce Association), on Administration initiatives in technology and defense conversion.

Aerospace Briefing. The NEC hosted a briefing on the proposed joint venture by General Electric and Pratt & Whitney to develop a powerful new engine for the planned Boeing 747 derivatives. By combining their complementary capabilities, G.E. and Pratt will be able to meet Boeing's needs, in terms of engine noise, weight and operating costs. Moreover, they will be able to complete the engine in only 36 months, allowing Boeing to deliver the 747 derivatives in 2000 -- before Airbus gets its competitor plane to market. The FTC is examining the proposed joint venture for any antitrust concerns.

Military Base Closures. NEC staff met with a representative of the Ft. Ord (Monterey, CA) reuse group about ongoing reuse issues; conferred with officials involved in the reuse of Pease Air Force Base (Portsmouth, NH) about a possible compromise between local and state interests; and did research for the President's recent speech at the Presidio (San Francisco).

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN

NEC staff will be spending four days at closing military bases in California in late June.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN_ITALIC

DoD Privatization: McClellan AFB. The NEC is hosting a briefing for White House staff on a proposal that could lead to privatization

-in

-place at McClellan Air Force Base in Sacramento.

Officials from Rockwell, United Airlines and the McClellan Local Reuse Authority will conduct the briefing.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN

Separately, NEC staff is working with OMB to try to get a decision on two funding requests from Rep. Fazio and other California Members that relate to high

-tech projects at

McClellan. Although these projects are not in the Administration's budget, there may be other reasons to provide some of the requested DoD and DOE funds.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN_ITALIC

Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. NEC staff is participating in an OMB

-led process to get agreement on HUD and Treasury reports on privatization of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. Most disagreements have been resolved and the reports are on track for clearance by early July.

Small Business Reports. NEC staff oversaw the completion of the latest "State of Small Business" report, which was transmitted to Congress, with an accompanying transmittal letter that summarizes the President's accomplishments for small business. Another report, documenting the one

-year implementation status of the 60 recommendations from the White House Conference on Small Business, will be released next week.

PRESIDENT CLINTON CALLS FOR AMERICA'S HOPE SCHOLARSHIPS

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN

A TAX CUT TO MAKE 14 YEARS OF EDUCATION THE STANDARD FOR ALL
June, 1996

PRINTER FONT 11_POINT_ROMAN_ITALIC

"This age of possibility means that more Americans than ever before will be able to live out their dreams. . . America knows that higher education is the key to the growth we need to lift our country. . . It's America's most basic bargain: We'll help create opportunity if you'll take responsibility." -- President Clinton, Princeton Commencement, June 4, 1996

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN

TO REALIZE THIS AGE OF POSSIBILITY, PRESIDENT CLINTON IS COMMITTED TO A REAL GROWTH STRATEGY:

PRINTER FONT 11_POINT_ROMAN

1. Putting our economic house in order, through both deficit reduction and a balanced budget. President Clinton has cut the deficit in half since taking office, and this year he submitted to Congress the first genuine balanced budget in 17 years.

2. Opening new markets to create jobs for American workers. More than 1 million new export

-related jobs have been created under the Clinton Administration.

3. Investing in our workers so they can seize the opportunity of today's economy. To unlock the age of possibility for all Americans, we must give every single child, and every adult who needs it, the chance to get the best possible education.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN

PRESIDENT CLINTON NOW CALLS FOR NEW AMERICA'S HOPE SCHOLARSHIPS: To Make 14 Years of Education -- At Least Two Years of College -- the Standard for All Americans. President Clinton's HOPE Scholarship Tax Cut makes clear that 2 years of college should be as universal as high school and builds on his comprehensive program to guarantee that a college education is both accessible and affordable to all Americans at any time in their life.

? $1,500 Tax Cut For College Tuition. Modeled on the successful Georgia HOPE Scholarship program, this new proposal provides all students with a $1,500 refundable tax credit for full

-time tuition in their first year ($750 for half

-time), and another $1,500 in their second year if they work hard, stay off drugs, and earn at least a B average in their first year.

PRINTER FONT 11_POINT_ROMAN

? This $1,500 tax credit will pay for more than the full cost of tuition at the national average

-priced community colleges. This $1,500 tax cut is $300 more than the average community college tuition and would make community college "free" for 67% percent of community college students.

? This tax cut for middle -class families is paid for with new savings in President Clinton's balanced budget. America's HOPE Scholarships costs $7.9 billion, which will be offset by reducing sales source rule benefits, applying an international departure fee, and auctioning radio DARS spectrum.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN

? $10,000 Tax Deduction for All Education and Training. The President maintains his $10,000 tax deduction for tuition for college, graduate school, community college, certified training and technical programs. This encourages lifetime investment in higher education.

? Pell Grant Scholarship Increases for Lower

-Income Students: In announcing America's HOPE Scholarships, President Clinton also announced that his balanced budget will increase Pell Grants each year. The maximum Pell Grant award will increase by 33% from fiscal 1995 to fiscal 2002.

SENATOR BOB DOLE: "President Clinton had an idea that was pretty good and that was credits for two -year college students." -- Senator Bob Dole, Indianola IA campaign event, February 3, 1996.

AMERICA'S HOPE SCHOLARSHIPS BUILD ON PRESIDENT CLINTON'S PLAN FOR GUARANTEED ACCESS TO COLLEGE.

? With the President's increased Pell Grant program support, students have access to up to $5,100 in Pell Grants and student loans for their first year in college, and much more in future years.

? President Clinton's Direct Student Loan Program enacted as part of the President's 1993 Economic Plan is allowing millions of students to borrow in a simpler, less bureaucratic way, and to pay back their loans as a share of their income. This year, "Pay

-As

-You

-Can" loans will account for nearly 50% of loans this year.

? President Clinton's National Service Program -- AmeriCorps: Last year, 30,000 students earned up to $4,725 for service. By the end of next year, more than 65,000 students will benefit from this opportunity.

? Work Study Expansion: President Clinton's balanced budget includes an expansion of College Work Study to 1 million participants by 2002. The President has also challenged colleges to use additional work study funds to promote public service by putting students to work in the community.

? Honors Scholarships for Outstanding High School Students: President Clinton's balanced budget includes $1,000 scholarship for the top 5% of graduating students in every high school class. If this proposal is enacted this year, 128,500 graduating high school seniors will receive a scholarship to help finance their college education.

? IRAs for Education: President Clinton's balanced budget would change the law to allow penalty

-free withdrawals for education

? Skill Grants: President Clinton's balanced budget includes $2,600 Skill Grants to enable dislocated workers to get needed skills

? National Service College Scholarships To Reward High School Community Service: President Clinton has challenged every high school student in the country to make a commitment to community service. To support this commitment, the President is asking all high schools to make service part of their basic ethic and to raise $500 to reward a high school student who has done significant work to help his or her community. The federal government will then match the $500 to help that student go on to college.

RE: Photo to be signed

Enclosed is a photo of Curtis Ivery with POTUS which I would like to have the President sign for Curtis.

As you know I gave the commencement address at Wayne County Community College where Curtis is President; they showed me a wonderful time. Curtis sends greetings to you. I was QUITE impressed with the college, the board members and all that Curtis is doing-

-things I heard from outsiders, not Curtis himself. His board chair's wife is on the City Council, I met Chamber officials and all are SO pleased he is there. It is a large operation...five campuses, 17, 000 students in any given year...graduated over 1000 with two year degrees. It was a moving ceremony with families and friends as well as the grads showing such pride and excitement...many of them never expected to be getting a degree from a college. Many are already on scholarships to four year institutions in the area. Curtis is also doing a lot of talking about POTUS and his programs....at the pre

-graduation reception I saw a number of people I had first met in Michigan in 1992 with Janet and Jim Blanchard who said as Curtis goes out across the county campaigning for his college's millage to be on the ballot in November he is talking strongly about POTUS commitment to education and particularly now our HOPE scholarship program. I got a HUGE applause line when I talked about the HOPE program in my commencement speech.

I will be sharing all this with POTUS in my weekly report but wanted you to know Curtis is doing well.

If you'll return the photo to me I will mail it to Curtis. I am also having done separately a letter from POTUS to Curtis congratulating him on finishing his first school year at the college, etc. as I failed to get it done prior to Curtis' installation a couple of months ago, found out too late.

Thanks.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN

Today, the typical college

-educated worker makes 73 percent more than a worker with a high school diploma. Two years of college means a 20 percent increase in annual earnings, a quarter of a million dollars over someone's working life. America is stronger when more Americans go to college, and as a part of his comprehensive growth strategy, President Clinton is working to make that happen.

[We are living in an age of possibility, but also one of challenge and change. In order to give as many Americans as possible the chance to seize that opportunity, President Clinton has put into place a real strategy for economic growth. And to help all of us meet the challenges we face, he is making sure everyone has a chance to get the education they need.]

The first part of the President's plan is to put our economic house in order. That is why he has cut the deficit in half since taking office, and why he is committed to finishing the job right now. A balanced budget keeps interest rates down, helping businesses expand, families buy homes and parents send their kids to college. Second, he is continuing the fight for open and fair trade, bringing our exports to an all

-time high and creating more than one million new export

-related jobs. But most importantly, President Clinton's growth strategy is doing more to help all Americans deal with economic change in a positive way: by investing in the future, and by targeting tax cuts to help Americans invest in their own lives. Building on that record, America's Hope Scholarships will do just that.

America knows that higher education is the key to the growth we need to lift our country. We also know that we have the best higher education system in the world. We don't need to change it -- we just need to make it available for all Americans.

President Clinton's goal is nothing less than to make the 13th and 14th years of education as universal as the first 12. To meet that challenge, the Administration has put into place an unprecedented college opportunity strategy, recently capped by the proposal of America's Hope Scholarship.

Modeled - and named - after the successful HOPE scholarship program in Georgia, the President's plan would provide all students with a $1500 tax cut for full

-time tuition and another

$1500 for their second year if they earn at least a "B" average in their first year. This tax cut, which will pay the full cost of tuition at the average community college, is carefully targeted and is paid for in the President's balanced budget. No tax cut will do more to raise incomes and spur economic growth over the long haul than one designed to help people go to college. Most importantly, though, the plan is rooted in America's most basic bargain: We as a nation will create more opportunity, but if and only if our people take the responsibility to make the most of their own lives.

Other parts of President Clinton's college opportunity strategy are working already. Student loans are going directly to the people who need them, saving students and taxpayers billions of dollars. By next year, AmeriCorps will have given over 65,000 young people the chance to earn their way through college by serving their country. The President's balanced budget will increase Pell Grants to help students pay for college. And he has proposed to go even further.

President Clinton has called for an expansion of work so one million students can work their way through college by the year 2000. He has proposed to let people use money from their IRA to pay for college. He has offered a $1000 merit scholarship for the top five percent of all high school graduates. And he has called on Congress to pass a $10,000 tax deduction to help families pay for education after high school.

-study

So if you're in high school, you should stay in school, work hard, and go to college. If you're in your twenties and already working, but can't move ahead on a high school diploma: Go to college. If you're 40 and worried that you need more education to support your family, go part

-time, go at night, but by all means, go to college. The President's plan provides those means, and all America has to do is meet that responsibility.

RE: Wayne COuntY Community College

On Friday evening, June 14, I spoke at the Wayne County Community College commencement exercises in Detroit. Dr. Curtis Ivery is the President having gone there in September from Dallas. He extends greetings to you.

I was very impressed with this campus and the large number of people, particularly those with the City Council and other Detroit organizations who shared with me their appreciation of Curtis and all that he is doing for the five site campus which serves over 17,000 students in a given year. Over 1000 graduated last Friday evening, almost all with two year degrees, a few with one year certificates. Many are already enrolled or plan to be enrolled in a four year institution. The pride among the students and the enthusiasm in that sports arena among their families and friends were overwhelming! I received several roaring applause periods when mentioning your work and support for higher education.

In short the numbers on this graduating class: average age of 33 with ages ranging from 20 to 70!; 60% Afro female. The nursing program is outstanding with their students traditionally scoring 86% and above on the State Boards which is quite good. Large numbers of students are taking the child care degree and moving into four year programs in early childhood education or elementary education.

-American; 70%

I have shared all this information with Don Baer's office in case we need a site and/or examples of students to be helped by your proposed HOPE scholarship program.

It is clear from persons with whom I spoke that as Curtis is speaking throughout Detroit to garner support for the millage this school has on the ballot for November that he is stressing your strong commitment to education. As noted in my weekly report to you, I am preparing a letter for you to send him congratulating him on his first year at this new institution.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE CHIEF OF STAFF

FROM: LAURA D'ANDREA TYSON

SUBJECT: NEC STAFF WEEKLY REPORT

The following is an update on NEC initiatives and policy development efforts:

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN_ITALIC

School Construction: NEC staff continued to work on an options memo on school construction financing and technical assistance.

The issue was discussed at an NEC principals meeting on Thursday, and we are preparing a more refined set of options for the NEC principals next week, with a view toward having something for the President by the end of the week.

Pensions: NEC staff continued to work with the working group and White House Legislative Affairs on Senate legislative strategy.

Now that the pension simplification portions of the Small Business Tax Bill have been reported out of the Finance Committee with no amendments, the focus will shift toward a floor strategy that enables us to distinguish our proposal from what the Republicans have done, while still allowing us to claim credit for having started it all if we don't get any changes.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN

We also continued work on the women and pensions information package, which DOL and PBGC have essentially competed in draft. We discussed various opportunities both to roll this out as a news item and to get the information usefully into the hands of women.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN_ITALIC

Profit Sharing: NEC staff continued to work with the interagency group on development of profit

-sharing ideas. Subgroups were formed to scope out some of the more promising items for potential development into options for the NEC principals. Federal Home Loan Bank System: NEC Deputy Tarullo and NEC staff continued to work with Treasury, HUD and OMB on trying to find a way to get responsible legislation reform the Federal Home Loan Bank System enacted, in the face of an excessively broad piece of legislation with bipartisan support in the House that is pending

in the House Banking Committee.

Energy Report to the President: Deputy Tarullo led the NEC's interactions this week with the Department of Energy leading up to the release of Secretary O'Leary's report to the

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN

President regarding crude oil and gasoline prices. The report concluded that a confluence of factors, including low inventories, high worldwide demand, and the cold, prolonged winter, contributed to the price run

-up. The report does not attempt to address the possibility of anti

-competitive behavior, which is still under examination by the Justice Department. Press accounts about the report featured DOE's prediction that retail gasoline prices will continue their downward trend. California has witnessed a 5 cents per gallon retail price drop over the past month.

Section 936: NEC staff (along with Treasury and White House Legislative Affairs) met with representatives of the Puerto Rico Manufacturers Association, the Puerto Rico Bankers Association, and the Puerto Rico Chamber of Commerce to discuss recent Congressional initiatives to repeal the tax benefits given to US firms locating operations in the Possessions (primarily Puerto Rico). The Puerto Rico private sector representatives indicated that they could possibly support the Administration's proposal to reform the Section 936 tax credit, but that they wanted the Administration to take a leading role in opposing the Congressional initiatives to repeal the credit. The discussion focused primarily on how the legislative strategy currently being pursued by the Administration could be communicated to interested parties in Puerto Rico.

Performance

-based Compensation: NEC staff are coordinating an inter

-agency process to determine the effects on worker productivity of firms adopting performance

-based pay schemes and to develop options for encouraging the use of performance

-based pay in appropriate circumstances. This process is at the "brain

-storming" stage, with numerous options being generated for subsequent evaluation.

Community Empowerment: NEC staff are coordinating a process on community empowerment initiatives that is focused on: (1) getting the Round II EZ/EC and Brownfields legislation introduced; and (2) developing options that might be beneficial in steering financial capital to distressed communities (e.g., through funds established by Community Development Financial Institutions). The EZ/EC and Brownfields legislation is being cleared through OMB, Congressional sponsors are being lined up, and an introduction strategy is being created. Options for capital investments may be far enough along in the development process to warrant a Principals

-level meeting this coming week.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN_ITALIC
Small High

-Tech Businesses. The NEC held a briefing in the Indian Treaty Room for 60 CEOs of small high

-tech firms; OSTP and OVP participated. The CEOs are winners of the "Tibbetts Award" -

- which SBA gives to recipients of Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) grants who have had a significant impact on the economy.

San Fernando Valley Industry Group. NEC staff spoke to several dozen members of a San Fernando Valley industry group, VICA (Valley Industry and Commerce Association), on Administration initiatives in technology and defense conversion.

Aerospace Briefing. The NEC hosted a briefing on the proposed joint venture by General Electric and Pratt & Whitney to develop a powerful new engine for the planned Boeing 747 derivatives. By combining their complementary capabilities, G.E. and Pratt will be able to meet Boeing's needs, in terms of engine noise, weight and operating costs. Moreover, they will be able to complete the engine in only 36 months, allowing Boeing to deliver the 747 derivatives in 2000 -- before Airbus gets its competitor plane to market. The FTC is examining the proposed joint venture for any antitrust concerns.

Military Base Closures. NEC staff met with a representative of the Ft. Ord (Monterey, CA) reuse group about ongoing reuse issues; conferred with officials involved in the reuse of Pease Air Force Base (Portsmouth, NH) about a possible compromise between local and state interests; and did research for the President's recent speech at the Presidio (San Francisco).

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN

NEC staff will be spending four days at closing military bases in California in late June.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN_ITALIC

DoD Privatization: McClellan AFB. The NEC is hosting a briefing for White House staff on a proposal that could lead to privatization

-in

-place at McClellan Air Force Base in Sacramento.

Officials from Rockwell, United Airlines and the McClellan Local Reuse Authority will conduct the briefing.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN

Separately, NEC staff is working with OMB to try to get a decision on two funding requests from Rep. Fazio and other California Members that relate to high

-tech projects at

McClellan. Although these projects are not in the Administration's budget, there may be other reasons to provide some of the requested DoD and DOE funds.

PRINTER FONT 12_POINT_ROMAN_ITALIC

Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. NEC staff is participating in an OMB

-led process to get agreement on HUD and Treasury reports on privatization of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. Most disagreements have been resolved and the reports are on track for clearance by early July.

Small Business Reports. NEC staff oversaw the completion of the latest "State of Small Business" report, which was transmitted to Congress, with an accompanying transmittal letter that summarizes the President's accomplishments for small business. Another report, documenting the one

-year implementation status of the 60 recommendations from the White House Conference on Small Business, will be released next week.

(This is also for Don Baer and any other people on your HOPE Scholarship/Education rollout planning group; I will also send around a hard copy with attachments)

This is to update you on what I was asked to do in relation to the Hope Scholarship rollout. If I have missed anything, please let me know, as I left the last planning meeting early:

SURROGATES

Mrs. Clinton: She is giving a speech this Saturday June 22 in Washington to the National PTA Association. Lissa Muskatine (6-2935) is writing the speech. Lissa said that while Hope will be mentioned, the broader thematics for the speech focuses on parental responsibility (v-chip etc) as well as and including education and the Hope. I need to check with Patti Solis, but Lisa Caputo didn't think any other education-specific events were scheduled, but that Mrs.
Clinton would likely be up for whatever events we encouraged her to do. She did deliver speeches in Florida and Calif. on the Hope and very much enjoyed it; I have copies of her speeches I am using for the generic speech.

Mrs. Gore: I spoke with Skila Harris, her chief of staff. Overall, Skila felt that Mrs. Gore has pretty much focused her efforts on mental health and the homeless and is not necessarily strong on education, but would do whatever we would like. Skila also mentioned that Mrs. Gore wouldn't be traveling much during the summer; most travel would be confined to whatever the re-elect had in mind. She is available for local speeches and would be willing to meet with community college leaders etc. if they came to the WH. She also has a quarterly arrangement with USAToday for a weekend roundtable with students, usually discussing one topic (racism, violence etc) with an accompanying story and Q&A printed. The next such interview is not until late summer or fall. I will follow up with Sally Aman if people feel this is a good use for the next subject area. V. President: Lorraine Voles said he is available for any and all rapid response and seemed to think that would be his main role, but didn't at all rule out his making specific speeches on education or Hope, but nothing was specifically planned.

EVENTS

-- I was asked to look into the National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators conference in Denver July 14-17. Barbara Gordon is the contact there (785-0453); I spoke with Ken McInerney for background info.

Currently, the highest level admin. figure attending is Betsy Hicks from Education (along with a number of other career or less senior educ. officials). She is speaking on a technical subject during an "Education Department Listens" session.

The conf. will be attended by over 2200 senior administrators from virtually every college, university and trade school.

They seemed very eager to make room during a plenary session for any admin. official that would be interested in addressing the group.

The best opportunity seems to me might be the opening night, Sunday July 14, when the attendance is highest and when they plan to honor Sen. Pell for the Pell Grants. They are not certain he will attend due to his health, but are optimistic and have a full program with testimonials from 3 students about the Pell grants.

I would suggest that perhaps we consider getting Riley to go and deliver a major policy/vision/inspiration address to a plenary session and for us to consider having the President participate somehow on the Sunday night: either by tape or satellite, using the honoring of Pell as the natural hook.

Each of the other days, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are also open times for a plenary session that they would be willing to call if we send an appropriate admin. official.

-- I was also asked to get the Educ. Dept. list of upcoming events, which I will circulate separately.

STOCK SPEECH

I have gathered speeches from the President, first Lady and Laura Tyson and hope to have a first draft no later than Friday. My time has been focused on China IPR and now G-7, but I hope to have at least Friday to start writing and finish a first draft.

1. During the period June 8-21 we scheduled over 35 events and meetings. The week of 8-14 June we focused mainly on message events for our larger groups, June 8th Young Democrats, June 10th Hispanic Leaders, June 13th Iowa Chamber of Commerce, and June 14th Ethnic Leadership Day.

The week of 15-21 June concentrated mainly on women's and family issues with a Women's Health Research briefing on the 17th, a Women's Health Luncheon on the 18th, a Women and Welfare meeting on the 19th, and the Emily's List coffee on the 20th. Through out the week we continued to amplify your message on Hope Scholarships and Child Support Enforcement.

Key Events:

14 JUN - You and the Vice-President with Ethnic Leaders

14 JUN - Your photo w/Isley Brothers and Island Records
Execs for African-American Music Month

17 JUN - First Lady with the Society for the Advancement of Women's Health

20 JUN - Your meeting with Emily's List

2. Youth/Student:

The Democratic Youth Bus Tour had its kick-off gala, Saturday, June 8, at the Washington Hilton. You were invited and Secretary Cisneros went in your place. Our comments for Secretary Cisneros challenged a crowd of 500 to be aggressive in promoting the agenda you laid out in the State of the Union address, that you have not forgotten the young voters, that we expect them to carry many states for us, and to let the issues not the rhetoric be their driving force. We amplified the Hope Scholarship message, wished them the best of luck, and thanked them for working hard to ensure that you will be able to continue the work you've begun in this term.

At the turn of the last century, the Progressives made it the law of the land for every child to be in school. After World War II, that standard was raised from ten years to twelve. Today, in a new age of possibility, President Clinton wants to make the 13th and 14th years of school as universal as the first twelve. There is no question that a solid education is becoming the fault line between success and failure in this age of information, and President Clinton's Hope Scholarship proposal will go a long way toward bridging that gap for more and more Americans.

Today, the typical college-educated worker makes 73 percent more than a worker with a high school diploma. Two years of college means a 20 percent increase in annual earnings, a quarter of a million dollars over someone's working life. America is stronger when more Americans go to college, and as a part of his comprehensive growth strategy, President Clinton is working to make that happen.

The first part of the President's plan is to put our economic house in order. That is why he has cut the deficit in half since taking office, and why he is committed to finishing the job right now. A balanced budget keeps interest rates down, helps businesses expand, makes it easier for families buy homes and for parents to send their kids to college. Second, he is continuing the fight for open and fair trade, and the record number of trade agreements has paid off: Our exports are at an all-time high and we have created more than one million new export-related jobs. But most importantly, President Clinton's growth strategy is doing more to help all Americans meet the challenges of economic change in a positive way: by making it easier for Americans to invest in building better lives.

Higher education is the key to the growth we need to lift our country. We also know that we have the best higher education system in the world. We don't need to change it -- we just need to make it available for even more Americans. To help meet that challenge, the Administration has put into place an unprecedented college opportunity strategy, recently capped by the proposal of America's Hope Scholarship.

Modeled - and named - after the successful HOPE scholarship program in Georgia, the President's plan would provide all students with a $1500 tax cut for full-time tuition and another $1500 for their second year if they earn at least a "B" average in their first year. This tax cut, which will pay the full cost of tuition at the average community college, is carefully targeted and is paid for in the President's balanced budget. No tax cut will do more to raise incomes and spur economic growth over the long haul than one designed to help people go to college. Most importantly, though, the plan is rooted in America's most basic bargain: We as a nation will create more opportunity, but if and only if our people take the responsibility to make the most of their own lives.

Other parts of President Clinton's college opportunity strategy are working already. Student loans are going directly to the people who need them, saving students and taxpayers billions of dollars. By next year, AmeriCorps will have given over 65,000 young people the chance to earn their way through college by serving their country. The President's balanced budget will increase Pell Grants to help students pay for college. And he has proposed to go even further.

President Clinton has called for an expansion of work-study so one million students can work their way through college by the year 2000. He has proposed to let people use money from their IRA to pay for college. He has offered a $1000 merit scholarship for the top five percent of all high school graduates. And he has called on Congress to pass a $10,000 tax deduction to help families pay for education after high school.

So if you're in high school, you should stay in school, work hard, and go to college. If you're in your twenties and already working, but can't move ahead on a high school diploma: Go to college. If you're 40 and worried that you need more education to support your family, go part-time, go at night, but by all means, go to college. The President's plan provides that opportunity, and all Americans have to do is meet that responsibility.
