MEMORANDUM

TO Bobbie and Ellen
FROM Noa
RE Mobil Corporation

- In October Mobil Corp. joined forces with 38 major foundations and corporations to support more than 100 projects across the country to strengthen the quality of child care programs. The participating organizations are investing more than $11.8 million in a wide range of initiatives designed to improve the quality of care and leadership in child care centers, family child care facilities, and early childhood programs.
- In 1995 Mobil Corp. led Virginia companies in charitable giving, donating $11 million through its foundation.
- Mobil Corp. along with Marriott International and Gannett Co. donated $1.2 million to help rebuild the historic C&O Canal.
- Mobil Corp. was rated one of the top education contributors in a 1995 study on corporate donations. The 19 companies studied gave 17%, or $26.2 million of their combined grant dollars to minority organizations or programs. About 57% of the funds donated to minority communities were earmarked for education purposes. The remaining contributions went to other areas, including health, the arts, human services, and the environment. The top beneficiary was the United Negro College Fund, which took in 19 grants totaling $1.25 million.
- In 1993, Mobil Corp.'s corporate philanthropy budget was $32 million annually, from which art and culture accounted for 46%. The rest went to education, healthcare and other social causes.
- When Mobil Corp. moved to Fairfax in 1990, its revenue was $56.2 billion, larger than the rest of the area's top 100 public companies combined. The Mobil Foundation, the only one of Mobil's many contribution arms that reports its activities publicly, within one year of having moved into the area, more than doubled its giving to over $2 million. Most of the increase was in Virginia, although the foundation also doubled its donations to District-based causes in 1989.
- According to a 1989 study, Mobil Corp. qualified as "liberal" in the world of corporate philanthropy. According to a book published by the Capital research Center, 90% of Mobil Corp.'s cash contributions "went to leftist organizations." Among those donations was $250,000 to the Chicago United Way for a summer youth employment program. One donation that went unmentioned in the book was Mobil's undisclosed contribution to the conservative American Enterprise Institute.

- In 1982 the Mobil Foundation gave 15% of its funds to art and cultural organizations; 25% to civic, health, and community services; and 53% to education. It was anticipated that in the future more money would go to civic and community groups, focusing less on its cultural, artistic, and other commitments. Its “art-friendly” policy was largely attributed to the federal spending cuts on arts-related and cultural programs.

natural environment and safeguarding our cultural and architectural heritage.

Health: Grants provide capital assistance to health care facilities and support delivery of health care services.

Human and Community Service: Grants support organizations working to improve the well-being of our citizens, neighborhoods and communities in such areas as housing, economic development, the elderly, the disabled, the homeless, employment, law and justice, and minority interests. Support is also given to federated community drives such as United Way.

Types of support: Annual campaigns, loans, building funds, continuing support, seed money, capital campaigns, endowment funds, general purposes, operating budgets, special projects.

Geographic limitations: Giving limited to recipient organizations whose activities are principally conducted within the geographic area in which MNC Financial and its subsidiaries are active, especially MD and DC.

Support limitations: No support for strictly sectarian, fraternal, veterans', religious, social, athletic organizations, or organizations receiving support through the United Way or other federated drives, exclusive of capital funding needs. No grants to individuals, or for fundraising events, trips, conferences, or publications.

Application information: Applicants should submit the following:

1. detailed description of project and amount of funding requested
2. how project's results will be evaluated or measured
3. brief history of organization and description of its mission
4. statement of problem project will address
5. population served
6. timetable for implementation and evaluation of project
7. copy of current year's organizational budget and/or project budget
8. how project will be sustained once foundation support is completed
9. principal source of support for project in the past
10. listing of additional sources and amount of support
11. listing of board of directors, trustees, officers and other key people and their affiliations
12. copy of IRS Determination Letter
