EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATION
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20503

INFORMATION SYSTEM & TECHNOLOGY DIVISION LOGONID USER AGREEMENT

This agreement is issued under the authority of the Computer Security Act of 1987, Public Law 100-235; 101 Stat. 1724.

By signing this agreement, I signify my understanding and acceptance of the policies and practices of the Office of Administration (OA), Executive Office of the President (EOP), concerning access to the Executive Office of the President Data Center (EOPDC) computer systems.

For the purposes of this agreement, the term "exceeds authorized access" is taken directly from 18 U.S.C. § 1030, "Fraud and Related Activity in Connection with Computers", and means to access a computer with authorization and to use such access to obtain or alter information in the computer that the accesser is not entitled to obtain or alter.

I hereby acknowledge that I have received a copy of 18 U.S.C. § 1030 which in general terms provides criminal punishment for the following conduct:

- a. Anyone who intentionally accesses an EOPDC computer without authorization and such conduct affects the use of the government's operation of such computer.
- b. Anyone who knowingly with intent to defraud, accesses an EOPDC computer without authorization, or exceeds authorized access, and by means of such conduct obtains anything of value.
- c. Anyone who intentionally accesses an EOPDC computer without authorization, and by means of such conduct alters, damages, or destroys information in such computer or prevents authorized use of such computers or information and thereby causes loss of a value aggregating $1,000 or more during any one period.
- d. Anyone who knowingly and with intent to defraud, traffics in any password or similar information through which an EOPDC computer may be accessed without authorization.

I acknowledge that I may be held accountable for any unauthorized use of my LogonID for the purposes of accessing EOPDC computer systems. Any such unauthorized access may subject me to a violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1030. The first violation of this and related statutes could subject me to termination of my employment, a fine, and/or imprisonment (ranging from one to five years).

Additionally, I hereby acknowledge the following:

1. I will not enter classified information into the EOPDC computer systems.
2. I will create my own personal password the first time I logon to the EOPDC. I will not use personal identifiers (eg., name, family member's name, initials and/or date of birth, etc.) as a password.
3. I will protect my personal password from disclosure. My password is used to authenticate my identity and I will not allow its use by another person, code it into programs or write it down where it will be assessable to others.
4. I will logoff my terminal or personal computer when it is unattended.
5. I will immediately relinquish the LogonID when access is no longer required or upon request by the EOP/OA Information Security Officer, or designee.
6. I will report immediately to the EOP/OA Customer Support Help Desk at 202-395-7323:
 - o Suspected or actual unauthorized use of my LogonID; and
 - o A change in my employment status. This includes termination of employment, transfer to another group or leave of absence.

Mr. Michael Waldman
Office of Speechwriting
(HOB 190)
The White House
Washington, DC 20502

Dear Mr. Waldman:

I am writing to apply for the position of Personal Assistant to the Chief of Speechwriting. Sabrina Corlette informed me of the opening and suggested that I forward my résumé directly to you.

I believe that my most important qualification for the job is flexibility. I am a quick and eager learner and a hard worker. I try in my work to keep my viewpoint broad, to think about "why" and "how", and not just "who", "what", and "where". This makes my work more effective. It allows me to anticipate questions and then take the initiative to produce workable, creative answers. It also helps me deal with high pressure and crises with a solid sense of direction and a steady head.

I understand that the job involves some research and analysis. I developed skills in these areas in my academic work, which included three research seminars and courses in statistics and economics. They have been further honed in my present position as a Legal Assistant, where I use them every day.

As you can see from the enclosed résumé, I have been a strong supporter of the President since the 1992 campaign. I am eager now to serve his administration in a different capacity.

I would be happy to discuss my qualifications with you further. I can be reached at home at the above phone number, or at work at (617) 891-7020. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

David P. Pinto

Dear Sabrina and June,

Thank you for publicizing the job in the office of the Director of Speechwriting and taking the time to speak about it with me.

I realize that the position is primarily administrative. The opportunity to observe and contribute to the President's reelection campaign coupled with my sense that work responsibilities often shift rapidly in times of pressure diminishes any concerns I might feel about the content of this job. Given the late date I had expected few positions of any kind to be available in the White House.

As you can see from my attached resume, I have worked for the past two years at Wolfensohn & Co., Inc., an investment bank providing mergers and acquisitions advice to a select group of multinational corporations. My job at Wolfensohn involves substantial research, analysis and writing — including presentations to boards of directors and the investor community and verbal scripts for use in negotiations by senior executives.

My prior experience primarily involves research and writing. Immediately before joining Wolfensohn I traveled to Morocco to research and write a travel guide in the "Let's Go" series. In high school and college I spent three years working as a paid reporter for a business-oriented newspaper. I ran a journal of philosophy at Harvard and ran the student newspaper at Princeton High School. My only prior campaign experience came as a clerk at the New York Times's temporary Manchester bureau during the 1992 primaries.

My commitment to Wolfensohn runs through July 26.

Again, I appreciate your help in exploring this opportunity. Working — in whatever capacity — for the reelection of a President in whom I believe in the office of the Director of Speechwriting is my "dream job" as best I know it.

I can be reached most easily at work at 212-909-0894.

NEW MEDIA PUBLISHING, INC.

To Whom It May Concern:

For the period starting May 1995 through May 1996, New Media Publishing grew from one full-time staff member to slightly over twenty. These employees dedicated their time to building New Media Publishing into a leading strategic Internet consulting and web development firm. Our clients include some of the most influential advocacy groups (the ACLU, World Wildlife Fund, EMILY's List, NARAL, the Feminist Majority, the Nature Conservancy), the largest associations (International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, the American Chamber of Commerce Executives, Business Products Industry Association), and large corporations (Pfizer, Eli Lilly, MCI).

Jamshid Mousavinezhad was a key player in NMP's growth over that first year and was, in fact, our first full-time hire. To say that he was "important" in managing and developing relationships with clients is a gross understatement. He was critical. A quickly growing business in an industry that is changing at warp speed requires a lot from the people who are keeping the engine running. To this extent, Jamshid wore many "hats" – researcher, writer, consultant, web page developer, trainer, project manager – and was quick to learn and apply new skills.

While only recently graduated from school, Jamshid demonstrated incredible knowledge of government, industry, and the dynamics of politics. Additionally, Jamshid's writing and oral communication skills are unlike any I have ever encountered in someone even close to his age. While Jamshid was still a student, we comfortably put him to the task of running meetings and providing consulting services to top decision-makers at the ACLU, the Feminist Majority, NARAL, and EMILY's List.

Jamshid was also able to effectively manage multiple clients, conduct first-rate primary research, and delegate tasks to others. He was well-respected by other staff members as well as by the clients he served.

Jamshid left on excellent terms to pursue other career interests, but given the chance, I would hire him again without hesitation. I would welcome the opportunity to speak with you over the phone to discuss his qualifications in greater detail, but can assure you that he will be an incredible asset.

Sincerely,

Jon Hallett
Principal
New Media Publishing

[REDACTED]

Dear Sir:

My name is Jamshid Mousavinezhad, and I am writing to apply for a position with the Clinton/Gore campaign. I believe that I would bring a strong mix of experience and skills to the campaign, not to mention energy and passion.

I am currently employed as a project manager with New Media Publishing, an Internet consulting firm. My position centers around the creation and maintenance of World Wide Web sites for clients as the American Civil Liberties Union, World Wildlife Fund, the National Abortion and Reproductive Rights Action League, and the Feminist Majority. As senior project manager I am responsible for all aspects of the process, from writing the initial assessment audit to facilitating sign-off sessions with client principals and the programmers and graphic artists that comprise my team.

My prior experience working on the Hill and on campaigns at the local level have provided me with a base of practical political knowledge. I am intelligent and hard-working, with strong written and oral communications skills. Most importantly, I believe in the importance of re-electing President Clinton and Vice-President Gore. My recent work with such organizations as NARAL and the ACLU has only solidified this belief. I have a lot to offer the Clinton-Gore campaign, and look forward to setting up an interview at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,

Jamshid Mousavinezhad

Re: Summer Internship

Dear Ms. Tamagni:

I am a student at Columbia University, and I am very interested in assisting you with speech writing this summer. Presently, I am working to complete the Writing Program at Columbia. This semester, I am working for the Wallace Literary Agency in New York City, reviewing book manuscripts for publication.

I have been writing professionally since I was fifteen years old. I worked as a free-lance reporter for the Washington Jewish Week newspaper in 1994. The following year, I worked as the editorial intern for that same paper, writing and editing articles. During the summer of 1996, I worked in that same capacity for the Montgomery Gazette newspapers.

I was also the editor-in-chief of my high school newspaper. During my term as editor, the paper was named the Best High School newspaper in the state by the Maryland Scholastic Press Association.

My first college semester recently ended. I earned an A or A- in all of my courses, and I received the only A given in Logic and Rhetoric, my expository writing course. I will complete the internship application, and send it to the appropriate White House office in the very near future. I am including my resume' and college transcript. I would be happy to provide writing samples and references upon your request.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
