THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

December 22, 1999

Ms. Alice Finsh
Secretary
Swig Foundation
220 Montgomery Street, 20th Floor
San Francisco, CA 94104

Dear Ms. Finsh:

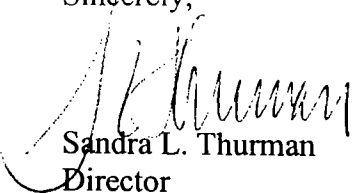

I am pleased to invite you to a special White House meeting to discuss philanthropic support for effective approaches to preventing HIV/AIDS among intravenous drug users. It is scheduled for Tuesday, February 1, 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. in Washington, D.C. This meeting will bring together key individuals in grant making organizations which provide funding for public health, substance abuse and HIV/AIDS programs to explore ways to increase creativity, funding, and new approaches to addressing HIV/AIDS prevention in this hard to reach population.

As you are aware, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention reports that up to one-half of new HIV infections are related to injection drug use. Grant makers who have as a program goal HIV and other infectious disease prevention must enhance their efforts to help develop and implement effective strategies for this often difficult to reach group. As philanthropic and government leaders, our role is to encourage increased support, provide vision, and develop new ideas for action.

Attendance is limited, by invitation only, and is non-transferable. Unfortunately we are not able to cover cost associated with your travel to attend this meeting. Please fax the enclosed reply form as soon as possible to Mr. Matthew Murguia, Office of National AIDS Policy, 202-456-2438. Upon your confirmation of attendance, a final agenda, a list of participants, and additional information regarding the meeting will be forwarded to you.

If you have any questions about the meeting, please contact Mr. Murguia of my staff. Mr. Murguia may be reached at 202-456-2437.

Sincerely,

Sandra L. Thurman

Mr. Henry van Ameringen
H. van Amerigen Foundation
509 Madison Avenue
New York, NY 10022-5501

Dear Mr. van Ameringen:

I am pleased to invite you to a special White House meeting to discuss philanthropic support for effective approaches to preventing HIV/AIDS among intravenous drug users. It is scheduled for Tuesday, February 1, 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. in Washington, D.C. This meeting will bring together key individuals in grant making organizations which provide funding for public health, substance abuse and HIV/AIDS programs to explore ways to increase creativity, funding, and new approaches to addressing HIV/AIDS prevention in this hard to reach population.

As you are aware, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention reports that up to one-half of new HIV infections are related to injection drug use. Grant makers who have as a program goal HIV and other infectious disease prevention must enhance their efforts to help develop and implement effective strategies for this often difficult to reach group. As philanthropic and government leaders, our role is to encourage increased support, provide vision, and develop new ideas for action.

Attendance is limited, by invitation only, and is non-transferable. Unfortunately we are not able to cover cost associated with your travel to attend this meeting. Please fax the enclosed reply form as soon as possible to Mr. Matthew Murguia, Office of National AIDS Policy, 202-456-2438. Upon your confirmation of attendance, a final agenda, a list of participants, and additional information regarding the meeting will be forwarded to you.

If you have any questions about the meeting, please contact Mr. Murguia of my staff. Mr. Murguia may be reached at 202-456-2437.

Ms. Jill Houska
Sand Diego Community Foundation
1420 Kettner Blvd., Suite 500
San Diego, CA 92101

Dear Ms. Houska:

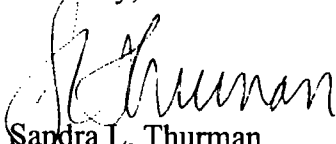

I am pleased to invite you to a special White House meeting to discuss philanthropic support for effective approaches to preventing HIV/AIDS among intravenous drug users. It is scheduled for Tuesday, February 1, 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. in Washington, D.C. This meeting will bring together key individuals in grant making organizations which provide funding for public health, substance abuse and HIV/AIDS programs to explore ways to increase creativity, funding, and new approaches to addressing HIV/AIDS prevention in this hard to reach population.

As you are aware, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention reports that up to one-half of new HIV infections are related to injection drug use. Grant makers who have as a program goal HIV and other infectious disease prevention must enhance their efforts to help develop and implement effective strategies for this often difficult to reach group. As philanthropic and government leaders, our role is to encourage increased support, provide vision, and develop new ideas for action.

Attendance is limited, by invitation only, and is non-transferable. Unfortunately we are not able to cover cost associated with your travel to attend this meeting.
