

Judge Draws a Powerful Weapon (Gun Court)

Rhode Island is pionerring a new type of court referred to as the "Gun Court." It is run by Judge John Bourcier in Providence. The court has is degined with a single judge, a single calender, and a singular mission: provide swift, serious punishment for all crimes involving guns. (Washington Post 2/24/95 p.A3) There are many other states around the country that are contemplating copying the gun court. The next likely canidate will be Massachusetts and Texas and Florida have also expressed interest. The gun court has also won support from the NRA and local gun coalitions, because they say that the gun court targeted criminals rather that guns. Judge Bourcier began in September with a backlog of 70 cases but as of February 9, 64 had been disposed of, with 80% of the offenders going to jail.

Judge Draws a Powerful Weapon

Special Rhode Island 'Gun Court' Takes Aim at Firearms-Related Crime

By Christopher B. Daly
Special to The Washington Post

PROVIDENCE, R.I.—Judge John Bourcier is on the front line of the war against urban crime. A steady stream of rapists, murderers, armed robbers and mafiosi flows through his wood-paneled courtroom—the kind of trigger-happy toughs who make cities such as Providence dangerous places.

But unlike most judges these days, Bourcier is not overwhelmed. His docket is not clogged with trials, delays and no-shows. In fact, Bourcier—known locally as “Maximum John”—has only a handful of cases still pending from 1994, and all of those are holdovers from one attorney who requested extra time.

Bourcier presides over “Gun Court,” the first special-jurisdiction firearms court in the nation. It has a single judge, a single calendar and a singular mission: provide swift, serious punishment for all crimes involving guns. For those arrested for committing a crime involving a gun, this special division of state Superior Court is often the last stop before a long stretch in prison.

According to its architect, the irrepressible mayor of Providence, Vincent A. “Buddy” Cianci Jr., the court is a sure-fire success. “The word is out: If you use a gun in my city, you’re going to jail,” he said in a recent interview.

As evidence of the plan’s success, Cianci pointed to the growing number of prisoners serving time for gun crimes and to the growing number of inquiries he is receiving from politicians around the country who want to imitate Gun Court. The next step is likely to come in neighboring Massachusetts, where lawyers in the office of Gov. William F. Weld (R) are drafting legislation to institute a similar court. Texas, Florida and other states also have expressed interest.

Politicians are not the only ones who like it. Police and prosecutors praise it as well because, they say, they finally see some immediate results from their work. “I got the idea right from the police,” said Cianci. “They said, ‘You know, we arrest the same guys over and over.’”

The legislation he helped design works simply. It directs Joseph F. Rodgers Jr., the presiding justice of state Superior Court, to create a special “gun calendar” within the court system and to direct all firearms-related cases to it. Cianci first proposed the idea about a year ago. Soon after, Providence patrolman Steven Shaw was gunned down, and the proposal sailed through the Rhode Island Assembly with only one vote against it.

The plan won support from an unusual coalition: the National Rifle Association and local gun-control advocates. NRA leaders said they welcomed the Gun Court because it targeted criminals rather than firearms.

Rodgers named Bourcier, a 21-year veteran of the bench, to hear the cases. Almost immediately, defendants began plea-bargaining and going to jail.

Legally, the court, which began operations last Sept. 1, is a hybrid. The legislature created it, the judiciary operates it and the city of Providence provides the money—$300,000 a year. Says the wise-cracking Cianci:

Defense attorneys and civil libertarians are critical of Gun Court’s swift brand of justice. “It emphasizes guns and makes every defendant who comes before that court some kind of special villain, who gets the maximum,” said John F. Cicilline, who serves on the board of the Rhode Island Criminal Defenders Association. “We’ve discussed this ad nauseam. We’re stuck with it.”

Michael DiLauro, a public defender, insists that Gun Court is unconstitutional. He calls it the result of meddling by politicians into the affairs of the judiciary, a violation of the separation-of-powers principle.

“The legislature is a political body, and it should be. But the court is not a political body. Our judges are appointed, and appointed for life,” said DiLauro. He filed a legal challenge to the court, but its first stop was Bourcier, who rejected it out of hand. DiLauro’s office has not yet decided whether to appeal.

One day last week, Bourcier gave a classic performance at a sentencing hearing for Greg and Chris Moran, brothers from Central Falls who had been convicted of waging a two-man crime spree involving assaults, robbery and threatening elderly victims with guns. The black-robed judge sat with a look of forced patience while one brother read a statement insisting that someone else committed the crimes. When the defendant sat down, Bourcier sat up.

“Let it be crystal clear: This court agrees with the jury finding of guilty on all charges,” he said. “I have also taken into account the arrogant

Former representative Donald E. “Buz” Lukens (R-Ohio) was arrested yesterday by FBI agents in Dallas on charges that he accepted $27,500 in cation official about the department’s investigation of Cambridge Technical Institute in Cincinnati. Lukens, 64, resigned from Congress in 1990 after an allegation of sexual misconduct.

A federal grand jury here also indicted John P. Fitzpatrick, one of the funct House Bank. The grand jury said Lukens deposited checks from Fitzpatrick into his House Bank account.

Lukens’s lawyer, Harvey Volzer, said Lukens denies the charges. “There is no basis to this,” he said. “This is typical of the Justice Depart-claims of continued innocence and

... a total lack of any remorse."

Fixing his eyes on the accused, the judge said it was time to think about the victims and their anguish.
"These cases could have been murder cases very easily," Bourcier said.

Then came the sentences: 103 years in prison for Greg Moran and 68 years for brother Chris. And Bourcier denied bail pending appeal and ordered the bailiffs to lead the two handcuffed men off to prison.

"I do it my way," Bourcier said a few minutes later in his chambers. "When I was a defense counsel, I was the greatest one for delays, because I knew it benefited the defendant.

"The public has lost confidence in the system. That's what draws people into the theaters to see Clint Eastwood movies. What they see is someone bypassing the criminal justice system and getting instant justice. They want to see the bad guy get punished."

In Gun Court, justice isn't instant but it is often swift. Beginning with a backlog of 70 cases last September, Bourcier said he had disposed of 64 of them as of Feb. 9, and 80 percent of those went to jail.

Bourcier insists that despite his nickname, he does not always give the maximum sentence. Usually, he says, he gives about half. But he insists that defendants convicted of multiple crimes serve their prison terms consecutively rather than concurrently. That way, he says, serious criminals are taken off the street, and many defendants decide they would rather plead guilty and seek a lesser sentence.

Such quick sentencing is exactly what Cianci had in mind. He says the court could be the answer to any big city's crime problem. The mayor said he has never met Marion Barry, but he knows what he would tell the District's mayor if he did.

"I'd tell him ... if he's got a gun problem down there, he should take a look at Providence, Rhode Island," the mayor said.

What real evidence is there that criminals are leaving their weapons at home? "Hey," replied Cianci, "we had a bank holdup over in East Providence using a knife. That's the first time that ever happened."

CRIME BILL -- DOLLARS FOR RHODE ISLAND, 1995 - 2000
(Revised 8/22/94)

LAW ENFORCEMENT

- * 100,000 POLICE -- Guaranteed minimum of $44 million -- more than 500 police officers at $75,000 per officer.
 -  Given Rhode Island's share of the population and the additional $6.5 billion in discretionary dollars, Rhode Island should expect a total of about $66 million over the next 6 years.
 -  Of the total, up to 85% can be used to hire about 750 police officers. At least 15% -- $10 million -- can be used to help pay the training, overtime and administrative costs of implementing community policing in Rhode Island.
- * PRISONS & BOOT CAMPS -- $19 million for prison grants, including military-style boot camp prisons. An additional estimated $19 million is possible if Rhode Island meets the "Truth in Sentencing" target of second-time violent offenders serving 85% of their sentences.
- * BYRNE ENFORCEMENT GRANTS -- $1 billion in the Trust Fund will help continue full funding for these grants, including Rhode Island's $2.5 million annual share.
- * RURAL LAW ENFORCEMENT GRANTS -- $1.5 million for drug and crime enforcement in Rhode Island's rural areas.
- * DISCRETIONARY GRANTS -- Rhode Island's law enforcement agencies and courts may apply for:
 -  $1,000,000,000 -- Drug Court programs (treatment backed up by drug testing and certain punishment for non-violent offenders currently on probation.) Estimated $4 million for Rhode Island -- enough for about 2,000 offenders over six years.
 -  $320,000,000 -- Criminal record systems (Brady Law), communications equipment, and DNA testing; and
 -  $200,000,000 -- Judges, prosecutors and public defenders (estimated $1 million for Rhode Island).

PREVENTION PROGRAMS

- * LOCAL PARTNERSHIP ACT -- $6 million in direct grants to cities and towns in Rhode Island. Wide discretion permits local governments to use the dollars for education, drug treatment, and jobs programs.
- * VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN ACT -- $3 million in grants for police, prosecutors and victims services; $1 million in grants for shelters for battered women and their children; and Rhode Island can apply for a share of $500 million in several discretionary programs.
- * AFTERSCHOOL AND IN-SCHOOL "SAFE HAVENS" FOR AT-RISK CHILDREN -- $2 million for non-profit, community-based organizations in Rhode Island.
- * DRUG TREATMENT IN PRISONS -- $1.8 million to treat up to an estimated 1,700 drug-addicted prisoners in Rhode Island prisons over the next 6 years.
- * LOCAL CRIME PREVENTION BLOCK GRANT -- $1.7 million in direct grants to cities and towns for various programs, including:
 -  ANTI-GANG GRANTS -- to give young people positive alternatives to gangs, such as academic and athletic after-school activities, mentoring programs and scout troops.
 -  MIDNIGHT SPORTS LEAGUES -- to give at-risk youth nightly alternatives to the streets, and for the U.S. Olympic Committee to develop supervised sports and recreation programs in high-crime areas.
 -  BOYS AND GIRLS CLUBS -- to establish clubs in low-income housing communities, and to encourage police officers to live in those communities.
 -  TRIAD -- for partnerships between senior citizens groups, police chiefs and sheriffs to combat crimes against elderly Americans.
 -  POLICE PARTNERSHIPS FOR CHILDREN -- for partnerships between law enforcement and social service agencies to fight crimes against children, and for the creation of youth councils to combat crime.
 -  VISITATION CENTERS -- for supervised centers for divorced or separated parents to visit their children in "safe havens" when there is a history or risk of physical or sexual abuse.

* YOUTH DEVELOPMENT CENTERS -- to develop more effective education, training, research, prevention, diversion, treatment and rehabilitation programs for violent juveniles, including alternatives to school suspension and juvenile court diversion.

* SAFE SENIORS CORRIDORS -- to provide older Americans with enhanced protection from crime by increasing police presence and crime prevention activities by community groups.

* HOPE IN YOUTH -- to create Family Outreach Teams composed of youth, parents and school-parent organizers for mentoring, community organizing and peer counseling.

 DISCRETIONARY GRANTS -- State agencies and non-profit organizations may apply for a share of:

* MODEL INTENSIVE GRANTS -- $626 million for intensive, comprehensive and flexible aid to areas, urban and rural, hardest hit by crime and violence.

* NATIONAL COMMUNITY ECONOMIC PARTNERSHIP -- $270 million to extend lines of credit of up to $2 million to community development corporations to provide small, low-interest loans to businesses in low-income neighborhoods.

* GANG RESISTANCE EDUCATION AND TRAINING ("GREAT") -- $45 million for school-based programs to teach children to resist peer pressure and understand the negative impact of gangs and drugs.

* URBAN RECREATION AND AT-RISK YOUTH -- $4.5 million to expand recreational facilities in high-crime areas.

Dear Bonnie and Bob:

Thank you for your letter. I'm so glad you were able to attend the crime bill signing ceremony and take part in this special day.

I am grateful for your kind words of encouragement and support for my efforts to reduce crime in our country. Random acts of violence not only violate our security, they take away our brightest hope for the future -- our young people. We can best honor individuals like your nephew by working hard to save other young lives, and now we have more tools to do just that.

I appreciate your involvement in this national effort, and I have shared your letter with my staff. As I continue to speak out on this vital issue, I will keep you and your family in my thoughts.

Sincerely,

BILL CLINTON

Washington, DC

Dear President Clinton,

I was privileged to be at a briefing of the Crime Bill in June, and subsequently at the momentous signing of the Bill this September 13. I am enclosing an article that explains our very personal interest in reducing violence in this country.

When you were first elected, we wrote to you and asked that you keep crime in America in the forefront of your goals. We hoped that you would never stop working to make our country safer; especially for children. We thank you for keeping your promise.

In your speech September 13, you mentioned that this was just the beginning. You said that there would be forums all across the United States to take our goals to the next level. We hope that you will let us know how we can participate in the forums, or in any other way that would be useful in keeping the momentum and accomplishments growing.

Again, congratulations on a job excellently done. You have our thanks.

Sincerely,

Bonnie & Bob Cooper

Journal-Bulletin Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Bonnie Cooper of Barrington felt personally involved yesterday when President Clinton dedicated his new crime bill to the memories of the victims of some of the nation's most notorious recent murders.

Cooper and her husband, Bob Cooper, have been gun-control activists since their 17-year-old nephew, Sean Patrick Cooper, was shot to death in the high school parking lot of a prosperous Dallas suburb in 1992.

So Cooper found herself among the 2,500 on hand for Mr. Clinton's signing of the $30.2 billion crime bill, with the Marine Band playing and scores of American flags flying from the VIP bleachers erected on the South Lawn of the White House.

Cooper said "it was very moving" when Mr. Clinton invoked the "tremendous resistance" from the gun lobby.

Mr. Clinton pressed the election-year advantage of his crime-bill victory by declaring victory over Washington-style "hickies" and

Dear Governor Sundlun:

In accordance with Rhode Island General Law 24.12-24-1, it is my pleasure to submit Crime in Rhode Island, 1993. This annual report is based on crime statistics submitted to the Rhode Island Uniform Crime Reporting System by every Rhode Island law enforcement agency for the calendar year 1993.

All data was classified utilizing national standards and definitions described in the Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook published by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

I hope that you will find this portrayal of crime in Rhode Island to be informative and meaningful.

Crime Factors

Data users are cautioned against comparing statistical data of individual cities and towns due to numerous factors which are known to affect the amount and type of crime occurring from place to place.

- Density and size of the community population and the metropolitan area of which it is a part
- Variations in composition particularly to youth concentration
- Economic status, including job availability, median income, and poverty level
- Stability of population with respect to residents' mobility, commuting factors, and other transient factors
- Modes of transportation and highway system
- Cultural conditions, such as educational, recreational, and religious characteristics
- Effective strength of the law enforcement agencies
- Administrative and investigative emphases of law enforcement
- Attitude of the public toward law enforcement problems
- Climate, including seasonal weather conditions
- Cooperation of adjoining and overlapping police agencies
- The administrative and investigative efficiency of the local law enforcement agency, including the degree of adherence to UCR Crime Reporting Standards

Synopsis Uniform Crime Reporting Program

PROFILE OF RHODE ISLAND

Rhode Island, the Ocean State, is the smallest state in the Union. The total area is 1,545 square miles, of which 1,045 square miles is land. The greatest length of the state is 48 miles, and greatest width is 37 miles.

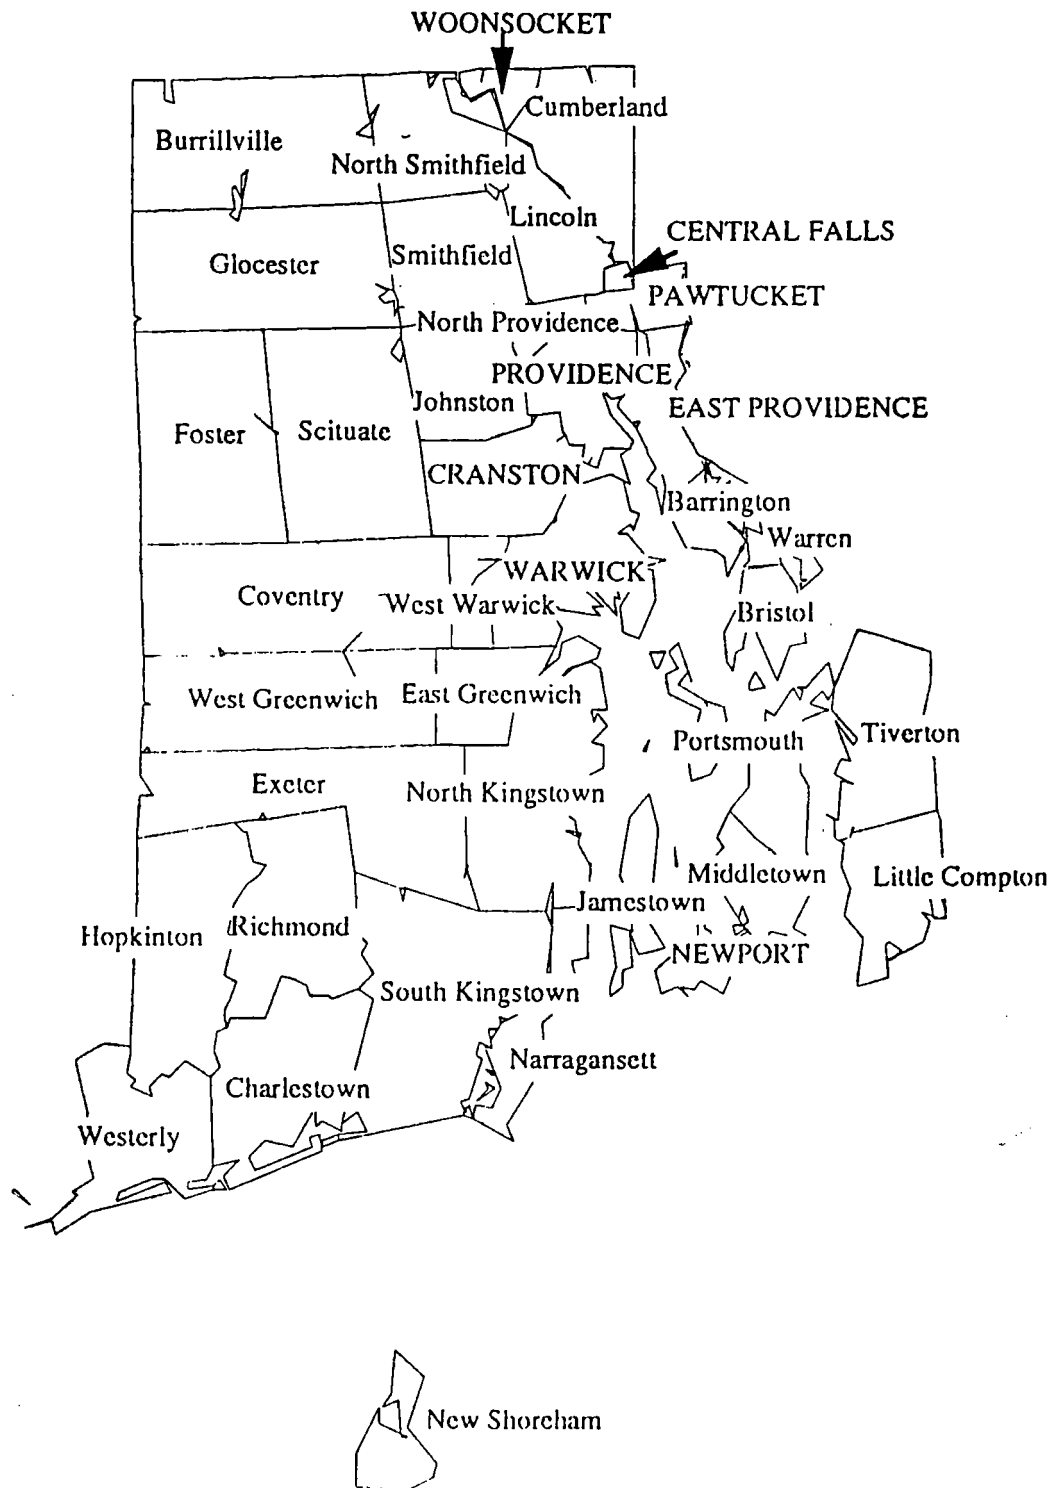

According to the 1990 U.S. Census, the population is 1,003,464 making Rhode Island the second most densely populated state - 960 people per square mile. Rhode Island's 1.3 million people represent 0.4 percent of the total United States Population.

The state is divided into 5 counties, comprised of 8 cities and 31 towns. A total of 39 municipalities as well as several state agencies contribute to the Uniform Crime Reports Program.

THE UNIFORM CRIME REPORTING SYSTEM

As per Rhode Island General Laws, the responsibility for the establishment direction, control, and supervision of the Rhode Island Uniform Crime Reporting System was assigned to the Superintendent of the State Police. The Uniform Crime Reporting System provides a view of crime based on the compilation, classification, and analysis of crime data reported by all Rhode Island law enforcement agencies. The success of the UCR is due to the full cooperation of law enforcement officials.

The UCR Unit submits crime data to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for a nationwide crime study. The FBI publishes and distributes a yearly analysis - Crime in the United States as a result of the crime study.. A copy of this publication can be obtained by contacting the Rhode Island Uniform Crime Reporting Unit at (401) 444-1121 or by writing to: Rhode Island State Police, 311 Danielson Pike, North Scituate, Rhode Island, 02857-1907.

INCIDENT BASED REPORTING

Through the support of federal funds from the Bureau of Justice Statistics, the Rhode Island State Police have undertaken the task of implementing an Incident Based Reporting System. Implementation Guidelines and Automated Data Collection Specifications are listed in Volume 1 through Volume 4, published by the FBI. This Incident Based Reporting System is a less restrictive and more detailed reporting system as opposed to the current summary reporting system.

The legislature created and funded the Criminal Juvenile Justice Information System (CJIS) which has been delegated to achieve a more comprehensive crime information system in Rhode Island to meet the needs of all agencies. Criminal justice agencies included in this plan are: Rhode Island State Police, Local Law Enforcement Agencies, Department of Public Defender, Department of Attorney General, Courts, Rhode Island Judicial System and Sciences, Department of Corrections, Adult Correctional Institutions, Adult Probation and Parole, and the Department for Children and Their Families.

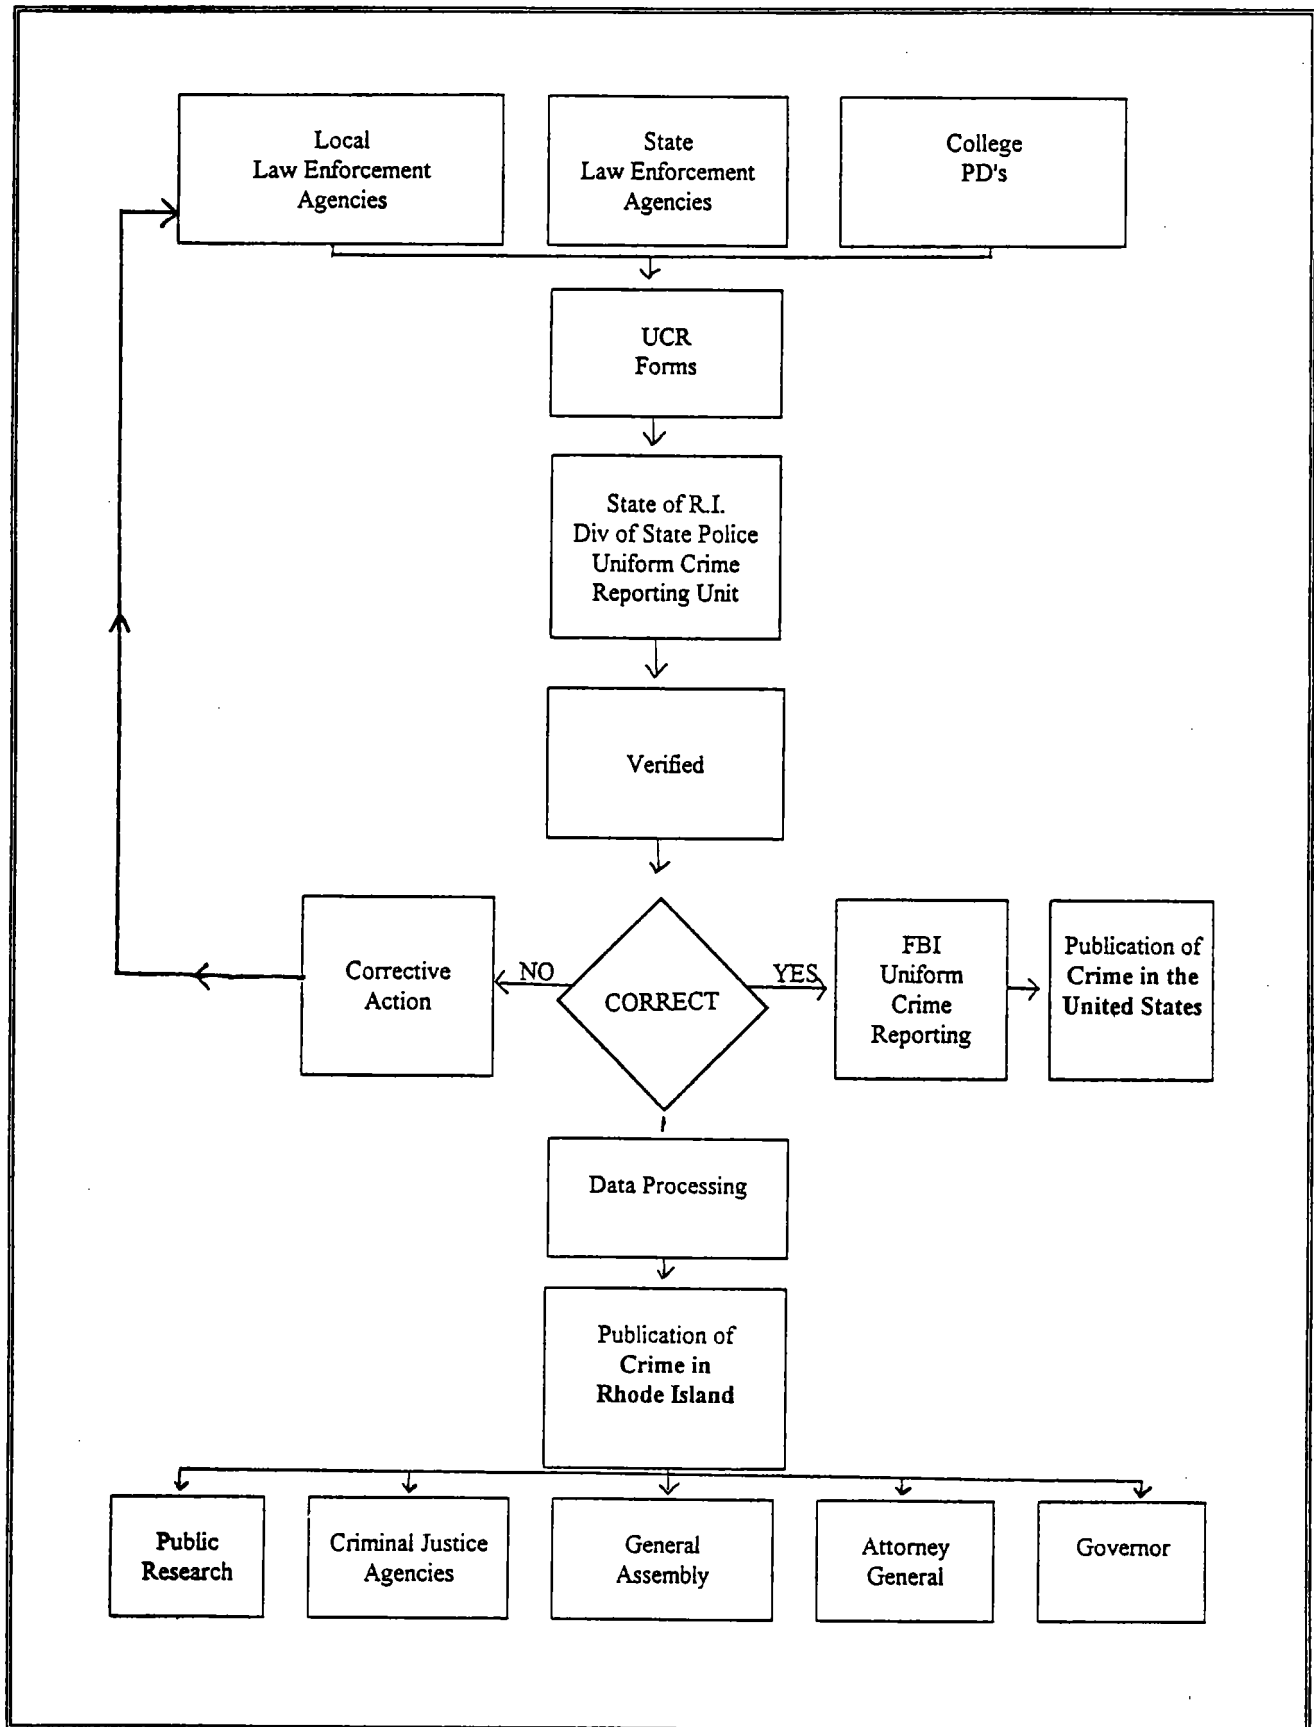

An intensive study of the crime information system, designed by Maximus, Inc., a technical consulting management firm of Virginia, was launched. The Incident Based Reporting System, based on the federal specifications, was included in this master plan. Statewide conversion to Incident Based Reporting has not yet become a reality.

NEWS BRIEF

Five states are submitting approved incident based data to the Federal Bureau of Investigation - Alabama, Idaho, Iowa, North Dakota, and South Carolina. Additionally, over ten states are submitting test incident based data to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for analysis.

Hate Crime Incident Summary (Bigotry/Bias)

Hate Crime Data Collection Background

Crimes motivated by bigotry and bias are an important concern of society. In response to this growing concern, authorization for hate crime data collection in Rhode Island was passed. Rhode Island General Law, Section 42-28-46 assigns responsibility to the Rhode Island State Police to monitor the occurrence of hate crimes committed.

This law was instituted to capture essential data in an effort to identify the hate crime problem. Statewide data collection allows the detailed examination of Hate Crime trends and will assist with crime prevention training and techniques.

Rhode Island Law Enforcement agencies report the monthly occurrence of such crimes to the Uniform Crime Reports Unit, where a record of these offenses is analyzed and maintained. These published statistics are a direct result of the data collection process.

Hopefully the information provided in this publication will be of value to society and increase the understanding as to what constitutes a hate crime. Not only is an individual victimized but an entire class of individuals.

DEFINITION

"Any crime motivated by bigotry and bias, including, but not limited to threatened, attempted, or completed acts that appear after investigation to have been motivated by racial, religious, ethnic, sexual orientation, gender or disability prejudice."

Missing Children

Missing & Exploited Children's Unit Data Collection Background

As per Rhode Island General Laws, Chapter 28.8, the Missing & Exploited Children's Unit was established in 1986 under the jurisdiction of the superintendent of the Rhode Island State Police.

Police departments of each city and town of the state "immediately" enter missing person information into the national crime information center computer and send a report form to the State Police. Monthly reports on missing and recovered persons are compiled, computerized and sent to the State Department of Vital Statistics and the Department of Education to flag records of missing children.

The Missing & Exploited Children's Unit serves as the State's Clearinghouse for the National Center for Missing Children in Washington, D.C. The National Center provided the Rhode Island State Police with a IBM Compatible Computer and the software capability to communicate directly with other state clearinghouses, as well as the National Center. Ms. Isabelle Verducci, Rhode Island Clearinghouse Manager, has obtained specialized clearinghouse training provided by the National Clearinghouse.

Domestic Violence

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE TRAINING & MONITORING UNIT BACKGROUND

The Domestic Violence Training and Monitoring Unit, referred to as the Domestic Violence Unit (DVU), operates as a joint effort between the Rhode Island Supreme Court and Rhode Island Department of the Attorney General. While funded by the Supreme Court, the Unit has been on loan to the Attorney General's Office since the passage of the 1988 DOMESTIC VIOLENCE PREVENTION ACT (DVPA), Rhode Island's first comprehensive domestic violence criminal legislation.

The DVU has been in existence in some form since 1981. From 1981 to 1986 it was known as the Domestic Violence Project and worked out of the no longer existing Rhode Island Department of Community Affairs. It was during that time period that the Project began its liaison work with Rhode Island law enforcement on the behalf of victims of domestic violence. It was also during this period that the Project, in concert with the Rhode Island Coalition Against Domestic Violence (RICADV), began its lobbying efforts at the General Assembly to improve the criminal justice response to victims of domestic violence. The 1988 DVPA transferred the Project, which consisted of one state salaried position, to the Rhode Island Supreme Court budget, thereby creating the Domestic Violence Training and Monitoring Unit (Rhode Island General Law 12-29- 6).

Historically, the DVU has been active in most phases of domestic violence prevention work including policy, planning, victim contact, victim advocacy, and education as well as the all - important victim/police liaison work.

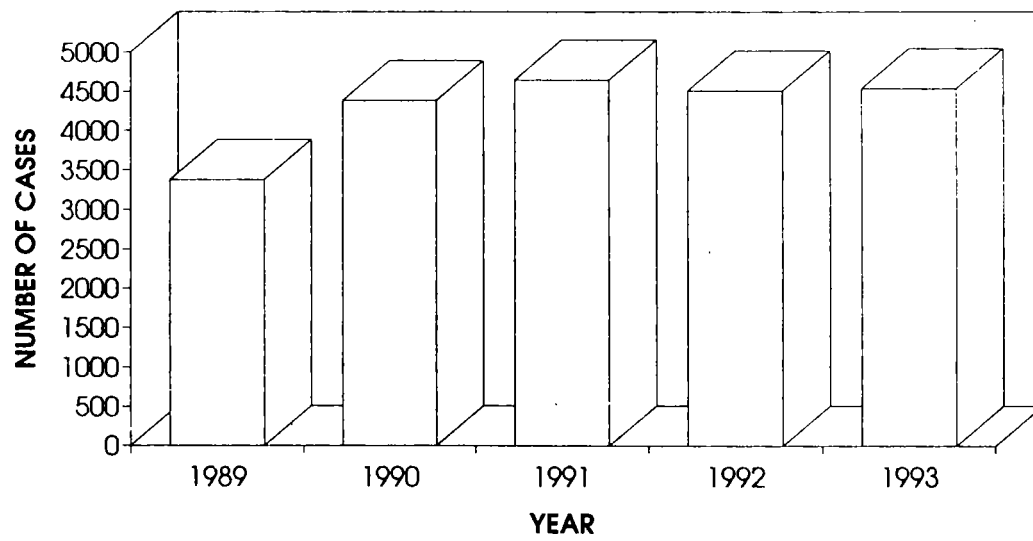

With the passage of the 1988 DVPA several new mandates were statutorily assigned to the Unit. Those mandates include: the development and delivery of a domestic violence curricula for recruits and in-service training of Rhode Island law enforcement personnel; the development and delivery of training for probation officers in screening abusers for appropriate counseling; the responsibility for the design and collection of domestic violence police reporting forms, known as DV-1's; the design and collection of medical reporting forms; and the development of such other data collection and assessment tools as are necessary to monitor the implementation of the 1988 DVPA.

In 1991, Rhode Island General Law 12-29-6.1, an amendment to the 1988 DVPA, created "The Domestic Violence Training and Monitoring Unit Fund" to be administered by the Rhode Island Supreme Court solely for the administrative expenses of the DVU. While in 1994 the DVU still consists of one state salaried position, the DVU Fund provides for the salary of an administrative aide through a private, temporary employment agency. The Unit also makes use of university and state inter programs.

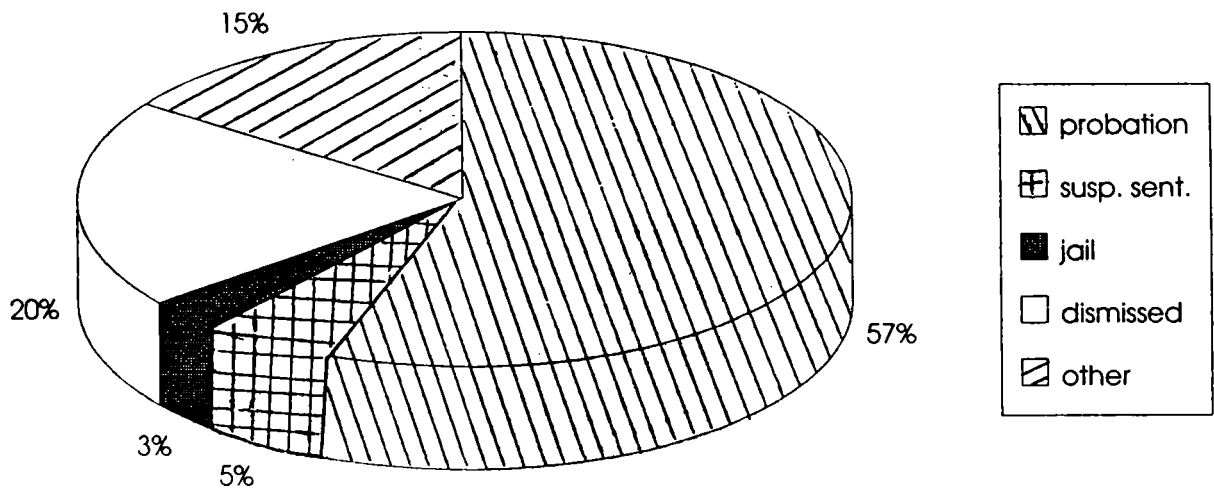

The DVU compiles domestic violence statistics on the incidence of domestic violence through police DV-1's; however, the statistics remain somewhat skewed due to the less than 100 percent compliance from all police officers. The RICADV also collects statistics through their victim advocacy court program, rather than through police reports. Coalition findings were used in compiling the graphs listed on the following pages.

UCR Part I Offenses

a. Criminal Homicide - Murder and Non negligent Manslaughter:

The willful (non negligent) killing of one human being by another. Deaths caused by negligence, attempts to kill, assaults to kill, suicides, accidental deaths, and justifiable homicides are excluded. Justifiable homicides are limited to: (1) the killing of a felon by a law enforcement officer in the line of duty; and (2) the killing (during the commission of a felony) of a felon by a private citizen.

b. Manslaughter by negligence:

The killing of another person through gross negligence. Deaths resulting from traffic accidents are not included in this classification.

FORCIBLE RAPE

The carnal knowledge of a female forcibly and against her will. Included are rapes by force and attempts or assaults to rape. Statutory offenses (no force used - victim under legal age of consent) are excluded.

ROBBERY

The taking or attempting to take anything of value from the care, custody, or control of a person or persons by force or threat of force or violence and/or by putting the victim in fear.

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT

The unlawful attack by one person upon another for the purpose of inflicting severe bodily injury usually accompanied by the use of a weapon or other means likely to produce death or serious bodily harm. Attempts are included since it is not necessary that an injury result when a gun, knife, or other weapon is used which could and probably would result in serious personal injury if the crime were successfully completed. Attacks using personal weapons (part of the attacker's body) must result in serious personal injury to be classified as aggravated assault. Simple assaults are excluded from this count.

BURGLARY

The unlawful entry of a "structure" to commit a felony or theft. The use of force to gain entry is not required to classify the crimes as burglary. Burglary is broken down into three sub classifications: forcible entry, unlawful entry where no force is used, and attempted forcible entry. A "structure" is considered to include the following, but not limited to: dwelling houses, apartments, out buildings, public buildings, offices, factories, barns, cabins, etc.

LARCENY

The unlawful taking or stealing of property or articles without the use of force, violence, or fraud. This includes crimes such as shoplifting, purse snatching, pocket picking, thefts from motor vehicles, thefts of motor vehicle parts and accessories, bicycle theft, etc. This crime category does not include embezzlement, "con" games, forgery, and worthless checks. Motor vehicle theft is excluded from this category.

MOTOR VEHICLE THEFT

The unlawful taking or stealing of motor vehicle, including attempts. This definition excludes taking for temporary use by those persons having lawful access to the vehicle.

UCR defines a motor vehicle as a self-propelled vehicle that runs on the ground and not on rails. Examples include automobiles, trucks, buses, motorcycles, mopeds, snowmobiles, etc. Thefts of construction equipment, boats, and airplanes are not included in this category but are counted as larcenies.

ARSON

The willful or malicious burning of property with or without the intent to defraud. Includes attempts. (Although arson is considered a Part 1 Crime, sufficient data is not available to provide totals for this offense. The number of arsons is not included in the crime tables listed in this publication.)

Part 2 Offenses

OTHER (SIMPLE) ASSAULTS

An unlawful attack or attempted attack upon another which does not result in serious injury to the victim and which does not involve the use of a dangerous weapon.

FORGERY AND COUNTERFEITING

The making, altering, using or possession, with intent to defraud, of anything false which is made to appear true. Includes attempts.

FRAUD

Fraudulent conversion and obtaining money or property by false pretenses. Includes bad checks, confidence games, illegal conversion of services, etc., except forgeries and counterfeiting.

EMBEZZLEMENT

Misappropriation or misapplication of money or property entrusted to one's care, custody, or control. Includes larceny from employer.

STOLEN PROPERTY

The buying, receiving, and possession of stolen property, or the attempt to do so.

VANDALISM

The willful or malicious destruction, injury, disfigurement or defacement of real or personal property without the consent of the owner or person having custody or control. Includes attempts.

WEAPONS

All violations of regulations or statutes that control carrying, using, possessing, furnishing, and manufacturing deadly weapons or silencers. Includes attempts.

PROSTITUTION AND COMMERCIALIZED VICE

Sex offenses and attempted sex offenses of a commercialized nature. Includes prostitution, keeping houses of ill fame, pandering, detaining women for immoral purposes, etc.

ALL OTHER SEX OFFENSES

All other offenses against common decency and morals. Includes statutory rape (without force) and all other sex offenses not previously defined.

DRUG LAWS

The unlawful possession, sale, use, growth or manufacture of controlled substances. For UCR purposes these offenses are broken down into four groups: a. Opium or cocaine and their derivatives (morphine, heroin, codeine), b. Marijuana, c. Synthetic narcotics - manufactured narcotics which can cause true drug addiction, d. Dangerous non-narcotic drugs.

GAMBLING

Promoting, permitting or engaging in illegal gambling. Includes bookmaking, numbers and lottery, etc.

OFFENSES AGAINST THE FAMILY OR CHILDREN

All charges of nonsupport and neglect or abuse of family or children. Note: Most child abuse, especially that resulting in injury, has been classified as either simple or aggravated assault.

DRIVING WHILE IMPAIRED

Operating any motor vehicle or common carrier while under the influence of liquor or drugs.

LIQUOR LAWS

Violation of state or local regulatory laws. Includes sale to minors and drinking on a public conveyance. This category excludes Driving While Impaired and Drunk and Disorderly violations.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Breaching the peace or attempting to do so. Includes violations of disturbing the peace, unlawful assembly, and drunk and disorderly.

VAGRANCY

Violation of state or local statutes pertaining to being a "suspicious character or person", vagrancy, etc.

ALL OTHER OFFENSES

All violations of state or local regulatory laws except traffic offenses and offenses defined above or below. Includes kidnapping, extortion, trespass, etc.

CURFEW AND LOITERING LAWS

Juvenile violations of local curfew and loitering ordinances.

RUNAWAY (JUVENILES)

The unlawful truancy from a legal place of residence by a juvenile.

The Honorable Bruce G. Sundlun
Governor of the State of Rhode Island
and Providence Plantations
State House
Providence, RI 02903

Dear Governor Sundlun:

In accordance with Rhode Island General Law 24.12-24-1, it is my pleasure to submit Crime in Rhode Island, 1993. This annual report is based on crime statistics submitted to the Rhode Island Uniform Crime Reporting System by every Rhode Island law enforcement agency for the calendar year 1993.

All data was classified utilizing national standards and definitions described in the Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook published by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

I hope that you will find this portrayal of crime in Rhode Island to be informative and meaningful.

Respectfully submitted,

Crime Factors

Data users are cautioned against comparing statistical data of individual cities and towns due to numerous factors which are known to affect the amount and type of crime occurring from place to place.

- Density and size of the community population and the metropolitan area of which it is a part
- Variations in composition particularly to youth concentration
- Economic status, including job availability, median income, and poverty level
- Stability of population with respect to residents' mobility, commuting factors, and other transient factors
- Modes of transportation and highway system
- Cultural conditions, such as educational, recreational, and religious characteristics
- Effective strength of the law enforcement agencies
- Administrative and investigative emphases of law enforcement
- Attitude of the public toward law enforcement problems
- Climate, including seasonal weather conditions
- Cooperation of adjoining and overlapping police agencies
- The administrative and investigative efficiency of the local law enforcement agency, including the degree of adherence to UCR Crime Reporting Standards

Synopsis Uniform Crime Reporting Program

PROFILE OF RHODE ISLAND

Rhode Island, the Ocean State, is the smallest state in the Union. The total area is 1,545 square miles, of which 1,045 square miles is land. The greatest length of the state is 48 miles, and greatest width is 37 miles.

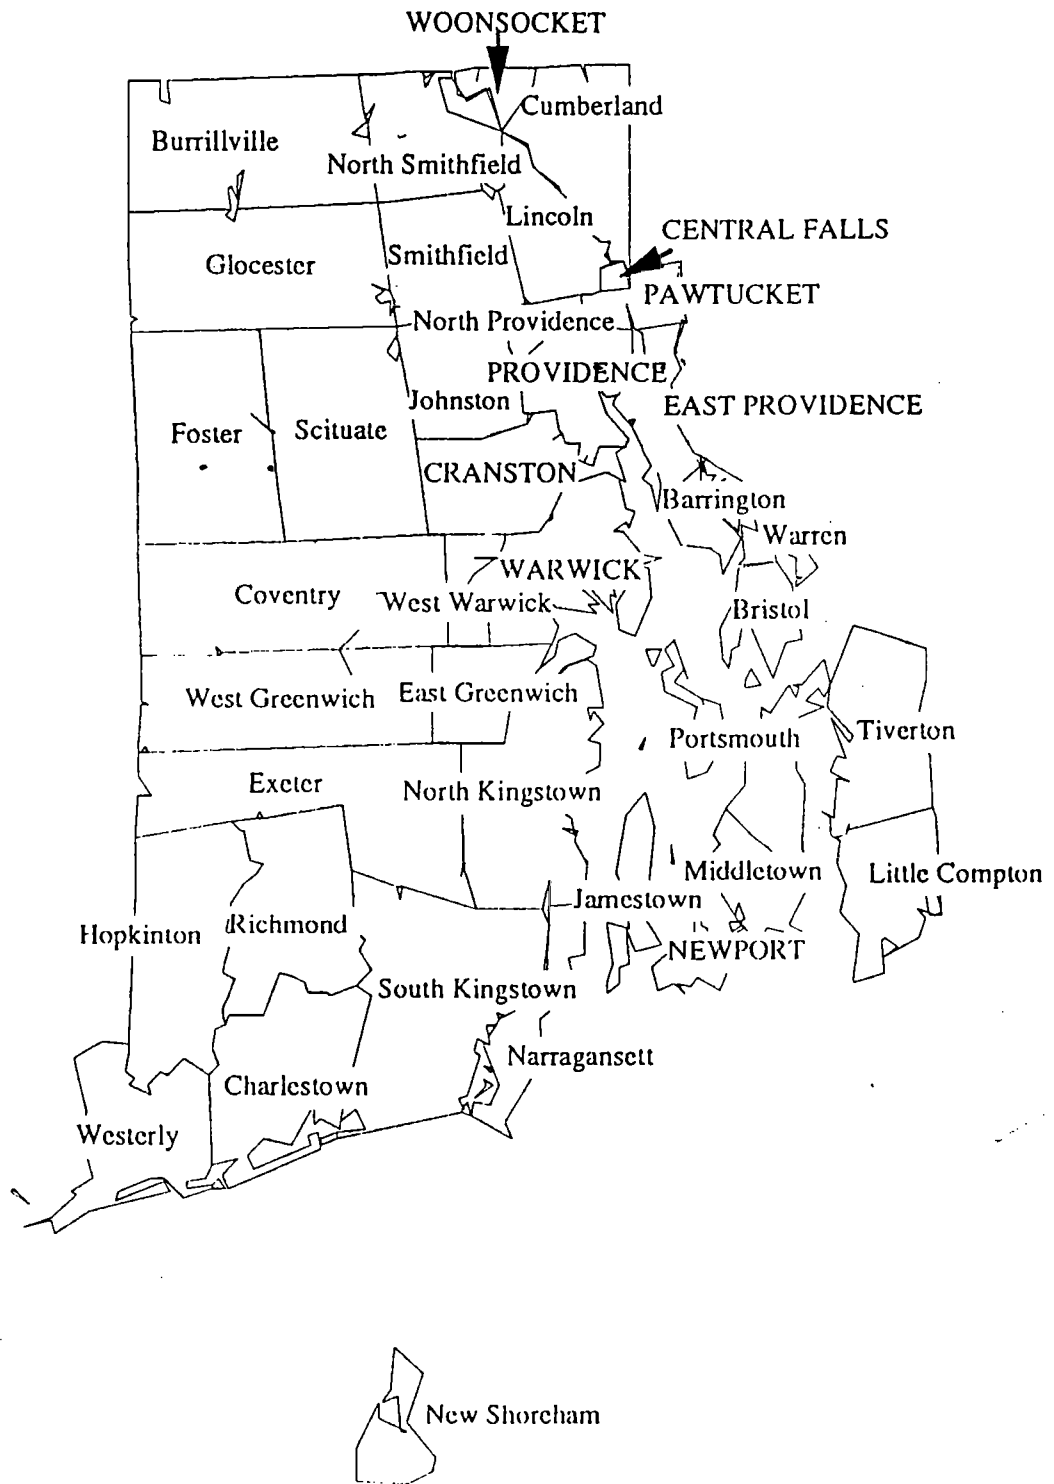

According to the 1990 U.S. Census, the population is 1,003,464 making Rhode Island the second most densely populated state - 960 people per square mile. Rhode Island's 1.3 million people represent 0.4 percent of the total United States Population.

The state is divided into 5 counties, comprised of 8 cities and 31 towns. A total of 39 municipalities as well as several state agencies contribute to the Uniform Crime Reports Program.

THE UNIFORM CRIME REPORTING SYSTEM

As per Rhode Island General Laws, the responsibility for the establishment direction, control, and supervision of the Rhode Island Uniform Crime Reporting System was assigned to the Superintendent of the State Police. The Uniform Crime Reporting System provides a view of crime based on the compilation, classification, and analysis of crime data reported by all Rhode Island law enforcement agencies. The success of the UCR is due to the full cooperation of law enforcement officials.

The UCR Unit submits crime data to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for a nationwide crime study. The FBI publishes and distributes a yearly analysis - Crime in the United States as a result of the crime study.. A copy of this publication can be obtained by contacting the Rhode Island Uniform Crime Reporting Unit at (401) 444-1121 or by writing to: Rhode Island State Police, 311 Danielson Pike, North Scituate, Rhode Island, 02857-1907.

INCIDENT BASED REPORTING

Through the support of federal funds from the Bureau of Justice Statistics, the Rhode Island State Police have undertaken the task of implementing an Incident Based Reporting System. Implementation Guidelines and Automated Data Collection Specifications are listed in Volume 1 through Volume 4, published by the FBI. This Incident Based Reporting System is a less restrictive and more detailed reporting system as opposed to the current summary reporting system.

The legislature created and funded the Criminal Juvenile Justice Information System (CJIS) which has been delegated to achieve a more comprehensive crime information system in Rhode Island to meet the needs of all agencies. Criminal justice agencies included in this plan are: Rhode Island State Police, Local Law Enforcement Agencies, Department of Public Defender, Department of Attorney General, Courts, Rhode Island Judicial System and Sciences, Department of Corrections, Adult Correctional Institutions, Adult Probation and Parole, and the Department for Children and Their Families.

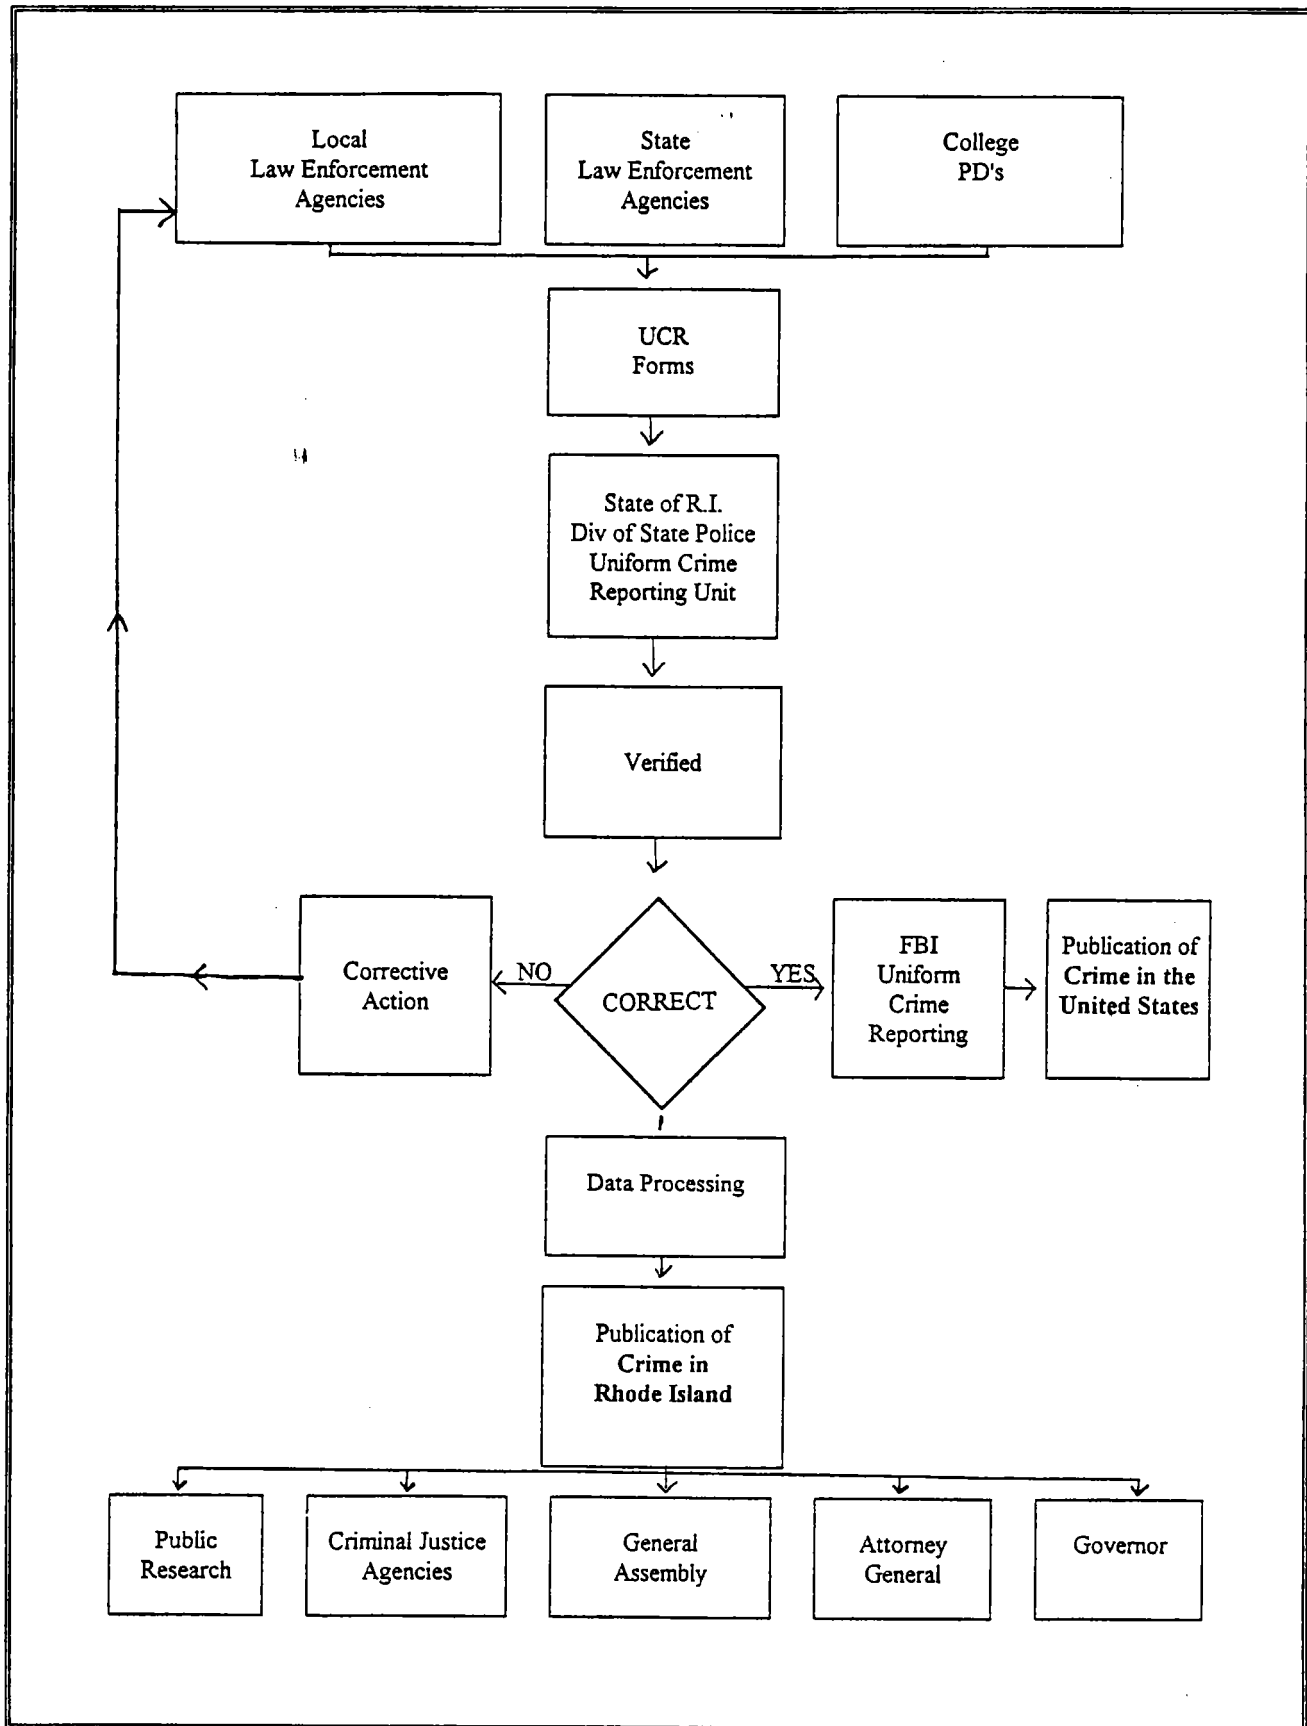

An intensive study of the crime information system, designed by Maximus, Inc., a technical consulting management firm of Virginia, was launched. The Incident Based Reporting System, based on the federal specifications, was included in this master plan. Statewide conversion to Incident Based Reporting has not yet become a reality.

NEWS BRIEF

Five states are submitting approved incident based data to the Federal Bureau of Investigation - Alabama, Idaho, Iowa, North Dakota, and South Carolina. Additionally, over ten states are submitting test incident based data to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for analysis.

The Crime Clock should be viewed with care. Being the most aggregate representation of UCR data, it is designed to convey the annual reported crime experience by showing the relative frequency of occurrence of the Index Offenses. This mode of display should not be taken to imply a regularity in the commission of the offenses; rather, it represents the annual ratio of crime to fixed time intervals.

Hate Crime Incident Summary (Bigotry/Bias)

Hate Crime Data Collection Background

Crimes motivated by bigotry and bias are an important concern of society. In response to this growing concern, authorization for hate crime data collection in Rhode Island was passed. Rhode Island General Law, Section 42-28-46 assigns responsibility to the Rhode Island State Police to monitor the occurrence of hate crimes committed.

This law was instituted to capture essential data in an effort to identify the hate crime problem. Statewide data collection allows the detailed examination of Hate Crime trends and will assist with crime prevention training and techniques.

Rhode Island Law Enforcement agencies report the monthly occurrence of such crimes to the Uniform Crime Reports Unit, where a record of these offenses is analyzed and maintained. These published statistics are a direct result of the data collection process.

Hopefully the information provided in this publication will be of value to society and increase the understanding as to what constitutes a hate crime. Not only is an individual victimized but an entire class of individuals.

DEFINITION

"Any crime motivated by bigotry and bias, including, but not limited to threatened, attempted, or completed acts that appear after investigation to have been motivated by racial, religious, ethnic, sexual orientation, gender or disability prejudice."

Missing Children

Missing & Exploited Children's Unit Data Collection Background

As per Rhode Island General Laws, Chapter 28.8, the Missing & Exploited Children's Unit was established in 1986 under the jurisdiction of the superintendent of the Rhode Island State Police.

Police departments of each city and town of the state "immediately" enter missing person information into the national crime information center computer and send a report form to the State Police. Monthly reports on missing and recovered persons are compiled, computerized and sent to the State Department of Vital Statistics and the Department of Education to flag records of missing children.

The Missing & Exploited Children's Unit serves as the State's Clearinghouse for the National Center for Missing Children in Washington, D.C. The National Center provided the Rhode Island State Police with a IBM Compatible Computer and the software capability to communicate directly with other state clearinghouses, as well as the National Center. Ms. Isabelle Verducci, Rhode Island Clearinghouse Manager, has obtained specialized clearinghouse training provided by the National Clearinghouse.

Domestic Violence

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE TRAINING & MONITORING UNIT BACKGROUND

The Domestic Violence Training and Monitoring Unit, referred to as the Domestic Violence Unit (DVU), operates as a joint effort between the Rhode Island Supreme Court and Rhode Island Department of the Attorney General. While funded by the Supreme Court, the Unit has been on loan to the Attorney General's Office since the passage of the 1988 DOMESTIC VIOLENCE PREVENTION ACT (DVPA), Rhode Island's first comprehensive domestic violence criminal legislation.

The DVU has been in existence in some form since 1981. From 1981 to 1986 it was known as the Domestic Violence Project and worked out of the no longer existing Rhode Island Department of Community Affairs. It was during that time period that the Project began its liaison work with Rhode Island law enforcement on the behalf of victims of domestic violence. It was also during this period that the Project, in concert with the Rhode Island Coalition Against Domestic Violence (RICADV), began its lobbying efforts at the General Assembly to improve the criminal justice response to victims of domestic violence. The 1988 DVPA transferred the Project, which consisted of one state salaried position, to the Rhode Island Supreme Court budget, thereby creating the Domestic Violence Training and Monitoring Unit (Rhode Island General Law 12-29- 6).

Historically, the DVU has been active in most phases of domestic violence prevention work including policy, planning, victim contact, victim advocacy, and education as well as the all - important victim/police liaison work.

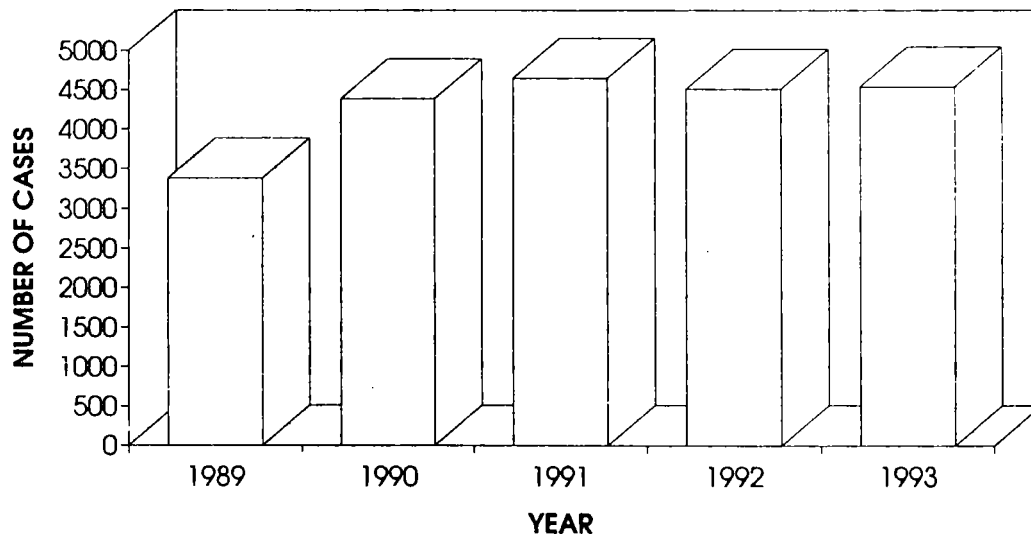

With the passage of the 1988 DVPA several new mandates were statutorily assigned to the Unit. Those mandates include: the development and delivery of a domestic violence curricula for recruits and in-service training of Rhode Island law enforcement personnel; the development and delivery of training for probation officers in screening abusers for appropriate counseling; the responsibility for the design and collection of domestic violence police reporting forms, known as DV-1's; the design and collection of medical reporting forms; and the development of such other data collection and assessment tools as are necessary to monitor the implementation of the 1988 DVPA.

In 1991, Rhode Island General Law 12-29-6.1, an amendment to the 1988 DVPA, created "The Domestic Violence Training and Monitoring Unit Fund" to be administered by the Rhode Island Supreme Court solely for the administrative expenses of the DVU. While in 1994 the DVU still consists of one state salaried position, the DVU Fund provides for the salary of an administrative aide through a private, temporary employment agency. The Unit also makes use of university and state inter programs.

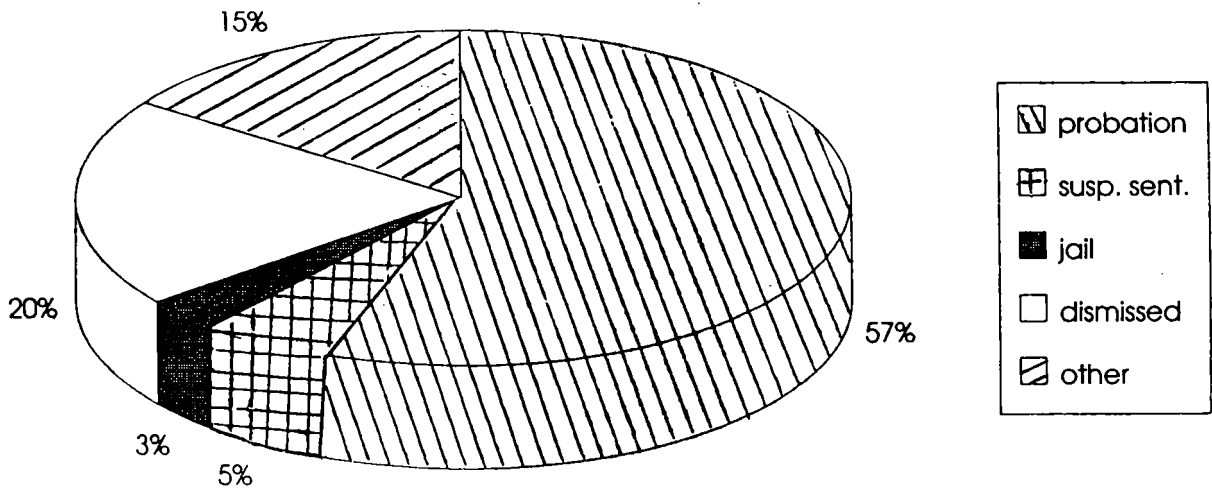

The DVU compiles domestic violence statistics on the incidence of domestic violence through police DV-1's; however, the statistics remain somewhat skewed due to the less than 100 percent compliance from all police officers. The RICADV also collects statistics through their victim advocacy court program, rather than through police reports. Coalition findings were used in compiling the graphs listed on the following pages.

UCR Part I Offenses

a. Criminal Homicide - Murder and Non negligent Manslaughter:

The willful (non negligent) killing of one human being by another. Deaths caused by negligence, attempts to kill, assaults to kill, suicides, accidental deaths, and justifiable homicides are excluded. Justifiable homicides are limited to: (1) the killing of a felon by a law enforcement officer in the line of duty; and (2) the killing (during the commission of a felony) of a felon by a private citizen.

b. Manslaughter by negligence:

The killing of another person through gross negligence. Deaths resulting from traffic accidents are not included in this classification.

FORCIBLE RAPE

The carnal knowledge of a female forcibly and against her will. Included are rapes by force and attempts or assaults to rape. Statutory offenses (no force used - victim under legal age of consent) are excluded.

ROBBERY

The taking or attempting to take anything of value from the care, custody, or control of a person or persons by force or threat of force or violence and/or by putting the victim in fear.

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT

The unlawful attack by one person upon another for the purpose of inflicting severe bodily injury usually accompanied by the use of a weapon or other means likely to produce death or serious bodily harm. Attempts are included since it is not necessary that an injury result when a gun, knife, or other weapon is used which could and probably would result in serious personal injury if the crime were successfully completed. Attacks using personal weapons (part of the attacker's body) must result in serious personal injury to be classified as aggravated assault. Simple assaults are excluded from this count.

BURGLARY

The unlawful entry of a "structure" to commit a felony or theft. The use of force to gain entry is not required to classify the crimes as burglary. Burglary is broken down into three sub classifications: forcible entry, unlawful entry where no force is used, and attempted forcible entry. A "structure" is considered to include the following, but not limited to: dwelling houses, apartments, out buildings, public buildings, offices, factories, barns, cabins, etc.

LARCENY

The unlawful taking or stealing of property or articles without the use of force, violence, or fraud. This includes crimes such as shoplifting, purse snatching, pocket picking, thefts from motor vehicles, thefts of motor vehicle parts and accessories, bicycle theft, etc. This crime category does not include embezzlement, "con" games, forgery, and worthless checks. Motor vehicle theft is excluded from this category.

MOTOR VEHICLE THEFT

The unlawful taking or stealing of motor vehicle, including attempts. This definition excludes taking for temporary use by those persons having lawful access to the vehicle.

UCR defines a motor vehicle as a self-propelled vehicle that runs on the ground and not on rails. Examples include automobiles, trucks, buses, motorcycles, mopeds, snowmobiles, etc. Thefts of construction equipment, boats, and airplanes are not included in this category but are counted as larcenies.

ARSON

The willful or malicious burning of property with or without the intent to defraud. Includes attempts. (Although arson is considered a Part 1 Crime, sufficient data is not available to provide totals for this offense. The number of arsons is not included in the crime tables listed in this publication.)

Part 2 Offenses

OTHER (SIMPLE) ASSAULTS

An unlawful attack or attempted attack upon another which does not result in serious injury to the victim and which does not involve the use of a dangerous weapon.

FORGERY AND COUNTERFEITING

The making, altering, using or possession, with intent to defraud, of anything false which is made to appear true. Includes attempts.

FRAUD

Fraudulent conversion and obtaining money or property by false pretenses. Includes bad checks, confidence games, illegal conversion of services, etc., except forgeries and counterfeiting.

EMBEZZLEMENT

Misappropriation or misapplication of money or property entrusted to one's care, custody, or control. Includes larceny from employer.

STOLEN PROPERTY

The buying, receiving, and possession of stolen property, or the attempt to do so.

VANDALISM

The willful or malicious destruction, injury, disfigurement or defacement of real or personal property without the consent of the owner or person having custody or control. Includes attempts.

WEAPONS

All violations of regulations or statutes that control carrying, using, possessing, furnishing, and manufacturing deadly weapons or silencers. Includes attempts.

PROSTITUTION AND COMMERCIALIZED VICE

Sex offenses and attempted sex offenses of a commercialized nature. Includes prostitution, keeping houses of ill fame, pandering, detaining women for immoral purposes, etc.

ALL OTHER SEX OFFENSES

All other offenses against common decency and morals. Includes statutory rape (without force) and all other sex offenses not previously defined.

DRUG LAWS

The unlawful possession, sale, use, growth or manufacture of controlled substances. For UCR purposes these offenses are broken down into four groups: a. Opium or cocaine and their derivatives (morphine, heroin, codeine), b. Marijuana, c. Synthetic narcotics - manufactured narcotics which can cause true drug addiction, d. Dangerous non-narcotic drugs.

GAMBLING

Promoting, permitting or engaging in illegal gambling. Includes bookmaking, numbers and lottery, etc.

OFFENSES AGAINST THE FAMILY OR CHILDREN

All charges of nonsupport and neglect or abuse of family or children. Note: Most child abuse, especially that resulting in injury, has been classified as either simple or aggravated assault.

DRIVING WHILE IMPAIRED

Operating any motor vehicle or common carrier while under the influence of liquor or drugs.

LIQUOR LAWS

Violation of state or local regulatory laws. Includes sale to minors and drinking on a public conveyance. This category excludes Driving While Impaired and Drunk and Disorderly violations.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Breaching the peace or attempting to do so. Includes violations of disturbing the peace, unlawful assembly, and drunk and disorderly.

VAGRANCY

Violation of state or local statutes pertaining to being a "suspicious character or person", vagrancy, etc.

ALL OTHER OFFENSES

All violations of state or local regulatory laws except traffic offenses and offenses defined above or below. Includes kidnapping, extortion, trespass, etc.

CURFEW AND LOITERING LAWS

Juvenile violations of local curfew and loitering ordinances.

RUNAWAY (JUVENILES)

The unlawful truancy from a legal place of residence by a juvenile.

Law Enforcement Code of Ethics

As a law enforcement officer, my fundamental duty is to serve the community; to safeguard lives and property; to protect the innocent against deception, the weak against oppression or intimidation and the peaceful against violence or disorder; and to respect the constitutional rights of all to liberty, equality and justice. I will keep my private life unsullied as an example to all and will behave in a manner that does not bring discredit to me or to my agency. I will maintain courageous calm in the face of danger, scorn or ridicule; develop self-restraint; and be constantly mindful of the welfare of others. Honest in thought and deed both in my personal and official life, I will be exemplary in obeying the law and the regulations of my department.

Whatever I see or hear of a confidential nature or that is confided to me in my official capacity will be kept ever secret unless revelation is necessary in the performance of my duty. I will never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudices, political beliefs, aspirations, animosities or friendships to influence my decision. With no compromise for crime and with relentless prosecution of criminals, I will enforce the law courteously and appropriately without fear or favor, malice or ill will, never employing unnecessary force or violence and never accepting gratuities.

I recognize the badge of my office as a symbol of public faith, and I accept it as a public trust to be held so long as I am true to the ethics of police service. I will never engage in acts of corruption or bribery, nor will I condone such acts by other police officers. I will cooperate with all legally authorized agencies and their representatives in the pursuit of justice.

I know that I alone am responsible for my own standard of professional performance and will take every reasonable opportunity to enhance and improve my level of knowledge and competence. I will strive to achieve these objectives and ideals, dedicating myself before God to my chosen profession . . . law enforcement.

The Honorable Lincoln Almond
Governor of the State of Rhode Island
and Providence Plantations
State House, Executive Office
Providence, Rhode Island 02903

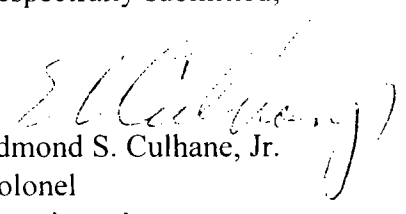

Dear Governor Almond:

In accordance with Rhode Island General Law 24.12-24-1, it is my pleasure to submit Crime in Rhode Island, 1994. This annual report is based on crime statistics submitted to the Rhode Island Uniform Crime Reporting System by every Rhode Island law enforcement agency for the calendar year 1994.

All data was classified utilizing standards and definitions described in the Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook published by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

I hope that you will find this statistical picture of crime in Rhode Island informative and useful.

Respectfully submitted,

Edmond S. Culhane, Jr.
Colonel
Superintendent

Crime Factors

Data users are cautioned against comparing statistical data of individual cities and towns due to numerous factors which are known to affect the amount and type of crime occurring from place to place.

- Density and size of the community population and the metropolitan area of which it is a part
- Variations in composition particularly to youth concentration
- Economic status, including job availability, median income, and poverty level
- Stability of population with respect to residents' mobility, commuting factors, and other transient factors
- Modes of transportation and highway system
- Cultural conditions, such as educational, recreational, and religious characteristics
- Effective strength of the law enforcement agencies
- Administrative and investigative emphases of law enforcement
- Attitude of the public toward law enforcement problems
- Climate, including seasonal weather conditions
- Cooperation of adjoining and overlapping police agencies
- The administrative and investigative efficiency of the local law enforcement agency, including the degree of adherence to UCR Crime Reporting Standards

Rhode Island General Law Chapter 24.12-24-1 mandate police departments of each city and town and the Enforcement Division of the Department of Environmental Management submit uniform crime reports to the Division of State Police.

Chapter 24

12-24-1. Reporting System. -- A uniform crime reporting system shall be established under the direction, control and supervision of the superintendent of state police. The superintendent of state police shall have the power and duty, by such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary to collect and gather such information from such local police departments and the enforcement division of the department of environmental management as may be and is hereinafter prescribed.

12-24-2. Reports. -- The police department of each city and town and the enforcement division of the department of environmental management, once each quarter, upon a date and form prescribed and furnished by the superintendent of state police, shall forward to the division of state police a crime report. Each reporting department shall report only on cases within its jurisdiction and upon which it is making, or has made, the primary police investigation. The report shall be called the uniform crime report and shall cover crimes reported and otherwise processed during the reporting period. It shall contain the number and nature of offenses committed, the disposition of such offenses and such other information as the superintendent of state police shall specify relating to the method, frequency, cause and prevention of crime. Under no circumstances shall the name of any person be reported.

12-24-3. Compilation of Reports. -- Upon receipt of the quarterly uniform crime reports from the reporting agencies, the division of state police shall prepare a statewide compilation of the statistics contained therein and the resulting statistical compilation shall be available to any governmental law enforcement agency in the state, the judiciary committees of the Rhode Island senate and the Rhode Island house of representatives, and the federal bureau of investigation, upon request. The statistics made available through the uniform crime report shall be used for the purpose of studying the causes, trends and effects of crime in this state and for intelligence upon which to base a more sound program of crime detection and prevention and the apprehension of criminals.

12-24-4. Other Agencies. -- Any governmental agency, not falling within the description of those required to submit the quarterly uniform crime report set forth in 12-24-2, which desires to submit such a report, shall be furnished with the proper forms by the division of state police. When a report is received by the division of state police from a governmental police agency not required to make such reports, the information contained therein shall be included within the monthly compilation provided for in 12-24-3.

Hate Crime Incident Summary (Bigotry/Bias)

Hate Crime Data Collection Background

Crimes motivated by bigotry and bias are an important concern of society. In response to this growing concern, authorization for hate crime data collection in Rhode Island was passed. Rhode Island General Law, Section 42-28-46 assigns responsibility to the Rhode Island State Police to monitor the occurrence of hate crimes committed.

This law was instituted to capture essential data in an effort to identify the hate crime problem. Statewide data collection allows the detailed examination of Hate Crime trends and will assist with crime prevention training and techniques.

Rhode Island Law Enforcement agencies report the monthly occurrence of such crimes to the Uniform Crime Reports Unit, where a record of these offenses is analyzed and maintained. These published statistics are a direct result of the data collection process.

Hopefully the information provided in this publication will be of value to society and increase the understanding as to what constitutes a hate crime. Not only is an individual victimized but an entire class of individuals.

DEFINITION

"Any crime motivated by bigotry and bias, including, but not limited to threatened, attempted, or completed acts that appear after investigation to have been motivated by racial, religious, ethnic, sexual orientation, gender or disability prejudice."

Missing Children

Missing & Exploited Children's Unit Data Collection Background

As per Rhode Island General Laws, Chapter 28.8, the Missing & Exploited Children's Unit was established in 1986 under the jurisdiction of the superintendent of the Rhode Island State Police.

Police departments of each city and town of the state "immediately" enter missing person information into the national crime information center computer and send a report form to the State Police. Monthly reports on missing and recovered children are compiled, computerized and sent to the State Department of Vital Statistics and the Department of Education to flag records of missing children.

Domestic Violence

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE TRAINING & MONITORING UNIT BACKGROUND

The Domestic Violence Training and Monitoring Unit, referred to as the Domestic Violence Unit (DVU), operates as a joint effort between the Rhode Island Supreme Court and the Rhode Island Department of the Attorney General. While funded by the Supreme Court, the unit has been on loan to the Attorney General's Office since the passage of the 1988 DOMESTIC VIOLENCE PREVENTION ACT (DVPA), Rhode Island's first comprehensive domestic violence criminal legislation.

The DVU has been in existence in some form since 1981. From 1981 to 1986, it was known as the Domestic Violence Project and worked out of the no longer existing Rhode Island Department of Community Affairs. It was during that time period that the Project began its liaison work with Rhode Island law enforcement on the behalf of victims of domestic violence. It was also during this period that the Project, in concert with the Rhode Island Coalition Against Domestic Violence (RICADV), began its lobbying efforts at the General Assembly to improve the criminal justice response to victims of domestic violence. The 1988 DVPA transferred the Project, which consisted of one state salaried position, to the Rhode Island Supreme Court budget, thereby creating the Domestic Violence Training and Monitoring Unit, (Rhode Island General Law 12-29-6).

Historically, the DVU has been active in most phases of domestic violence prevention work including policy, planning, victim contact, victim advocacy, and education as well as the all important victim/police liaison work.

With the passage of the 1988 DVPA several new mandates were assigned to the unit by statute. Those mandates include: the development and delivery of a domestic violence curricula for recruits and in-service training of Rhode Island law enforcement personnel; the development and delivery of training for probation officers in screening abusers for appropriate counseling; the responsibility for the design and collection of medical reporting forms; and the development of such other data collection and assessment tools as are necessary to monitor the implementation of the 1988 DVPA.

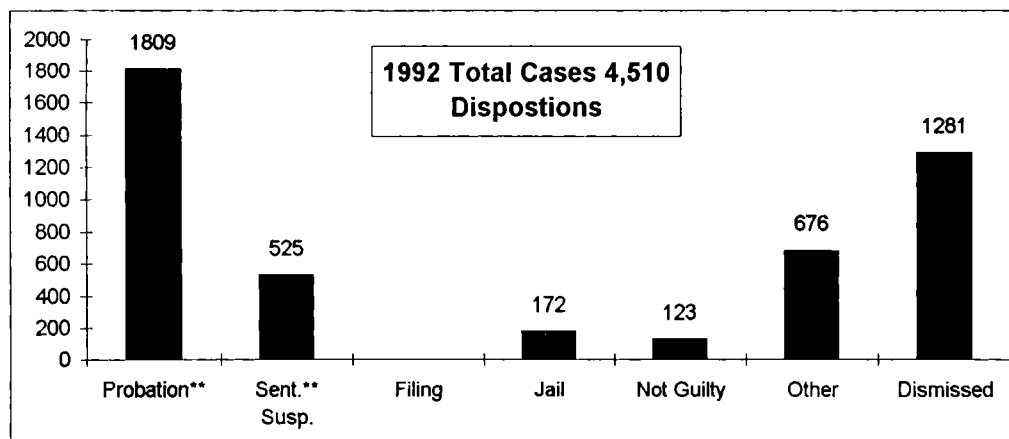

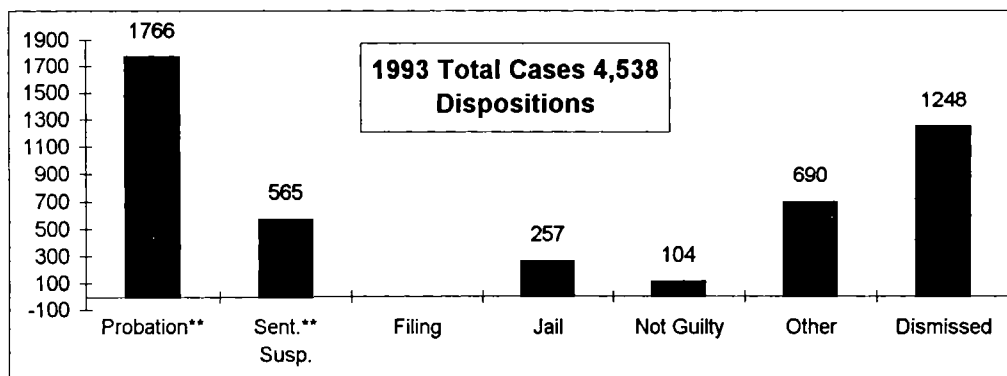

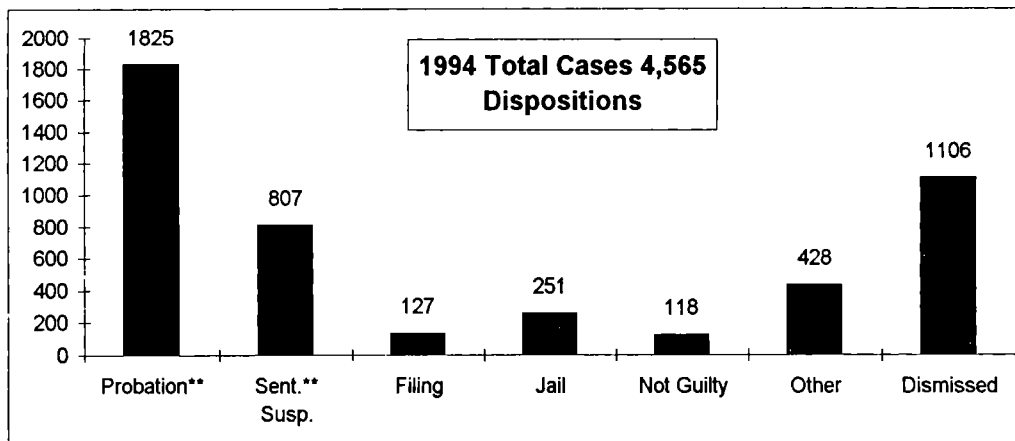

In 1991, Rhode Island General Law 12-29-6.1, an amendment to the 1988 DVPA, created "The Domestic Violence Training and Monitoring Unit Fund" to be administered by the Rhode Island Supreme Court solely for the administrative expenses of the DVU. While in 1995 the DVU still consists of one state salaried position, the DVU Fund provides for the salary of an administrative aide through a private, temporary employment agency. The Unit also makes use of university and state intern programs.

The DVU compiles domestic violence statistics on the incidence of domestic violence through police DVU's; however, the statistics remain somewhat skewed due to the less than 100 percent compliance from all police officers. The RICADV also collects statistics through their victim advocacy court program, rather than through police reports. Statistics from the DVU, the Coalition, some shelters and a few police departments were used in compiling the graphs on the following pages.

CRIMINAL HOMICIDE

a. Criminal Homicide - Murder and Non negligent Manslaughter:

The willful (non negligent) killing of one human being by another. Deaths caused by negligence, attempts to kill, assaults to kill, suicides, accidental deaths, and justifiable homicides are excluded. Justifiable homicides are limited to: (1) the killing of a felon by a law enforcement officer in the line of duty; and (2) the killing (during the commission of a felony) of a felon by a private citizen.

b. Manslaughter by negligence:

The killing of another person through gross negligence. Deaths resulting from traffic accidents are not included in this classification.

FORCIBLE RAPE

The carnal knowledge of a female forcibly and against her will. Included are rapes by force and attempts or assaults to rape. Statutory offenses (no force used - victim under legal age of consent) are excluded.

ROBBERY

The taking or attempting to take anything of value from the care, custody, or control of a person or persons by force or threat of force or violence and/or by putting the victim in fear.

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT

The unlawful attack by one person upon another for the purpose of inflicting severe bodily injury usually accompanied by the use of a weapon or other means likely to produce death or serious bodily harm. Attempts are included since it is not necessary that an injury result when a gun, knife, or other weapon is used which could and probably would result in serious personal injury if the crime were successfully completed. Attacks using personal weapons (part of the attacker's body) must result in serious personal injury to be classified as aggravated assault. Simple assaults are excluded from this count.

BURGLARY

The unlawful entry of a "structure" to commit a felony or theft. The use of force to gain entry is not required to classify the crimes as burglary. Burglary is broken down into three sub classifications: forcible entry, unlawful entry where no force is used, and attempted forcible entry. A "structure" is considered to include the following, but not limited to: dwelling houses, apartments, out buildings, public buildings, offices, factories, barns, cabins, etc.

LARCENY

The unlawful taking or stealing of property or articles without the use of force, violence, or fraud. This includes crimes such as shoplifting, purse snatching, pocket picking, thefts from motor vehicles, thefts of motor vehicle parts and accessories, bicycle theft, etc. This crime category does not include embezzlement, "con" games, forgery, and worthless checks. Motor vehicle theft is excluded from this category.

MOTOR VEHICLE THEFT

The unlawful taking or stealing of motor vehicle, including attempts. This definition excludes taking for temporary use by those persons having lawful access to the vehicle.

UCR defines a motor vehicle as a self-propelled vehicle that runs on the ground and not on rails. Examples include automobiles, trucks, buses, motorcycles, mopeds, snowmobiles, etc. Thefts of construction equipment, boats, and airplanes are not included in this category but are counted as larcenies.

ARSON

The willful or malicious burning of property with or without the intent to defraud. Includes attempts. (Although arson is considered a Part I Crime, sufficient data is not available to provide totals for this offense. The number of arsons is not included in the crime tables listed in this publication.)

Part 2 Offenses

OTHER (SIMPLE) ASSAULTS

An unlawful attack or attempted attack upon another which does not result in serious injury to the victim and which does not involve the use of a dangerous weapon.

FORGERY AND COUNTERFEITING

The making, altering, using or possession, with intent to defraud, of anything false which is made to appear true. Includes attempts.

FRAUD

Fraudulent conversion and obtaining money or property by false pretenses. Includes bad checks, confidence games, illegal conversion of services, etc., except forgeries and counterfeiting.

EMBEZZLEMENT

Misappropriation or misapplication of money or property entrusted to one's care, custody, or control. Includes larceny from employer.

STOLEN PROPERTY

The buying, receiving, and possession of stolen property, or the attempt to do so.

VANDALISM

The willful or malicious destruction, injury, disfigurement or defacement of real or personal property without the consent of the owner or person having custody or control. Includes attempts.

WEAPONS

All violations of regulations or statutes that control carrying, using, possessing, furnishing, and manufacturing deadly weapons or silencers. Includes attempts.

PROSTITUTION AND COMMERCIALIZED VICE

Sex offenses and attempted sex offenses of a commercialized nature. Includes prostitution, keeping houses of ill fame, pandering, detaining women for immoral purposes, etc.

ALL OTHER SEX OFFENSES

All other offenses against common decency and morals. Includes statutory rape (without force) and all other sex offenses not previously defined.

DRUG LAWS

The unlawful possession, sale, use, growth or manufacture of controlled substances. For UCR purposes these offenses are broken down into four groups: a. Opium or cocaine and their derivatives (morphine, heroin, codeine), b. Marijuana, c. Synthetic narcotics - manufactured narcotics which can cause true drug addiction, d. Dangerous non-narcotic drugs.

GAMBLING

Promoting, permitting or engaging in illegal gambling. Includes bookmaking, numbers and lottery, etc.

OFFENSES AGAINST THE FAMILY OR CHILDREN

All charges of nonsupport and neglect or abuse of family or children. Note: Most child abuse, especially that resulting in injury, has been classified as either simple or aggravated assault.

DRIVING WHILE IMPAIRED

Operating any motor vehicle or common carrier while under the influence of liquor or drugs.

LIQUOR LAWS

Violation of state or local regulatory laws. Includes sale to minors and drinking on a public conveyance. This category excludes Driving While Impaired and Drunk and Disorderly violations.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Breaching the peace or attempting to do so. Includes violations of disturbing the peace, unlawful assembly, and drunk and disorderly.

VAGRANCY

Violation of state or local statutes pertaining to being a "suspicious character or person", vagrancy, etc.

ALL OTHER OFFENSES

All violations of state or local regulatory laws except traffic offenses and offenses defined above or below. Includes kidnapping, extortion, trespass, etc.

CURFEW AND LOITERING LAWS

Juvenile violations of local curfew and loitering ordinances.

RUNAWAY (JUVENILES)

The unlawful truancy from a legal place of residence by a juvenile.

Hello from RI! I saw a piece on the news last night that I thought was great PR for President's crime fighting efforts -- it talked about the 23 policemen Rhode Island is getting as part of "President Clinton's effort to put 100,000 more police on the streets", and that this effort may be threatened by Republican attempts to undo the police provisions of last year's crime bill. Apparently a couple of Sheriffs and lawmakers are having a press confernece on this today. You may already know about this (in fact you may have orchestrated this) but I wanted to make sure. Probably not your most inimportant market, but good press nonetheless...

LOCATION Narragansett, RI

PROJECT TITLE Oceans Tide School

GRANTEE AGENCY Rhode Island Governor's Justice Commission

PROJECT DURATION 1989 to 1994

FUNDING AMOUNT $16,000 in 1994

STATUS

- Rhode Island Governor's Justice Commission

Oceans Tide is a private residential program for adjudicated boys of approximately 13 -17 years of age. The program has a capacity of 50 boys. Since 1989, OJJDP funds have provided a counselor at the Oceans Tide who works with the youth after they return to their own schools in their home communities to assure a smooth transition.

COMMENT

No sensitive issues.

PROJECT TITLE: Providence Boys & Girls Club Teens, Crime and the Community Program

GRANTEE AGENCY: Teens, Crime and the Community

PROJECT DURATION: October 1, 1993 - September 30, 1994

FUNDING AMOUNT: $3,000

STATUS: Because it helps youth better protect themselves, their friends, and their communities from crime and because of its delinquency prevention potential, the Teens, Crime, and the Community education and action program has been infused into social and learning programs of Boys and Girls Clubs in sites across the country. At five clubs in the Providence area, club staff, staff from the Ocean State Law-Related Education Center, and community resource persons ranging from police to prosecutors to social service providers meet weekly or semi-weekly with Club members to discuss how youth can reduce their own risks and prevent crime in their communities and to help youth develop leadership skills. The young Club members develop projects that directly change the communities in which they live -- including such efforts as community clean-ups, posters and other artistry to promote prevention, and teaching of younger children. At the national level, the Teens, Crime, and the Community program is a partnership of the National Crime Prevention Council and the National Institute for Citizen Education in the Law. At-risk young people in the heart of Providence are making their neighborhoods safer and better because of TCC.

COMMENT FIELD: This new program offers an excellent example of an effective way to reach inner-city youth in non-school settings, providing them with education and action.

Bureau of Justice Assistance

Rhode Island

Location: Rhode Island -- and the 5 five other New England States (i.e., Maine, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, and Vermont)

Project Title: The New England Community Policing-Crime Prevention Partnership Training Initiative

OJP Bureau: Bureau of Justice Assistance

Amount: $200,000 (new program)

Years in Operation: 06/15/94 - 12/15/96

Program Status: Discretionary Grant Program

Program Description: This program will cost effectively help to institutionalize the concept of community policing throughout New England region by providing services that will assist chief executive law enforcement officers and municipal/county/State policymakers to develop, implement, and/or enhance police policies and procedures which serve to promote public safety and bridge the gap between law enforcement and its citizenry. Primary work elements will focus on: the provision of regional and State technical assistance and training; the institutionalization of proactive community-based prevention strategies (i.e., crime and violence prevention, drug demand reduction, crime prevention through environmental design [CPTED], Neighborhood Watch, etc.); and, developing and/or enhancing partnerships which serve to support and further institutionalize collaborative efforts to resolve public safety issues (i.e., crime, violence, and substance abuse).

Comments:

Location: Providence, Rhode Island

Project Title: Weed and Seed (BUT, not one of discretionary sites)

OJP Bureau: Bureau of Justice Assistance

Amount: FY 1991: some part of $100,000 drug control subgrant
FY 1992: $150,000
FY 1993: $ 57,000

Years in Operation: Since 1991 (planning and startup)

Program Status: Formula Grant Program

Program Description: This department has about 30 officers directly involved in community policing and just got a Police Hiring Supplement grant for 14 more. They are using team patrols, storefront, etc. They have a "direct line" to City Hall to get things done in the communities, such as fixing potholes. This program was initiated with formula grants because they did not get invited to be part of the discretionary program. It has been subjected to a small evaluation (available in BJA).
