Dear Ms. Thurman,

Thank you very much for meeting with me. I enjoyed our conversation and found the information that you shared with me most helpful. After meeting with you I have a clearer understanding of the government's involvement in this fight and how my grassroots experience, technical knowledge, and international policy experience may be used. I value your candor on where you see someone of my abilities fitting in. I also consider your offer to contact certain people at USAID, HHS, and Global Health Council kind and generous and it would be greatly appreciated. For someone like myself who is willing to do whatever, whenever, and however to get his foot in the door, and needs merely a chance to prove his worth and ability, this could lead to a great opportunity. Thanks again for your guidance and assistance and I look forward to talking to you again soon.

Sincerely,

Christopher M. Kanstrup
