George Stephanopoulos
Senior Advisor to the President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500RE: Request for videotaped message from First Lady

Dear George:

On Friday, April 15 in Los Angeles there will be an all-day conference sponsored by the Forum on Children's Issues entitled "Achieving the Dream: Health Care...Healthy Kids". The Forum was founded last year by Eileen Norton to focus the attention of the public and policy makers on issues of concern to children. (Eileen is on the board of CDF and is a close friend of Marian Wright Edelman's.)

The two key conference speakers are Rep. Pat Schroeder and Marian Wright Edelman. The thrust of the conference is to make the concerns of children a significant component in the national debate about health care reform.

Eileen would very much like to see if it would be possible for the First Lady to send a brief videotaped message of welcome that could open the conference and help set the tone and focus the discussion throughout the day.

I think this could be similar to something she did recently with another children's advocacy group here in California where she spoke by satellite or videotape and it got some good message play in the media.

I hope that this is something doable. Please let me know what you think, and how you think I should proceed. I am enclosing some information on the conference and the Forum on Children's Issues.

Thanks.

Best,

Stephen M. Rivers

Rep. Schroeder will given a luncheon address reporting on what Congress is doing on children's health care issues, and Edelman will close the conference with a dinner speech entitled "Ensuring Children's Health".

Other speakers at the conference include Dr. Reed Tuckson, president of Drew University Medical School, Los Angeles County District Attorney Gilbert Garcetti and Dr. Susan Bailey, a senior spokeswoman for the Clinton Administration's health care reform plan. Bailey will participate in an afternoon panel debate on the competing health care reform proposals currently before Congress.

Attending the conference will be an invited audience of 125 professionals in the fields of health care and children's issues.

"Achieving the Dream: Health Care ... Healthy Kids" is the second annual conference sponsored by the Forum on Children's Issues. Last year's conference focused on education reform.

DAY-LONG MEETING TO DEBATE CLINTON AND ALTERNATIVE HEALTH CARE REFORM PLANS

FRIDAY, APRIL 15 AT CENTURY PLAZA HOTEL

Los Angeles Congresswoman Patricia Schroeder (D Colorado) and Children's Defence Fund leader Marian Wright Edelman will be among the speakers at "Achieving the Dream: Health Care ... Healthy Kids", a day-long conference taking place on Friday, April 15 at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles.

"Our conference is designed to help put the needs of children at the forefront of the national debate about health care reform," said Eileen Norton, the director of the Forum on Children's Issues which is sponsoring the event. "Children who don't get an early start with preventative health care end up costing families and society many millions of unnecessary dollars and end up becoming unhealthy adults who create a heavy burden on our health care system", Norton said. "There has been plenty of debate and attention in the media about the politics of health care reform, and some attention to how reform would affect certain segments of society [seniors, people with HIV and AIDS, etc.], but next-to no debate about how reform will affect children and what we ought to do to give kids a healthy start in life. We hope that this conference will help to get that debate started."

WHITE HOUSE EVENT
HOSTED BY
THE PRESIDENT AND MRS. CLINTON

Wednesday, April 13, 1994

1:30 P.M.

Dress: Athletes - Award Suits and Medals
All others - Business Attire

Event Summary

A South Lawn event hosted by Honorary USOC President Bill Clinton honoring the 1994 United States Olympic and Paralympic Winter Teams.

Participants

The President and Mrs. Clinton
1994 United States Olympic and Paralympic Winter Teams
An audience consisting of White House staff, Department and Agency representatives, and special friends of the White House

Description

The President and Mrs. Clinton are hosting a White House tribute to the members of the 1994 Olympic and Paralympic Winter Teams. In addition to the athletes, it will be attended by an audience of approximately 350 people, a group that includes White House Staff, Federal Department and Agency officials, ACOG representatives, and other friends and guests of the White House.

Assuming favorable weather, the event will be held on the South Lawn (the side facing the Washington Monument), directly in front of the South Portico (the rounded portion of the White House with the balconies on the second and third floors). The President and Mrs. Clinton will be on a small platform positioned directly in front of the ground floor entrance to the South Portico. The athletes will stand beside them on the ground and up either of two stairways to the left and right of the President, and along the second-floor balcony connecting the top of the two stairways.

The program will begin with the athletes moving out onto the second-floor balcony and arranging themselves along the balcony and down the stairways while the Marine Band plays appropriate music. When all are in place the band will render musical honors, the President and Mrs. Clinton will be announced, and will move out to the platform. The President will then deliver remarks which will be followed by a presentation of a team jacket by 1994 Olympic Winter Team flag-bearer Cammy Myler. At the conclusion of the remarks, the President's schedule permitting, there may be an opportunity for a receiving line for athletes.

Program Sequence

1:30 P.M. Athletes, officers and staff arrive in busses at Northwest Gate (Pennsylvania Avenue side) of White House.
Proceed into White House via North Portico.
Note: Picture ID should be available.

Group will be directed to the East Room, where they will receive a briefing on what will transpire.

2:00 P.M. Staff and officers will be directed out to the South Lawn to join the other members of the audience. Weather and ground conditions permitting, the audience will be in chairs. If the ground is too wet they will stand.

Athletes move to Blue Room.

2:15 P.M. Athletes walk out of Blue Room and move into their positions along the balcony and down onto the stairways.

2:25 P.M. "Ruffles and Flourishes"
Announcement
President and Mrs. Clinton emerge from Door to South Portico while band plays "Hail to the Chief."

2:30 P.M. Presidential remarks

FULL PRESS COVERAGE

2:40 P.M. Remarks conclude.
Cammy Myler, who is positioned to the right (stage right) of the platform, moves to the podium and presents a team jacket to the President.

Note: This will be the only presentation. Mrs. Clinton, who received a team jacket from the team in Lillehammer, will likely be wearing hers.

2:45 P.M. Presentation concludes.

Directed by USOC staff, athletes move down stairway and proceed down driveway and board busses that will have been repositioned at the Southeast Gate.

3:00 P.M. Busses depart for Washington Hilton Hotel

3:15 P.M. Arrive Washington Hilton Hotel

NOTE: If the President's schedule permits a reception line for athletes, the return to the Washington Hilton will be delayed by 30 minutes until 3:45 P.M.

Inclement Weather Plan

In the event of rain the entire event will be held in the East Room of the White House.

CAMMY MYLER TEAM JACKET PRESENTATION TO THE PRESIDENT

MR. PRESIDENT, WHEN MRS. CLINTON VISITED THE ATHLETE'S VILLAGE IN LILLEHAMMER, WE MADE HER A MEMBER OF THE 1994 U.S. OLYMPIC WINTER TEAM AND AWARDED HER A TEAM JACKET. ALTHOUGH YOU COULDN'T BE WITH US AT THE GAMES, YOUR SUPPORT, WHICH YOU COMMUNICATED TO US THROUGH THE PRESENCE OF MRS. CLINTON AND CHELSEA, AND THROUGH YOUR PHONE CALLS, WERE AN INSPIRATION TO ALL OF US AND CONTRIBUTED TO THE 1994 WINTER GAMES BEING THE MOST SUCCESSFUL EVER FOR AN AMERICAN TEAM.

ON BEHALF OF THE ATHLETES OF THE 1994 UNITED STATES OLYMPIC WINTER TEAM, IT GIVES ME GREAT PLEASURE TO PRESENT TO YOU, THE HONORARY PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OLYMPIC COMMITTEE, THIS TEAM JACKET. IT IS EMBLEMATIC OF YOUR MEMBERSHIP ON THE 1994 OLYMPIC WINTER TEAM, AND IS PRESENTED WITH PRIDE, AND APPRECIATION FOR YOUR SUPPORT.

CAMMY MYLER

Cammy Myler of Lake Placid, New York, age 26, was the U.S. flag bearer at Opening Ceremonies of the 1994 Olympic Winter Games in Lillehammer, Norway. This was an honor accorded her by her teammates, who selected her for this position by ballot.

Cammy is a five-time U.S. Champion, and three-time Olympian in the sport of luge. She finished 9th in the 1998 Games and 5th at the 1992 Olympic Winter Games in Albertville, France, the highest finish ever for an American female in luge. In the 1994 Games, due to an injury, she finished 11th, but was still the top American female in that sport.

She has resumed her studies as a pre-med student at Dartmouth.

CHAMPIONS IN LIFE

The United States Olympic Committee is committed to the fundamental goal of the Olympic Movement, which is to contribute to building a peaceful and better world by educating youth through sport. It is a mission that is taken very seriously, and one to which considerable resources are dedicated. The most valuable of these resources is our Olympic athletes.

"Champions In Life" is a USOC program designed to give young people the chance to be exposed to the values possessed by Olympic athletes who can serve as role models. This program is designed to provide forums for Olympians to deliver messages of hope and encouragement directly to young people, and to demonstrate to them the value of hard work. The objective of the athletes is to show the students that there is no limitation as to what the human spirit can achieve, and that every individual can be a champion in life.

BREAKFAST

INTERNATIONAL BALLROOM WEST

Wednesday, APRIL 13, 1994
7:00 A.M.

Dress: Athletes - Award Suits
All Others - Business Attire

Event Summary

Breakfast and briefing for athletes participating in a school visit program prior to departure for their individual visits to schools in the Washington Metropolitan area where they will address assemblies of students.

Participants

Olympians
Athlete School Visit Program escorts
USOC Officers and Staff - Individual Option
School Visit Program Leadership Team
Benita Fitzgerald - 1984 Gold Medalist
Michael Jackson - USOC, Colorado Springs
Nathaniel Clevenger - Local Coordinator

Description

This breakfast will serve as an opportunity to provide the substantive and logistical details for the "Champions In Life" school visit program that will commence later that morning. In this program the athletes will be divided into teams of approximately five each, be transported to one of twenty schools, mostly junior high schools, in the Washington Metropolitan area, and speak to an assembly of students. The message to be delivered will emphasize the value of education, of staying drug-free, and of pursuing one's dreams. It is to be a personal perspective, based upon the individual experience of each athlete.

Each team will be comprised of the following:

Olympic athletes.
One athlete escort who has "advanced," i.e. made all arrangements for the school being visited.
USOC officer or staff - individual option.
On selected teams, a government official, i.e. Mrs. Clinton, a Member of the House or Senate.

The breakdown of schools being visited in the D.C. Area is:

D.C. - 15
Prince Georges County, Maryland - 1
Montgomery County, Maryland - 1
Alexandria, Virginia - 1
Fairfax County, Virginia - 1
Arlington County, Virginia - 1

Michael Jackson will serve as the moderator of the breakfast program, introducing the other participants and conducting the question-and-answer period. He will also introduce the video of the "Champions In Life" program conducted in 1992 on the occasion of the last Olympic Dinner.

Benita Fitzgerald will present the substantive portion of the breakfast program. She will deliver remarks intended to motivate the athletes for their individual visits, and to provide suggested themes which the athletes might use when they deliver their presentations to the students. She will be assisted by Michael Jackson who will suggest a structure for the presentation, and will distribute cards containing outlines.

Nathaniel Clevenger will discuss the logistics, explaining the composition of the teams, how and where they form, and where to find the vehicle assigned to each team. At the conclusion of his presentation the teams will begin their individual departures for their respective schools.

USOC Officers and staff are invited to participate in the breakfast as well as the actual visits if they so desire. However, because of space limitations in each vehicle it is necessary that the intent to participate in the visit be registered in advance with Debbie Dalton of the USOC Staff. Those choosing to participate will accompany the teams as an observer, and will not be introduced nor expected to speak.
