SANDRA B. O'LEARY

Sandra B. O'Leary joined the East Asian and Pacific Affairs Bureau as Deputy Assistant Secretary for Economic Policy on December 27, 1993. In this position she also serves as the Department's Senior Official to the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) forum. Mrs. O'Leary is the former Director for Planning and Economic Analysis at the State Department. While Director, she chaired the U.S. delegation to the economic component of the multilateral Middle East Peace talks. She also served, under both Secretaries Shultz and Baker, as senior economist on the Policy Planning Staff within the Office of the Secretary.

Prior to joining the Department of State Mrs. O'Leary served at the Department of the Treasury, covering macroeconomic and financial developments in Asia and Latin America; at the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative where she was responsible for trade negotiations and trade issues with developing countries; and at the Department of Commerce where she was the Director for Mexican Affairs and Senior Policy Advisor for Latin America.

Mrs. O'Leary received her Ph.D. from the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, her Masters Degree from the Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies in Washington, DC, and her B.A. from Smith College.

Mrs. O'Leary is married and has two daughters.
