[002]

INVITATION

BRIEFING ON THE PRESIDENT'S NATIONAL TOUR
ON THE NEW MARKETS INITIATIVE

Tuesday, June 15, 1999
1:00 pm

The Roosevelt Room
The White House

* Please enter through the Northwest Gate to the White House ****

On May 11, 1999, President Clinton announced that this July he will take a bipartisan delegation of Chief Executive Officers, Members of Congress, Cabinet Secretaries and other community leaders to economically distressed communities throughout rural and urban America. The trip will be modeled after the missions that Cabinet Secretaries and CEO's often take overseas to identify markets that help create jobs and expand economic development. The President will travel from July 5-8 to at least six underserved areas, highlighting new opportunities being created in these communities and making announcements with private and public sector leaders about new commitments and innovative initiatives.

We are pleased to invite you to join Lisa Green, Senior Advisor to the National Economic Council, and other staff members of the Administration, on June 15, at 1:00 PM at the White House in the Roosevelt Room, for a meeting of non-profit organizations involved in community and economic development to discuss the President's trip. We need your assistance in identifying innovative investment initiatives and community development activities throughout the country. The agenda will include a discussion of how your organizations may want to be involved in the President's trip and any ideas you may have regarding the President's visits to economically distressed communities.

We welcome your participation in this meeting and hope that you or a member of your staff will be able to join us. We are very interested in making you a part of our announcements. We need your ideas and assistance to make this trip a success and are looking forward to meeting with you next week. If you are unable to attend next week's meeting we, of course, still welcome your input and look forward to speaking with you by phone.

To confirm your attendance and to provide clearance information for entry into the building, please call Sonyia Matthews at 202-456-5351, or fax this completed response to Sonyia at (202) 456-5802. Please feel free to contact Lisa Green at 202-456-2803 if you have any questions regarding the meeting.

THE WHITE HOUSE
OFFICE OF PUBLIC LIAISON
WASHINGTONINVITATIONBRIEFING ON THE PRESIDENT'S NATIONAL TOUR
ON THE NEW MARKETS INITIATIVETuesday, June 15, 1999
1:00 pmThe Roosevelt Room
The White House* Please enter through the Northwest Gate to the White House ****

On May 11, 1999, President Clinton announced that this July he will take a bipartisan delegation of Chief Executive Officers, Members of Congress, Cabinet Secretaries and other community leaders to economically distressed communities throughout rural and urban America. The trip will be modeled after the missions that Cabinet Secretaries and CEO's often take overseas to identify markets that help create jobs and expand economic development. The President will travel from July 5-8 to at least six underserved areas, highlighting new opportunities being created in these communities and making announcements with private and public sector leaders about new commitments and innovative initiatives.

We are pleased to invite you to join Lisa Green, Senior Advisor to the National Economic Council, and other staff members of the Administration, on June 15, at 1:00 PM at the White House in the Roosevelt Room, for a meeting of non-profit organizations involved in community and economic development to discuss the President's trip. We need your assistance in identifying innovative investment initiatives and community development activities throughout the country. The agenda will include a discussion of how your organization may want to be involved in the President's trip and any ideas you may have regarding the President's visits to economically distressed communities.

We welcome your participation in this meeting and hope that you or a member of your staff will be able to join us. We are very interested in making you a part of our announcements. We need your ideas and assistance to make this trip a success and are looking forward to meeting with you next week. If you are unable to attend next week's meeting we, of course, still welcome your input and look forward to speaking with you by phone.

To confirm your attendance and to provide clearance information for entry into the building, please call Sonya Matthews at 202-456-5351, or fax this completed response to Sonya at (202) 456-5802. Please feel free to contact Lisa Green at 202-456-2803 if you have any questions regarding the meeting.

The trip will be modeled after the missions that Cabinet Secretaries and CEO's often take overseas to identify markets that help create jobs and expand economic development. The President will travel from July 5-8 to at least six underserved areas, highlighting new opportunities being created in these communities and making announcements with private and public sector leaders about new commitments and innovative initiatives.

We are pleased to invite you to join Lisa Green, Senior Advisor to the National Economic Council, and other staff members of the Administration, on June 15, at 1:00 PM at the White House in the Roosevelt Room, for a meeting of non-profit organizations involved in community and economic development to discuss the President's trip. We need your assistance in identifying innovative investment initiatives and community development activities throughout the country. The agenda will include a discussion of how your organizations may want to be involved in the President's trip and any ideas you may have regarding the President's visits to economically distressed communities.

We welcome your participation in this meeting and hope that you or a member of your staff will be able to join us. We are very interested in making you a part of our announcements. We need your ideas and assistance to make this trip a success and are looking forward to meeting with you next week. If you are unable to attend next week's meeting we, of course, still welcome your input and look forward to speaking with you by phone.

To confirm your attendance and to provide clearance information for entry into the building, please call Sonyia Matthews at 202-456-5351, or fax this completed response to Sonyia at (202) 456-5802. Please feel free to contact Lisa Green at 202-456-2803 if you have any questions regarding the meeting.

THE WHITE HOUSE
OFFICE OF PUBLIC LIAISON
WASHINGTON

INVITATION

BRIEFING ON THE PRESIDENT'S NATIONAL TOUR
ON THE NEW MARKETS INITIATIVE

Tuesday, June 15, 1999
1:00 pm

The Roosevelt Room
The White House

* Please enter through the Northwest Gate to the White House ****

On May 11, 1999, President Clinton announced that this July he will take a bipartisan delegation of Chief Executive Officers, Members of Congress, Cabinet Secretaries and other community leaders to economically distressed communities throughout rural and urban America. The trip will be modeled after the missions that Cabinet Secretaries and CEO's often take overseas to identify markets that help create jobs and expand economic development. The President will travel from July 5-8 to at least six underserved areas, highlighting new opportunities being created in these communities and making announcements with private and public sector leaders about new commitments and innovative initiatives.

We are pleased to invite you to join Lisa Green, Senior Advisor to the National Economic Council, and other staff members of the Administration, on June 15, at 1:00 PM at the White House in the Roosevelt Room, for a meeting of non-profit organizations involved in community and economic development to discuss the President's trip. We need your assistance in identifying innovative investment initiatives and community development activities throughout the country. The agenda will include a discussion of how your organizations may want to be involved in the President's trip and any ideas you may have regarding the President's visits to economically distressed communities.

We welcome your participation in this meeting and hope that you or a member of your staff will be able to join us. We are very interested in making you a part of our announcements. We need your ideas and assistance to make this trip a success and are looking forward to meeting with you next week. If you are unable to attend next week's meeting we, of course, still welcome your input and look forward to speaking with you by phone.

To confirm your attendance and to provide clearance information for entry into the building, please call Sonyia Matthews at 202-456-5351, or fax this completed response to Sonyia at (202) 456-5802. Please feel free to contact Lisa Green at 202-456-2803 if you have any questions regarding the meeting.

National Community for Latino Leadership, Inc.

The National Community for Latino Leadership, (NCLL) Inc. is a coalition of local and national leadership development programs promoting the social and economic advancement of the Latino community through 1) the development of Latino leaders who are ethical, responsible and accountable to Latino community interests, and 2) the research and dissemination of Latino leadership models, resources and best practices.

Our efforts are made possible through support from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation and the Ford Foundation. Established in 1989, NCLL moved from Phoenix, AZ to Washington, DC in February 1999.

Among our membership organizations are: ASPIRA, Inc.; La Casa de Don Pedro, Inc.; the Inter-University Program for Latino Research at UCLA, Chicano Studies Research Center; the Community Foundation of Santa Cruz County, the National Urban Fellows, Inc.; and the Southwest Voter Registration Education Project.

These organizations along with an extensive list of affiliated leadership programs provide the network for a dialogue among Latino leaders and others. Our objectives are:

- To provide targeted technical assistance and programs designed to enhance the effectiveness and impact of established and emerging Latino leaders and organizations.
- To identify and train an effective, community-based cadre of Latino leaders, focusing on grassroots constituencies and individuals who are demonstratively committed to Latino community work.
- To support applied research that identifies successful and replicable models and definitions of Latino leadership that are consistent with NCLL's organizational goals and mission.
- To review and widely disseminate key lessons gleaned from successful Latino leadership development efforts across the nation.

NCLL is currently initiating a number of projects. Among them are a national survey of Latino leaders from across the civic, artistic, intellectual, religious, and business communities; an on-line directory linking community members to leadership development programs nationwide; a Leadership Calendar of Events, Programs, and Conferences; and other projects such as the development of a Leadership Glossary and Annotated Bibliography, and a comprehensive Directory of Latino Leaders.

ALFRED RAMIREZ

Alfred Ramirez is the President of the National Community for Latino Leadership (NCLL), Inc., a coalition of local and national leadership development programs. NCLL promotes the social and economic advancement of the Latino community through collaboration, research, and dissemination of knowledge.

A native of East Los Angeles, Mr. Ramirez attended New York's Columbia University, received a bachelor's degree in political science and urban studies, then became a faculty advisor and assistant director for admissions and minority recruitment for Columbia University.

As a National Urban Fellow, Mr. Ramirez completed graduate courses in public administration at Bernard M. Baruch College in New York, and was chosen as Special Assistant to former Mayor of San Antonio, Henry Cisneros. He has also been a human resource specialist and corporate recruiter; managing director for Inroads Los Angeles, where he trained and developed young minority leaders; president of the 2000 Regional Partnership, a non-profit coalition focusing on public safety, housing, environmental growth and government accountability; and Executive Director of the Institute for Educational Leadership's initiative, Hand in Hand: Parents, Schools and Communities United for Kids.

Mr. Ramirez has worked for the White House as Special Assistant to the President and Associate Director of Presidential Personnel; Senior Advisor at the Corporation for National Service; and Executive Director of the White House Initiative on Educational Excellence for Hispanic Americans.

Mr. Ramirez was selected by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation as a National Leadership Fellow, and he has been recognized by Hispanic Business Magazine as one of the "100 Influential Hispanics."

The trip will be modeled after the missions that Cabinet Secretaries and CEO's often take overseas to identify markets that help create jobs and expand economic development. The President will travel from July 5-8 to at least six underserved areas, highlighting new opportunities being created in these communities and making announcements with private and public sector leaders about new commitments and innovative initiatives.

We are pleased to invite you to join Lisa Green, Senior Advisor to the National Economic Council, and other staff members of the Administration, on June 15, at 1:00 PM at the White House in the Roosevelt Room, for a meeting of non-profit organizations involved in community and economic development to discuss the President's trip. We need your assistance in identifying innovative investment initiatives and community development activities throughout the country. The agenda will include a discussion of how your organizations may want to be involved in the President's trip and any ideas you may have regarding the President's visits to economically distressed communities.

We welcome your participation in this meeting and hope that you or a member of your staff will be able to join us. We are very interested in making you a part of our announcements. We need your ideas and assistance to make this trip a success and are looking forward to meeting with you next week. If you are unable to attend next week's meeting we, of course, still welcome your input and look forward to speaking with you by phone.

To confirm your attendance and to provide clearance information for entry into the building, please call Sonya Matthews at 202-456-5351, or fax this completed response to Sonya at (202) 456-5802. Please feel free to contact Lisa Green at 202-456-2803 if you have any questions regarding the meeting.

THE WHITE HOUSE
OFFICE OF PUBLIC LIAISON
WASHINGTON

INVITATION

BRIEFING ON THE PRESIDENT'S NATIONAL TOUR
ON THE NEW MARKETS INITIATIVE

Tuesday, June 15, 1999
1:00 pm

The Roosevelt Room
The White House

* Please enter through the Northwest Gate to the White House*

On May 11, 1999, President Clinton announced that this July he will take a bipartisan delegation of Chief Executive Officers, Members of Congress, Cabinet Secretaries and other community leaders to economically distressed communities throughout rural and urban America. The trip will be modeled after the missions that Cabinet Secretaries and CEO's often take overseas to identify markets that help create jobs and expand economic development. The President will travel from July 5-8 to at least six underserved areas, highlighting new opportunities being created in these communities and making announcements with private and public sector leaders about new commitments and innovative initiatives.

We are pleased to invite you to join Lisa Green, Senior Advisor to the National Economic Council, and other staff members of the Administration, on June 15, at 1:00 PM at the White House in the Roosevelt Room, for a meeting of non-profit organizations involved in community and economic development to discuss the President's trip. We need your assistance in identifying innovative investment initiatives and community development activities throughout the country. The agenda will include a discussion of how your organizations may want to be involved in the President's trip and any ideas you may have regarding the President's visits to economically distressed communities.

We welcome your participation in this meeting and hope that you or a member of your staff will be able to join us. We are very interested in making you a part of our announcements. We need your ideas and assistance to make this trip a success and are looking forward to meeting with you next week. If you are unable to attend next week's meeting we, of course, still welcome your input and look forward to speaking with you by phone.

To confirm your attendance and to provide clearance information for entry into the building, please call Sonya Matthews at 202-456-5351, or fax this response to Sonya at (202) 456-5802. Please feel free to contact Lisa Green at 202-456-2803 if you have any questions regarding the meeting.

National Community for Latino Leadership, Inc.

The National Community for Latino Leadership, (NCLL) Inc. is a coalition of local and national leadership development programs promoting the social and economic advancement of the Latino community through 1) the development of Latino leaders who are ethical, responsible and accountable to Latino community interests, and 2) the research and dissemination of Latino leadership models, resources and best practices.

Our efforts are made possible through support from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation and the Ford Foundation. Established in 1989, NCLL moved from Phoenix, AZ to Washington, DC in February 1999.

Among our membership organizations are: ASPIRA, Inc.; La Casa de Don Pedro, Inc.; the Inter-University Program for Latino Research at UCLA, Chicano Studies Research Center; the Community Foundation of Santa Cruz County, the National Urban Fellows, Inc.; and the Southwest Voter Registration Education Project.

These organizations along with an extensive list of affiliated leadership programs provide the network for a dialogue among Latino leaders and others. Our objectives are:

- To provide targeted technical assistance and programs designed to enhance the effectiveness and impact of established and emerging Latino leaders and organizations.
- To identify and train an effective, community-based cadre of Latino leaders, focusing on grassroots constituencies and individuals who are demonstratively committed to Latino community work.
- To support applied research that identifies successful and replicable models and definitions of Latino leadership that are consistent with NCLL's organizational goals and mission.
- To review and widely disseminate key lessons gleaned from successful Latino leadership development efforts across the nation.

NCLL is currently initiating a number of projects. Among them are a national survey of Latino leaders from across the civic, artistic, intellectual, religious, and business communities; an on-line directory linking community members to leadership development programs nationwide; a Leadership Calendar of Events, Programs, and Conferences; and other projects such as the development of a Leadership Glossary and Annotated Bibliography, and a comprehensive Directory of Latino Leaders.

ALFRED RAMIREZ

Alfred Ramirez is the President of the National Community for Latino Leadership (NCLL), Inc., a coalition of local and national leadership development programs. NCLL promotes the social and economic advancement of the Latino community through collaboration, research, and dissemination of knowledge.

A native of East Los Angeles, Mr. Ramirez attended New York's Columbia University, received a bachelor's degree in political science and urban studies, then became a faculty advisor and assistant director for admissions and minority recruitment for Columbia University.

As a National Urban Fellow, Mr. Ramirez completed graduate courses in public administration at Bernard M. Baruch College in New York, and was chosen as Special Assistant to former Mayor of San Antonio, Henry Cisneros. He has also been a human resource specialist and corporate recruiter; managing director for Inroads Los Angeles, where he trained and developed young minority leaders; president of the 2000 Regional Partnership, a non-profit coalition focusing on public safety, housing, environmental growth and government accountability; and Executive Director of the Institute for Educational Leadership's initiative, Hand in Hand: Parents, Schools and Communities United for Kids.

Mr. Ramirez has worked for the White House as Special Assistant to the President and Associate Director of Presidential Personnel; Senior Advisor at the Corporation for National Service; and Executive Director of the White House Initiative on Educational Excellence for Hispanic Americans.

Mr. Ramirez was selected by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation as a National Leadership Fellow, and he has been recognized by Hispanic Business Magazine as one of the "100 Influential Hispanics."
