ALLIANCE FOR BETTER NURSING HOME CARE Building Bridges Program

Building Bridges, a statewide intergenerational program of the Alliance for Better Nursing Home Care, has been creating and supporting intergenerational visits between classes of children and nursing home residents since 1985. The Building Bridges Program brings together more than 1,800 children and residents each year for the benefit of both generations.

Building Bridges is:

- * a unique learning experience for children, one that cannot be gained in the classroom or from books.
- * a chance for children to become sensitized to the special needs of the frail elderly.
- * an opportunity to instill the spirit of volunteerism early in life.
- * an introduction to careers in the health care field
- * an upbeat program which promotes good public relations between the generations and encourages community involvement.

Children from Head Start Programs, day care centers, and public & private elementary schools participate and visit residents on a regular and on-going basis throughout the school year. They do projects together and share experiences. Communication between the children and nursing home residents is simple and easy, colored by the natural affection found between the generations. Building Bridges enriches the lives of all who participates.

Building Bridges would be grateful for the opportunity to introduce Mrs. Clinton to an intergenerational program at Kent Nursing Home in Warwick. We have selected this 153 bed nursing facility because of its long-standing relationship with Building Bridges and the Head Start Program, Child, Inc. Only minutes away from the airport this nursing home will offer an intimate atmosphere to host this special occasion.

I envision a class (15 children) of four year olds from Child, Inc./Head Start working together on a special project with an equal number of residents from Kent Nursing Home as part of their intergenerational visit. Mrs. Clinton would be invited to take part in this activity which encourages conversation and a good time. The children and residents will also share songs, play games and be prepared with questions to ask the First Lady if such an opportunity arises.

Please contact Nancy J. Feroldi at 401-785-3340 or after 4:00 401-821-2438.

Mrs. Hillary Clinton

Dear Mrs. Clinton:

I am writing on behalf of [redacted] (b)(6) 001
Rhode Island. Last year, [redacted] (b)(6) 001 underwent a double lung transplant as a result of suffering from leukemia. He and his family are among the millions of Americans who will be affected by the prospective health care reform proposal.

Recently, [redacted] (b)(6) 001 read of your upcoming visit to Rhode Island tentatively scheduled for Friday, October 8, 1993 at Brown University.
He wrote to me inquiring as to the possibility of meeting you while you are in our state.

Personally, I have had the pleasure of meeting [redacted] (b)(6) 001 and his family and can certainly attest to his strong determination and commitment. The serious illness he has struggled with for most of his life has permitted him to mature well beyond his years. In addition, [redacted] (b)(6) 001 would also like to share his personal experience with you as you consider and debate health care reform and how your proposal can best help people in a similar situation.

For these reasons, I strongly encourage you to take the time out of your schedule to meet with [redacted] (b)(6) 001 while you are in Rhode Island for this would certainly be an opportunity this remarkable young man would treasure for a lifetime.

Your earliest reply to my request would be greatly appreciated.
Please do not hesitate to contact Ms. Louise Rosarbo of my staff who can be reached at 202-225-4911.

Thank you in advance for your consideration of this important request.

Sincerely,

[Signature]
Ron Machtley
Member of Congress
