Brief CV - Beatrix A. Hamburg, M.D.

Beatrix Hamburg is a medical educator, research scientist and foundation executive. In 1992 Dr. Hamburg was recruited to the position of President of the William T. Foundation. Prior to that time her full-time career was in academic medicine and she continues to hold the position of Professor of Psychiatry and Pediatrics at the Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York.

She is a graduate of Vassar College and the Yale University School of Medicine. She trained in pediatrics at the Children's Hospital in Cincinnati, in General psychiatry at the Department of Psychiatry at Yale and did her specialty training in Child Psychiatry at the Institute of Juvenile Research in Chicago. She was on the faculty of the Department of Psychiatry at Stanford University School of Medicine from 1961-1976 and was the Director of the Division of Child Psychiatry from 1971-1975. She then became Director of Extra-mural Program for Child and Adolescence at NIMH. In 1977 she was appointed as Director of Studies for the President's Commission on Mental Health. Following this she accepted a professorship in Child Psychiatry at the Children's Hospital at Harvard Medical School. In 1983 she was appointed Professor of Psychiatry and Pediatrics at the Mount Sinai School of Medicine and was Director of the Division of Child Psychiatry 1988-1992.

Dr. Hamburg has a distinguished record of public service. She is a member of the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Science and is currently a member of their Board on Neuroscience and Behavioral Medicine. She was formerly a member of the Board on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education (CBASSE) of the National Research Council. She served for over ten years on the Public Health Council of New York State. In 1997 she completed two terms as a member of the National Advisory Mental Health Council for NIMH. She is a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS) and was elected as a member of the Board of Directors of the AAAS. She currently serves on the Boards of the Revson Foundation, The Center for the Advancement of Health, the Klingenstein III Foundation and AMFAR. She has received many honors and awards in recognition of both her academic research and her public service. These include Phi Beta Kappa, Fellow at the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences, ADAMHA Award for outstanding achievement, and The Ross T. Gallagher Award for outstanding accomplishment in Adolescence.

Her research has encompassed normal adolescent development, adolescent psychopathology and endocrine-behavior interactions. She is most noted for seminal studies of early adolescence, pioneering work on peer counseling and biobehavioral studies of diabetic children and adolescents.

RE: Nomination for Senator Rudman's Oversight Board for Gulf War Illnesses

Dear Ms. Scott:

I was contacted by Paul Sullivan, Executive Director of the National Gulf War Resource Center, in regards to a request for nominations for Senator Warren Rudman's Oversight Board for Gulf War Illnesses. Upon his recommendation, and at the request of various other board members of the National Gulf War Resource Center, I am submitting a personal biographical sketch for consideration as a member of the Oversight Board.

Thank you for considering me as a candidate for this committee. I am aware of the level of responsibility that the Board entails, as well as the gravity and complexity of Gulf War Illnesses, and I am honored to be among those considered.

Please contact me should you need further information or have additional questions. I look forward to the opportunity of working with the Oversight Board.

Sincerely,

Anthony D. "Andy" Hardie
Executive Director, Gulf War Veterans of Wisconsin

Admiral Paul E. Busick
Special Assistant to the President and Senior Director for Gulf War Illnesses
National Security Council--ATTN: GWI
Old Executive Office Building 391
The White House
Washington, DC 20504

Dear Admiral Busick:

Thank you for your phone call earlier this week. It was good to hear from you.

Enclosed for your consideration are two versions of my qualifications. At TAB A is a copy of my resume in a format typically used for submission to an agency of the Federal Government. I submitted a like resume for consideration to Dr. Rostker's Gulf War Illness Task Force.

At TAB B is an abbreviated resume in standard format.

Each resume amplifies my managerial and staff backgrounds in traditional business language, and consequently does not focus on my military background or my interaction with the Department of Defense intelligence apparatus.

I served in the United States Army Reserve for a total of thirty years, fifteen years active duty, and fifteen years reserve duty, retiring as Colonel, O-6 (gray area retiree). My final active duty tour was from 1983 to 1995, serving approximately four years at Headquarters Department of the Army, one and one-half years at US Southern Command (Panama)(Joint Duty), and seven years at The Joint (Chiefs of) Staff. After duty in Panama during and after the 1989-1990 crisis, my last four and one-half years of active duty were spent at The Joint Staff, Operations Directorate, Joint Operations Division (J-3-JOD). I served during the Persian Gulf War and the Haiti and Somalia crises as a Crisis Action Team Chief for the Joint Chiefs of Staff in the National Military Command Center.

During these periods of service on the Joint Staff I worked in close cooperation with the J-2 Intelligence Directorate and the National Military Joint Intelligence Center (NMJIC), and am familiar with their staff operating procedures and reporting mechanisms. I have participated in the preparation and presentation of the daily updates for the Secretary of Defense and the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. During crises times, of course, I worked in close coordination with both the Secretary of Defense's Crisis Coordination Center and the J2 and NMJIC on an assortment of military matters, to include those relating to military intelligence.

My Joint Staff experience has given me invaluable exposure to a fast paced, time and information sensitive operational environment, and I am comfortable serving senior level officials in the governmental, military, business, and educational communities. I have approximately twelve years combined Defense Department staff experience completing reports and actions on inquiries requiring coordination between the Military Services and Departments, and the Office of the Secretary of Defense. After coordinating and completing staff inquiries, preparing reports and proposing recommendations, I have authored responses for the signatures of both the Secretary and the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs to members of congress and the general public on issues ranging from "flying saucers at Roswell, New Mexico" to recommendations to alter US military training policy. I have participated in DoD responses to reports mandated by legislation, and am accustomed to searching out the sources of information within the Defense and military Departments and services. In 1987-1988 I was Joint Staff project officer for design and execution of the first Secretary of Defense test of the 100,000 Selected Reserve Call-up Authority (Title 10 USC).

During my tenure with the veterans community, I interacted and met routinely with the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, his assistant secretaries and senior staff. I have testified before both houses of congress and have interacted on a regular basis with senior civilian and military leaders of our government, the congress, congressional staffs, and the veterans service organizations. My familiarity with the veterans community, Department of Veterans Affairs, and the Defense Department should allow me to move confidently within and between those groups seeking resolution of the Gulf War Illness issue.

At the time of my departure from active military service in 1995, I held a [REDACTED] (b)(6)(b)(7)(C) and can furnish you the file case number at the appropriate time. At your request, I will be happy to send to you a writing sample and personal and professional references.

Admiral Busick, I would be honored to again serve the United States of America in any way that I am able. Thank you, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

/s/ Michael E. Naylon

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS OF THE UNITED STATES

December 5, 1997

THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF

Marsha Scott, Deputy Assistant to the President
Chief of Staff, Presidential Personnel
Room 166, Old Executive Office Building
Washington D.C. 20503

Dear Ms. Scott:

This letter is in reference to the Special Oversight Board for the Department of Defense Investigation of Biological and Chemical Incidents, recently created by President Clinton. The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States (VFW) appreciates the President's foresight in maintaining that there be an independent body to monitor the Department of Defense's investigation of the Gulf War Syndrome. This issue continues to be of the utmost priority to the VFW—much progress has been made, however, there are problems which remain to be resolved.

The Special Oversight Board presents a special opportunity to enhance the lives of thousands of ill Gulf War veterans. For an effective and successful Board, we believe it is imperative that its membership include a reputable and established veteran advocate. The VFW respectfully requests that you consider Larry W. Rivers, our Adjutant General for appointment to the Special Oversight Board.

Mr. Rivers has a long and honorable record of working on behalf of this nation's veterans. His five years as Executive Director of the VFW Washington Office bears ample testimony to his knowledge of veterans' issues and his skill and strength in pursuing the best interests of veterans. Larry Rivers has been instrumental in successfully promoting pro-veteran legislative initiatives, as well as safeguarding the integrity of the VA system. More recently, for the past three years as Adjutant General (Chief Administrative Officer) of the 2.1 million member Veterans of Foreign Wars, he has played a preeminent leadership role in advancing our organization's nationally acclaimed patriotic and community service programs. His highly successful legal career well reflects the dispassionate and deliberative style that would so well serve the Special Oversight Board if he is chosen as one of its members. Mr. Rivers' ability to accurately analyze issues and then render them in readily understandable terms would make him an invaluable asset in such a complex and politically volatile situation that is to be the Board's charge.

Again, on behalf of the 2.1 million members of the VFW, and most especially this nation's Gulf War veterans, we kindly ask that you give our request the fullest consideration.

Sincerely,

Larry W. Rivers
Adjutant General
Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States

Larry W. Rivers was appointed Adjutant General of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States in August 1994 at the conclusion of the VFW's 95th National Convention. Rivers served as the VFW Commander-in-Chief during 1988-89 and executive director of the VFW Washington Office from 1989 until his appointment as Adjutant General.

Rivers served on active duty in the United States Marine Corps from June 1968 through June 1971. He served in Vietnam as an infantry platoon commander with both the 1st and 3rd Marine divisions and as a company commander with the 3rd Combined Action Group during 1969-70. His military awards and decorations include the Combat Action Ribbon, the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry and the Bronze Star.

Rivers earned a bachelor of arts degree in government from Northwestern State College in 1968 and a juris doctorate from Loyola University of the South in 1974. He was a practicing attorney in Alexandria, Louisiana from 1974 until his election as VFW Commander-in-Chief in 1988.

A life member of Johnson-Brown Post 1736 in Alexandria, Rivers served as state commander in 1980-81, the youngest veteran ever elected to that position in Louisiana. During his VFW career he has also served as the judge advocate general, national chief of staff and on numerous national committees.

Rivers is married to Connie Wright of Forest Hill, Louisiana, and is the father of three children — Larry, Jr., Rosalyn and Raegan. The Rivers family now resides in Kansas City, Missouri.

CONFIDENTIAL MEMORANDUM

TO: The President

FROM: Guy L. Smith

SUBJ: Persian Gulf Illness Oversight Board

CC: Erskine Bowles

Dear Mr. President:

Thank you for your note on my trip to North Korea. I will, as you asked, keep you fully informed. AmeriCares plans to make a second trip in late November with another planeload of medicine. I was told privately by a senior North Korean Foreign Ministry official while I was in Pyongyang that on my return visit I would be permitted to meet with Kim Jong Il, the "Dear Leader." I have no way of knowing if that will actually happen, but will of course keep you fully abreast of any developments.

Mr. President, I write you today regarding the new Persian Gulf Illness Oversight Board you are creating. In recent days I have become full-time Vice Chairman of AmeriCares, the international disaster relief organization and have resigned from Smith Worldwide Inc. Thus, I no longer have any private business encumbrances.

I would very much like to serve as a member of the oversight panel you are assembling. As you know, former Deputy Secretary of Defense John White engaged me to assist him with communications about the DOD's Persian Gulf Illness investigation in late 1996. I made a number of recommendations to DepSecDef White, some of which were implemented but without much enthusiasm by DOD. Thus, I have a fairly thorough working knowledge of the overall issue, as well as the various efforts by DOD to fully investigate the issue.

From a medical science perspective my belief is that the DOD has done a good job of scientific investigation, a fairly poor job of communicating that effort, and a very cursory effort at genuinely looking for any possible use of nerve gas during the Gulf War. For example, the DOD investigating team up to early 1997 had never looked at any document classified higher than secret, nor had it looked at Operational Intelligence from the field during Desert Shield or Desert Storm. While they may have since I was last involved, I doubt it. There was use of sarin to demonstrate its effectiveness to some Saudi troops and I do not believe that fact has ever been disclosed.

BIOGRAPHIC SKETCH

Dr. Samuel V. Spagnolo is Professor of Medicine at George Washington University School of Medicine and Health Sciences and Attending Physician at George Washington University Medical Center & the Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Center in Washington DC. He is the immediate past Director of the Division of Pulmonary Diseases and Allergy at George Washington University Medical Center and Chief of the Pulmonary Disease Section at the Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Center in Washington, DC. from 1975 to 1994. As Director of these various activities, Dr. Spagnolo was responsible for all of the clinical, teaching, administrative and research activities of these programs. He is also President of the International Lung Foundation.

Dr. Spagnolo has made significant contributions in a variety of fields:

As a teacher, he has personally led the training of #70 pulmonary and critical care specialists and is an active lecturer on the subject of pulmonary and critical care medicine

As a researcher, he has been active in a variety of areas including the diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis, clinical uses of laser in lung cancer, supportive care for lung cancer patient, the use of new antimicrobial agents, and the use of fine needle lung biopsy for the diagnosis of chest x-ray abnormalities. These research efforts have resulted in the publication of more than 40 scientific papers to date, plus numerous scientific exhibits and three textbooks. Among his scientific reports were the first major review of patient outcome during the early development of medical intensive care units, and the first, 1980, report of pneumocystis Carinii pneumonitis (now an AIDS related disease) in patients with lung cancer. More than #200 scientific articles were published by the division's faculty while under Dr. Spagnolo's direction

As a clinician, Dr. Spagnolo has a worldwide reputation as a therapist and consultant. In these roles he serves an international patient community in Europe and the Middle East. In 1981, when President Ronald Reagan was shot by a would-be assassin, Dr. Spagnolo served as the medical chest consultant. His involvement was reviewed in Mortal Presidency by Robert Gilbert, Basic Books, New York, NY, 1992.

He is the recipient of numerous honors and frequently responds to requests from the public media and professional organizations. In addition to his memberships in various professional societies, he has served as President of the District of Columbia Thoracic Society, President of the National Association of Veterans Affairs Physicians & Dentists, and is the immediate past Governor of the District of Columbia for the American College of Chest Physicians having served in that position for five years..

Dr. Spagnolo is listed in the 1996 Golden Anniversary 50th Edition of Marquis "Who's Who in America" as well as Medical Sciences International Who's Who (5th ed). He has served as advisor to various organizations and a consultant to the White House Medical Unit, Walter Reed Medical Center and the Will Rogers Institute. In 1991, he established the International Lung Foundation (ILF) for the purpose of helping overcome the serious deficiencies present in the clinical diagnosis, treatment, and the prevention of lung diseases.

Education: Washington and Jefferson College, BA; Temple University School of Medicine, M.D.

Ms. Marsha Scott
Presidential Personnel
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Marsha:

I am interested in serving on the President's Special Oversight Board on DOD Persian Gulf War Matters. Please consider the attached biographical information and other qualifications listed here.

For over twelve years, 1980-93, I was chief of public affairs at the Army Chemical Arsenal at Pine Bluff, Arkansas. Part of the Arsenal's mission consisted of storage of chemical weapons, production of protective masks and smoke munitions, among other military assignments. During the 1980's, the Arsenal produced one component of the new binary chemical munitions program and destroyed the stockpile of an obsolete incapacitating chemical agent munition.

Pine Bluff Arsenal supported Desert Shield and Desert Storm by providing refurbished protective masks and actually setting up a mask testing facility in the Persian Gulf. As spokesman for the Army installation, I had to communicate the mission, its purpose, impact and importance to the media and general public.

Later, I learned more about Persian Gulf War veterans and their medical problems while working for the Dept. of Veterans Affairs in Washington, 1993-96. It would be an honor to serve the President on this important board.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Dewey Spencer

News Release

VA OFFICIAL CAPS 24 YEARS OF PUBLIC SERVICE

Washington, DC -- Arkansas native Dewey C. Spencer, who has served for nearly four years as a top official in the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), has announced that he is retiring in December after 24 years of public service and returning to his home state. Spencer is the chief aide to VA's second-ranking executive, Hershel Gober, also from Arkansas.

"I'm proud of what VA has accomplished under President Clinton's leadership and that of Deputy Secretary Gober and Secretary Jesse Brown," said Spencer. "Veterans' health care services, benefits, outreach -- you name it -- all have been improved and expanded. VA is much more efficient and responsive, and veterans are being served in a more timely manner," he said.

VA is the federal government's second largest department, responsible for a nationwide system of health-care services, benefits programs and national cemeteries for America's 26 million veterans.

Prior to his VA position in Washington, Spencer, an Air Force veteran of the Vietnam War, served as chief of public affairs at the Pine Bluff Army Arsenal and social worker for the Arkansas Veterans Child Welfare Service. He is a former state commander of the Arkansas Department of The American Legion and has held several other positions of leadership in the organization's state and national structure. His volunteer work includes service on a number of state boards for veteran-related projects.

Spencer said he is "happy to be going home to Arkansas. The state and its people just stay in your heart. There was never any doubt that I would wind up where my roots are." Spencer will reside at Judsonia in White County.

Department of Veterans Affairs

Washington, D.C.

Dewey C. Spencer

As Assistant to the Deputy Secretary of Veterans Affairs, Dewey Spencer is the top aide to the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) second-ranking executive, Hershel Gober. VA is the federal government's second largest department, responsible for a nationwide system of health-care services, benefits programs and national cemeteries for America's 26.8 million veterans.

Mr. Spencer was the chief of public affairs at the Pine Bluff, Arkansas, U.S. Army Arsenal since 1980. In that position he served as spokesperson, directed the facility's news media relations, Congressional liaison and information programs, and acted as staff advisor to the Arsenal commander.

He went to the Arsenal from The American Legion state headquarters in Little Rock, where he had served since 1972 as public relations director and social worker for the Arkansas Veterans Child Welfare Service. He also served as assistant state adjutant, assistant editor, membership coordinator, programs manager and veterans counselor. In 1985-86, Mr. Spencer served as the Legion's state commander. More recently, he served as vice-chairman of the Legion's National Public Relations Commission. He is also a member of the Disabled American Veterans and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Other previous volunteer roles Mr. Spencer filled included serving on the Governor's Task Force on Veterans Affairs for six years, the executive board that built the Arkansas Vietnam Veterans Memorial, the Governor's POW/MIA Verification Task Force and the executive board of the Arkansas Vietnam Veterans Leadership Program.

An Air Force veteran of the Vietnam War, Mr. Spencer received a B.S. degree from State College of Arkansas (now University of Central Arkansas), Conway. He was born in [REDACTED] and was raised in eastern Arkansas.

Professional Achievements

1993-1997: Served as Surgeon General of the United States Coast Guard; managed a comprehensive health care program for over 160,000 beneficiaries with a budget of over $250,000,000. Served as Director of the Coast Guard's Safety and Environmental Health programs, which included serving as chief advisor to the Commandant of the Coast Guard on matters of sea survival, medical aspects of search and rescue, cold-weather protective clothing, and environmental medicine.

1995: Co-authored the chapter on Immersion Hypothermia in the medical textbook Wilderness Medicine - Management of Wilderness and Environmental Emergencies, 3rd edition (see publication section).

1991 to 1993: Designed and implemented a Coast Guard wellness program for all Coast Guard beneficiaries and employees, including the establishment of a wellness training program for Coast Guard counselors, publication of a weekly Wellness Bulletin, complete revision of the Coast Guard physical fitness programs for recruits and officer candidates, implementation of an aggressive anti-tobacco program, and revision of the menus for all Coast Guard dining facilities.

1986: Co-authored the section on hypothermia for the Standards and Guidelines for Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) and Emergency Cardiac Care (ECC). This section served as part of the national CPR guidelines from 1986-1992 (see publications section).

1986: Designed and coordinated a realistic test of rescue capabilities following a simulated multi-victim vessel mishap in Puget Sound. This experiment involved City of Seattle and Coast Guard rescue resources to evaluate the response to a ferry-boat disaster.

1986: Tested a prototype one-man liferaft in rough seas. The results of this study were used to accelerate the acquisition of this raft for both Coast Guard and Navy helicopter crewmen.

1984-1986: Developed criteria and procedures for human subject testing of protective clothing and flotation equipment in rough seas. All previous environmental testing of survival equipment had been conducted in laboratory tanks or in calm water.

1984-1986: Performed the only realistic, rough-sea tests, to date, of U.S. Coast Guard and U.S. Navy immersion protective clothing. These tests permitted a more accurate evaluation of garment performance and allowed a more accurate estimation of survival times for crewmen of aircraft or vessel mishaps in heavy seas. The results of this research led to revisions of the survival tables used by both the Coast Guard and the U.S. Air Force. This research won the 1989 Arnold D. Tuttle Award from the Aerospace Medical Association for "contributions toward the solution of a challenging problem in Aerospace Medicine."

1983-1984: Co-designed the anti-exposure, fire-retardant protective clothing used by Coast Guard helicopter crewmen in cold-weather operations.

1983: Performed the human-factors evaluation of the prototype Coast Guard 30-foot Surf Rescue Boat. This evaluation resulted in improvements in both the rescue capability of this vessel and in crew habitability.

1980-1983: Co-developed an underwater escape breathing device for use by Coast Guard helicopter pilots and crewmen trapped within capsized or submerged aircraft.

1979-1982: Designed and supervised the implementation of a servicewide emergency medical services system for Coast Guard search and rescue operations, including the establishment of the EMT training school, the development of standardized emergency medical equipment for vessel and aviation use, the implementation of a data collection system, and the establishment of a Coast Guard EMT Qualification code.

1976-1978: Co-designed an inhalation rewarming device for treating hypothermic patients transported during Coast Guard rescue operations.

1977: Served as the physician member of a three-person team of Department of Health and Human Services advisors to improve emergency medical services in Egypt, including the on-site establishment of EMT training programs in Cairo and Alexandria.

Honors and Awards

U.S. Armed Forces Distinguished Service Medal, May, 1997 for "exceptionally meritorious and distinguished services in the duties of Coast Guard Director of Health and Safety."

U.S. Public Health Service Surgeon General's Medallion, July, 1997, for "exceptional service in providing medical and health care to the United States Coast Guard."

U.S. Public Health Service Unit Commendation, July, 1992, for serving as one of the "few committed and dedicated physicians willing to [spend time] at the Uniformed Services University of Health Sciences interviewing medical school applicants for the University."

U.S. Public Health Service Unit Commendation, January, 1992, for serving as Medical Faculty during the National Disaster Medical System-RCSU Summer Exercise.

U.S. Coast Guard Achievement Medal, March, 1991, for "superior performance of duty as a member of the Coast Guard's special Health Care Delivery Systems Study."

U.S. Coast Guard Meritorious Service Medal, 1990, for "outstanding history of service to the Coast Guard from July, 1972 to September, 1989."

Arnold D. Tuttle Award, 1989, from the Aerospace Medical Association: "Awarded for original research that has made annually the most significant contribution toward the solution of a challenging problem in Aerospace Medicine."

Arthur S. Flemming Award, 1981. "Awarded to the top ten young federal employees." In recognition of my contributions in operational medicine to the U.S. Armed Forces.

U.S. Public Health Service Commendation, 1978. For on-site technical assistance in establishing a system of emergency medical services in Cairo and Alexandria, Egypt.

U.S. Coast Guard Commendation Medals, 1975 and 1978. For advancements in the fields of hypothermia resuscitation and emergency medical services.

First prize in the annual A.E. Bennet competition for Research in Biological Psychiatry. 1969: "Epinephrine metabolism and formation in the mammalian brain."

Biography

Paul Sullivan

After serving more than two years on the Board of Directors, Paul Sullivan was appointed Executive Director of the National Gulf War Resource Center in August 1997. As Executive Director, Mr. Sullivan is responsible of the day to day management of the Resource Center, an international coalition of three dozen grassroots Gulf War veterans organizations and other interested groups focused on providing advocacy on behalf of ill Gulf War veterans. In that role, Mr. Sullivan serves as the principal spokesperson for the Resource Center, an organization he helped form in 1995.

While on the Board of the Resource Center, Mr. Sullivan conducted research and located documents that assisted in the public disclosure by the Department of Defense that tens of thousands of American soldiers were exposed to chemical warfare agents during the Gulf War. In 1994, Mr. Sullivan helped draft the first Gulf War Syndrome Self Help Guide. He later assisted with distributing 8,000 copies of an updated Guide so veterans would be better informed about Gulf War illnesses and the Department of Veterans Affairs' claims process. He has testified before the Presidential Advisory Committee on Gulf War Veterans' Illnesses as well as the Georgia Legislature's Committee on Veterans and Defense.

Mr. Sullivan has served on the Board of Directors of the Georgia Veterans Day Parade Association of Atlanta since 1995, where he acts as the Public Relations Director for the annual parade. Mr. Sullivan is a member of the Gulf War Veterans of Georgia, an organization he helped form in 1993. Since 1991, Mr. Sullivan has been a Life Member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 2681, and he currently serves as the Gulf War Veterans' Issues Chairman for the VFW's Department of Georgia.

Mr. Sullivan's military background includes two years as an enlisted soldier in the U.S. Army (1989 to 1991) and two additional years in the Georgia Army National Guard (1991 to 1993). During the Gulf War, he served as a Cavalry Scout (Armored Reconnaissance Specialist) with the 1st Armored Division and was awarded the Army Commendation Medal. While serving with the Georgia Army National Guard, he was awarded the Meritorious Service Medal for actions taken during a severe snow storm.

After his honorable discharge from the Army, Mr. Sullivan earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from the State University of West Georgia. He has also completed coursework toward a Master of Arts degree in Political Science at Georgia State University. Mr. Sullivan and Danielle, his wife of seven years, live with their twenty-two month-old daughter Erin in Decatur, a few miles outside Atlanta, Georgia.

Name: Scott VanDerheyden

Age: 28

FOIA(b)(6)

Married, with a 3-year old daughter

Education: Stamford Catholic High School ('87); Norwalk Community (working towards a Degree in Social Services)

Service: USMC; 1987 - 1991;

Served in the Persian Gulf from Jan. 1990 - July 1991 with Battalion Landing Team 2/8

A veteran from the Persian Gulf, Scott has dedicated the past five years of his life to assisting veteran families from all wars, with emphasis on Vietnam veterans and increasing emphasis on Gulf War veterans and their families.

In 1995, Scott came to work for Veterans Family Health Services, Inc. (VFHS) in Darien CT, as Intake and Outreach Coordinator. With the experience gained in doing intake procedures for Vietnam veterans' families, he soon became the Executive Director of the "National Gulf War Research and Registry Project", a project of VFHS. A project which provides case management and direct services to Gulf War veterans' and their family members.

In March of 1996, Scott testified before the House Subcommittee on Gulf War Illness, chaired by Rep. Christopher Shays, in Washington, DC. Later that year, in October, he testified at hearings of the Presidential Advisory Committee on Gulf War Illness in Tampa, FL. Also in Tampa, he attended the Annual Meeting of the National Gulf War Resource Center, a coalition of grass-roots veteran organizations united by their desire to assist Gulf War veterans in their quest for answers regarding their illnesses.

In June of 1996, Scott was named Chairman to a newly-created position in the CT State Veterans Of Foreign Wars, the Gulf War Issues Committee, the first committee of its kind at any level of the VFW.

Scott began officially mailing out, and tabulating results from, his Personal Data Questionnaire, sent to Gulf War veterans (and surviving families), throughout our nation and the world (some have been requested from England and Germany). The results are constantly being updated and analyzed, and interim reports have already been presented at Senate and Presidential hearings and the National VFW conference in February, 1997. Scott was elected Chairman of (Public Law 97114) the Connecticut "Persian Gulf Information and Relief Commission", the first of its kind in the United States. The commission is designed to assist Connecticut Persian Gulf veterans'. Scott also played a vital role in having February 28th of every year proclaimed as "Gulf War Veterans Day" (S.B. 604) by Governor Rowland. Connecticut is the first state to set aside a day to honor and memorialize Gulf War veterans. Scott was also elected to the National Gulf War Resource Centers Board of Directors in November of 1997.

Besides hoping to complete his educational pursuit with a degree in the field of Social Services, Scott's future goals include creating a National Committee that assists Persian Gulf veterans and their families; aggressively continuing to work with local, State, and Federal government representatives and creating a foundation to assist all Persian Gulf veterans and their families.

UCLA Jonsson Comprehensive Cancer Center, Division of Cancer Prevention & Control Research
Los Angeles, CA, 1990-present

Principal investigator, African-American Women Fight Cancer with Fitness (1996-1999). Test the effectiveness of a community-based, nutrition-exercise intervention in middle income African-American women. In this two-group, randomized controlled design, the intervention group receives eight weekly interactive group sessions providing culturally tailored high-carbohydrate/low-fat nutrition and participatory physical activity instruction and the comparison group receives an attention control condition. Outcome measures of body mass index, waist-to-hip ratio, and percent body fat by bioelectrical impedance analysis are measured at baseline, 2, 6 and 12 months.

Principal investigator, Enhancing Health Behavior in the Underserved (1991-1996). Expanded the work initiated in the UCLA/Los Angeles County Department of Health Services Cancer Prevention Research Unit (CPRU) described below to test the hypothesis that identification with ethnically relevant, positive role models in emotionally significant contexts available interpersonally or electronically will impart knowledge, influence attitudes, values, beliefs and self-image, and, thereby, increase cancer-protective health behaviors. Elements of this research project included formal video evaluation, development and production of mass media outreach strategies targeted to African Americans and Latinos (e.g., public service announcements or PSA's), development and production of primary and secondary colorectal/prostate cancer prevention videos targeting high risk audiences, and exploration of the feasibility of a randomized, community-based, nutrition-exercise intervention trial targeting African-American women.

Project leader. Directed CPRU project, "Improving Patient Screening and Adherence Behavior through Culturally Sensitive Videotape Presentations," (1990-1994) involving the development, production, distribution and evaluation of videos on breast and cervical cancer prevention targeting African-American women and Latinas. Programs currently displayed for continuous viewing in high-flow waiting areas of designated public health facilities (CPRU intervention sites), e.g. Los Angeles County/USC Medical Center, include the Spanish/English companion pieces, Nos Afecta a Nosotros / It's Happening to Us!, De Mujer a Mujer (From Woman to Woman) / Woman to Woman. . .on the Pap Smear and Una Opcion para Proteger su Vida / A Life-Saving Option.

UCLA School of Public Health

Ms. Melanne Verveer
Chief of Staff
Office of the First Lady
The White House
Washington, D.C.

Dear Ms. Verveer:

Please excuse the rather unconventional means of getting this letter to you, but what better messenger than one's own mother?

I read about the First Lady's ambitious plans to commemorate the millennium ("Embracing the New Millennium," Washington Post, February 12, 1998) and would appreciate an opportunity to discuss with you or someone on your staff the possibility of contributing to this effort.

As you can see from the enclosed resume, I have broad experience with both political and entertainment endeavors and would love to find a way to work with the office of the First Lady in some capacity. I have been a fan of hers for a very long time. I had the great pleasure of meeting her years ago when I was working with Norman Lear.

I can't think of anything more rewarding than finding ways to celebrate America as we reach the turn of the millennium.

I will contact you in a few days and hope that you or Bobbi Green will have a few moments to meet with me.

Sincerely,

Co-creator, PEOPLE FOR THE AMERICAN WAY, 1980
Creative Executive for Norman Lear, 1977-1983
Special Assistant to U. S. Senator Mike Gravel, 1973-1974*

RADIO EXECUTIVE

As Director of the Washington office of the United Broadcasting Radio Network , a 24-hour all talk radio network. I supervised four radio shows -- 2 daily, 2 weekly -- broadcast live from the Capitol. As senior producer I supervised the production of THE HILL REPORTER, in association with the HILL NEWSPAPER, a daily one hour talk program focusing on the issues of the day featuring Senators, Congressmen, media experts, authors, and policy analysts.

CREATIVE AND PRODUCTION TV / FILM EXECUTIVE

For over five years, I served as a creative/production executive at Tandem/TAT and Embassy Pictures working directly with Norman Lear; involved in material acquisition, script and talent development, and supervision of Mr. Lear's political and philanthropic endeavors.

(Catherine Hand continue)

Television Development

I LOVE LIBERTY, (ABC Television Special, nominated for several Emmy awards); 100th ANNIVERSARY ALL IN THE FAMILY (CBS Television Special); HEARTSOUNDS, (written by Fay Kanin, ABC TV movie); PALMERSTOWN, U.S.A., (written by Alex Haley, hour drama for CBS); NO ADULTS ALLOWED (pilot for cable children's show); THE BAXTERS (for syndication)

Film Development

GODFATHER III (for American Zoetrope, Francis Coppola, director); WIND (for American Zoetrope, Carroll Ballard, director); A WRINKLE IN TIME, a feature film currently in development, based on Madeleine L'Engle's award winning children's classic; as an independent producer pursued and negotiated development deals with Embassy Pictures, Act III Communications, Castle Rock Entertainment and Miramax Films

Co-owner of a Video Production Company

Based in San Francisco, expanded client base/revenue by 200% over 5 year period; clients included Apple, Hewlett-Packard, Esprit and Kodak.

ORGANIZATIONAL ACCOMPLISHMENTS

People For The American Way

Along with Norman Lear, I was involved in the founding of this national non-profit organization. Successfully networked leaders from across the country to form a board of directors; produced several PSAs; addressed audiences ranging in size from 80 to 8,000 and appeared on local television on behalf of the organization; helped raise close to $1,000,000 over a few months; and strategized a national direct mail campaign.

Democratic National Convention

Worked directly with the chairperson of the 1984 Democratic National Convention, the party leaders and the production team to mount the convention for television; supervised the script format, scheduling, and logistics.

Smithsonian Dedication Gala: "All In The Family"

Responsible for all aspects of a reception for 1,000 people at the Smithsonian, a reception at the U.S. Senate, a luncheon with members of Congress and a meeting in the Oval Office with President and Mrs. Carter for the cast and producers of "All In the Family."

Ms. Bobbie Greene
Deputy Chief of Staff for The First Lady
The White House
Washington, District of Columbia

Dear Bobbie,

During a recent telephone conversation with Judy Green, she mentioned the opening in The White House for the position of Deputy Social Secretary supporting the work of First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton.

Knowing of my relevant background and interest, Judy encouraged my application for this post.

I am currently the senior event planning manager with one of Washington's premier event planning organizations. In addition to allowing my creative juices to flow, my position requires discretion, patience, boundless energy, excellent managerial and communication skills, and, of course, an appropriate dash of charm and style. I have a national and international client base which includes people from politics, the arts, sports and the corporate world as well as institutions such as the Supreme Court, Smithsonian Institution, Discovery Communications, Union Station and all of Washington's premier hotels. And, over the years, I have developed an excellent knowledge of and working relationship with vendors across the country who provide services and products for these events.

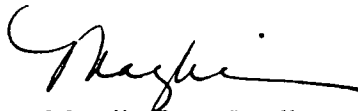

(In connection with one of the events that I coordinated, I was profiled in the November 13th, 1994 Washington Post Magazine article "The Birthday Party" by David Finkel.)

I love the work that I do and the people I meet, and I would consider it the greatest honor to use my skills and talents in service to President and Mrs. Clinton.
