"If we can share our wisdom, our light,
our love in the smallest ways
I know the world will be a better place."

— Elizabeth Meyer Glaser (1947-1994)

The Pediatric AIDS Foundation's Commitment to Children Award is given to an extraordinary individual who embodies Elizabeth Glaser's dedication and compassion in working tirelessly to improve the lives of children.

Award recipients continually work to provide a healthier future by giving children a voice and focusing the nation's attention on children's health issues.

The Pediatric AIDS Foundation is proud to present our first Commitment to Children Award to the First Lady of the United States of America, Hillary Rodham
Clinton, for all of her efforts on behalf of the nation's children.

Ms. Sandy Thurman

Director, White House Office of National AIDS Policy
202/632-1096

Dear Sandy:

It was terrific meeting you on the phone last week. As you know, we have selected World AIDS Day 1997 to present our first Commitment to Children Award to the First Lady, Hillary Rodham Clinton, for all of her efforts on behalf of children's health issues.

The following is a preliminary run-down of our event on December 1, 1997. The event is being held in the Helen Hayes Gallery of the National Theatre and will begin at approximately 12:15. The program will last one hour and a reception will follow.

The program:

- 12:15 Greetings from Susie Zeegen, Pediatric AIDS Foundation Co-founder
Introduction - Roger Dickson, Pediatric AIDS Foundation CEO
10 Minute Play about what it is like living with HIV
Three HIV-infected children will take the stage to answers questions from the audience
(Lori Wiener from the National Institutes of Health will facilitate the Q&A)
Mary Steenburg, Pediatric AIDS Foundation spokesperson speaks
Peter Piot, UNAIDS, speaks
Paul Glaser, Chairman of the Board of Directors, presents Mrs. Clinton with her award
Paul invites two representatives from the third-grade class on stage to present their card
Mrs. Clinton Speaks
- 1:15 Bring in Da Noise Bring in Da Funk closes the program with a number from the show ( This is not confirmed)

The audience will be comprised of legislators and policy makers as well as a local elementary school class. The program is intended to educate the children while delivering the important message to policy makers and media that pediatric AIDS research must continue to be a priority.

As we discussed, we would be thrilled to have the President join us as we honor Mrs. Clinton and would incorporate him into the program.
