BUFFET BREAKFAST WITH HEALTH SECURITY ACT COSPONSORS

DATE:	December 8, 1993
LOCATION:	Indian Treaty Room, OEOB
TIME:	8:30 am
FROM:	Steve Ricchetti, Melanne Verveer Chris Jennings, Jack Lew

I. PURPOSE

1. To thank House and Senate Members who have cosponsored the Health Security Act;
2. To illustrate the important role the Administration views its core supporters playing during the upcoming legislative effort;
3. To indicate our desire to be particularly responsive to and work with our friends in the Congress who have been with us from the beginning; and
4. To re-energize the Members on this issue during the December/January recess.

II. BACKGROUND

The Health Security Act (H.R. 3600 in the House and S. 1757 in the Senate) has 101 cosponsors in the House and 31 cosponsors in the Senate. As you will note from the attached list of cosponsors, the Administration's health care proposal has garnered the cosponsorship of every Committee Chairman and Subcommittee Chairman who has primary jurisdiction over health care. Only one other bill that has been introduced in either body has more cosponsors -- a proposal sponsored by Republican Leader Michel has about 20 more cosponsors. (Of course Michel does not have the diversity of interests on the Republican side of the aisle as do the Democrats, e.g. McDermott single payer/Cooper managed competition.)

Although there are a significant number of cosponsors, it is important to note that many of the cosponsors, particularly in the House, do not yet feel comfortable with the bill. Some of the Members went on board despite their feelings that they could get more out of the process if they held out their support. (They were convinced, in particular, by Majority Leader Gephardt and Senator Daschle that it was essential that there be a strong showing of support for the President's legislation.)

The First Lady thought that the cosponsors of the Health Security Act needed to be acknowledged prior to their departure for the year. In addition to this event and thank you notes sent out by Mrs. Clinton to every cosponsor, each of the cosponsor's office in the Senate and a list of the most influential House cosponsors (worked out with Gephardt's office) has been called and offered individual briefings, an Administration principal to go out to their District for a health care field event, and the opportunity to bring in their informal health care advisory groups into the OEOB for a meeting with an Administration official. (So far, the response has been positive and very appreciative.)

Despite our work with the Members, there will be those in the room whose support does not run deep and who feel that we may already be assuming their support. This breakfast is a good opportunity to signal that the Administration will not take their support for granted and wants to do whatever it can to be responsive to their needs/priorities. It also will be a good opportunity to illustrate our acceptance and understanding that the legislative game has now moved onto Congressional turf, and to exhibit our confidence that this process will further strengthen an already solid proposal.

III. PARTICIPANTS

House and Senate Cosponsors of Health Security Act. (See attached list of confirmed and possible attendees.)

NOTE: It is Congressman Tom Barrett's (D-WI) birthday tomorrow -- Wednesday. You may want to wish him a happy birthday during the meet and greet portion (after your remarks).

George Kundanis, Speaker's Office; Andrea (Andie) King, Majority Leader Gephardt's office, John Hilley and Chris Williams of Majority Leader Mitchell's office.

The First Lady

IV. SEQUENCE OF EVENTS

Members arrive at 8:15 am.

President and First Lady arrive at 8:30 am.

First Lady gives very brief welcoming and appreciation remarks, and introduces the President. (Mrs. Clinton's primary role, however, is to introduce the President.)

President concludes remarks, asks Members to continue to eat, and (along with the First Lady) "works" the Members.

NOTE: The President is scheduled to stay for a total of 30 minutes. He is then scheduled to leave for the NAFTA thank you coffee. (Some of the Members who are being thanked for that purpose -- Dodd, Rostenkowski, Matsui, Richardson, and possibly Foley -- will join the President in the ride over to that event.)

V. PRESS PLAN

Closed press. (White House photographers will be present.)

VI. REMARKS

- * Too often we do not get a chance to show how much we appreciate the Members of Congress who have illustrated a willingness to publicly state their support of Administration initiatives. Today is just such an occasion.

- * Next session, there will be no greater a priority Administration initiative than health care. Your past and continuing support has been and will continue to be critical, and I want to thank you for your tremendous support.

- * I am well aware that a number of you do not feel comfortable with every comma, sentence and paragraph of our legislation. The nature of health care makes it almost certain that this will be the case for almost every American.
- * What we have presented to you is what we believe to be a solid package that meets the six principles that we all share: security for every American, savings, simplicity, quality, choice and responsibility. We worked hard to produce the best possible proposal.
- * Having said this, this Administration is well aware that it is now your turn to probe and modify this proposal to make it stronger than it already is. We welcome and look forward to this process.
- * During the legislative process, there will be many Members of many Committees who have an important role to play. To the extent the Administration is called on to assist the Congress in its role, I want you to know that we are committed to be particularly responsive and helpful to our early supporters.
- * While we have a ways to go to sign a comprehensive health reform legislation into law, we have made great progress. Together we have moved the debate from IF health care reform gets enacted to what month in 1994 health care reform will get enacted. We have moved the debate from whether the reform will be incremental to how UNIVERSAL COVERAGE that is AFFORDABLE to ALL Americans will be assured.
- * We have made tremendous achievements to date. However, we have much work to do to assure that we reach our ultimate achievement -- a comprehensive reform initiative signed into law. I cannot think of a better collection of Members that I would more prefer to have on my side to start this process than those in this room. Again, thank you.

ADMINISTRATIVE MARKING
INITIALS: LOB DATE: 4/17/14
2014-0483-5

MEMORANDUM FOR HILLARY RODHAM CLINTON

FROM: JACK LEW
SUBJECT: LEON PANETTA BRIEFING WITH MEMBERS OF CONGRESS

Tomorrow at 2:00 Leon Panetta will be briefing a group of moderate/conservative members of the House on FY 95 budget issues and the relationship between the budget and health care reform.

This meeting is a result of the suggestion which Dick Gephardt made when he met with you last week and invitations were made in consultation with his office.

The best outcome of this meeting will be an understanding that health care reform is necessary to accomplish long term health care cost controls, which are necessary for long term deficit reduction.

This meeting is not likely to produce either co-sponsors or an overwhelming endorsement of health care reform. Our goal for the meeting is to begin a dialogue in the aftermath of Penny-Kasich so that when the budget and the balanced budget debates begin next year these Members understand better the adverse consequences for any health care reform of separate attempts to cut health care entitlements.

Attached are the charts that Leon Panetta is planning to use in his remarks.

Attendance

The following Members have indicated that they will attend:

Jim Moran (VA)
Tim Penny (MN)

John Spratt (SC)
Charles Stenholm (TX)

CHART 4/CAPS ON DISCRETIONARY SPENDING

Over the next five years discretionary outlays will be at or below the FY 1993 cap of $550 billion. This means $106.8 billion will have to be cut below baseline to reach the caps.

CHART 5/DISCRETIONARY SPENDING

This chart shows in real dollars - 1987 dollars - the total amount of discretionary spending. As you can see it reached a high of $464 billion in FY 1991 and will fall to $387 billion in FY 1998.

Note:

1982: Beginning of Reagan Presidency.....	$326 billion
1992: End of Bush Presidency.....	$536 billion
1993: Spending Cap.....	$550 billion
1994 to 1998.....	at or below $550 billion

CHART 6/ORIGINAL ADMINISTRATION PROPOSALS AND AGENCY REQUESTS

Here we have the original administration proposals for the FY 1995 budget (proposed last year in the FY 1994 budget). As you can see the President's original budget called for $19 billion more than the caps for discretionary spending. Second, we show what the agencies have requested for the FY 1995 budget in relation to the caps - $23.1 billion more than is allowed under the cap. Both demonstrate how tight these caps are for FY 1995.

CHART 7/FINANCING HEALTH CARE REFORM

This chart describes the funding and expenditure situation with regard to Health Care Reform. There are three specific problems with cutting Medicare outside the context of health care reform:

Increases Cost Shifting

- o If further reductions are made in Medicare without corresponding private sector reform, the "cost shifting" onto the private insurance market will be exacerbated.

Paying More Without New Benefits

- o The Health Care reform bill requires copayments by the elderly but provides a Medicare drug benefit and a long-term care benefit. Penny-Kasich did not provide these benefits, raising questions about fairness.

Cushion for Health Care Reform is Threatened

- o Some have argued that the Medicare cuts taken by Penny-Kasich are not needed because of the $44 billion provided as a cushion for the estimates of the cost of providing subsidies to low-wage workers and small, low-wage firms. The notion of spending down this cushion is fiscally irresponsible. The cushion is there to ensure that if our estimates are off, we have included enough financing up front to take care of the problem.

CHART 8: CLINTON ADMINISTRATION LIST OF INVESTMENTS

This is the list of the major investments targeted by the Clinton Administration. Because of the freeze in funding for discretionary spending to fund increased investment in these areas we must make cuts in other programs.

CHART 9/REDUCTION IN FY 1994 APPROPRIATIONS BILLS

This is a breakdown by Appropriations Subcommittee of accounts that were cut below FY 1993 levels in order to hit the caps in the FY 1994 budget and to fund investments. The point is that we had real cuts below FY 1993 levels - not just cuts below baseline - to fund investments in the FY 1994 budget. We are facing exactly the same situation in FY 1995.

CHART 10: FUNDING OF THE PRESIDENT'S FY 1994 INVESTMENT PROPOSALS

This chart shows the investments that were made possible in the FY 1994 appropriations process by cuts in non-investment programs.

CHART 11/ALL THE GROWTH IN INCOME TAXES GOES TOWARDS DEFICIT REDUCTION

Here we see that the increase in revenues from FY 1994 to FY 1995 goes for: 1) covering the increase in interest and entitlement spending and 2) reducing the budget deficit.

DEFENSE

A special word on defense and the consequences of a further reduction in the caps.

Pay Raise and Inflation

- o Because of the pay raise granted military personnel this year ($14.5 billion over five years) and with greater inflation predicted for the outyears ($32 billion over five years) the Defense Department already faces a challenge meeting its five year targets proposed by the President and adopted by the Congress last year.

- o Further reductions would mean one or more of the following:

- accelerating the military personnel reduction currently planned. This could threaten our ability to respond to only one major regional contingency, rather than two nearly simultaneous ones as is currently planned.

- Cuts in R&D, Procurement and readiness.
