Dear Ms. Smallheiser:

This letter confirms the appearance of Kristine M. Gebbie, National AIDS Policy Coordinator, at the Margaret J. Stafford lecture series, on March 10, 1994.

Ms. Gebbie plans to arrive at 1:30 to deliver a keynote address, "Nursing in the 90s: Challenge and Opportunity." At the conclusion of the speech the student will be able to identify:

- 1) Challenges to nurses presented by the HIV epidemic;
- 2) Challenges to nurses presented by health care reform;
- 3) Skills needed by nurses to respond to these challenges;
and
- 4) Individual opportunities for leadership and change.

Please call me at (202) 632-1090 with any questions or for further clarification. I am enclosing a biographical sketch and curriculum vitae for your reference.

Sincerely,

W. Steve Lee

Dear Mr. Lee,

We received the objectives for the Margaret J. Stafford Lecture and Ms. Gebbies' CV. The objectives will mesh very nicely with the overall purpose of the lecture. We anticipate no problem obtaining continuing education credit from the Illinois Nurses Association.

The invitation/flyer has also been distributed (see attached). Thanks for your help.

Your office needs to contact the Hines VA Travel Office to arrange air travel. The phone number is: (708) 343-7200 Ext. 5501. Either Sophie or Pat will help you. The official papers have been received by Hines Travel and they are waiting to hear from you.

You also need to make a hotel reservation. I suggest the Oakbrook Hyatt, which is located about 15 minutes west of Hines Hospital. The phone number there is (708) 573-1234. Ask for the government rate and it should cost about $85.00. Of course if Ms. Gebbie has a preference for another hotel/location, the choice is hers.

Will Ms. Gebbie be traveling alone? If she will be accompanied by an entourage, we will need to make appropriate seating and parking arrangements.

We have videotaped the previous speakers at the Stafford Lecture. If Ms. Gebbie agrees to this we need the attached medical media release signed and returned to us. We have also received from past speakers a written copy of their lecture. We plan to bind these written copies and maintain them in the Hines Library. No part of the lecture will be published.

Dear Steve,

When you talk with Ms. Gebbie tomorrow about objectives and content for the Margaret Stafford Lecture on March 10, at 1:30 PM, would you ask her to keep the following in mind:

1. The target audience is staff nurses currently practicing at the bedside.
2. The purpose of the lecture is to inspire and motivate staff nurses to advance the practice of nursing.
3. All of us in nursing service are wondering about the impact of health care reform and the ramifications for the Department of Veterans Affairs.

We are so proud to see a nurse appointed to a high level position such as the United States AIDS Policy Coordinator. Including in her presentation an overview of her responsibilities and an idea of what a typical day is like, would be of interest to us as well.

Thanks for you help Steve. I'll be looking for your FAX tomorrow.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Gebbie,

On behalf of the planning committee for the Margaret J. Stafford Research and Education Lecture, I invite you to present the Spring lecture. This will be conducted at the VA Hines Hospital, Hines Illinois.

The Margaret J. Stafford Lecture series began five years ago to commemorate the excellence in nursing practiced by Margaret (Peg) Stafford, a recent retiree. She tirelessly demonstrated those admired qualities of the pursuit of holistic, compassionate and skilled quality care for patients and families. She inspired and motivated staff nurses to continually advance the practice of nursing through improvement of clinical skills, application of research, and education of self and others. I have attached a list of the previous speakers and the topics they presented. This lecture series is well attended by staff from the four Chicago VA Hospitals, and distinguished leaders in nursing education and administration in the midwest.

The planning committee is very interested in your perspective of nursing practice as it applies to the HIV infected patient. We would appreciate hearing your views on: 1) How will nursing practice be affected by the AIDS epidemic in the coming decade? 2) How will the national HIV program affect nursing in all arenas of practice, acute care, long term care, hospice, and community? 3) What does nursing need to do to prepare for the future health care of the HIV infected individual?

The annual lecture is presented in the Spring, either the end of March or early April. If that time is not convenient for you, there are alternate dates available. I will call you in the next week to discuss this further. If you have any questions please do not hesitate to call me at work, (708) 343-7200 Ext. 2544, or at home, (708) 848-5647.

The INA Local Unit and the Nursing Service at Hines VA Hospital are pleased to announce that Kristine M. Gebbie, MN, RN, FAAN, AIDS Policy Coordinator for the Clinton administration, will present the Fifth Annual Margaret J. Stafford Research and Education Lecture. ^{in spring of 1994} She was appointed to this prestigious position last summer by President Clinton. Ms. Gebbie previously held the position of Secretary of the Washington State Department of Health and served on several national committees and task forces on public health issues.

The Margaret J. Stafford Lecture has been held at Hines VA Hospital since 1990. The purpose of the lecture is to stimulate and inspire professional nurses and to honor Margaret "Peg" Stafford, former Clinical Nurse Specialist and a founding member of the INA Local Unit at Hines. The date for the lecture has not been announced. Watch upcoming issues of Chart for further information. For more information, call Hines Hospital, Department of Veterans Affairs at (708) 216-2018.

Dear Ms. Hebbie,

It was an honor meeting you at the HIV/AIDS Nursing Care Summit held in Washington DC on January 27-29, 94. I found the summit to be very informative and a great networking experience.

As I expand my practice to include HIV/AIDS patients, I was pleased to see so many Nursing leaders already involved. I was very impressed by what you said in your speech and have taken steps to get more involved.

I look forward to seeing you again when you speak at Hines VA Hospital on March 10, 1994. Thank you for being the kind of nurse leader I strive to be.

Sincerely,

Jacqueline A Bohaly
