

P.E.A.C.E. - Positive Education Always Creates Elevation

P.E.A.C.E. is a mentoring program staffed by Americore students living in the Village of Bedford Pines (a 725 unit subsidized housing development in Atlanta, Georgia).

P.E.A.C.E. began as an after-school program designed to assist six to twelve year olds with homework and to teach them computer skills. The program originated with the staff of Wingate Management Company, who have since started a summer day camp and a welfare to work program for resident mothers. Special software has been installed to help communicate the skills required to gain employment. The children in the after-school program and day camp are given snacks and lunches donated by local markets.

We believe that P.E.A.C.E. embraces the best of all the President's thoughts on volunteerism, child care and welfare to work while addressing crime control, with instruction and teaching aids, under the direction of Georgia State University.
