1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

2 The Congress finds that—

1 (1) individuals have a right of confidentiality 2 with respect to their personal health information and 3 records;

4 (2) with respect to information about medical 5 care and health status, the traditional right of con-6 fidentiality is at risk;

7 (3) an erosion of the right of confidentiality 8 may reduce the willingness of patients to confide in 9 physicians and other practitioners, thus jeopardizing 10 quality health care;

11 (4) an individual's confidentiality right means 12 that an individual's authorization or informed con-
13 sent is needed to disclose his or her protected health 14 information, except in rare and limited cir-
15 cumstances required by the public interest;

16 (5) any disclosure of protected health informa-17 tion should be limited to that information or portion 18 of the medical record necessary to fulfill the purpose 19 of the disclosure;

20 (6) incentives need to be created to use non-21 identifiable health information where appropriate;

22 (7) the availability of timely and accurate per-23 sonal health data for the delivery of health care serv-
24 ices throughout the Nation is needed;

1 (8) personal health care data may be essential 2 for selected types of medical research:

3 (9) public health uses of personal health data
4 are critical to both personal health as well as public 5 health;

6 (10) confidentiality of an individual's health in-7 formation must be assured without jeopardizing the 8 pursuit of clinical and epidemiological research un-9 dertaken to improve health care and health outcomes
10 and to assure the quality and efficiency of health 11 care;

12 (11) there is an imperative need for confidence
13 and trust between a psychotherapist and a patient 14 and that such trust can only be established by an as-15 surance of confidentiality; and

16 (12) the assurance described in paragraph (11)
17 serves the public interest by facilitating the provision 18 of appropriate treatment for individuals.

19 SEC. 3. PURPOSES.

20 The purpose of this Act is to—

21 (1) establish strong and effective mechanisms 22 to protect against the unauthorized and inappropri-23 ate use of protected health information that is cre-24 ated or maintained as part of health care treatment,

1 diagnosis, enrollment, payment, plan administration,
2 testing, or research processes;

3 (2) promote the efficiency and security of the 4 health information infrastructure so that members
5 of the health care community may more effectively 6 exchange and transfer health information in a man-
7 ner that will ensure the confidentiality of protected 8 health information without impeding the delivery of 9 high quality health care;

10 (3) create incentives to turn personal health in-11 formation into nonidentifiable health information for 12 oversight, health research, public health, law en-13 forcement, judicial, and administrative purposes, 14 where appropriate; and 15 (4) establish strong and effective remedies for 16 violations of this Act.

17 SEC. 4. DEFINITIONS.

18 As used in this Act:

19 (1) ACCREDITING BODY.—The term “accredit-20 ing body” means a national body, committee, organi-21 zation, or institution (such as the Joint Commission 22 on Accreditation of Health Care Organizations or 23 the National Committee for Quality Assurance) that 24 has been authorized by law or is recognized by a 25 health care regulating authority as an accrediting

1 entity or any other entity that has been similarly au-
2 thorized or recognized by law to perform specific ac-
3 creditation, licensing or credentialing activities.

4 (2) AGENT.—The term “agent” means a per-5 son, including a contractor, who represents and acts 6 for another under the contract or relation of agency, 7 or whose function is to bring about, modify, affect, 8 accept performance of, or terminate contractual obli-9 gations between the principal and a third person.

10 (3) COMMON RULE.—The term “common rule” 11 means the Federal policy for the protection of 12 human subjects from research risks originally pub-13 lished as 56 Federal Register 28.012 (et seq.) (June 14 18, 1991) as adopted and implemented by a Federal 15 department or agency.

16 (4) DISCLOSE AND DISCLOSURE.—

17 (A) DISCLOSE.—The term “disclose”
18 means to release, publish, transfer, provide ac-
19 cess to, or otherwise divulge protected health 20 information to any person other than the indi-21 vidual who is the subject of such information.

22 (B) DISCLOSURE.—

23 (i) IN GENERAL.—The term “disclo-24 sure” refers to a release, publication, 25 transfer, provision for access to, or com-

1 munication of information described in 2 subparagraph (A).

3 (ii) USE.—The use of protected health 4 information by an authorized person and 5 its agents shall not be considered a disclo-6 sure for purposes of this Act if the use is 7 for the purposes for which the information 8 was lawfully obtained. Using or providing 9 access to health information in the form of 10 nonidentifiable health information shall not 11 be construed as a disclosure of protected
12 health information.

13 (5) EMPLOYER.—The term “employer” has the 14 meaning given such term under section 3(5) of the 15 Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 16 (29 U.S.C. 1002(5)), except that such term shall in-17 clude only employers of 2 or more employees.

18 (6) HEALTH CARE.—The term “health care”
19 means—

20 (A) preventive, diagnostic, therapeutic, re-21 habilitative, maintenance, or palliative care, in-22 cluding appropriate assistance with disability, 23 disease or symptom management and health 24 maintenance, counseling, service, or proce-
25 dure—

1 (i) with respect to the physical or 2 mental condition of an individual; or

3 (ii) affecting the structure or function 4 of the human body or any part of the 5 human body, including the banking of 6 blood, sperm, organs, or any other tissue;
7 or

8 (B) pursuant to a prescription or medical 9 order any sale or dispensing of a drug, device, 10 equipment, or other health care related item to 11 an individual, or for the use of an individual.

12 (7) HEALTH CARE OPERATIONS.—The term
13 “health care operations” means, with respect to a 14 health plan, health care provider, or life insurer, 15 services provided by or on behalf of such health 16 plan, health care provider, or life insurer for the 17 purpose of carrying out the management functions 18 of such health plan, health care provider, or life in-19 surer, or carrying out the delivery of health benefits 20 by such health plan, health care provider, or life in-21 surer under the terms of a contract for health plan 22 or life insurance benefits. Such term means only the 23 following:

24 (A) Conducting quality assessment and im-
25 provement activities, including outcomes evalua-

1 tion, and clinical guideline development and im-2 provement.

3 (B) Reviewing the competence or qualifica-4 tions of health care professionals, evaluating 5 provider performance, health plan performance, 6 and conducting professional or clinical health 7 care education, accreditation, certification, li-8 censing, or credentialing activities.

9 (C) Rating and insurance activities, includ-
10 ing underwriting, experience rating, and rein-11 surance.

12 (D) Conducting or arranging for auditing
13 services, including fraud and abuse detection 14 and compliance programs.

15 (E) Such other services as the Secretary
16 determines appropriate through regulations
17 (after notice and comment).

18 (8) HEALTH CARE PROVIDER.—The term
19 “health care provider” means (for purposes of this 20 Act only) a person, who with respect to a specific 21 item of protected health information, receives, cre-
22 ates, uses, maintains, or discloses the information 23 while acting in whole or in part in the capacity of—

24 (A) a person who is licensed, certified, reg-25 istered, or otherwise authorized by Federal or

1 State law to provide an item or service that 2 constitutes health care in the ordinary course of 3 business, or practice of a profession, or an offi-4 cer, employee, or agent of a person described in 5 this subparagraph that is engaged in the provi-6 sion of health care; or

7 (B) a Federal, State, or employer spon-8 sored program, or a health plan that provides, 9 or facilitates the provision of items or services 10 that constitute health care to beneficiaries.

11 (9) HEALTH OVERSIGHT AGENCY.—The term 12 “health oversight agency” means a person who, with 13 respect to a specific item of protected health infor-14 mation, receives, creates, uses, maintains, or dis-15 closes the information while acting in whole or in 16 part in the capacity of—

17 (A) a person who performs or oversees the 18 performance of an assessment, evaluation, de-19 termination, or investigation, relating to the li-20 censing, accreditation, or credentialing of health 21 care providers; or

22 (B) a person who—

23 (i) performs or oversees the perform-
24 ance of an audit, assessment, evaluation,
25 determination, or investigation, or the ini-

1 tiation of administrative, civil or criminal 2 proceedings, relating to the effectiveness
3 of, compliance with, applicability of, or en-4 forcement of laws or regulations, or legal,
5 fiscal, medical, or scientific standards, re-6 quirements or aspects of performance re-7 lated to the delivery of, or payment for, 8 health care or related to the use of health
9 information in the business of insurance, 10 including complaints, claims, investiga-
11 tions, underwriting, sales, and managed 12 care; and

13 (ii) is a public agency, acting on be-14 half of a public agency, or a law enforce-15 ment agency carrying out activities under 16 a law or regulation governing the audit, as-17 sessment, evaluation, determination, inves-
18 tigation, or activities related to the initi-
19 ation of administrative, civil or criminal 20 proceedings described in clause (i).

21 (10) HEALTH PLAN.—

22 (A) IN GENERAL.—The term “health plan” 23 means any health insurance issuer (as such 24 term is defined in section 2791(b)(2) of the 25 Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 300gg-

1 91(b)(2))) including any provider-sponsored or-2 ganization, and any group health plan that pro-3 vides medical care as defined in section 733(a)
4 of the Employee Retirement Income Security
5 Act of 1974 (29 U.S.C. 1191b(a)).

6 (B) BENEFITS.—For purposes of subpara-
7 graph (A), the term “health plan” includes any 8 benefit for which the delivery of the benefit re-9 quires the use or disclosure of protected health 10 information, including benefits for disability, 11 dental, vision, long-term care, nursing home 12 care, and community-based care, and any bene-13 fit that involves medical care.

14 (11) HEALTH RESEARCHER.—The term “health 15 researcher” means a person, or an officer, employee 16 or independent contractor of a person, who creates 17 or receives protected health information as part of a 18 systematic investigation, including research develop-

1 TITLE I—INDIVIDUAL'S RIGHTS
2 Subtitle A—Review of Protected
3 Health Information by Subjects
4 of the Information

5 SEC. 101. INSPECTION AND COPYING OF PROTECTED
6 HEALTH INFORMATION.

7 (a) IN GENERAL.—At the request of an individual 8 and except as provided in subsection (b), a health care 9 provider, health plan, employer, life insurer, school, or uni-10 versity shall permit an individual who is the subject of pro-11 tected health information or the individual's designee, to 12 inspect and copy protected health information concerning 13 the individual, including records created under sections 14 102 and 112, that such person maintains. The person may 15 set forth appropriate procedures to be followed for such 16 inspection or copying and may require an individual to pay 17 reasonable costs associated with such inspection or copy-18 ing. Such fees may not be assessed where such an assess-19 ment would have the effect of inhibiting an individual from 20 gaining access to the information described in this section.

21 (b) EXCEPTIONS.—Unless ordered by a court of com-22 petent jurisdiction, a person described in subsection (a) 23 is not required to permit the inspection or copying of pro-24 tected health information if any of the following conditions 25 are met:

1 (1) ENDANGERMENT TO LIFE OR SAFETY.—

2 The person determines that the disclosure of the in-3 formation could reasonably be expected to endanger 4 the life or safety of the individual who is the subject 5 of the record.

6 (2) CONFIDENTIAL SOURCE.—The information
7 identifies, or could reasonably lead to the identifica-
8 tion of, a person who provided information under a 9 promise of confidentiality concerning the individual 10 who is the subject of the information.

11 (3) INFORMATION COMPILED IN ANTICIPATION
12 OF LITIGATION.—The information is compiled prin-
13 cipally—

14 (A) in the reasonable anticipation of a 15 civil, criminal, or administrative action or pro-16 ceeding; or

17 (B) for use in such action or proceeding.

18 (4) RESEARCH PURPOSES.—The information
19 was collected or created solely for a research project.
20 When protected health information is collected as 21 part of a clinical trial, or other interventional or 22 interactive research, inspection and copying of such 23 information shall be governed by the terms of the in-24 formed consent agreement of the individual with the 25 researcher.

1 (c) INSPECTION AND COPYING OF SEGREGABLE POR-
2 TION.—A person described in subsection (a) shall permit 3 the inspection and copying under subsection (a) of any 4 reasonably segregable portion of a record after deletion of 5 any portion that is exempt under subsection (b).

6 (d) DENIAL OF A REQUEST FOR INSPECTION OR 7 COPYING.—If a person described in subsection (a) denies 8 a request for inspection or copying pursuant to subsection 9 (b), the person shall inform the individual in writing of—

10 (1) the reasons for the denial of the request for 11 inspection or copying;

12 (2) any procedures for further review of the de-13 nial; and

14 (3) the individual's right to file with the person 15 a concise statement setting forth the request for in-16 spection or copying.

17 (e) STATEMENT REGARDING REQUEST.—If an indi-18 vidual has filed a statement under subsection (d)(3), the 19 person in any subsequent disclosure of the portion of the 20 information shall include—

21 (1) a copy of the individual's statement; and 22 (2) a concise statement of the reasons for deny-23 ing the request for inspection or copying.

24 (f) DEADLINE.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in para-2 graph (2), a person described in subsection (a) shall 3 comply with or deny, in accordance with subsection
4 (d), a request for inspection or copying of protected 5 health information under this section not later than 6 30 days after the date on which the person receives 7 the request.

8 (2) OFF PREMISES.—In the case of a request 9 described in paragraph (1), if the information in-10 volved is in paper form, film or fiche, located off the 11 premises of the person involved, and not readily 12 available, the person shall have 60 days to comply
13 with or deny such request.

14 (g) RULES GOVERNING AGENTS.—An agent of a per-15 son described in subsection (a) shall not be required to 16 provide for the inspection and copying of protected health 17 information, except where—

18 (1) the protected health information is retained
19 by the agent; and

20 (2) the agent has received in writing a request 21 from the person involved to fulfill the requirements 22 of this section;

23 at which time such information shall be provided to the 24 requesting person. Such requesting person shall comply 25 with subsection (f) with respect to any such information.

1 (h) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—This section shall not 2 be construed to require a person described in subsection
3 (a) to conduct a formal, informal, or other hearing or pro-4 ceeding concerning a request for inspection or copying of 5 protected health information.

6 SEC. 102. AMENDMENT OF PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMA-
7 TION.

8 (a) REQUIREMENTS.—

9 (1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in sub-10 sections (c) and (f), not later than 45 days after the 11 date on which a health care provider, health plan, 12 employer, life insurer, school, or university receives 13 from an individual a request in writing to amend in-14 formation that meets the requirements of paragraph 15 (2), such person shall—

16 (A) make the amendment requested;

17 (B) inform the individual of the amend-18 ment that has been made; and 19 (C) make reasonable efforts to inform any 20 person to whom the unamended portion of the 21 information was previously disclosed, of any 22 nontechnical amendment that has been made.

23 (2) INFORMATION.—The requirements of this 24 paragraph are that—

1 (A) the information that is the subject of 2 the request is in fact inaccurate; and

3 (B) the person receiving the request cre-
4 ated the information that is at issue.

5 (b) REQUEST OF ORIGINATING PROVIDER.—

6 (1) IN GENERAL.—Protected health information
7 that is created or received by a health plan or health 8 care provider as part of treatment or payment shall 9 be subject to amendment as provided for in this sec-10 tion upon a written request made to the originating 11 provider.

12 (2) SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES.—If an originat-
13 ing provider, its agents, or contractors no longer 14 maintains the protected health information sought to 15 be amended by an individual pursuant to paragraph 16 (1), a health plan or another health care provider 17 that maintains such information shall arrange for 18 amendment consistent with this section.

19 (c) REFUSAL TO AMEND.—If a person described in 20 subsection (a) refuses to make the amendment requested 21 under such subsection, the person shall inform the individ-22 ual in writing of—

23 (1) the reasons for the refusal to make the 24 amendment;

1 (2) any procedures for further review of the re-2 fusal; and

3 (3) the individual's right to file with the person
4 a concise statement setting forth the requested 5 amendment and the individual's reasons for dis-6 agreeing with the refusal.

7 (d) STATEMENT OF DISAGREEMENT.—If an individ-
8 ual has filed a statement of disagreement under subsection 9 (c)(3), the person involved, in any subsequent disclosure 10 of the disputed portion of the information—

11 (1) shall include a copy of the individual's 12 statement; and

13 (2) may include a concise statement of the rea-14 sons for not making the requested amendment.

15 (e) RULES GOVERNING AGENTS.—The agent of a 16 person described in subsection (a) shall not be required 17 to make amendments to protected health information, ex-18 cept where—

20 by the agent; and

21 (2) the agent has been asked, in writing, by 22 such person to fulfill the requirements of this sec-
23 tion.

1 If the agent is required to comply with this section as pro-
2 vided for in paragraph (2), such agent shall be subject 3 to the 45-day deadline described in subsection (a).

4 (f) EXTENSION FOR RECORDS OFF PREMISES.—In 5 the case of a request described in subsection (a), if the 6 information involved is in paper, film, or fiche form, lo-7 cated off the premises of the person involved, and not 8 readily available, the person shall have 60 days to comply
9 with or deny such request.

10 (g) REPEATED REQUESTS FOR AMENDMENTS.—If a 11 person described in subsection (a) receives a request for 12 an amendment of information as provided for in such sub-13 section and a statement of disagreement has been filed 14 pursuant to subsection (d), the person shall inform the 15 individual of such filing and shall not be required to carry 16 out the procedures required under this section.

17 (h) RULES OF CONSTRUCTION.—This section shall 18 not be construed to—

19 (1) require that a person described in sub-20 section (a) conduct a formal, informal, or other 21 hearing or proceeding concerning a request for an 22 amendment to protected health information;

23 (2) require a provider to amend an individual's 24 record as to the type, duration, or quality of treat-

1 ment the individual believes he or she should have 2 been provided: or

3 (3) require any deletion or alteration of the 4 original information.

5 SEC. 103. NOTICE OF CONFIDENTIALITY PRACTICES.

6 (a) PREPARATION OF WRITTEN NOTICE.—A health
7 care provider, health plan, health oversight agency, public 8 health authority, employer, life insurer, health researcher, 9 school, or university shall post and provide, in writing and 10 in a clear and conspicuous manner, notice of the person's 11 confidentiality practices, that shall include—

12 (1) a description of the individual's rights with 13 respect to protected health information, including 14 the right to inspect and copy protected health infor-15 mation pertaining to the individual;

16 (2) the types of uses and disclosures of pro-
17 tected health information authorized under this Act 18 that the person providing the notice will make and 19 the categories of persons who will receive protected 20 health information through such uses and disclo-21 sures;

22 (3) the types of persons authorized to receive 23 protected health information without authorization
24 or informed consent as stipulated under this Act;

1 (4) the procedures for authorizing disclosures of 2 protected health information and for revoking such 3 authorizations;

4 (5) an explanation of the safeguards that a per-5 son uses to maintain the confidentiality of protected
6 health information;

7 (6) the procedures established by the person for 8 the exercise of the individual's rights;

9 (7) a description of who the individual may con-10 tact to obtain more detailed information about the 11 uses and disclosures of protected health information;

12 (8) an explanation of the individual's right to 13 limit disclosure by choosing to assume financial re-14 sponsibility for treatment, as provided for in section 15 201(h) and the procedures for exercising that right; 16 and

17 (9) the right to obtain a copy of the notice of 18 the confidentiality practices required under this Act.

19 (b) MODEL NOTICE.—The Secretary, after notice
20 and opportunity for public comment, shall develop and dis-21 seminate model notices of confidentiality practices, using 22 the advice of the National Committee on Vital Health Sta-
23 tistics, for use under this section. Use of the model notice 24 shall serve as an absolute defense against claims of receiv-
25 ing inappropriate notice.

1 Subtitle B—Establishment of 2 Safeguards

3 SEC. 111. ESTABLISHMENT OF SAFEGUARDS.

4 (a) IN GENERAL.—A health care provider, health
5 plan, health oversight agency, public health authority, em-6 ployer, life insurer, health researcher, law enforcement of-7 ficial, school, or university shall establish and maintain ap-8 propriate administrative, technical, and physical safe-9 guards to protect the confidentiality, security, accuracy, 10 and integrity of protected health information created, re-11 ceived, obtained, maintained, used, transmitted, or dis-12 posed of by such person.

13 (b) DESIGNATION OF INFORMATION PROTECTION
14 OFFICER.—

15 (1) IN GENERAL.—Subject to paragraph (2), 16 each person to which this section applies shall des-17 ignate an information protection officer to establish 18 and maintain safeguards described in subsection (c) 19 to—

20 (A) protect against threats or hazards to 21 the security and integrity of protected health
22 information;

23 (B) protect against the unauthorized use 24 or disclosure of protected health information;
25 and

1 (C) otherwise ensure compliance with this 2 Act by the officers and employees of the person.

3 (2) HEALTH CARE ENTITIES.—With respect to 4 a health care provider that is part of a health care
5 entity, the entity will be responsible for designating 6 the information protection officer for the entity.

7 (c) SAFEGUARDS.—The safeguards described in this 8 subsection shall address the following factors:

9 (1) The purposes for which protected health in-10 formation is needed and whether such purposes can 11 be accomplished with nonidentifiable health informa-
12 tion.

13 (2) Appropriate procedures for maintaining the 14 physical security of protected health information and 15 assuring the appropriate use of any key used in cre-16 ating nonidentifiable health information.

17 (3) The categories of personnel who will have 18 access to protected health information and appro-19 priate limitations on access to individual identifiers.

20 (4) A process for documenting the use of pro-
21 tected health information.

22 (5) Appropriate training, supervision and sanc-
23 tioning of personnel who will have access to pro-24 tected health information with respect to their use of 1 protected health information and adherence to estab-

2 lished safeguards.

3 (6) Appropriate mechanisms for limiting disclo-
4 sures of protected health information to the informa-5 tion necessary to respond to the request for disclo-6 sure.

7 (7) Procedures for handling requests for pro-8 tected health information by persons other than the 9 individual who is the subject of such information, in-10 cluding relatives and affiliates of such individual, 11 law enforcement officials, parties in civil litigation, 12 health researchers, health care providers, and health 13 plans.

14 (d) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary shall issue regu-
15 lations to coordinate the requirements under this section 16 with regulations establishing requirements relating to 17 safeguards that are in effect on the effective date of this 18 Act.

19 SEC. 112. ACCOUNTING FOR DISCLOSURES.

20 (a) IN GENERAL.—

21 (1) HEALTH RELATED ENTITIES.—Except as 22 provided in paragraph (3), a health care provider,
23 health plan, health oversight agency, public health
24 authority, employer, life insurer, health researcher, 25 law enforcement official, school, or university shall

1 establish and maintain, with respect to any protected 2 health information disclosure, a record of such dis-3 closure in accordance with regulations issued by the 4 Secretary.

5 (2) AGENT.—Except as provided in paragraph 6 (3), an agent shall maintain a record of its disclo-7 sures made pursuant to sections 205 through 212.

8 (3) EXCEPTION.—A record of disclosures under 9 this subsection is not required with respect to disclo-
10 sures made to officers or employees of the person 11 who maintains the record involved and who, in the 12 performance of their duties, consistent with section 13 201(c), have a need for the protected health infor-14 mation.

15 (b) RECORD OF DISCLOSURE.—A record established 16 under subsection (a) shall be maintained for not less than 17 7 years.

18 TITLE II—RESTRICTIONS ON 19 USE AND DISCLOSURE

20 SEC. 201. GENERAL RULES REGARDING USE AND DISCLO- 21 SURE.

22 (a) PROHIBITION.—

23 (1) GENERAL RULE.—A health care provider,
24 health plan, health oversight agency, public health
25 authority, employer, life insurer, health researcher,

1 law enforcement official, school, or university, or any 2 agents of such a person, may not use or disclose 3 protected health information except as authorized 4 under this Act or as authorized by the individual 5 who is the subject of such information, or as other-6 wise determined under State law to be necessary to 7 comply with a State law with respect to benefits de-8 scribed in section 401(d).

9 (2) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—Use or disclo-
10 sure of nonidentifiable health information shall not 11 be construed as a use or disclosure of protected
12 health information.

13 (b) USE AND DISCLOSURE BY AGENTS.—An agent
14 who receives protected health information from a person 15 described in subsection (a) shall be subject to all rules of 16 use and disclosure and safeguard requirements under this 17 Act.

18 (c) SCOPE OF DISCLOSURE.—Use or disclosure of 19 protected health information by a person under this title 20 shall be limited to the information and individual (or indi-21 viduals) necessary to accomplish the purpose for which the 22 information is disclosed.

23 (d) DISCLOSURE FOR PURPOSE ONLY.—A recipient 24 of information pursuant to an authorization under this 25 title may use or disclose such information solely to carry

1 out the purpose for which the information was authorized 2 for release.

3 (e) NO GENERAL REQUIREMENT TO DISCLOSE.—
4 Nothing in this title permitting the disclosure of protected 5 health information shall be construed to require such dis-
6 closure unless such disclosure is otherwise required by a 7 Federal or State law requiring the reporting of specific 8 protected health information (including to law enforce-9 ment officials).

10 (f) CREATION OF NONIDENTIFIABLE INFORMA-
11 TION.—A person described in subsection (a)(1) may dis-
12 close protected health information to an employee or agent 13 of the person for purposes of creating nonidentifiable in-14 formation, if the person prohibits the employee or agent 15 of the person from using or disclosing the protected health 16 information for purposes other than the sole purpose of 17 creating nonidentifiable information as specified by the 18 person.

19 (g) DEEMED DISCLOSURE OF PROTECTED HEALTH
20 INFORMATION.—Any person who, without authorization—

21 (1) creates protected health information
22 through the manipulation of nonidentifiable informa-
23 tion;

24 (2) discloses nonidentifiable information to an 25 individual with actual knowledge that such individual

1 intended to manipulate the nonidentifiable informa-
2 tion in order to create protected health information;

3 (3) receives protected health information with 4 actual knowledge that such information has been un-5 lawfully created through the manipulation of non-6 identifiable information; or

7 (4) releases, publishes, transfers, provides ac-
8 cess to, or otherwise divulges a key;

9 shall be deemed to be in violation of this title and to have 10 disclosed protected health information in violation of sec-
11 tion 2801 of title 18, United States Code.

12 (h) SELF-PAY EXEMPTION.—An individual who re-13 ceives treatment, and assumes financial responsibility for 14 such treatment with a health care provider, may limit or 15 prohibit the disclosure of protected health information re-16 lated to such episode.

17 (i) INDIVIDUAL AUTHORIZATION.—To be valid, an 18 authorization to use or disclose protected health informa-19 tion under this title shall—

20 (1) identify the individual who is the subject of 21 the protected health information;

22 (2) describe the nature of the information to be 23 disclosed;

24 (3) identify the types of persons to whom the 25 information is to be disclosed;

1 (4) describe the types of uses and disclosures of 2 protected health information that the person will 3 make;

4 (5) be subject to revocation by the individual
5 and indicate that the authorization is valid until rev-6 ocation by the individual;

7 (6) be in writing, dated, and signed by the indi-
8 vidual, family member, or other authorized rep-9 resentative;

10 (7) a description of the individual's rights with 11 respect to protected health information; and 12 (8) indicate whether or not coverage under the 13 plan or treatment by the provider is conditioned 14 upon the individual signing the authorization.

15 (j) MODEL AUTHORIZATIONS.—The Secretary, after 16 notice and opportunity for public comment, shall develop 17 and disseminate model written authorizations of the type 18 described in subsection (a) that meet the requirements of 19 sections 202 and 203. The Secretary shall consult with 20 the National Committee on Vital and Health Statistics in 21 developing such authorizations. An authorization obtained 22 on a model authorization form developed by the Secretary 23 pursuant to the preceding sentence shall be deemed to 24 meet the authorization requirements of this section.

1 SEC. 202. PROCUREMENT OF AUTHORIZATIONS FOR DIS-
2 CLOSURE OF PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMA-3 TION FOR TREATMENT, PAYMENT, AND 4 HEALTH CARE OPERATIONS.

5 (a) REQUIREMENTS RELATING TO EMPLOYERS,
6 HEALTH PLANS, AND UNINSURED INDIVIDUALS.—

7 (1) IN GENERAL.—To meet the requirements
8 relating to the authorized use or disclosure of pro-9 tected health information under section 201, an au-
10 thorization form must be secured for each individual 11 in connection with treatment, payment and health
12 care operations.

13 (2) CONSOLIDATED AUTHORIZATION.—A single 14 authorization may be secured for each individual in 15 connection with treatment, payment, and health care
16 operations.

17 (3) EMPLOYERS.—Every employer offering a 18 health plan to its employees shall, at the time of, 19 and as a condition of enrollment in the health plan, 20 obtain a signed, written authorization that is a legal, 21 informed authorization concerning the use and dis-
22 closure of protected health information for treat-23 ment, payment, and health care operations with re-24 spect to each individual who is eligible to receive 25 care under the health plan.

1 (4) HEALTH PLANS.—Every health plan offer-
2 ing enrollment to individuals or non-employer groups
3 shall, at the time of, and as a condition of enroll-4 ment in the health plan, obtain a signed, written au-
5 thorization that is a legal, informed authorization
6 concerning the use and disclosure of protected health 7 information for treatment, payment, and health care
8 operations, with respect to each individual who is eli-9 gible to receive care under the plan.

10 (5) OTHERS.—A provider providing health care 11 to an individual not seeking services pursuant to an 12 authorization obtained under paragraphs (3) and 13 (4), shall obtain a signed, written authorization that 14 is a legal, informed authorization concerning the use 15 and disclosure of protected health information with 16 respect to such individual for treatment, payment 17 and health care operations of such provider, and in 18 arranging for treatment and payment from other 19 providers.

20 (6) TRANSITION RULE FOR ENROLLEES ON EF-
21 FECTIVE DATE.—

22 (A) IN GENERAL.—With respect to any in-23 dividual who is enrolled in a health plan on the 24 effective date of this Act, the employer or 25 health plan responsible for obtaining an author-

1 ization for treatment, payment, or health care 2 operations, may deem such individual to have 3 furnished the authorization required under 4 paragraph (3) or (4) if the employer or health
5 plan provides notice to the individual that meets 6 the requirements of this paragraph.

7 (B) CONTENTS.—An authorization notice
8 under this paragraph shall contain—

9 (i) a disclosure of the confidentiality
10 practices required under section 103;

11 (ii) an authorization form that meets 12 the requirements of section 202(i); and 13 (iii) a statement of the need of the 14 employer or health plan to obtain a written 15 authorization from the individual in order

16 to continue their enrollment in the health 17 plan.

18 (C) METHOD OF DELIVERY.—A notice
19 under this paragraph shall be provided not later
20 than 30 days after the effective date of this Act 21 and shall be delivered in a manner that is rea-22 sonably determined to ensure actual receipt by 23 the individual. If the individual is a participant 24 or beneficiary of an employee welfare benefit 25 plan, such notice may be provided pursuant to

1 the same methods used to provide information
2 under section 104(b) of the Employee Retirement
3 Income Security Act of 1974 (29 U.S.C.
4 1024(b)).

5 (D) SECOND NOTICE.—If an individual
6 fails to respond to a notice provided under sub-7 paragraph (A), the employer or health plan 8 shall, not later than 6 months after the date on 9 which the initial notice was delivered, provide a 10 second notice to the individual that meets the 11 requirements of this paragraph.

12 (E) RECORDKEEPING.—With respect to an 13 individual to which this paragraph applies, a 14 person maintaining records as provided for in 15 subsection (c) shall, in lieu of maintaining a 16 record of a signed authorization, maintain a 17 record that documents the provision of notice to 18 the individual as provided for in this paragraph.

19 (F) EFFECT OF FAILURE TO RESPOND.—
20 During the 2-year period beginning on the ef-
21 fective date of this Act, an individual who fails 22 to respond to a notice provided under this para-
23 graph may be deemed by the employer or health 24 plan to have provided the authorization re-
25 quired under paragraph (3) or (4) for purposes

1 of treatment, payment, or health care oper-
2 ations, so long as such individual is continu-3 ously enrolled in the health plan.

4 (G) FINDING BY SECRETARY.—Not later
5 than 18 months after the effective date of this 6 Act, the Secretary shall make a finding as to 7 whether it is in the public interest to permit 8 employers or health plans to continue to rely on 9 the authorization process described in this para-10 graph for purposes of treatment, payment, or 11 health care operations for an indefinite period 12 so long as the individuals involved are continu-13 ously enrolled (from the effective date of this 14 Act) in a health plan during such period.

15 (b) REVOCATION OF AUTHORIZATION.—

16 (1) IN GENERAL.—An individual may revoke in 17 writing an authorization under this section at any 18 time, unless the use or disclosure that is the subject 19 of the authorization is required to complete a course 20 of treatment, effectuate payment, or conduct health 21 care operations for health care that has been pro-22 vided to the individual.

23 (2) HEALTH PLANS.—With respect to a health 24 plan, the authorization of an individual is deemed to 25 be revoked at the time of the cancellation or non-re-

1 newal of enrollment in the health plan, except as 2 may be necessary to complete health care operations 3 and payment requirements related to the individual's 4 period of enrollment.

5 (3) TERMINATION OF PLAN.—With respect to 6 the revocation of an authorization under this section 7 by an enrollee in a health plan, the health plan may, 8 upon notice to the enrollee and an opportunity to re-9 scind the revocation, terminate the coverage of such 10 enrollee under such plan if the health plan deter-11 mines that the revocation has resulted in the inabil-12 ity of the plan to provide care for the enrollee or 13 conduct health care operations.

14 (c) RECORD OF INDIVIDUAL'S AUTHORIZATIONS AND 15 REVOCATIONS.—

16 (1) IN GENERAL.—Each person collecting or 17 storing protected health information shall maintain 18 a record for a period of 7 years of each authoriza-19 tion of an individual and revocation thereof.

20 (2) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—Records of au-
21 thorizations and revocations maintained under para-
22 graph (1) shall not be construed to be protected 23 health information under this Act.

24 (d) NO WAIVER.— Except as provided for in this Act, 25 an authorization to disclose protected health information

1 by an individual shall not be construed as a waiver of any 2 rights that the individual has under other Federal or State 3 laws, the rules of evidence, or common law.

4 (e) RULES OF CONSTRUCTION.—

5 (1) SINGLE AUTHORIZATIONS.—An employer or 6 health plan shall be deemed to meet the require-7 ments of subsection (a) with respect to a spouse, 8 child, or other eligible dependent if, at the time of 9 enrollment, a single authorization under subsection
10 (a) is obtained from the employee or other individual 11 who accepts responsibility for health plan enroll-12 ment.

13 (2) SEPARATE AUTHORIZATIONS.—Authoriza-14 tions for the use or disclosure of protected health in-15 formation for treatment, payment, and health care 16 operations shall not authorize the use or disclosure 17 of such information by an individual with the intent 18 to sell or transfer protected health information for 19 the purpose of marketing a product or service. For 20 such disclosures a separate authorization is required
21 under section 203.

22 (3) LIFE INSURERS.—For purposes of this sec-23 tion, a life insurer shall be treated as a health plan.

1 SEC. 203. AUTHORIZATIONS FOR DISCLOSURE OF PRO-2 TECTED HEALTH INFORMATION OTHER THAN 3 FOR TREATMENT, PAYMENT, OR HEALTH
4 CARE OPERATIONS.

5 (a) WRITTEN AUTHORIZATIONS.—A health care pro-
6 vider, health plan, health oversight agency, public health 7 authority, law enforcement official, employer, life insurer,
8 school, or university may use or disclose protected health
9 information, for purposes other than those authorized 10 under section 202, pursuant to an authorization executed 11 by the individual who is the subject of the information that 12 meets the requirements of section 201(i). Such an author-13 ization shall be separate from an authorization provided 14 under section 202.

15 (b) LIMITATION ON AUTHORIZATIONS.—A person de-16 scribed in section 202 may not condition the delivery of 17 treatment or payment for services on the receipt of an au-18 thorization described in this section.

19 (c) REVOCATION OR AMENDMENT OF AUTHORIZA-
20 TION.—

21 (1) IN GENERAL.—An individual may in writing 22 revoke or amend an authorization described in sub-
23 section (a).

24 (2) NOTICE OF REVOCATION.—A person de-25 scribed in subsection (a) that discloses protected 26 health information pursuant to an authorization that

1 has been revoked under paragraph (1) shall not be 2 subject to any liability or penalty under this title if 3 that person had no actual or constructive notice of 4 the revocation.

5 SEC. 204. NEXT OF KIN AND DIRECTORY INFORMATION.

6 (a) NEXT OF KIN.—A health care provider, or a per-7 son who receives protected health information under sec-8 tion 205, may disclose protected health information re-9 garding an individual to the individual's next of kin, an 10 individual's representative, or to another person whom the 11 individual has identified, if—

12 (1) the individual who is the subject of the in-13 formation—

14 (A) has been notified of the individual's 15 right to object to such disclosure and the indi-16 vidual has not objected to the disclosure; or

17 (B) is in a physical or mental condition
18 such that the individual is not capable of object-19 ing, and there are no prior indications that the 20 individual would object;

21 (2) the information disclosed relates to health 22 care currently being provided to that individual; and 23 (3) the disclosure of the protected health infor-24 mation is consistent with good medical or profes-25 sional practice.

1 (b) DIRECTORY INFORMATION.—

2 (1) DISCLOSURE.—

3 (A) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in 4 paragraph (2), an entity described in subsection 5 (a) may disclose the information described in 6 subparagraph (B) to any person if the individ-
7 ual who is the subject of the information—

8 (i) has been notified of the individ-9 ual's right to object and the individual has 10 not objected to the disclosure; or

11 (ii) is in a physical or mental condi-
12 tion such that the individual is not capable 13 of objecting, the individual's next of kin 14 has not objected, and there are no prior in-15 dications that the individual would object.

16 (B) INFORMATION.—Information described 17 in this subparagraph is information that con-18 sists only of 1 or more of the following items:

19 (i) The name of the individual who is 20 the subject of the information.

21 (ii) The general health status of the 22 individual, described as critical, poor, fair, 23 stable, or satisfactory or in terms denoting 24 similar conditions.

1 (iii) The location of the individual on 2 premises controlled by a provider.

3 (2) EXCEPTION.—

4 (A) LOCATION.—Paragraph (1)(B)(iii)
5 shall not apply if disclosure of the location of 6 the individual would reveal specific information 7 about the physical or mental condition of the 8 individual, unless the individual expressly au-9 thorizes such disclosure.

10 (B) DIRECTORY OR NEXT OF KIN INFOR-11 MATION.—A disclosure may not be made under 12 this section if the health care provider involved 13 has reason to believe that the disclosure of di-14 rectory or next of kin information could lead to 15 the physical or mental harm of the individual, 16 unless the individual expressly authorizes such 17 disclosure.

18 (c) IDENTIFICATION OF DECEASED INDIVIDUAL.—
19 An entity described in subsection (a) may disclose pro-20 tected health information if such disclosure is necessary 21 to assist in the identification or safe handling of a de-
22 ceased individual.

23 (d) RIGHTS OF MINORS.—The rights of minors under 24 this Act shall be exercised by a parent, the minor, or other 25 person, as provided for under applicable State law.

1 SEC. 205. EMERGENCY CIRCUMSTANCES.

2 (a) GENERAL RULE.—In the event of a threat of im-
3 minent physical or mental harm to the subject of protected 4 health information, any person may, in order to allay or 5 remedy such threat, disclose protected health information
6 about such subject to a health care practitioner, health 7 care facility, law enforcement official, public health au-
8 thority, or emergency medical personnel.

9 (b) HARM TO OTHERS.—Any person may disclose 10 protected health information about the subject of the in-11 formation where—

12 (1) such subject has made a direct or indirect 13 threat of serious injury or death with respect to an 14 individual or group of individuals;

15 (2) the subject has the ability to carry out such 16 threat, or is engaged in carrying out the threat; and

17 (3) the release of such information is necessary 18 to prevent or significantly reduce the possibility of 19 such threat being carried out.

20 (c) GOOD FAITH BELIEF.—No disclosure made in 21 the good faith belief that the disclosure was necessary to 22 protect the health or safety of an individual or others from 23 serious, imminent harm shall be a violation of, or punish-24 able under, this Act.

25 (d) EXIGENT CIRCUMSTANCES.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—When exigent circumstances 2 exist, any person may disclose protected health in-3 formation upon the request of a law enforcement of-4 ficial that is in hot pursuit of, or is attempting to 5 locate and identify, a fugitive, suspect, or material 6 witness.

7 (2) GOOD FAITH BELIEF.—No disclosure made
8 in the good faith belief or in reliance on a law en-9 forcement official's representation that exigent cir-10 cumstances exist, as described in paragraph (1), 11 shall be a violation of, or punishable under, this Act.

12 SEC. 206. OVERSIGHT.

13 (a) DISCLOSURE.—

14 (1) IN GENERAL.—A health care provider,
15 health plan, health researcher, employer, life insurer, 16 law enforcement official, public health authority, 17 health oversight agency, school, or university may 18 disclose protected health information to a health 19 oversight agency for purposes of, or in compliance 20 with, an oversight function authorized by law.

21 (2) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this 22 section shall be construed to permit a person to 23 refuse to disclose information if required or obli-24 gated to do so by other statutory, regulatory, or 25 compulsory processes.

1 (b) USE IN ACTION AGAINST INDIVIDUALS.—

2 (1) IN GENERAL.—Protected health information
3 about an individual that is disclosed under this sec-
4 tion may not be used in, or disclosed to any person
5 for use in, an administrative, civil, or criminal action
6 or investigation directed against the individual—

7 (A) unless the action or investigation 8 arises out of and is directly related to—

9 (i) the receipt of health care or pay-10 ment for health care;

11 (ii) an action involving a fraudulent 12 claim related to health; or

13 (iii) qualification for, or receipt of 14 benefits, payments or services based on a 15 fraudulent statement or material misrepre-16 sentation of the health of the patient; or

17 (B) unless authorized by an appropriate 18 order of a court of competent jurisdiction which 19 is granted after application showing good cause 20 therefore.

21 (2) PROVISIONS RELATING TO ORDER OF THE 22 COURT.—For purposes of paragraph (1)(B):

23 (A) GOOD CAUSE.—In assessing good
24 cause, the court shall weigh the public interest 25 and the need for disclosure against the injury

1 to the patient, to the physician-patient relation-2 ship, and to the treatment services involved.

3 (B) SAFEGUARDS.—Upon the granting of 4 an order, the court, in determining the extent 5 to which any disclosure of all or any part of any 6 record is necessary, shall impose appropriate 7 safeguards against unauthorized disclosure.

8 SEC. 207. PUBLIC HEALTH.

9 (a) IN GENERAL.—A health care provider, health
10 plan, health researcher, public health authority, employer, 11 life insurer, law enforcement official, school, or university 12 may disclose protected health information to a public 13 health authority or other person authorized by law for use 14 in a legally authorized—

15 (1) disease or injury report;

16 (2) public health surveillance;

17 (3) public health investigation or intervention;

18 (4) vital statistics report, such as birth or death
19 information;

20 (5) report of abuse or neglect information about 21 any individual; or

22 (6) report of information concerning a commu-
23 nicable disease status.

24 (b) ADVERSE EVENT REPORTING.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—An adverse event report
2 shall not be prohibited under this Act so long as the 3 adverse event report—

4 (A) is pursuant to, or necessary for, any 5 regulation or program authorized by the Fed-6 eral Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C.
7 301 et seq.) or other program administered or 8 relied upon by the Food and Drug Administra-
9 tion to discover adverse events, whether vol-10 untary or required by law;

11 (B) relates to any Food and Drug Admin-12 istration regulated articles; and

13 (C) is to, or by, any person manufacturing, 14 distributing, researching, dispensing, prescrib-15 ing, using, or regulating articles described in 16 subparagraph (B).

17 (2) NO IDENTIFICATION OF PATIENTS.—Any 18 person required by law or regulation to report ad-
19 verse events to the Food and Drug Administration 20 shall not identify patients by name, address, or so-21 cial security number in such reports. Such person 22 shall assign a code for each patient in each such re-23 port referred to in paragraph (1). Nothing in this 24 subsection shall be construed to prohibit the Food
25 and Drug Administration from obtaining identifiable

1 health information in order to implement or admin-
2 ister any program.

3 (c) REQUIREMENT TO RELEASE PROTECTED
4 HEALTH INFORMATION TO CORONERS AND MEDICAL EX-
5 AMINERS.—

6 (1) IN GENERAL.—When a Coroner or Medical 7 Examiner or their duly appointed deputies seek pro-
8 tected health information for the purpose of inquiry 9 into and determination of, the cause, manner, and 10 circumstances of a death, the health care provider,
11 health plan, health oversight agency, public health
12 authority, employer, life insurer, health researcher, 13 law enforcement official, school, or university in-14 volved shall provide the protected health information 15 to the Coroner or Medical Examiner or to the duly 16 appointed deputies without undue delay.

17 (2) PRODUCTION OF ADDITIONAL INFORMA-18 TION.—If a Coroner or Medical Examiner or their 19 duly appointed deputies receives health information 20 from an entity referred to in paragraph (1), such 21 health information shall remain as protected health 22 information unless the health information is at-23 tached to or otherwise made a part of a Coroner's 24 or Medical Examiner's official report, in which case 25 it shall no longer be protected.

1 (3) EXEMPTION.—Health information attached
2 to or otherwise made a part of a Coroner's or Medi-3 cal Examiner's official report, shall be exempt from 4 the provisions of this Act except as provided for in 5 this subsection.

6 (4) REIMBURSEMENT.—A Coroner or Medical 7 Examiner may require a person to reimburse their 8 Office for the reasonable costs associated with such 9 inspection or copying.

10 SEC. 208. HEALTH RESEARCH.

11 (a) RESEARCH SUBJECT TO THE COMMON RULE.—
12 A health care provider, health plan, health researcher, 13 public health authority, employer, life insurer, school, or 14 university may use or disclose protected health informa-15 tion to a health researcher if the research involves human 16 subjects or involves individually identifiable information as 17 defined under the common rule and the researcher com-18 plies with the common rule.

19 (b) REVIEW OF THE COMMON RULE BY THE SEC-
20 RETARY.—

21 (1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall review 22 the requirements of the common rule with respect to 23 the confidentiality of protected health information 24 and shall consider any necessary amendments to the 25 common rule to ensure the confidentiality of infor-

1 mation that is subject to the rule. In conducting 2 such review the Secretary shall consider—

3 (A) the extent to which the confidentiality
4 of information is addressed under the common
5 rule and during the institutional review board 6 process; and

7 (B) the risks and benefits of the informed 8 consent process (including waivers of informed 9 consent) with respect to the confidentiality of 10 protected health information.

11 (2) CONSULTATION.—In determining the ade-
12 quacy of the common rule regulations with respect 13 to the confidentiality of protected health informa-14 tion, the Secretary shall consult with individuals in 15 the private sector with appropriate expertise and 16 with other Federal agencies.

17 (c) RESEARCH NOT SUBJECT TO THE COMMON
18 RULE.—A health care provider, health plan, health re-19 searcher, public health authority, employer, life insurer,
20 school, or university may use or disclose protected health 21 information to a health researcher if—

22 (1) the individual who is the subject of the pro-23 tected health information, or the individual's rep-24 resentative, provides informed consent;

1 (2) the research proposal is reviewed and ap-2 proved by an institutional review board; or

3 (3) the requirements of subsection (d) are met.

4 (d) USE OR DISCLOSURE OF PROTECTED HEALTH
5 INFORMATION WITHOUT INFORMED CONSENT.—

6 (1) IN GENERAL.—A health care provider,
7 health plan, health researcher, public health author-8 ity, employer, life insurer, school, or university shall 9 formally designate an information protection officer 10 pursuant to section 111 to review proposals that re-11 quest the use or disclosure of protected health infor-
12 mation for health research. Nothing in this sub-13 section shall be construed as authorizing research in-14 volving intervention or interaction with a human 15 subject without the explicit informed consent of such 16 individual or the representative of the individual.

17 (2) INFORMATION PROTECTION OFFICER FUNC-
18 TIONS.—

19 (A) IN GENERAL.—An information protec-20 tion officer shall review research proposals in 21 accordance with paragraphs (3), (4) and (5) to 22 determine—

23 (i) the need for protected health infor-24 mation; and

1 (ii) whether the waiver of informed
2 consent to use protected health information
3 is appropriate.

4 (B) WAIVER.—Informed consent may be 5 waived under subparagraph (A)(ii) only if—

6 (i) the research involves no more than 7 a minimal risk to the research subject with 8 respect to the confidentiality of protected
9 health information;

10 (ii) the waiver will not adversely affect 11 the rights and welfare of the subject; and 12 (iii) the research could not practicably

13 be carried out without the waiver.

14 (C) FAILURE TO MEET CRITERIA FOR 15 WAIVER OF INFORMED CONSENT.—If the infor-16 mation protection officer determines that any of 17 the criteria for a waiver of information consent
18 under subparagraph (B) is not met, the infor-19 mation protection officer shall not permit the 20 use or disclosure of protected health informa-21 tion without informed consent by the individual 22 or review and approval of the research proposal 23 by an institutional review board.

24 (D) AVOIDANCE OF BIASED REVIEWS.—
25 Any compensation received by the information

1 protection officer shall not influence, bias, or be 2 contingent on the information protection offi-
3 cer's determination with respect to the review.

4 (3) USE OF PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION
5 FOR HEALTH RESEARCH WITHIN AN ENTITY.—

6 (A) IN GENERAL.—When the person in 7 possession of protected health information and 8 the researcher requesting protected health in-9 formation are within the same entity, the infor-10 mation protection officer of such entity shall 11 conduct a review of the research proposal pur-12 suant to paragraph (2).

13 (B) INFORMATION IN POSSESSION OF RE-
14 SEARCHER.—Except with respect to minor
15 changes in previously approved research propos-
16 als, additional research uses of protected health 17 information already in the possession of a re-18 searcher described in subparagraph (A) shall 19 undergo review pursuant to paragraph (2).

20 (4) DISCLOSURE OF PROTECTED HEALTH IN-21 FORMATION FOR HEALTH RESEARCH BETWEEN EN-
22 TITIES.—When the person in possession of protected 23 health information and the researcher requesting 24 protected health information are not within the same 25 entity, the information protection officer of each en-

1 tity shall each conduct a review of the research pro-2 posal pursuant to paragraph (2). If either of the in-3 formation protection officers determines that any of 4 the criteria for a waiver of informed consent under 5 paragraph (2)(B) is not met, the disclosure of the 6 protected health information shall be prohibited
7 without informed consent by the individual or review 8 and approval of the research proposal by an institu-9 tional review board.

10 (5) INFORMATION PROTECTION OFFICER DU-11 TIES.—In addition to the duties required under 12 section 111, an information protection officer 13 shall—

14 (A) prepare and maintain adequate docu-
15 mentation of all research proposals reviewed, 16 actions taken and the need for protected health 17 information, and the basis for waiving or re-18 quiring informed consent; and 19 (B) maintain the confidentiality of any 20 proprietary information, trade secrets, pro-21 grammatic research investments, and other 22 non-public research plans reviewed.

23 Nothing in subparagraph (B) shall be construed as 24 prohibiting the review of information maintained
25 under subparagraph (A).

1 SEC. 209. DISCLOSURE IN CIVIL, JUDICIAL, AND ADMINIS-
2 TRATIVE PROCEDURES.

3 (a) IN GENERAL.—A health care provider, health
4 plan, public health authority, employer, life insurer, law
5 enforcement official, school, or university may disclose 6 protected health information pursuant to a discovery re-7 quest or subpoena in a civil action brought in a Federal 8 or State court or a request or subpoena related to a Fed-9 eral or State administrative proceeding, but only if the dis-10 closure is made pursuant to a court order as provided for 11 in subsection (b).

12 (b) COURT ORDERS.—

13 (1) STANDARD FOR ISSUANCE.—In considering 14 a request for a court order regarding the disclosure 15 of protected health information under subsection (a), 16 the court shall issue such order if the court deter-17 mines that without the disclosure of such informa-
18 tion, the person requesting the order would be im-19 paired from establishing a claim or defense.

20 (2) REQUIREMENTS.—An order issued under 21 paragraph (1) shall—

22 (A) provide that the protected health infor-
23 mation involved is subject to court protection;

24 (B) specify to whom the information may 25 be disclosed;

1 (C) specify that such information may not 2 otherwise be disclosed or used; and

3 (D) meet any other requirements that the 4 court determines are needed to protect the con-
5 fidentiality of the information.

6 (c) APPLICABILITY.—This section shall not apply in 7 a case in which the protected health information sought 8 under such discovery request or subpoena—

9 (1) is nonidentifiable health information;

10 (2) is related to a party to the litigation whose 11 medical condition is at issue; or

12 (3) could be disclosed under any of sections 202 13 through 208, 210, and 211.

14 (d) EFFECT OF SECTION.—This section shall not be 15 construed to supersede any grounds that may apply under 16 Federal or State law for objecting to turning over the pro-
17 tected health information.

18 SEC. 210. DISCLOSURE FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT PUR-
19 POSES.

20 (a) IN GENERAL.—A health care provider, health
21 plan, health oversight agency, employer, life insurer, law 22 enforcement official, school, university, or person who re-
23 ceives protected health information pursuant to sections 24 203 through 208 (except if section 502(c) of the Con-25 trolled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 872(c)) or section

1 301(d) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C.
2 241(d)) applies). may disclose protected health informa-
3 tion under this section to a law enforcement official con-4 ducting or supervising a law enforcement inquiry pursuant 5 to—

6 (1) a subpoena issued under the authority of a 7 grand jury;

8 (2) an administrative subpoena or summons
9 pursuant to Federal or State law, or judicial sub-10 poena;

11 (3) a civil investigative demand pursuant to 12 Federal or State law as issued by the Attorney Gen-13 eral or a State official as authorized by State law;

14 (4) a warrant issued on a showing of probable 15 cause;

16 (5) a law requiring the reporting of protected 17 health information to law enforcement officials, in-18 cluding laws requiring the reporting of wounds, 19 rape, or abuse or neglect;

20 (6) a request otherwise authorized under Fed-21 eral or State law for the conduct of lawful intel-22 ligence activities conducted pursuant to the National 23 Security Act of 1947 (50 U.S.C. 401 et seq.);

24 (7) a request made in connection with providing 25 protective services to the President or other individ-

1 uals pursuant to section 3056 of title 18, United 2 States Code; or 3 (8) any other court order.

4 Nothing in this section shall be construed to permit a per-5 son to refuse to disclose protected health information if 6 required or obligated to do so by other statutory, regu-
7 latory, or compulsory processes. Nothing in this section 8 shall be construed as affecting or altering the provisions
9 of section 502(c) of the Controlled Substances Act (21 10 U.S.C. 872(c)) or section 301(d) of the Public Health 11 Service Act (42 U.S.C. 241(d)). Nothing in this section 12 shall be construed to prevent an audit or lawful investiga-13 tion, pursuant to the authority of a governmental depart-14 ment or agency, of a research project conducted, sup-15 ported, or subject to regulation by such department or 16 agency.

17 (b) DESTRUCTION OR RETURN OF INFORMATION.—
18 When the law enforcement need, investigation or proceed-19 ing for which protected health information was disclosed, 20 including matters before a grand jury, has concluded, in-21 cluding any derivative matters which may have arisen 22 from the original need, investigation or proceeding, the 23 law enforcement agency or grand jury shall either destroy 24 the protected health information, or return it to the person 25 from whom it was obtained unless another applicable law

1 requires that the protected health information be retained
2 by the law enforcement agency, including DNA database 3 entries for sexual offenders. This subsection shall not 4 apply to protected health information disclosed to an en-5 tity as provided for under paragraph (6) or (7) of sub-
6 section (a).

7 (c) REDACTIONS.—A law enforcement agency shall, 8 when necessary to disclose protected health information in 9 public forums (such as court filings or trials, or adminis-
10 trative proceedings, where the individual who is the sub-11 ject of the protected health information has either not con-12 sented to the disclosure, or not put their health condition 13 at issue)—

14 (1) redact the personally identifiable informa-15 tion to the extent practicable; or

16 (2) if not practicable, otherwise minimize, in a 17 reasonable and appropriate manner, the public dis-
18 closure of protected health information.

19 (d) USE OF INFORMATION.—Protected health infor-20 mation obtained by a law enforcement agency pursuant 21 to this section may only be used for purposes of a legiti-22 mate law enforcement inquiry.

23 (e) PRISON AND DETENTION FACILITIES.—Any per-24 son or detention or correctional facility that provides 25 health care services to detainees, prisoners or inmates, or

1 a law enforcement official performing functions related to 2 detention or correction, shall not be subject to the provi-
3 sions of this Act with respect to the protected health infor-
4 mation that is created through the provision of such health 5 care services, so long as such information is used or dis-
6 closed only for the purposes of security, safety, correc-7 tions, probation, pardon, and parole or as otherwise au-8 thorized by Federal or State law or in order to provide 9 health care services for that detainee, prisoner, or inmate.

10 (f) LIMITATION ON USE AND DISCLOSURE FOR LAW
11 ENFORCEMENT INQUIRIES.—Protected health informa-
12 tion about an individual that is disclosed under this sec-13 tion may not be used in any administrative, civil, or crimi-
14 nal action or investigation directed against the individual, 15 unless the information is relevant to a legitimate law en-16 forcement inquiry or as permitted under subsection (e).

17 (g) IDENTIFICATION OF INDIVIDUALS.—Notwith-
18 standing subsections (a) and (b), a health care provider 19 may, in response to a law enforcement inquiry, provide 20 the name, address, social security number, date of birth, 21 place of birth, type of injury, and date and time of treat-22 ment of an individual who received medical services from 23 the health care provider if obtaining the identity of such 24 individual is necessary for an official law enforcement in-25 quiry.

1 (h) EXCEPTIONS.—Nothing in this section shall be 2 construed to limit the provisions of section 206 that gov-3 ern disclosures to a law enforcement official performing 4 an official oversight function that is subject to such sec-
5 tion.

6 SEC. 211. PAYMENT CARD AND ELECTRONIC PAYMENT
7 TRANSACTION.

8 (a) PAYMENT FOR HEALTH CARE THROUGH CARD
9 OR ELECTRONIC MEANS.—If an individual pays for health 10 care by presenting a debit, credit, or other payment card 11 or account number, or by any other electronic payment 12 means, the entity receiving payment may disclose to a per-13 son described in subsection (b) only such protected health 14 information about the individual as is necessary for the 15 processing of the payment transaction or the billing or col-
16 lection of amounts charged to, debited from, or otherwise 17 paid by, the individual using the card, number, or other 18 electronic means.

19 (b) TRANSACTION PROCESSING.—A person who is a 20 debit, credit, or other payment card issuer, or is otherwise 21 directly involved in the processing of payment transactions 22 involving such cards or other electronic payment trans-23 actions, or is otherwise directly involved in the billing or 24 collection of amounts paid through such means, may use 25 or disclose protected health information about an individ-

1 ual that has been disclosed in accordance with subsection 2 (a) only when necessary for—

3 (1) the authorization, settlement, billing or col-
4 lection of amounts charged to, debited from, or oth-
5 erwise paid by the individual using a debit, credit, 6 or other payment card or account number, or by 7 other electronic payment means;

8 (2) the transfer of receivables, accounts, or in-9 terest therein;

10 (3) the audit of the debit, credit, or other pay-11 ment card account information;

12 (4) compliance with Federal, State, or local law, 13 or

14 (5) compliance with a properly authorized civil, 15 criminal, or regulatory investigation by Federal,
16 State, or local authorities as governed by the re-
17 quirements of this section.

18 SEC. 212. STANDARDS FOR ELECTRONIC DISCLOSURES.

19 The Secretary shall promulgate standards for disclos-20 ing, authorizing, and authenticating, protected health in-21 formation in electronic form consistent with this title.

22 SEC. 213. INDIVIDUAL REPRESENTATIVES.

23 (a) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subsections 24 (b) and (c), a person who is designated by the individual, 25 authorized by law (based on grounds other than the indi-

1 vidual being a minor), or by an instrument recognized 2 under law, to act as an agent, attorney, proxy, or other 3 representative of a protected individual, may, to the extent 4 so authorized, exercise and discharge the rights of the in-5 dividual under this Act.

6 (b) HEALTH CARE POWER OF ATTORNEY.—A person 7 who is authorized by law (based on grounds other than 8 being a minor), or by an instrument recognized under law, 9 to make decisions about the provision of health care to 10 an individual who is incapacitated, may exercise and dis-11 charge the rights of the individual under this Act to the 12 extent necessary to effectuate the terms or purposes of 13 the grant of authority.

14 (c) NO COURT DECLARATION.—If a health care pro-15 vider determines that an individual, who has not been de-16 clared to be legally incompetent, suffers from a medical 17 condition that prevents the individual from acting know-18 ingly or effectively on the individual's own behalf, the right 19 of the individual to authorize disclosure under this Act 20 may be exercised and discharged in the best interest of 21 the individual by—

22 (1) a person described in subsection (b) with re-23 spect to the individual;

24 (2) a person described in subsection (a) with re-25 spect to the individual, but only if a person de-

1 scribed in paragraph (1) cannot be contacted after 2 a reasonable effort;

3 (3) the next of kin of the individual, but only 4 if a person described in paragraph (1) or (2) cannot 5 be contacted after a reasonable effort; or

6 (4) the health care provider, but only if a per-7 son described in paragraph (1), (2), or (3) cannot be 8 contacted after a reasonable effort.

9 (d) APPLICATION TO DECEASED INDIVIDUALS.—The 10 provisions of this Act shall continue to apply to protected 11 health information concerning a deceased individual for a 12 period of 2-years following the death of that individual.

13 (e) EXERCISE OF RIGHTS ON BEHALF OF A DE-
14 CEASED INDIVIDUAL.—

15 (1) IN GENERAL.—A person who is authorized 16 by law or by an instrument recognized under law, to 17 act as an executor of the estate of a deceased indi-18 vidual, or otherwise to exercise the rights of the de-19 ceased individual, may, to the extent so authorized, 20 exercise and discharge the rights of such deceased
21 individual under this Act for a period of 2-years fol-22 lowing the death of that individual. If no such des-23 ignee has been authorized, the rights of the deceased 24 individual may be exercised as provided for in sub-25 section (c).

1 (2) INSURED INDIVIDUALS.—In the case of an 2 individual who is deceased and who was the insured 3 under an insurance policy or policies, the right to 4 authorize disclosure of protected health information
5 may be exercised by the beneficiary or beneficiaries 6 of such insurance policy or policies.

7 SEC. 214. LIMITED LIABILITY FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT OF- 8 FICIALS.

9 Law enforcement officials when performing oversight
10 functions or law enforcement inquiries shall not be person-11 ally liable for violations of this Act unless it is shown that 12 the violation was committed with the intent to sell, trans-13 fer, or use protected health information for commercial ad-14 vantage, personal gain or purpose, or malicious harm.

15 SEC. 215. NO LIABILITY FOR PERMISSIBLE DISCLOSURES.

16 A health care provider, health plan, health oversight
17 agency, health researcher, public health authority, law en-18 forcement official, prosecutor, employer, life insurer, 19 school, or university, or an agent of such person, who 20 makes a disclosure of protected health information about 21 an individual that is permitted by this Act shall not be 22 liable to the individual for such disclosure under common 23 law.

1 SEC. 216. IMMUNITY.

2 Nothing in this Act shall be construed to waive or 3 affect the defense of sovereign immunity of the United 4 States. This Act shall not be construed to limit or super-5 sede any immunity of a Federal or State employee except 6 to the extent expressly provided in this Act. Nothing in 7 this Act shall be construed to supplant the Equal Access 8 to Justice Act (28 U.S.C. 2412 et seq.).

9 TITLE III—SANCTIONS

10 Subtitle A—Criminal Provisions

11 SEC. 301. WRONGFUL DISCLOSURE OF PROTECTED
12 HEALTH INFORMATION.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—Part I of title 18, United States
14 Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

15 “CHAPTER 124—WRONGFUL DISCLOSURE
16 OF PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION

 “Sec.

 “2801. Wrongful disclosure of protected health information.

17 “§ 2801. Wrongful disclosure of protected health in-
18 formation

19 “(a) OFFENSE.—The penalties described in sub-20 section (b) shall apply to a person that knowingly and in-21 tentiously—

22 “(1) obtains protected health information relat-23 ing to an individual in violation of title II of the 24 Health Information Confidentiality Act of 1999;

1 “(2) discloses protected health information to 2 another person in violation of title II of the Health 3 Information Confidentiality Act of 1999; or

4 “(3) uses protected health information in viola-
5 tion of title II of the Health Information Confiden-
6 tiality Act of 1999.

7 “(b) PENALTIES.—A person described in subsection 8 (a) shall—

9 “(1) be fined not more than $50,000, impris-10 oned not more than 1 year, or both;

11 “(2) if the offense is committed under false pre-12 tenses, be fined not more than $250,000, imprisoned 13 not more than 5 years, or any combination of such 14 penalties;

15 “(3) if the offense is committed with the intent 16 to sell, transfer, or use protected health information 17 for commercial advantage, personal gain, or mali-
18 cious harm, be fined not more than $500,000, im-
19 prisoned not more than 10 years, excluded from par-20 ticipation in any federally funded health care pro-21 grams, or any combination of such penalties.

22 “(c) SUBSEQUENT OFFENSES.—In the case of a per-23 son described in subsection (a), the maximum penalties 24 described in subsection (b) shall be doubled for every sub-25 sequent conviction for an offense arising out of a violation

1 or violations related to a set of circumstances that are dif-
2 ferent from those involved in the previous violation or set 3 of related violations described in such subsection (a).”.

4 (b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of chapters
5 for part I of title 18, United States Code, is amended by 6 inserting after the item relating to chapter 123 the follow-7 ing new item:

“124. Wrongful disclosure of protected health information 2801”.

8 Subtitle B—Civil Sanctions

9 SEC. 311. CIVIL PENALTY.

10 (a) VIOLATION.—A health care provider, health re-
11 searcher, health plan, health oversight agency, public 12 health agency, law enforcement agency, employer, life in-13 surer, school, or university, or the agent of any such indi-14 vidual or entity, who the Secretary, in consultation with 15 the Attorney General, determines has substantially and 16 materially failed to comply with this Act shall be subject, 17 in addition to any other penalties that may be prescribed 18 by law—

19 (1) in a case in which the violation relates to 20 title I, to a civil penalty of not more than $500 for 21 each such violation, but not to exceed $5,000 in the 22 aggregate for multiple violations;

23 (2) in a case in which the violation relates to 24 title II, to a civil penalty of not more than $10,000

1 for each such violation, but not to exceed $50,000 2 in the aggregate for multiple violations; or

3 (3) in a case in which the Secretary finds that 4 such violations have occurred with such frequency as 5 to constitute a general business practice, to a civil 6 penalty of not more than $100,000.

7 (b) PROCEDURES FOR IMPOSITION OF PENALTIES.—

8 Section 1128A of the Social Security Act, other than sub-9 sections (a) and (b) and the second sentence of subsection 10 (f) of that section, shall apply to the imposition of a civil, 11 monetary, or exclusionary penalty under this section in the 12 same manner as such provisions apply with respect to the 13 imposition of a penalty under section 1128A of such Act.

14 SEC. 312. PROCEDURES FOR IMPOSITION OF PENALTIES.

15 (a) INITIATION OF PROCEEDINGS.—

16 (1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary may initiate a 17 proceeding to determine whether to impose a civil 18 money penalty under section 311 only as authorized 19 by the Attorney General pursuant to procedures
20 agreed upon by the Secretary and the Attorney Gen-21 eral. The Secretary may not initiate an action under 22 this section with respect to any violation described in 23 section 311 after the expiration of the 6-year period 24 beginning on the date on which such violation was 25 alleged to have occurred. The Secretary may initiate

1 an action under this section by serving notice of the 2 action in any manner authorized by Rule 4 of the 3 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

4 (2) NOTICE AND OPPORTUNITY FOR HEAR-
5 ING.—The Secretary shall not make a determination 6 adverse to any person under paragraph (1) until the 7 person has been given written notice and an oppor-8 tunity for the determination to be made on the 9 record after a hearing at which the person is entitled 10 to be represented by counsel, to present witnesses, 11 and to cross-examine witnesses against the person.

12 (3) ESTOPPEL.—In a proceeding under para-13 graph (1) that—

14 (A) is against a person who has been con-15 victed (whether upon a verdict after trial or 16 upon a plea of guilty or nolo contendere) of a 17 crime under section 2801 of title 18, United 18 States Code; and

19 (B) involves the same conduct as in the 20 criminal action;

21 the person is estopped from denying the essential 22 elements of the criminal offense.

23 (4) SANCTIONS FOR FAILURE TO COMPLY.—
24 The official conducting a hearing under this section 25 may sanction a person, including any party or attor-

1 ney, for failing to comply with an order or proce-
2 dure, failing to defend an action, or other mis-3 conduct as would interfere with the speedy, orderly, 4 or fair conduct of the hearing. Such sanction shall 5 reasonably relate to the severity and nature of the 6 failure or misconduct. Such sanction may include—

7 (A) in the case of refusal to provide or per-8 mit discovery, drawing negative factual infer-9 ences or treating such refusal as an admission 10 by deeming the matter, or certain facts, to be 11 established;

12 (B) prohibiting a party from introducing
13 certain evidence or otherwise supporting a par-
14 ticular claim or defense;

15 (C) striking pleadings, in whole or in part;

16 (D) staying the proceedings;

17 (E) dismissal of the action;

18 (F) entering a default judgment;

19 (G) ordering the party or attorney to pay 20 attorneys' fees and other costs caused by the 21 failure or misconduct; and

22 (H) refusing to consider any motion or 23 other action which is not filed in a timely man-24 ner.

1 (b) SCOPE OF PENALTY.—In determining the 2 amount or scope of any penalty imposed pursuant to sec-
3 tion 311, the Secretary shall take into account—

4 (1) the nature of claims and the circumstances 5 under which they were presented;

6 (2) the degree of culpability, history of prior of-7 fenses, and financial condition of the person present-8 ing the claims; and 9 (3) such other matters as justice may require.

10 (c) REVIEW OF DETERMINATION.—

11 (1) IN GENERAL.—Any person adversely af-12 fected by a determination of the Secretary under 13 this section may obtain a review of such determina-14 tion in the United States Court of Appeals for the 15 circuit in which the person resides, or in which the 16 claim was presented, by filing in such court (within 17 60 days following the date the person is notified of 18 the determination of the Secretary) a written peti-19 tion requesting that the determination be modified 20 or set aside.

21 (2) FILING OF RECORD.—A copy of the petition 22 filed under paragraph (1) shall be forthwith trans-23 mitted by the clerk of the court to the Secretary, 24 and thereupon the Secretary shall file in the Court
25 the record in the proceeding as provided in section

1 2112 of title 28, United States Code. Upon such fil-
2 ing, the court shall have jurisdiction of the proceed-3 ing and of the question determined therein, and 4 shall have the power to make and enter upon the 5 pleadings, testimony, and proceedings set forth in 6 such record a decree affirming, modifying, remand-7 ing for further consideration, or setting aside, in 8 whole or in part, the determination of the Secretary 9 and enforcing the same to the extent that such order 10 is affirmed or modified.

11 (3) CONSIDERATION OF OBJECTIONS.—No ob-
12 jection that has not been raised before the Secretary 13 with respect to a determination described in para-14 graph (1) shall be considered by the court, unless 15 the failure or neglect to raise such objection shall be 16 excused because of extraordinary circumstances.

17 (4) FINDINGS.—The findings of the Secretary 18 with respect to questions of fact in an action under 19 this subsection, if supported by substantial evidence 20 on the record considered as a whole, shall be conclu-21 sive. If any party shall apply to the court for leave 22 to adduce additional evidence and shall show to the 23 satisfaction of the court that such additional evi-24 dence is material and that there were reasonable 25 grounds for the failure to adduce such evidence in

1 the hearing before the Secretary, the court may 2 order such additional evidence to be taken before the 3 Secretary and to be made a part of the record. The 4 Secretary may modify findings as to the facts, or 5 make new findings, by reason of additional evidence 6 so taken and filed, and shall file with the court such 7 modified or new findings, and such findings with re-8 spect to questions of fact, if supported by substan-9 tial evidence on the record considered as a whole, 10 and the recommendations of the Secretary, if any, 11 for the modification or setting aside of the original 12 order, shall be conclusive.

13 (5) EXCLUSIVE JURISDICTION.—Upon the filing
14 of the record with the court under paragraph (2), 15 the jurisdiction of the court shall be exclusive and its 16 judgment and decree shall be final, except that the 17 same shall be subject to review by the Supreme 18 Court of the United States, as provided for in sec-
19 tion 1254 of title 28, United States Code.

20 (d) RECOVERY OF PENALTIES.—

21 (1) IN GENERAL.—Civil money penalties im-22 posed under this subtitle may be compromised by 23 the Secretary and may be recovered in a civil action 24 in the name of the United States brought in United 25 States district court for the district where the claim

1 was presented, or where the claimant resides, as de-2 termined by the Secretary. Amounts recovered under 3 this section shall be paid to the Secretary and depos-4 ited as miscellaneous receipts of the Treasury of the 5 United States.

6 (2) DEDUCTION FROM AMOUNTS OWING.—The 7 amount of any penalty, when finally determined 8 under this section, or the amount agreed upon in 9 compromise under paragraph (1), may be deducted 10 from any sum then or later owing by the United 11 States or a State to the person against whom the 12 penalty has been assessed.

13 (e) DETERMINATION FINAL.—A determination by 14 the Secretary to impose a penalty under section 312 shall 15 be final upon the expiration of the 60-day period referred 16 to in subsection (c)(1). Matters that were raised or that 17 could have been raised in a hearing before the Secretary 18 or in an appeal pursuant to subsection (c) may not be 19 raised as a defense to a civil action by the United States
20 to collect a penalty under section 311.

21 (f) SUBPOENA AUTHORITY.—

22 (1) IN GENERAL.—For the purpose of any 23 hearing, investigation, or other proceeding author-
24 ized or directed under this section, the Secretary 25 shall have the power to issue subpoenas requiring

1 the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the 2 production of any evidence that relates to any mat-
3 ter under investigation or in question before the Sec-
4 retary. Such attendance of witnesses and production 5 of evidence at the designated place of such hearing, 6 investigation, or other proceeding may be required
7 from any place in the United States or in any Terri-8 tory or possession thereof.

9 (2) SERVICE.—Subpoenas of the Secretary
10 under paragraph (1) shall be served by anyone au-
11 thorized by the Secretary by delivering a copy there-12 of to the individual named therein, by registered 13 mail or by certified mail addressed to such individual 14 at his or her last dwelling place or principal place 15 of business.

16 (3) PROOF OF SERVICE.—A verified return by 17 the individual serving the subpoena under this sub-18 section setting forth the manner of service, or in the 19 case of service by registered mail or by certified 20 mail, the return post-office receipt therefore signed 21 by the individual so served, shall be proof of service.

22 (4) FEES.—Witnesses subpoenaed under this 23 subsection shall be paid the same fees and mileage 24 as are paid witnesses in the district court of the 25 United States.

1 (5) REFUSAL TO OBEY.—In case of contumacy
2 by, or refusal to obey a duly served upon, any per-3 son, any district court of the United States for the 4 judicial district in which such person charged with 5 contumacy or refusal to obey is found or resides or 6 transacts business, upon application by the Sec-
7 retary, shall have jurisdiction to issue an order re-8 quiring such person to appear and give testimony, or 9 to appear and produce evidence, or both. Any failure 10 to obey such order of the court may be punished by 11 the court as contempt thereof.

12 (g) INJUNCTIVE RELIEF.—Whenever the Secretary
13 has reason to believe that any person has engaged, is en-14 gaging, or is about to engage in any activity which makes 15 the person subject to a civil monetary penalty under sec-
16 tion 311, the Secretary shall request the Attorney General 17 bring an action in an appropriate district court of the 18 United States (or, if applicable, a United States court of 19 any territory) to enjoin such activity, or to enjoin the per-20 son from concealing, removing, encumbering, or disposing 21 of assets which may be required in order to pay a civil 22 monetary penalty if any such penalty were to be imposed 23 or to seek other appropriate relief.

1 (h) AGENCY.—A principal is liable for penalties
2 under section 311 for the actions of the principal's agent
3 acting within the scope of the agency.

4 SEC. 313. REPORT ON USE OF EXISTING ENFORCEMENT
5 MECHANISMS.

6 In addition to the criminal and civil penalties that 7 may be applied under this title, the Secretary shall prepare 8 and submit to Congress a report regarding the use of ex-9 isting Federal, State and other licensure, certification and 10 regulatory mechanisms, including State insurance regula-11 tions, for the imposition of sanctions or penalties for the 12 wrongful disclosure of protected health information.

13 SEC. 314. CIVIL ACTION BY INDIVIDUALS.

14 (a) LIABILITY.—Any health care provider, health re-
15 searcher, health plan, health oversight agency, public
16 health agency, employer, life insurer, school, or university, 17 or the agent of any such individual or entity who willfully 18 and intentionally discloses protected health information in 19 violation of this Act shall be liable to the individual to 20 whom such information relates for—

21 (1) any economic losses sustained by the indi-22 vidual as a result of the disclosure;

23 (2) any non-economic damages sustained by the 24 individual as a result of the disclosure, but in no

1 event shall an award of such damages exceed 2 $50,000; and

3 (3) such preliminary and equitable relief as the 4 court determines to be appropriate.

5 (b) LIMITATIONS.—No action may be commenced
6 under subsection (a) with respect to the disclosure of pro-7 tected health information concerning an individual after 8 the expiration of the 2-year period beginning on the date 9 on which the disclosure was or should have reasonably 10 been discovered by the individual.

11 (c) EXCLUSIVE REMEDIES.—The remedies and sanc-12 tions described in this Act (and the amendments made by 13 this Act) shall be the only authorized judicial remedies and 14 sanctions for violations of this Act.

15 TITLE IV—MISCELLANEOUS

16 SEC. 401. RELATIONSHIP TO OTHER LAWS.

17 (a) STATE AND FEDERAL LAW.—

18 (1) STATE LAW ENACTED PRIOR TO DATE OF 19 ENACTMENT.—

20 (A) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in 21 this section, the provisions of this Act shall pre-22 empt State laws enacted prior to the date of en-23 actment of this Act to the following extent:

24 (i) COPYING, INSPECTION, AND 25 AMENDMENT.—The provisions of title I re-

1 lating to the copying or inspection and 2 amendment of protected health information
3 shall preempt any such State law to the 4 extent that such law relates to the right of 5 an individual to inspect or copy protected
6 health information pertaining to the indi-
7 vidual, or the right of an individual with 8 respect to the amendment of protected
9 health information pertaining to the indi-
10 vidual.

11 (ii) USE AND DISCLOSURE FOR 12 TREATMENT, PAYMENT, AND HEALTH
13 CARE OPERATIONS.—Section 202 shall pre-14 empt any such State law to the extent that 15 such law relates to the use and disclosure 16 of protected health information for pur-
17 poses of treatment, payment or health care
18 operations.

19 (iii) USE AND DISCLOSURE FOR RE-20 SEARCH.—Section 208 shall preempt any 21 such State law to the extent that such law
22 relates to the use and disclosure of pro-23 tected health information for purposes of 24 research.

25 (B) LIMITATION.—

1 (i) IN GENERAL.—Nothing in this Act
2 shall be construed to preempt any provi-
3 sion of State law relating to the confiden-4 tiality of protected health information if 5 such provision of State law is not a law of 6 the type described in subparagraph (A).

7 (ii) MORE PROTECTIVE STATE
8 LAWS.—No provision of this Act described 9 in subparagraph (A) shall be construed to 10 preempt any State law enacted prior to the 11 date of enactment of this Act if such State 12 law is more protective of the confidentiality
13 rights of individuals than such provision.

14 (2) STATE LAW ENACTED AFTER DATE OF EN-
15 ACTMENT.—Except as provided in subsections (b)
16 and (c), the provisions of this Act described in para-17 graph (1)(A) shall preempt any related provisions of 18 a State law pertaining to the confidentiality of pro-19 tected health information if such law is enacted after 20 the date of enactment of this Act.

21 (3) CONSISTENCY WITH OTHER FEDERAL 22 LAWS.—

23 (A) IN GENERAL.—Nothing in this Act
24 shall be construed as altering, amending, modi-
25 fying, invalidating, impairing or superseding,

1 explicitly or implicitly, other Federal laws or 2 regulations relating to protected health infor-3 mation or relating to an individual's access to 4 protected health information or health care 5 services.

6 (B) OTHER LAWS.—Nothing in this Act
7 shall be construed to prevent an employer or its 8 agent from using or disclosing protected health 9 information necessary to comply with or con-
10 sistent with exercising its rights and respon-11 sibilities under—

12 (i) the Americans with Disabilities Act
13 of 1990 (29 U.S.C. 12101 et seq.) or any 14 State or local law relating to discrimina-
15 tion on the basis of disability;

16 (ii) the Family and Medical Leave Act
17 of 1993 (29 U.S.C. 2601 et seq.) or any 18 State or local law relating to family and 19 medical leave; or

20 (iii) the Occupational Safety and 21 Health Act of 1970 (29 U.S.C. 651 et 22 seq.), the Federal Mine Safety and Health 23 Act of 1977 (30 U.S.C. 801 et seq.), or 24 any State or local law relating to work-
25 place safety and health.

1 It shall not be considered a violation of this Act 2 if an employer or its agents use or disclosure of 3 its protected health information is limited to the 4 purpose of exercising its rights and responsibil-
5 ities under the laws described in this subpara-6 graph.

7 (4) MINORS.—Nothing in this Act shall be con-
8 strued to preempt, modify, repeal or affect the inter-9 pretation of a provision of Federal or State law that 10 relates to the disclosure of protected health informa-11 tion or any other information about a minor to a 12 parent or guardian of such minor.

13 (b) PRIVILEGES.—Nothing in this section shall be 14 construed to preempt or modify any provision of State 15 statutory or common law to the extent that such law con-16 cerns a privilege of a witness or person in a court of that 17 State. This title shall not be construed to supersede or 18 modify any provision of Federal statutory or common law 19 to the extent such law concerns a privilege of a witness 20 or person in a court of the United States. Authorizations 21 pursuant to sections 202 shall not be construed as a waiv-22 er of any such privilege.

23 (c) CERTAIN DUTIES UNDER LAW.—Nothing in this 24 section shall be construed to preempt, supersede, or mod-25 ify the operation of any State law that relates to—

1 (1) the use and disclosure of information per-2 taining to mental health; or

3 (2) the use and disclosure of information per-4 taining to public health consistent with section 207;
5 to the extent that such State law prevents or otherwise 6 restricts the use and disclosure of protected health infor-7 mation otherwise permissible under this Act.

8 (d) STATE FLEXIBILITY IN LAWS PROTECTING 9 HEALTH INFORMATION RELATED TO PROPERTY-CAS-
10 UALTY INSURANCE.—

11 (1) FLEXIBILITY IN GENERAL.—

12 (A) NONAPPLICATION.—The requirements
13 of this Act shall not apply to any person in con-
14 nection with providing, administering, support-15 ing, or coordinating benefits excepted under any 16 of subparagraphs (B) through (F) and (H) of 17 section 2791(c)(1) of the Public Health Service 18 Act (42 U.S.C. 300gg-91(c)(1)(B)-(F) and 19 (H)).

20 (B) PREEMPTION.—State laws that protect 21 the confidentiality of health information used or 22 disclosed in connection with any of the benefits
23 described in subparagraph (A), shall not be pre-24 empted with respect to the application of such 25 laws to such benefits.

1 (2) REVIEW OF STATE LAWS.—It is the sense
2 of the Senate that—

3 (A) each State should review its laws to 4 ensure that the confidentiality of protected
5 health information used or disclosed in connec-
6 tion with any of the benefits described in para-7 graph (1)(A) is consistent with the purposes of 8 this Act;

9 (B) the review under subparagraph (A) 10 should examine—

11 (i) the purposes for which such infor-
12 mation is collected and used;

13 (ii) the extent to which beneficiaries
14 are informed of such uses;

15 (iii) the feasibility of an authorization
16 process; and

17 (iv) the impact of confidentiality re-18 strictions on the administration of these 19 benefits;

20 (C) the review under subparagraph (A)
21 should examine the use and disclosures of pro-
22 tected health information pursuant to State
23 public records and freedom of information laws.

24 (3) REPORT.—Not later than 24 months after 25 the date of enactment of this Act, the General Ac-

1 counting Office, in consultation with the National 2 Association of Insurance Commissioners and other 3 interested parties, shall submit a report to Congress 4 concerning the adequacy of State laws in providing 5 the protections for protected health information de-6 scribed in paragraph (2).

7 (e) FEDERAL PRIVACY ACT.—

8 (1) MEDICAL EXEMPTIONS.—Sections 552a of 9 title 5, United States code, is amended by adding at 10 the end thereof the following: “The head of an agen-11 cy that is an entity described in section 311 (a) of 12 the Health Information Confidentiality Act of 1999
13 shall promulgate rules, in accordance with the re-14 quirements (including general notice) of subsections 15 (b)(1), (b)(2), (b)(3), (c), and (e) of section 553 of 16 this title, to exempt a system of records within an 17 agency, to the extent that the system of records con-18 tains protected health information (as defined in sec-19 tion 4(23) of such Act), from all provisions of this 20 section except subsections (b)(6), (d), (e)(1), (e)(2), 21 subparagraphs (A) and (C) and (E) through (I) of 22 subsection (e)(4), and subsections (e)(5), (e)(6), 23 (e)(9), (e)(12), (l), (n), (o), (p), (r), and (u).”.

24 (2) TECHNICAL AMENDMENT.—Section
25 552a(f)(3) of title 5, United States Code, is amend-

1 ed by striking "pertaining to him." and all that fol-
2 lows through the semicolon and inserting "pertain-3 ing to the individual."

4 (f) APPLICATION TO CERTAIN FEDERAL AGEN-
5 CIES.—

6 (1) DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE.—

7 (A) EXCEPTIONS.—The Secretary of De-8 fense may, by regulation, establish exceptions to 9 the disclosure requirements of this Act to the 10 extent such Secretary determines that disclo-11 sure of protected health information relating to 12 members of the armed forces from systems of 13 records operated by the Department of Defense 14 is necessary under circumstances different from 15 those permitted under this Act for the proper 16 conduct of national defense functions by mem-17 bers of the armed forces.

18 (B) APPLICATION TO CIVILIAN EMPLOY-
19 EES.—The Secretary of Defense may, by regu-20 lation, establish for civilian employees of the 21 Department of Defense and employees of De-22 partment of Defense contractors, limitations on 23 the right of such persons to revoke or amend 24 authorizations for disclosures under section 203 25 when such authorizations were provided by such

Re: Treasury letter

I received this after the deadline. It's hard to provide views on this, since Treasury basically doesn't identify the provisions on which they are commenting. Given timing, a disclaimer should be added to the effect that time did not permit a thorough interagency review.

NB: The language re: protection of health information should be struck. The provision in this bill (if that's what they are talking about) that concerns the protection of health information appears to amount to a new restriction on law enforcement on access to medical information. We are opposing this kind of thing in a much larger context involving DOJ, HHS, the White House, and OMB. (In fact medical records privacy legislation is to be marked up in the Senate on 6/15.) Treasury has not (I think) been a player in that debate and should not be opining on it here. Bob Pellicci is the LRD person on this and can fill you in. In any event, HHS would want to be included in the circulation of any letter on this matter.

I will let you know if I hear from anyone else this afternoon.

Also, we may have comments on other financial privacy aspects of this legislation. For example, sec. 179 includes a new criminal provision. We would want to be sure the FTC doesn't think it's going to enforce it.

The Honorable James M. Jeffords
Chairman
Committee on Health, Education, Labor and Pensions
United States Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Thank you for the opportunity to present the views of the Department of Justice on behalf of the law enforcement community on pending legislation to protect the confidentiality of personal medical information. We look forward to working with the Committee to protect the privacy of confidential health information, while preserving the ability of Federal, state and local law enforcement agencies to enforce the laws within their jurisdictions and to oversee the integrity of the health care payment system.

The Department recognizes that additional safeguards are necessary to prevent future abuses of medical records privacy, particularly in response to the growing use of computers to store, analyze, and distribute confidential health information. Moreover, the Department believes it would be appropriate to establish reasonable restrictions on law enforcement access to, and use of, confidential health information that reflect current law and practice. The Department offers the following specific suggestions on how to strike the appropriate balance between the need to protect confidential health information and the need to protect public health and safety and investigate and punish illegal activity.

At a minimum, medical records privacy legislation should prohibit Federal, state and local law enforcement agencies and employees from obtaining or using such information except for official law enforcement activities. In addition, as a general principle, we believe it would be appropriate to codify current practice by requiring law enforcement to use lawful compulsory process, such as a search warrant, grand jury subpoena, summons, warrant, judicial subpoena, administrative subpoena or a civil investigative demand in order to obtain protected health information; provided, that the legislation include limited but important exceptions, discussed below, that are necessary to protect public health and safety.

The Department supports legislation that requires law enforcement agencies to take appropriate and reasonable steps to minimize the public disclosure of identifiable health information, consistent with the requirements of due process and the needs of law enforcement to present a complete case. Law enforcement also should be required to destroy or return medical records to the original record holder when the official law enforcement activity requiring the retention of those records has concluded, and no other applicable law or regulation requires that the medical records be retained.

We support reasonable restrictions on law enforcement access to and use of confidential health information. We also believe medical records privacy legislation should not unduly hinder the ability of Federal, state and local law enforcement to investigate and prosecute illegal activity and to protect the integrity of the health care payment system. Thus, we believe the requirement for law enforcement to use compulsory process, discussed above, should not apply in four circumstances: (1) when law enforcement is performing a health oversight function authorized by law (subject to the derivative use limitations discussed below); (2) pursuant to Federal, state or local mandatory reporting laws (including laws requiring the reporting of gunshot wounds, rapes, abuse of children or the elderly, or diversion of controlled substances); (3) in time-sensitive circumstances to prevent threatened or imminent physical harm to any person; and (4) to obtain limited name or other essential identifying information, but not the entire medical file, to enable law enforcement to locate and identify a patient who is a fugitive, suspect, or material witness.

With respect to the issue of derivative use, there are special concerns that may arise when law enforcement obtains access to large numbers of health records during health oversight activities. Therefore, we recommend that law enforcement should not be permitted to use information discovered during the oversight function against a patient for an unrelated, non-health care matter, unless authorized by a court under procedures similar to those in 18 U.S.C. 3486(e). However, because these concerns are not replicated when law enforcement obtains health records in non-health oversight law enforcement activities pursuant to compulsory process, any legislation should reflect current law which provides no restriction on the derivative use of confidential health information obtained by a law enforcement agency in the discharge of its general (i.e., non-health oversight) enforcement responsibilities.

Finally, we believe jails, prisons and detention facilities present unique situations with respect to medical records privacy. While the Department supports legislation that prohibits correctional facilities and employees from disclosing, using or obtaining medical information for non-official purposes, we believe such institutions should be exempted from the general obligations and duties imposed by medical record privacy legislation. These facilities also should be permitted to exchange prisoner or detainee health records without patient authorization with community health care providers providing health care services to the prisoners or detainees.

There are other technical drafting issues on which we would like to work with the Committee, including issues relating to certain definitions, the procedures for the imposition of penalties for violations, and government legal department access to health records from governmental departments and agencies while representing these bodies in civil matters prior to the initiation of legal proceedings.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. If we may be of additional assistance we trust that you will not hesitate to call upon us. The Office of Management and Budget has advised that there is no objection from the standpoint of the Administration's program to the presentation of this report.

Sincerely,

Jon P. Jennings

Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Chairman Jeffords:

On behalf of the Administration, I want to thank you and the other members of the Committee for working in a cooperative, bipartisan manner to bring the "Health Information Confidentiality Act of 1999" to markup. While we are unable to support this legislation in its current form, we hope to continue working with you and your colleagues to resolve our remaining concerns prior to final Committee action. With further improvements, this legislation has the potential to help us to achieve the goal of so many Americans – the right to privacy for medical and health information.

The President has indicated his strong desire to see the Congress enact a comprehensive medical privacy bill this year. At the same time, we are working hard to make sure the Department is prepared to go forward with the regulations specified under HIPAA, if Congress is unable to pass such a bill. As the President said in his State of the Union Address:

"As more of our medical records are stored electronically, the threats to all our privacy increase. Because Congress has given me the authority to act if it does not do so by August, one way or another, we can all say to the American people, we will protect the privacy of medical records and we will do it this year."

As you know, the Committee has made progress in a number of areas, including: limits on the use and disclosure of health information; providing notice to individuals about how their information may be used and restricting its use; adding a new standard for how private sector researchers use identifiable health information; and restricting the use of information beyond the entity that originally collected it. However, we continue to have serious concerns about the following provisions: meaningful enforcement provisions, State preemption, privileges, and the ability of entities to use personal information for underwriting.

With regard to areas of progress, we are pleased to see that the Chairman's mark places important limits on the ways that health plans, providers and other health care-related organizations and individuals, as well as employers, use and disclose personal health information. The mark incorporates changes clarifying that these limits apply both to disclosures between health care organizations as well as to disclosures and uses within such organizations, and requiring that protected health care information be provided to and used by only those individuals necessary to accomplish the purpose for which the information was obtained.

For example, an employer generally could not disclose protected information gathered for the purpose of health care treatment and payment by the employer's group health plan to managers charged with job performance or job placement functions. These limits are vital if Americans are to have confidence that they can seek treatment under their health insurance without fear that their personal information could be used against them in the workplace.

Similarly, we are very encouraged to see the Committee recognize that it should be unlawful for someone to disclose information that is not identifiable with the knowledge that the recipient of the information will wrongly reidentify it. We could not support a bill that includes loopholes that allow disclosure of information from which identifiers have been stripped or encoded to people who intend to reidentify that information.

We are also encouraged that the notice and authorization provisions together will provide consumers with the crucial information they need to understand how their health information will be used and their rights and responsibilities with respect to that information. While the notice provisions are vastly improved, we continue to have concerns regarding a provision that would make use of a model notice an "absolute defense" to a claim of inadequate notice, even if the information contained in the notice was not accurate for the circumstances in which it was used. While use of the model should provide some special legal protection, it should only do so if it accurately reflects the health plan's actual information practices. We remain concerned that, as a practical matter, the mark's framework for obtaining authorizations and revocations could prove unworkable. In particular, it is not clear how important information about a patient's authorization and revocation is communicated among the plans and providers who need that information in order to make the bill's protections real.

With respect to non-federally funded health research, we are pleased that the Committee has included a review mechanism for researchers who wish to use medical records without obtaining a patient's prior authorization. We believe this section would be strengthened to provide greater protection for the public if some form of independent oversight were incorporated into this new process.

We are also pleased that the bill now makes clear that the allowable uses of protected health care information for health care operations apply only within the health plan or provider (and their agents) that originally obtains the information. Any sharing beyond that entity requires a separate authorization. Even within the entity, the allowable uses could not be expanded beyond those for the purpose of the delivery of health benefits.

In today's ever expanding, technology-based environment, it is becoming easier and easier to identify individuals with only tidbits of either demographic or personal information. Because the Chairman's mark has a loose definition of "non-identifiable information", it is imperative that it be a crime for anyone to transmit the 'key' that allows such information to become identifiable.

Disclosing the key to reidentify such information is no different than disclosing the identified information itself, and should be just as unlawful. The bill to be considered today reflects your concern for this issue and we appreciate recognition of this important prohibition.

While the improvements to your legislation have been significant, we have serious concerns and believe changes are necessary in important areas of the bill. First, we believe that the strength of any law conveying rights to individuals is their ability to enforce such rights. Our medical records hold the most intimate information about us. Yet the framework in the Chairman's mark through which individuals could enforce their rights is significantly weaker than the Video Privacy Protection Act. That statute, passed just one month after introduction and signed by President Reagan in 1988, includes a better standard of proof for individuals, a wider array of uncapped damages, as well as attorneys' fees. I think we would all agree that an individual's rights to medical records privacy should be at least as strong as the privacy protections governing his or her video rentals.

The current standard in the Chairman's mark for civil remedies -- "willful and intentional"-- is unprecedented as a condition for liability in a private right of action under any federal statute. This standard places the bar for a plaintiff so high as to make the right of action meaningless. When information about our video rentals is wrongfully disclosed, federal law allows recovery of damages if that disclosure was "knowing." Medical records, which hold our most personal information, should be subject to at least this level of protection.

In addition, the limited remedies available under the bill could severely impair an individual's ability to find counsel to assist them in enforcing their rights. Restricting the award of noneconomic damages to $50,000 is unreasonable, and would have a disproportionate effect on those who have been subjected to the greatest harm. Further, not all harms stemming from wrongful disclosure of private health information are easily quantifiable. Wrongful disclosure of medical information can have dramatic effects on a person's reputation and standing in the community.

We also have serious concerns with the effect of language included in the Chairman's mark on state laws that pertain to minors and their rights to either permit or prevent access to their health information. We urge that the bill strike a balance and not disrupt any state law currently in effect.

Mr. Chairman, as you know, the Administration's general view is that federal statutes that establish new health protections for individuals should set a floor upon which states can build to address their unique circumstances. While we appreciate your inclusion of provisions to protect existing and future State laws governing public and mental health, we are concerned, in general, about a statutory design that preempts State laws. We intend to consider this issue carefully as we work with you to further strengthen the federal protections included in this legislation.

Finally, we are extremely concerned that this bill would allow unfettered access to and use of genetic information, under the guise of underwriting, in a way that undermines laws prohibiting such discrimination. Given the Committee's past interest in addressing such discrimination, we urge that the language be dropped from the bill, so that no one can misconstrue the intent of the bill.

In closing, let me reiterate that we appreciate the bipartisan progress that has been made, but regret that we cannot support the bill moving forward in Committee at this time. We look forward to working with you and the other Committee members to address the Administration's remaining concerns.

Sincerely,

Medical Records Confidentiality in the Modern Delivery of Health Care

Testimony submitted by

Ritzman Pharmacies, Inc.

on behalf of

NACDS

May 27, 1999

Mr. Chairman and Members of the Subcommittee, The National Association of Chain Drug Stores (NACDS) appreciates the opportunity to present testimony today regarding the important issue of protecting the confidentiality of patient medical records in today's modern health care delivery system.

Founded in 1933 and based in Alexandria, Virginia, the NACDS membership consists of over 130 retail chain community pharmacy companies. Collectively, chain community pharmacy comprises the largest component of pharmacy practice with over 93,000 pharmacists. The chain community pharmacy industry is comprised of over 19,000 traditional chain drug stores, 7,000 supermarket pharmacies and nearly 5,000 mass merchant pharmacies. NACDS members operate more than 31,000 retail community pharmacies with annual sales totaling over $135 billion including prescription drugs, over-the-counter (OTC) medications and health and beauty aids (HBA). Chain operated community retail pharmacies fill over 60% of the more than 2.73 billion prescriptions dispensed annually in the United States. Additionally, NACDS membership includes more than 1,400 suppliers of goods and services to chain community pharmacies and 96 international members from 26 foreign countries.

Executive Summary: NACDS Supports a Strong National Law

Let me begin by stating that NACDS supports enactment of a strong Federal confidentiality law that will preempt the patchwork of existing state laws and protect patient privacy. We want our patients to have confidence that their personal information is secure, while allowing chain pharmacies to appropriately utilize medical information as health care providers to maintain and improve patient care.

On this note, I'd like to point out that NACDS has endorsed S. 881, "The Medical Information Protection Act of 1999," introduced by Senator Robert Bennett (R-UT). Senator Bennett has been working to perfect his legislation for over five years and the resulting "Bennett bill" is the most comprehensive and thoughtful medical records privacy legislation introduced in Congress to date. While the legislation rightfully imposes tough penalties for the misuse of confidential patient information, it is carefully balanced to allow providers sufficient flexibility to appropriately utilize patient information to optimize patient care. It would also protect patient data without the inconvenience of burdensome paperwork on patients and providers.

NACDS also has worked for years to take a leading role on protecting patient privacy. Attached to my statement are ten "Principles to Protect the Confidentiality of Consumer Medical Records" that our industry created and continually updates to ensure chain pharmacies operate with protecting

Key Pharmacy Confidentiality Legislative Issues

Because retail pharmacies process about fifty percent of all health care payment claims, it is important that new Federal requirements for patient confidentiality not have a disproportionate effect on the ability of retail pharmacies to operate efficiently or provide integrated, comprehensive patient-oriented prescription services. NACDS supports Federal standardization of patient confidentiality safeguards that includes:

- Federal Pre-emption of State Laws: There are approximately 31,000 chain community pharmacies, many of which operate across state lines. However, more and more states have been enacting their own new (and differing) privacy laws and regulations, making it increasingly difficult for multi-state pharmacies to understand and comply with these laws in an efficient manner. Adding another Federal law on top of this or trying to determine which law is stronger, as some bills calls for, would create even more challenges for multi-state pharmacy operations.

Conflicts between Federal and state law could be virtually impossible for health care providers to identify and resolve on a patient-specific basis. Moreover, does the law in the state in which the patient resides prevail, or does the law in the state in which the product or service is being provided govern the transaction? This question is particularly important for pharmacies located near state borders.

Without Federal preemption, patients will be required to wait longer to obtain their prescription medications because pharmacies will be required to take additional time to determine whether to follow a specific provision of state or Federal law. For each patient, the pharmacist must first identify any conflicts between provisions of Federal and state law and then compare those provisions to determine which is the most restrictive. The pharmacist must make these two legal decisions while patients, or their designees, are waiting for their medications.

provide medication as efficiently and expeditiously as possible to sick patients. The impact on our patients is our most paramount concern, and, therefore, NACDS supports a comprehensive Federal standard that preempts state confidentiality laws.

- A Single Consolidated Authorization for the Use and Disclosure of Personally-

authorization for the purpose of obtaining patient authorization to use and disclose PHI for payment, treatment and health care operations. Such authorization is provided at the time that the patient enrolls in a health plan, or when an uninsured patient provides an authorization for these purposes to an "originating provider" of a prescription. Under this approach, the patient's prescription will be sufficient to use PHI for the purpose of practicing pharmacy as defined in state practice laws and by regulatory boards. This approach also limits the recordkeeping and reporting burdens of the patient or the provider.

To maximize patient convenience, any Federal confidentiality law must require employers, health plans, and originating providers to obtain from the patient a single consolidated authorization to use and disclose that patient's personally identifiable health care information for the purposes of treatment, payment, and health care operations.

Down-stream health care providers MUST be able to legally assume that the single consolidated authorization has been obtained, otherwise these providers will be forced to require patients to take the time to fill out an additional separate authorization form to protect themselves from litigation alleging a breach of the patient's confidentiality.

Since up to 40% of patients have others pick up or deliver both new and refill prescriptions, obtaining the additional separate authorization from all patients would be next to impossible.

Imposing a requirement that the patient personally pick up a prescription would inconvenience the patient and could jeopardize the health of the elderly, children, or the infirm who can't otherwise physically get to the drug store. Under some legislation already introduced, prescriptions could not be refilled until patients have signed the necessary multi-point authorization form, causing yet another patient inconvenience.

- Recognition of Pharmacy Practice Activities as a "Continuum of Care": In 1990, Congress passed the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (OBRA 90), which recognized that delivering pharmacy services involves more than just filling an original prescription. The role of the pharmacist, which continues to evolve, includes enhancing outcomes from medication use.

Pharmacy providers engage in a wide range of activities that use PHI. These include refill reminder programs, prospective and retrospective drug use review, disease management, physician-pharmacy collaborative practice agreements, and formulary management.

Moreover, given that over 70 percent of all prescriptions are "managed" by pharmacy providers for PBMs and third party payors, pharmacies are often contractually obligated to provide some of these services, to a range private and public plans, including Medicare + Choice plans, Medicaid and some Federal Employee Health Benefit (FEHBP) plans. NACDS believes that any new

Federal law should recognize that pharmacy is an evolving health profession whose role is to enhance appropriate outcomes from medication use through a continuum of care approach.

The definitions of health care and treatment in any confidentiality legislation should include compliance programs, refill reminder programs and pharmacy programs recognized by Federal and state agencies as disease management programs. Any Federal confidentiality law must recognize and provide flexibility for the evolving role of community pharmacy in the health care system. Most recently, the Health Care Financing Administration issued regulations reimbursing diabetes education management programs in pharmacies and many states recognize the value of pharmacy professionals providing educational and counseling services.

Implementation Issues for Retail Pharmacies

There are several important issues for chain community pharmacy relating to the implementation of new Federal privacy laws. Some of the more important considerations include:

Originating Providers: NACDS supports the rights of patients to inspect, copy and amend their medical records, and that the originating provider is the appropriate place for these operations to occur. Originating providers are those that initially prescribe a course of treatment and create the historical medical record, such as health plans, physicians or emergency rooms.

The originating provider of the prescription must be the primary source for patients to access,

Audit Trail Related to Disclosures: Some proposals would require pharmacies to maintain records for seven years and document each and every case in which PHI was disclosed - such as the date, purpose, and description of information disclosure - even when PHI is used for treatment or obtaining payment.

Such requirements would create tremendous time and work burdens on pharmacy providers, given that PHI is used for multiple operations each day to assure that the patient receives the appropriate therapy, the pharmacy meets operational guidelines of third party payors, and the pharmacy is reimbursed for providing the service. Such a proposal would result in enormous if not impossible workload requirements on our pharmacists and disclosure records would number in the multiple billions. The benefit of an audit trail and how often it is used must be weighed

Sufficient Time to Modify Computer Systems Like most health care providers, chain pharmacies have invested in expensive and sophisticated computer software systems to help process claims and help deliver pharmacy services. NACDS believes that a realistic time frame is needed to implement new uniform confidentiality standards, including time to develop software and hardware, test and distribute new products, and train employees in their use. Retail pharmacy estimates a minimum of 18 months would be needed to implement a new confidentiality law, once a law is passed or regulations are finalized.

*Testimony submitted to the Subcommittee on Health and Environment
Prepared by the National Association of Chain Drug Stores*

05/27/1999

Use of NCPDP Standards: The entire pharmaceutical industry relies on the National Council for Prescription Drug Programs (NCPDP) to establish standards for electronic transmission of prescription payment claims. Any new Federal confidentiality law must recognize the important role that NCPDP has and should continue to have as a standard-setting organization for the billions of retail pharmacy payment claims.

Other Key Issues

Other issues not specific to pharmacies are also extremely important to the entire health care continuum. Expanding or creating new Federal regulatory oversight of health provider operations must be examined carefully. Patient care must not be compromised in the name of added paperwork; consumer costs must not be driven up by excessive regulation; and basic common sense protections for privacy must take precedence.

For instance, creating an entire new right of private action specific to privacy should not be necessary. Consumers currently have legal recourse to sue if their medical records are used inappropriately.

In addition, especially when it comes to prescription drugs, falsely obtaining a prescription drug or controlled substance without a valid script from a physician can result in severe penalties and prosecution under Federal and state law. The penalties included in legislation introduced to date are severe, and would certainly deter any effort by a business or entity to illegally use or disclose patient identifiable information.

Let me reiterate that the use of electronic records and technology, if carefully coordinated and protected, results in a much safer and secure system that protects patient confidentiality, while providing for optimum care. Avoiding millions of pieces of paperwork that must be filed and maintained increases the protection of health care records.

Because this issue is so complex and so dependent upon the use of technology, detailed attention must be given to the coordination of technology and health care systems. It is critical that legislators and regulators "get it right." As was seen earlier this year in the state of Maine, a law that may sound good to consumers, but is not perfected before implementation, can disrupt the entire health care system. The Maine law was suspended by the legislature after being in effect for just two weeks and is currently under a two-year review.

In conclusion, we applaud you for holding this hearing on this complex but critical issue. With my testimony, I have also attached a list of key implementation issues and questions for persons to think about when drafting provisions with a potential impact on pharmacy. Thank you for providing me with the opportunity to testify today on behalf of Ritzman Pharmacies and NACDS. I'll be glad to answer any questions you may have.

NACDS Principles to Protect the Confidentiality of Consumer Medical Records

- 1) Patients Have the Right to Know Who May Access, Use, Share, or Further Disclose, Patient Identifiable Health Care Information. Insured patients' informed consent must be in writing, signed, and obtained by either the employer or the health plan. Uninsured patients' informed consent must be in writing, signed, and obtained by the originating provider who prescribes or orders the health care services.
- 2) A Patient's Informed Consent Should Authorize... health care providers to access, use, and share or further disclose patient identifiable health care information, to: 1) Provide treatment; 2) Seek payment; 3) Manage programs which improve outcomes and health care quality or result in reduced costs to consumers; and, 4) Undertake health care operations and utilize sufficient administrative information to support all of the above.
- 3) One National Law... must be the product of a national debate to assure confidentiality of patient medical records, while at the same time promoting quality of care and not unnecessarily increasing health care costs. It will be much easier for both patient and health care provider to understand and comply with one national law rather than 51 laws... a national law plus 50 different state laws.
- 4) Employers Must be Prohibited from Accessing Patient Identifiable Health Care Information... unless the patient signs a separate informed consent form.
- 5) Non-Patient Care or Marketing Activities... must be authorized by a separate patient consent for programs that are outside of the scope of treatment, payment, management of programs which improve outcomes and health care quality or result in reduced costs to consumers, and health care operations/administrative information

- 6) "Treatment"... is defined as everything that state boards of pharmacy allow pharmacists to do within the definition of the practice of pharmacy, including compliance, disease management, outcomes, and other quality assurance programs, from which patients may freely choose to withdraw or opt-out.
- 7) Patients Must have the Right to Inspect, Copy, and Amend (but not change) their Medical Records... at the originating provider, for a fee to cover copying and administrative costs.
- 8) Computer Security Must... safeguard patient identifiable health care information that is maintained or transmitted for any purpose.
- 9) The National Law Must Go into Effect Within a Reasonable Timeframe... to provide patient confidentiality protection as soon as possible, but also to allow health care providers reasonable time to develop, test, distribute, and to be trained to use new software to help them comply with this lengthy and complex legislation.
- 10) Those With Legitimate Access to Patient Identifiable Data Must Commit to Maintain and Abide by Confidentiality Laws. Penalties and fines should be imposed if individuals or entities knowingly and intentionally break the law.

Key Pharmacy Issues with Medical Records Confidentiality Legislation

- Full Federal preemption of the patchwork of state privacy laws, with an allowance for exceptions for communicable disease reporting, essential health data and vital statistics collection, is critical. Precedent exists in the financial institution sector. Without Federal preemption... pharmacies and pharmacists will NOT be able to comply with laws that cannot be readily found or quickly compared for conflicts between Federal and state law.
- Written authorizations should be obtained by originating providers, such as health plans and physicians, but not be required for downstream treatment authorized by those providers. Pharmacies account for about 50% of all consumer health care payment claims and patients and pharmacies could not handle additional form requirements for each prescription or initial visit.
- Consolidated authorizations for treatment and payment must create a "legal presumption" that allows pharmacies and other downstream health care providers to rely upon: that individuals, presenting health insurance cards or a valid prescription, have provided the necessary authorization for treatment and payment from their employer or health plan. The same assumption must be recognized for the non-insured... the originating provider obtained the necessary authorization.

- The definition of health care or treatment should include pharmacy compliance and disease management programs that are often required by Federal laws and rules and are a continuation of dispensing the prescription.
- Electronic data collection and data transmission provisions dealing with payment must not limit our ability to perform drug utilization review (DUR) and other quality enhancement measures, often required by Federal and state law.
- Pharmacists should not be required to obtain authorizations for counseling patients on OTC drugs.
- The definition of "individual representative" or next of kin should not interfere in allowing family members, friends, caregivers or neighbors to pick up prescriptions for patients.

- Pharmacy benefit cards must NOT be included in payment and electronic payment transaction limitations. If so, pharmacies which would no longer be allowed to transmit the NCPDP payment claim for payment because its information is MUCH broader than that required for payment. As a result, pharmacy benefit managers and health plans would no longer have access to the clinical information contained on the NCPDP payment claim necessary for DUR.

- Assurances should be made that Federal agencies will not use new penalty authority as they have under the False Claims Act or Controlled Substance Act to pursue providers for innocent and technical errors. If there is no harm to the patient and mistakes are innocent, providers should not be unduly punished for employee error.

KEY QUESTIONS IN DRAFTING CONFIDENTIALITY LEGISLATION

- Does the definition of health care include over-the-counter (OTC) drugs and medically “related items”? It should not, as the workload, confusion and consumer inconvenience would be prohibitive.
- Will bill language interfere in the common tradition of allowing relatives, friends, caregivers and neighbors pick up prescriptions for patients?
- Is it the intent of legislation to require separate, written authorizations for each pharmacy customer, despite the fact that patients have their choice in deciding where to deliver prescriptions to pharmacists directly, asking for treatment and granting permission for pharmacists to dispense and be paid?
- Have members and staff contemplated the impact of “Administrative Billing Information” and payment provisions and their possible impact on the use of the NCPDP prescription payment

- Is it clear that pharmacy benefit cards are not considered a “payment card”?
- Do lawmakers know that software experts have told industry that 18 months is the minimum time needed to create, test, and train pharmacists in using new software for pharmacy compliance with a new Federal privacy law and that it is unlikely that software can be developed and implemented for a bill that does not substantially preempt state laws?
- Is it the intent of legislators to limit the use of prescription information to issue discount coupons for over-the-counter drugs and products related to the treatment or prescription by requiring a written authorization?

Dear Mr. Ibarra:

As chair of the Southern Governors' Association (SGA), I am pleased to present to you the SGA policy statement on healthcare confidentiality. This statement was developed by our Task Force on Medical Technology and approved by the Southern Governors' Association. I commend you for your leadership in this area and respectfully submit our recommendations for your use during your deliberations in Congress on this most important matter.

As I am sure you would agree, the confidentiality of a patient's healthcare record is a fundamental right. It is a right that patients believe exists when they visit their physician in hope of receiving medical treatment that will improve their daily lives. But due to the surge in the field of information technology, that right may not exist for everyone. The answer to protecting this right is not to craft laws that ignore a state's role in the healthcare system but to create federal standards that allow a state to develop laws that address the needs of their diverse constituencies.

We understand that pursuant to the August 21 deadline enacted by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) of 1996, Congress is required to pass legislation establishing a federal baseline for healthcare confidentiality or forfeit its authority to the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services to implement safeguards through federal regulations. However, many states in the South and nationwide have already developed strong, effective laws relating to healthcare confidentiality and we want to ensure that these and future state laws will not be preempted by this federal baseline. Therefore, we urge you to consider these recommendations as you draft federal legislation and to recognize the need for each state to be able to construct laws designed to meet the needs of their populations.

Again, thank you for your valuable leadership on this important issue and consideration of our recommendations. If you have any questions about this statement or wish to discuss it further, please contact SGA Policy Analyst Catherine Finley at (202) 624-5897.

Sincerely,

Governor Don Sundquist

The Southern Governors' Association's Policy Statement on Healthcare Confidentiality

The members of the Southern Governors' Association (SGA) believe that confidentiality is one of the most important health care issues that Congress will debate this year. The decisions that Congress makes will affect consumers, healthcare providers and medical related industries in every state. Therefore, we believe that the role of states as regulators of healthcare and consumer advocates should be built upon and strengthened, not diminished. Additionally, a sound balance must be found that will protect the rights of consumers, while allowing vital healthcare research to move forward. As southern governors, we ask that the following principles be incorporated into any federal legislation:

- that states retain the prerogative to enact state safeguards that are stronger than a federal legislative floor, including those that are established as a part of regional compacts. Further, this prerogative shall not be subject to a time limit;
- that healthcare consumers be allowed to inspect, copy and, when inaccurate, correct their own protected health information through the appropriate procedure;
- that confidentiality practices be clearly and concisely provided in writing to consumers;
- that very strong administrative, technical and physical safeguards be required to protect the confidentiality, security, accuracy and integrity of protected health information, especially with regard to user authentication and audit trails;
- that healthcare providers be permitted to disclose protected health information when necessary in emergency circumstances, to the appropriate individual, to protect the health or safety of the patient;
- that strong measures are taken to prohibit protected health information disclosure to healthcare marketing companies and other related businesses without the specific written consent of a consumer, and that such consent shall not be "bundled" into other consents for treatment or payment;
- that healthcare providers be permitted to disclose nonidentifiable protected healthcare information for the purpose of private healthcare research. Further, that healthcare providers be permitted to disclose protected healthcare information to public health authorities and researchers to enable states to continue to have access to healthcare data for traditional state uses; and
- that strong civil and criminal penalties be established to punish those individuals and institutions who knowingly and willfully disclose protected healthcare information.

Dear Chairman Jeffords,

On behalf of the Administration, I want to commend you and the other Committee members for working in a cooperative, bipartisan manner to bring the "Health Information Confidentiality Act of 1999" to markup. While we continue to have significant concerns that would need to be addressed before we could support passage of this legislation by the full Senate, we are encouraged by the bipartisan progress made to date. This is an important piece of legislation that has the potential to help us to achieve the goal of so many Americans – the right to privacy for medical and health information.

The President has indicated his strong desire to see the Congress enact a comprehensive medical privacy bill this year. At the same time, we are working hard to make sure the Department is prepared to go forward with the regulations specified under HIPAA, if Congress is unable to pass such a bill. As the President said in his State of the Union Address:

"As more of our medical records are stored electronically, the threats to all our privacy increase. Because Congress has given me the authority to act if it does not do so by August, one way or another, we can all say to the American people, we will protect the privacy of medical records and we will do it this year."

In this regard, we are pleased to see that the Chairman's mark places important limits on the ways that health plans, providers and other health care-related organizations and individuals use and disclose personal health information. The mark incorporates changes that clarify that these limits apply both to disclosures between health care organizations as well as to disclosures within such organizations, requiring that protected health care information be provided to and used by only those individuals necessary to accomplish the purpose for which the information was obtained. For example, an employer generally could not disclose protected information gathered for the purpose of health care treatment and payment by the employer's group health plan to ~~employees~~ ^{many} charged with job performance or job placement functions. These limits are vital if Americans are to have confidence that they can seek treatment under their health insurance without fear that their personal information could be used against them in the workplace.

Similarly, we are very encouraged to see the Committee recognize that it should be unlawful ^{for} ~~someone~~ to disclose information that is not identifiable with the knowledge that the recipient will re-identify ^{it} ~~that information~~. We could not support a bill that includes loopholes that allow disclosure of information from which identifiers have been stripped or encoded to people who intend to re-identify that information. ~~False Emph promise / false sense of security~~ ^{the information}

We are also encouraged that the notice and authorization provisions together will provide consumers with the crucial information they need to understand how their health information will be used and their rights and responsibilities with respect to that information. While the notice provisions are vastly improved, we continue to have concerns regarding a provision that would make use of a model notice an "absolute defense" to a claim of inadequate notice, even if the information contained in the notice was not accurate for the circumstances in which it was used. While use of the model should provide some special legal protection, it should only do so if it accurately reflects use of the model.

With respect to non-federally funded health research, we are pleased that the Committee has included a review mechanism for researchers who wish to use medical records without obtaining a patient's prior authorization. We believe this section would be strengthened to ~~provide greater protection for the public~~ if some form of independent oversight were incorporated into this new process.

We are also pleased that the bill now makes clear that the allowable uses of protected health care information for health care operations apply only within the health plan or provider (and their agents) that originally obtains the information. Any sharing beyond that entity requires a separate authorization. Even within the entity, the allowable uses could not be expanded by contract beyond those for the purpose of the delivery of health benefits.

Underwriting what

Very well

While the improvements to your legislation have been significant, there are other areas that we believe require changes. The strength of any law conveying rights to individuals is their ability to enforce such rights. The standard in the bill under which an individual could bring a private action is too high.

Defin why is for back work that can't be step backwards

In the ever expanding, technology-based environment we live in, it is becoming easier and easier to identify individuals with only tidbits of either demographic or personal information. Because the Chairman's mark has a loose definition of "non-identifiable information", it is imperative that it be a crime for anyone to transmit the 'key' that allows such information to become identifiable. Absent such a prohibition, the bill would contain a significant loophole through which protected health information could be available to numerous parties for marketing or other purposes, all of which would be legal. Disclosing the key to re-identifying such information is no different than disclosing the identified information itself, and should be just as unlawful.

specifically say the key prohibition is not in the

We understand that there is a general consensus that this legislation should not affect state laws that pertain to minors and their rights to either permit or prevent access to their health information. Unfortunately, it appears that the provision currently in the bill may not achieve this purpose. The language should be changed to ensure it is consistent with this original purpose.

I think that

As you know, the Administration's general view is that federal statutes that establish new health protections for individuals should set a floor upon which states can build to address their unique circumstances. We are concerned, therefore, about a statutory design that preempts State laws, and are still analyzing the particular approach taken in your bill. We intend to consider this issue carefully as we work with you to further strengthen the federal protections included in this legislation.

Finally, we agree that an insurer or health plan has a right to request certain personal information for underwriting purposes before an individual enrolls in the plan. After enrollment, the insurer or the plan should not be permitted to use that information to conduct ongoing internal plan operations. Allowing access to such information may undermine State laws prohibiting genetic discrimination. Given the Committee's past interest in addressing such discrimination, we urge that the language be dropped from the bill, so that no one can misconstrue the intent of the bill.

In closing, let me reiterate that we believe that this bipartisan effort represents a positive step toward meaningful privacy legislation, and we are very pleased with the progress you have made in working with us on various issues. We look forward to working with you to strengthen the bill further prior to Senate floor consideration.

Sincerely,

Donna E. Shalala
