* January through December data for 1998 are not available.

* Due to changes in reporting practices and/or incomplete data, figures are not comparable to previous years' data.

* Forcible rape figures furnished by the state Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Program administered by the Illinois State Police are not in accordance with national UCR guidelines. Therefore, the figures are excluded from the forcible rape, Crime Index total, and Modified Crime Index total categories.

* Complete arson data are not available.

A dash in a column indicates a report of zero. A blank space within a column indicates data are unavailable (refer to indicated footnotes).

Trends in all tables of this report are based on the volume of crime reported by comparable units. Agency reports that are determined to be influenced by change in reporting practices for all or specific offenses or by annexations are removed from trend tables. All 1999 figures are preliminary. Final figures and crime rates per unit of population will be published in Crime in the United States 1999 scheduled to be released in the fall of 2000.

Data users are cautioned against comparisons of crime trends presented in this report and those estimated by the National Crime Victimization Survey (NCVS), administered by the Bureau of Justice Statistics. Because of differences in methodology and crime coverage, the two programs examine the Nation's crime problem from somewhat different perspectives, and their results are not strictly comparable. The definitional and procedural differences can account for many of the apparent discrepancies in results from the two programs. The Department of Justice fact sheet, "The Nation's Two Crime Measures," contains a detailed description of the NCVS and Uniform Crime Reports.

PLEASE NOTE

Figures used in this report are submitted voluntarily by law enforcement agencies throughout the country. Individuals using these tabulations are cautioned against drawing conclusions by making direct comparisons between cities due to the many factors which affect the amount and type of crime from place to place. Some of these factors are listed in the annual Crime in the United States. More valid use can be made of these figures by determining deviations from national averages and through comparisons with averages for cities in similar population groups (Table 1). It is important to remember that crime is a social problem and, therefore, a concern of the entire community. The efforts of law enforcement are limited to factors within its control.
