Office of Legislative Affairs

Office of the Assistant Attorney General

Washington, D.C. 20530

The Honorable James M. Jeffords
Chairman
Committee on Health, Education, Labor and Pensions
United States Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510-6300

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Thank you for the opportunity to present the views of the Department of Justice on behalf of the law enforcement community on pending legislation to protect the confidentiality of personal medical information. As Mr. John Bentivoglio, Special Counsel for Health Care Fraud, testified before the Committee on April 27, we look forward to working with you to support this important goal, while preserving the ability of the Department of Justice to enforce the laws within its jurisdiction, and also to oversee the integrity of the health care payment system. We believe that the Department can and should play a constructive role in this effort.

Subsequent to the hearing, we have reviewed the three primary medical record proposals pending in the Senate, S. 578, S. 573 and S. 881, with an eye toward addressing the concerns voiced by members during our testimony. In addition, the Department has met several times with the Staff of the Committee, to further explore these issues. We believe that the Department can support a number of important principles governing law enforcement access to and use of personal medical records, which would advance the protection of medical record privacy in a manner that would at the same time preserve the ability of law enforcement to obtain important evidence when necessary:

- Law enforcement agencies and employees should be permitted to obtain and use medical records only for official law enforcement activities.
- Law enforcement agencies and employees when pursuing an official oversight investigation, or related criminal or civil proceeding, should be permitted to obtain individually identifiable medical records for that purpose.
- When law enforcement obtains medical records in the course of administrative, civil or criminal health care fraud oversight activities, law enforcement should be restricted from using those records against an individual patient whose record is obtained, except: 1) where the medical record is relevant to an investigation of the patient relating to billing for health care; or 2) where the law enforcement agency makes an application for, and obtains, a judicial disclosure order in an ex-parte proceeding analogous to the provisions of 18 U.S.C. § 3486(e).
- As a general matter, law enforcement should continue to be permitted to obtain medical records of a patient pursuant to lawful compulsory process, including a grand jury subpoena, a warrant, a judicial subpoena, an administrative subpoena, an authorized investigative demand, or a civil investigative demand.
- In exigent circumstances, in order to prevent threatened or imminent harm to a patient or another person, law enforcement should be permitted to obtain the medical records of that patient, without compulsory process. In other exigent circumstances, not involving threatened or imminent harm, law enforcement should be permitted to obtain without compulsory process, limited information contained in medical records, to locate and identify a patient who is a fugitive, a suspect, or a material witness.
- Medical record privacy legislation should not preempt federal or state mandatory reporting laws which require the disclosure of limited medical information to law enforcement agencies, including the Drug Enforcement Agency. Such laws include, but are not limited to, mandatory reporting of gunshot wounds, abuse and neglect of children, elders, spouses; rape; and diversion of scheduled pharmaceuticals.

- Whistleblowers should be permitted to disclose medical records to law enforcement either directly or in the course of False Claims Act proceedings, when the disclosure of the medical records is related to the reporting potential false claims or fraud, or relevant to an official law enforcement activity;
- Law enforcement should be required when it is necessary to disclose medical information in public forums, such as court filings or trials, either to redact the medical records to the extent practicable, or to take other appropriate and reasonable steps to minimize the public disclosure of identifiable health information, consistent with the requirements of due process and the direction of the appropriate judicial or administrative hearing officer.
- The provisions governing the procedures for imposing and appealing civil penalties should make clear that they envision an administrative proceeding to review civil monetary penalties imposed by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, and do not contemplate a civil court proceeding by the Secretary in the United States District Courts. If a new cause of action in federal District Court for a civil fine is created, the Attorney General should be responsible for enforcing such a provision.
- Any provision that provides for injunctive relief to prevent or terminate violations of the statute, should be enforceable by the Attorney General.
- Law enforcement should be required to destroy or return medical records to the original record-holder when the official law enforcement activity requiring the retention of those records has concluded, and no other applicable law or regulation requires that the medical records be retained by law enforcement.
- References to law enforcement should include federal, state and local law enforcement.
- Special concerns govern the operation of jails, prisons and detention facilities. These institutions perform hybrid functions that run from law enforcement to actually providing medical care to prisoners and detainees. These special concerns should be addressed by generally exempting these institutions from the obligations and duties imposed by medical record privacy legislation. However, these institutions should be restricted from disclosing, using or obtaining medical information, except for an official activity. Also, the final language legislative language governing these facilities, must insure that they are permitted to exchange prisoner or detainee health records, without patient authorization, with community health care providers who provide health care services to the prisoners or detainees.

We believe that medical record privacy legislation that incorporates these principles would substantially enhance the protection of medical record privacy, while preserving the ability of law enforcement to perform its important duties. Many of these principles are already incorporated in one or more of the bills. The Department looks forward to continuing to work with you, the Committee and the staff on this important legislation.

Thank you for the opportunity to present our views on this matter. If we may be of additional assistance, we trust that you will not hesitate to call upon us. The Office of Management and Budget has advised that there is no objection from the standpoint of the Administration's program to the presentation of this report.

Sincerely,

Jon P. Jennings,
Acting Assistant Attorney General

Viz:

- 1 Beginning on page 17, strike line 9 and all that fol-
- 2 lows through line 1 on page 18, and insert the following:
- 3 "SEC. 726. PROHIBITION OF INTERFERENCE WITH CERTAIN
- 4 MEDICAL COMMUNICATIONS.
- 5 "(a) PROHIBITION.—
- 6 "(1) GENERAL RULE.—The provisions of any
- 7 contract or agreement, or the operation of any con-
- 8 tract or agreement, between a group health plan (in-
- 9 cluding any partnership, association, or other orga-
- 10 nization that enters into or administers such a con-

1 tract or agreement) and a health care provider (or 2 group of health care providers) shall not prohibit or 3 restrict the provider from engaging in medical com-4 munications with the provider's patient.

5 “(2) NULLIFICATION.—Any contract provision 6 or agreement described in paragraph (1) shall be 7 null and void.

8 “(b) RULES OF CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this 9 section shall be construed—

10 “(1) to prohibit the enforcement, as part of a 11 contract or agreement to which a health care pro-12 vider is a party, of any mutually agreed upon terms 13 and conditions, including terms and conditions re-14 quiring a health care provider to participate in, and 15 cooperate with, all programs, policies, and proce-16 dures developed or operated by a group health plan 17 to assure, review, or improve the quality and effec-18 tive utilization of health care services (if such utili-19 zation is according to guidelines or protocols that 20 are based on clinical or scientific evidence and the 21 professional judgment of the provider) but only if 22 the guidelines or protocols under such utilization do 23 not prohibit or restrict medical communications be-24 tween providers and their patients; or

1 “(2) to permit a health care provider to mis-2 represent the scope of benefits covered under the 3 group health plan or to otherwise require a group 4 health plan to reimburse providers for benefits not 5 covered under the plan.

6 “(c) MEDICAL COMMUNICATION DEFINED.—In this 7 section:

8 “(1) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘medical commu-
9 nication’ means any communication made by a 10 health care provider with a patient of the health care 11 provider (or the guardian or legal representative of 12 such patient) with respect to—13 “(A) the patient’s health status, medical 14 care, or treatment options;

15 “(B) any utilization review requirements 16 that may affect treatment options for the pa-17 tient; or

18 “(C) any financial incentives that may af-19 fect the treatment of the patient.

20 “(2) MISREPRESENTATION.—The term ‘medical 21 communication’ does not include a communication 22 by a health care provider with a patient of the 23 health care provider (or the guardian or legal rep-24 resentative of such patient) if the communication in-

1 involves a knowing or willful misrepresentation by 2 such provider.

3 "SEC. 727. ADDITIONAL RULES REGARDING PARTICIPATION
4 OF HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONALS.

5 "(a) PROCEDURES.—Insofar as a group health plan 6 provides benefits through participating health care profes-7 sionals, the plan shall establish reasonable procedures re-8 lating to the participation (under an agreement between 9 a professional and the plan) of such professionals under 10 the plan or coverage. Such procedures shall include—

11 "(1) providing notice of the rules regarding par-12 ticipation;

13 "(2) providing written notice of participation 14 decisions that are adverse to professionals; and 15 "(3) providing a process within the plan for ap-16 pealing such adverse decisions, including the presen-17 tation of information and views of the professional 18 regarding such decision.

19 "(b) CONSULTATION IN MEDICAL POLICIES.—A 20 group health plan shall consult with participating physi-21 cians (if any) regarding the plan's medical policy, quality, 22 and medical management procedures.

23 "SEC. 728. PROTECTION FOR PATIENT ADVOCACY.

24 "(a) PROTECTION FOR USE OF UTILIZATION REVIEW
25 AND GRIEVANCE PROCESS.—A group health plan may not

1 retaliate against a participant or beneficiary, or health 2 care provider based on the participant's or beneficiary's, 3 or provider's use of, or participation in, a utilization re-4 view process or a grievance process of the plan (including 5 an internal or external review or appeal process).

6 “(b) PROTECTION FOR QUALITY ADVOCACY BY 7 HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONALS.—

8 “(1) IN GENERAL.—A group health plan may 9 not retaliate or discriminate against a protected 10 health care professional because the professional in 11 good faith—

12 “(A) discloses information relating to the 13 care, services, or conditions affecting one or 14 more participants or beneficiaries of the plan to 15 an appropriate public regulatory agency, an ap-16 propriate private accreditation body, or appro-17 priate management personnel of the plan; or

18 “(B) initiates, cooperates, or otherwise 19 participates in an investigation or proceeding by 20 such an agency with respect to such care, serv-21 ices, or conditions.

22 If an institutional health care provider is a partici-
23 pating provider with such a plan or otherwise re-24 ceives payments for benefits provided by such a 25 plan, the provisions of the previous sentence shall

1 apply to the provider in relation to care, services, or 2 conditions affecting one or more patients within an 3 institutional health care provider in the same man-4 ner as they apply to the plan in relation to care, 5 services, or conditions provided to one or more par-
6 ticipants or beneficiaries; and for purposes of apply-7 ing this sentence, any reference to a plan is deemed 8 a reference to the institutional health care provider.

9 “(2) GOOD FAITH ACTION.—For purposes of 10 paragraph (1), a protected health care professional 11 is considered to be acting in good faith with respect 12 to disclosure of information or participation if, with 13 respect to the information disclosed as part of the 14 action—

15 “(A) the disclosure is made on the basis of 16 personal knowledge and is consistent with that 17 degree of learning and skill ordinarily possessed 18 by health care professionals with the same li-19 censure or certification and the same experi-20 ence;

21 “(B) the professional reasonably believes 22 the information to be true;

23 “(C) the information evidences either a 24 violation of a law, rule, or regulation, of an ap-25 plicable accreditation standard, or of a gen-

1 erally recognized professional or clinical stand-2 ard or that a patient is in imminent hazard of 3 loss of life or serious injury; and 4 “(D) subject to subparagraphs (B) and (C) 5 of paragraph (3), the professional has followed 6 reasonable internal procedures of the plan or 7 institutional health care provider established or 8 the purpose of addressing quality concerns be-9 fore making the disclosure.

10 “(3) EXCEPTION AND SPECIAL RULE.—

11 “(A) GENERAL EXCEPTION.—Paragraph 12 (1) does not protect disclosures that would vio-13 late Federal or State law or diminish or impair 14 the rights of any person to the continued pro-15 tection of confidentiality of communications 16 provided by such law.

17 “(B) NOTICE OF INTERNAL PROCE-
18 DURES.—Subparagraph (D) of paragraph (2)
19 shall not apply unless the internal procedures 20 involved are reasonably expected to be known to 21 the health care professional involved. For pur-22 poses of this subparagraph, a health care pro-23 fessional is reasonably expected to know of in-24 ternal procedures if those procedures have been

1 made available to the professional through dis-
2 tribution or posting.

3 “(C) INTERNAL PROCEDURE EXCEP-
4 TION.—Subparagraph (D) of paragraph (2)
5 also shall not apply if—

6 “(i) the disclosure relates to an immi-
7 nent hazard of loss of life or serious injury 8 to a patient;

9 “(ii) the disclosure is made to an ap-10 propriate private accreditation body pursu-11 ant to disclosure procedures established by 12 the body; or

13 “(iii) the disclosure is in response to 14 an inquiry made in an investigation or pro-15 ceeding of an appropriate public regulatory 16 agency and the information disclosed is 17 limited to the scope of the investigation or 18 proceeding.

19 “(4) ADDITIONAL CONSIDERATIONS.—It shall 20 not be a violation of paragraph (1) to take an ad-21 verse action against a protected health care profes-22 sional if the plan or provider taking the adverse ac-23 tion involved demonstrates that it would have taken 24 the same adverse action even in the absence of the 25 activities protected under such paragraph.

1 “(5) NOTICE.—A group health plan and institu-2 tional health care provider shall post a notice, to be 3 provided or approved by the Secretary of Labor, set-4 ting forth excerpts from, or summaries of, the perti-
5 nent provisions of this subsection and information 6 pertaining to enforcement of such provisions.

7 “(6) CONSTRUCTIONS.—

8 “(A) DETERMINATIONS OF COVERAGE.—
9 Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to 10 prohibit a plan from making a determination 11 not to pay for a particular medical treatment or 12 service or the services of a type of health care 13 professional.

14 “(B) ENFORCEMENT OF PEER REVIEW
15 PROTOCOLS AND INTERNAL PROCEDURES.—
16 Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to 17 prohibit a plan or provider from establishing 18 and enforcing reasonable peer review or utiliza-19 tion review protocols or determining whether a 20 protected health care professional has complied 21 with those protocols or from establishing and 22 enforcing internal procedures for the purpose of 23 addressing quality concerns.

24 “(C) RELATION TO OTHER RIGHTS.—
25 Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to

1 abridge rights of participants, beneficiaries, and 2 protected health care professionals under other 3 applicable Federal or State laws.

4 “(7) PROTECTED HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONAL 5 DEFINED.—For purposes of this subsection, the 6 term ‘protected health care professional’ means an 7 individual who is a licensed or certified health care 8 professional and who—

9 “(A) with respect to a group health plan is 10 an employee of the plan or has a contract with 11 the plan for provision of services for which ben-12 efits are available under the plan; or

13 “(B) with respect to an institutional health 14 care provider, is an employee of the provider or 15 has a contract or other arrangement with the 16 provider respecting the provision of health care 17 services.

18 “SEC. 729. PROHIBITION AGAINST IMPROPER INCENTIVE
19 ARRANGEMENTS.

20 “(a) PROHIBITION OF IMPROPER PHYSICIAN INCEN-21 TIVE PLANS.—

22 “(1) IN GENERAL.—A group health plan may 23 not operate any physician incentive plan (as defined 24 in subparagraph (B) of section 1876(i)(8) of the So-25 cial Security Act) unless the requirements described

1 in subparagraph (A) of such section are met with re-2 spect to such a plan.

3 “(2) APPLICATION.—For purposes of carrying 4 out paragraph (1), any reference in section 5 1876(i)(8) of the Social Security Act to the Sec-6 retary, an eligible organization, or an individual en-7 rolled with the organization shall be treated as a ref-8 erence to the applicable authority or a group health 9 plan, respectively, and a participant or beneficiary 10 with the plan respectively.

11 “(b) PROHIBITION OF CONTINGENT COMPENSATION 12 ARRANGEMENTS IN UTILIZATION REVIEW PROGRAMS.—
13 A utilization review program maintained by a group health 14 plan shall not, with respect to utilization review activities, 15 permit or provide compensation or anything of value to 16 its employees, agents, or contractors in a manner that—17 “(1) provides incentives, direct or indirect, for 18 such persons to make inappropriate review decisions, 19 or

20 “(2) is based, directly or indirectly, on the 21 quantity or type of [adverse] determinations rendered.

22 “(c) PROHIBITION OF CONFLICTS.—A program de-23 scribed in subsection (b) shall not permit a health care 24 professional who provides health care services to an indi-
25 vidual to perform utilization review activities in connection

1 with the health care services being provided to the individ-2 ual.

3 "SEC. 730. APPLICABILITY AND OTHER PROVISIONS.

4 “(a) APPLICABILITY.—Notwithstanding section 5 730A(a), the provisions of sections 726, 727, 728, and 6 729 shall apply to group health plans and health insurance 7 issuers as if included in—

8 “(1) subpart 2 of part A of title XXVII of the 9 Public Health Service Act;

10 “(2) the first subpart 3 of part B of title 11 XXVII of the Public Health Service Act (relating to 12 other requirements); and

13 “(3) subchapter B of chapter 100 of the Inter-
14 nal Revenue Code of 1986.

15 “(b) NO IMPACT ON SOCIAL SECURITY TRUST
16 FUND.—

17 “(1) IN GENERAL.—Nothing in sections 726, 18 727, 728 and 729 shall be construed to alter or 19 amend the Social Security Act (or any regulation 20 promulgated under that Act).

21 “(2) TRANSFERS.—

22 “(A) ESTIMATE OF SECRETARY.—The Sec-
23 retary of the Treasury shall annually estimate
24 the impact that the enactment of the sections 25 referred to in paragraph (1) has on the income

1 and balances of the trust funds established
2 under section 201 of the Social Security Act
3 (42 U.S.C. 401).

4 “(B) TRANSFER OF FUNDS.—If, under
5 subparagraph (A), the Secretary of the Treas-
6 ury estimates that the enactment of the sec-
7 tions referred to in paragraph (1) has a nega-8 tive impact on the income and balances of the 9 trust funds established under section 201 of the 10 Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 401), the Sec-11 retary shall transfer, not less frequently than 12 quarterly, from the general revenues of the 13 Federal Government an amount sufficient so as 14 to ensure that the income and balances of such 15 trust funds are not reduced as a result of the 16 enactment of such sections.

17 “(c) NONAPPLICATION OF CERTAIN PROVISION.—
18 Section 2721(b)(2) of the Public Health Service Act shall 19 not apply to the provisions of this section.

4 "(a) COVERAGE OF EMERGENCY SERVICES.—
5 "(1) IN GENERAL.—If a group health plan pro-6 vides any benefits with respect to emergency services 7 (as defined in paragraph (2)(B)), the plan shall 8 cover emergency services furnished under the plan—9 "(A) without the need for any prior au- 10 thorization determination;

1 “(B) whether or not the health care pro-
2 vider furnishing such services is a participating 3 provider with respect to such services;

4 “(C) in a manner so that, if such services 5 are provided to a participant or beneficiary by 6 a nonparticipating health care provider^{OR} without ✓ 7 prior authorization by the plan—

8 “(i) the participant or beneficiary is 9 not liable for amounts that exceed the 10 amounts of liability that would be incurred 11 if the services were provided by a partici-
12 pating health care provider^{OR} without prior ✓✓ 13 authorization by the plan, and 14 “(ii) the plan pays an amount that is 15 not less than the amount paid to a partici-

23 Service Act, or section 9801 of the Internal 24 Revenue Code of 1986, and other than applica-25 ble cost-sharing).

1 “(2) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

2 “(A) EMERGENCY MEDICAL CONDITION
3 BASED ON PRUDENT LAYPERSON STANDARD.—

4 The term ‘emergency medical condition’ means 5 a medical condition manifesting itself by acute 6 symptoms of sufficient severity (including se-7 vere pain) such that a prudent layperson, who 8 possesses an average knowledge of health and 9 medicine, could reasonably expect the absence 10 of immediate medical attention to result in a 11 condition described in clause (i), (ii), or (iii) of 12 section 1867(e)(1)(A) of the Social Security 13 Act.

14 “(B) EMERGENCY SERVICES.—The term
15 ‘emergency services’ means—

16 “(i) a medical screening examination 17 (as required under section 1867 of the So-18 cial Security Act) that is within the capa-19 bility of the emergency department of a 20 hospital, including ancillary services rou-
21 tinely available to the emergency depart-22 ment to evaluate an emergency medical 23 condition (as defined in subparagraph 24 (A)), and

1 “(ii) within the capabilities of the 2 staff and facilities available at the hospital, 3 such further medical examination and 4 treatment as are required under section 5 1867 of such Act to stabilize the patient.

6 “(b) REIMBURSEMENT FOR MAINTENANCE CARE
7 AND POST-STABILIZATION CARE.—In the case of services 8 (other than emergency services) for which benefits are 9 available under a group health plan, ^{and not the plan} the plan shall provide 10 for reimbursement with respect to such services provided 11 to a participant or beneficiary other than through a par-12 ticipating health care provider in a manner consistent with 13 subsection (a)(1)(C) ^{as such services are} ~~if the services are~~ maintenance care 14 or post-stabilization care covered under the guidelines es-15 tablished under section 1852(d)(2) of the Social Security 16 Act (relating to promoting efficient and timely coordina-17 tion of appropriate maintenance and post-stabilization 18 care of a participant or beneficiary after the participant 19 or beneficiary has been determined to be stable), ^{or, in} 20 the absence of guidelines under such section, such guide-21 lines as the Secretary shall establish to carry out this sub-22 section.

23 “(c) APPLICABILITY.—Notwithstanding section
24 727(a), the provisions of this section shall apply to group

1 health plans and health insurance issuers as if included
2 in—

3 “(1) subpart 2 of part A of title XXVII of the 4 Public Health Service Act;

5 “(2) the first subpart 3 of part B of title
6 XXVII of the Public Health Service Act (relating to 7 other requirements); and

8 “(3) subchapter B of chapter 100 of the Inter-
9 nal Revenue Code of 1986.

10 “(d) NO IMPACT ON SOCIAL SECURITY TRUST
11 FUND.—

12 “(1) IN GENERAL.—Nothing in this section
13 shall be construed to alter or amend the Social Secu-14 rity Act (or any regulation promulgated under that 15 Act).

16 “(2) TRANSFERS.—

17 “(A) ESTIMATE OF SECRETARY.—The Sec-
18 retary of the Treasury shall annually estimate
19 the impact that the enactment of this section
20 has on the income and balances of the trust
21 funds established under section 201 of the So-
22 cial Security Act (42 U.S.C. 401).

23 “(B) TRANSFER OF FUNDS.—If, under
24 subparagraph (A), the Secretary of the Treas-
25 ury estimates that the enactment of this section

1 has a negative impact on the income and bal-
2 ances of the trust funds established under sec-
3 tion 201 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C.
4 401), the Secretary shall transfer, not less fre-
5 quently than quarterly, from the general reve-
6 nues of the Federal Government an amount
7 sufficient so as to ensure that the income and 8 balances of such trust funds are not reduced as 9 a result of the enactment of such section.

AMENDMENT intended to be proposed by

Viz:

1 On page 11, between lines 17 and 18, insert the fol-
2 lowing:

3 SEC. 723A. ACCESS TO SPECIALTY CARE.

4 “(a) SPECIALTY CARE.—

5 “(1) SPECIALTY CARE FOR COVERED SERV-
6 ICES.—

7 “(A) IN GENERAL.—If—

8 “(i) an individual is a participant or 9 beneficiary under a group health plan,

10 “(ii) the individual has a condition or 11 disease of sufficient seriousness and com-

1 plexity to require treatment by a specialist, 2 and

3 “(iii) benefits for such treatment are 4 provided under the plan, 5 the plan shall make or provide for a referral to 6 a specialist who is available and accessible to 7 provide the treatment for such condition or dis-8 ease.

9 “(B) SPECIALIST DEFINED.—For purposes
10 of this subsection, the term ‘specialist’ means, 11 with respect to a condition, a health care practi-12 tioner, facility, or center (such as a center of 13 excellence) that has adequate expertise through 14 appropriate training and experience (including, 15 in the case of a child, appropriate pediatric ex-16 pertise) to provide high quality care in treating 17 the condition.

18 “(C) CARE UNDER REFERRAL.—A group
19 health plan may require that the care provided 20 to an individual pursuant to such referral under 21 subparagraph (A) be—

22 “(i) pursuant to a treatment plan, 23 only if the treatment plan is developed by 24 the specialist and approved by the plan, in 25 consultation with the designated primary

1 care provider or specialist and the individ-2 ual (or the individual's designee), and

3 "(ii) in accordance with applicable
4 quality assurance and utilization review
5 standards of the plan.

6 Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as 7 preventing such a treatment plan for an individ-8 ual from requiring a specialist to provide the 9 primary care provider with regular updates on 10 the specialty care provided, as well as all nec-11 essary medical information.

12 "(D) REFERRALS TO PARTICIPATING PRO-
13 VIDERS.—A group health plan is not required 14 under subparagraph (A) to provide for a refer-15 ral to a specialist that is not a participating 16 provider, unless the plan does not have an ap-17 propriate specialist that is available and acces-18 sible to treat the individual's condition and that 19 is a participating provider with respect to such 20 treatment.

21 "(E) TREATMENT OF NONPARTICIPATING
22 PROVIDERS.—If a plan refers an individual to a 23 nonparticipating specialist pursuant to subpara-24 graph (A), services provided pursuant to the 25 approved treatment plan (if any) shall be pro-

1 vided at no additional cost to the individual be-2 yond what the individual would otherwise pay 3 for services received by such a specialist that is 4 a participating provider.

5 “(2) SPECIALISTS AS PRIMARY CARE PROVID-
6 ERS.—

7 “(A) IN GENERAL.—A group health plan
8 shall have a procedure by which an individual 9 who is a participant or beneficiary and who has 10 an ongoing special condition (as defined in sub-11 paragraph (C)) may receive a referral to a spe-12 cialist for such condition who shall be respon-13 sible for and capable of providing and coordi-
14 nating the individual’s primary and specialty 15 care. If such an individual’s care would most 16 appropriately be coordinated by such a special-17 ist, such plan shall refer the individual to such 18 specialist.

19 “(B) TREATMENT AS PRIMARY CARE PRO-20 VIDER.—Such specialist shall be permitted to 21 treat the individual without a referral from the 22 individual’s primary care provider and may au-23 thorize such referrals, procedures, tests, and 24 other medical services as the individual’s pri-25 mary care provider would otherwise be permitted to provide or authorize, subject to the terms of the treatment plan (referred to in paragraph (1)(C)(i)).

“(C) ONGOING SPECIAL CONDITION DEFINED.—In this paragraph, the term “special condition” means a condition or disease that—“(i) is life-threatening, degenerative, or disabling, and

“(ii) requires specialized medical care over a prolonged period of time.

“(D) TERMS OF REFERRAL.—The provisions of subparagraphs (C) through (E) of paragraph (1) apply with respect to referrals under subparagraph (A) of this paragraph in the same manner as they apply to referrals under paragraph (1)(A).

“(3) STANDING REFERRALS.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—A group health plan shall have a procedure by which an individual who is a participant or beneficiary and who has a condition that requires ongoing care from a specialist may receive a standing referral to such specialist for treatment of such condition. If the plan, or if the primary care provider in consultation with the medical director of the

1 plan and the specialist (if any), determines that 2 such a standing referral is appropriate, the plan 3 shall make such a referral to such a specialist.

4 “(B) TERMS OF REFERRAL.—The provi-5 sions of subparagraphs (C) through (E) of 6 paragraph (1) apply with respect to referrals 7 under subparagraph (A) of this paragraph in 8 the same manner as they apply to referrals
9 under paragraph (1)(A).

10 “(b) OBSTETRICAL AND GYNECOLOGICAL CARE.—If 11 a group health plan requires or provides for a participant 12 or beneficiary to designate a participating primary care 13 provider the plan shall permit such an individual who is 14 a female to designate a participating physician who spe-15 cializes in obstetrics and gynecology as the individual’s 16 primary care provider.

17 “(c) APPLICABILITY.—Notwithstanding section
18 727(a), the provisions of this section shall apply to group
19 health plans and health insurance issuers as if included 20 in—

21 “(1) subpart 2 of part A of title XXVII of the 22 Public Health Service Act;

23 “(2) the first subpart 3 of part B of title
24 XXVII of the Public Health Service Act (relating to 25 other requirements); and

1 “(3) subchapter B of chapter 100 of the Inter-
2 nal Revenue Code of 1986.

3 “(d) NO IMPACT ON SOCIAL SECURITY TRUST
4 FUND.—

5 “(1) IN GENERAL.—Nothing in this section
6 shall be construed to alter or amend the Social Secu-
7 rity Act (or any regulation promulgated under that 8 Act).

9 “(2) TRANSFERS.—

10 “(A) ESTIMATE OF SECRETARY.—The Sec-
11 retary of the Treasury shall annually estimate
12 the impact that the enactment of this section
13 has on the income and balances of the trust
14 funds established under section 201 of the So-
15 cial Security Act (42 U.S.C. 401).

16 “(B) TRANSFER OF FUNDS.—If, under
17 subparagraph (A), the Secretary of the Treas-
18 ury estimates that the enactment of this section
19 has a negative impact on the income and bal-
20 ances of the trust funds established under sec-
21 tion 201 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C.
22 401), the Secretary shall transfer, not less fre-
23 quently than quarterly, from the general reve-
24 nues of the Federal Government an amount
25 sufficient so as to ensure that the income and

1 balances of such trust funds are not reduced as
2 a result of the enactment of such section.

3 “(e) NONAPPLICATION OF CERTAIN PROVISION.—
4 Section 2721(b)(2) of the Public Health Service Act shall 5 not apply to the provisions of this section.

Viz:

1 Beginning on page 12, strike line 21 and all that fol-
2 lows through line 8 on page 17, and insert the following:
3 "SEC. 725. CONTINUITY OF CARE.
4 "(a) IN GENERAL.—
5 "(1) TERMINATION OF PROVIDER.—If a con-6 tract between a group health plan and a health care 7 provider is terminated (as defined in paragraph (2)), 8 or benefits or coverage provided by a health care 9 provider are terminated because of a change in the 10 terms of provider participation in a group health 11 plan, and an individual who is a participant or bene-

1 ficiary in the plan is undergoing a course of treat-2 ment from the provider at the time of such termi-3 nation, the plan shall—

4 “(A) notify the individual on a timely basis 5 of such termination, and 6 “(B) subject to subsection (c), permit the 7 individual to continue or be covered with re-8 spect to the course of treatment with the pro-9 vider’s consent during a transitional period (as 10 provided under subsection (b)).

11 “(2) TREATMENT OF TERMINATION OF CON-12 TRACT WITH HEALTH INSURANCE ISSUER.—If a 13 contract for the provision of health insurance cov-14 erage between a group health plan and a health in-15 surance issuer is terminated and, as a result of such 16 termination, coverage of services of a health care 17 provider is terminated with respect to an individual, 18 the provisions of paragraph (1) (and the succeeding 19 provisions of this section) shall apply under the plan 20 in the same manner as if there had been a contract 21 between the plan and the provider that had been ter-22 minated, but only with respect to benefits that are 23 covered under the plan after the contract termi-24 nation.

1 “(3) TERMINATION.—In this section, the term 2 ‘terminated’ includes, with respect to a contract, the 3 expiration or nonrenewal of the contract by the 4 group health plan, but does not include a termi-
5 nation of the contract by the plan for failure to meet 6 applicable quality standards or for fraud.

7 “(b) TRANSITIONAL PERIOD.—

8 “(1) GENERAL RULE.—Except as provided in 9 paragraphs (2) through (4), the transitional period
10 under this subsection shall extend for at least 90 11 days from the date of the notice described in sub-12 section (a)(1)(A) of the provider’s termination.

13 “(2) INSTITUTIONAL CARE.—The transitional 14 period under this subsection for institutional or in-15 patient care from a provider shall extend until the 16 discharge or termination of the period of institu-17 tionalization and also shall include institutional care 18 provided within a reasonable time of the date of ter-19 mination of the provider status if the care was 20 scheduled before the date of the announcement of 21 the termination of the provider status under sub-22 section (a)(1)(A) or if the individual on such date 23 was on an established waiting list or otherwise 24 scheduled to have such care.

1 “(3) PREGNANCY.—Notwithstanding paragraph 2 (1), if—

3 “(A) a participant or beneficiary has en-4 tered the second trimester of pregnancy at the 5 time of a provider’s termination of participa-6 tion; and

7 “(B) the provider was treating the preg-8 nancy before the date of the termination; 9 the transitional period under this subsection with re-10 spect to provider’s treatment of the pregnancy shall 11 extend through the provision of post-partum care di-12 rectly related to the delivery.

13 “(4) TERMINAL ILLNESS.—If—

14 “(A) a participant or beneficiary was de-15 termined to be terminally ill (as determined 16 under section 1861(dd)(3)(A) of the Social Se-17 curity Act) at the time of a provider’s termi-18 nation of participation; and 19 “(B) the provider was treating the termi-20 nal illness before the date of termination; 21 the transitional period under this subsection shall 22 extend for the remainder of the individual’s life for 23 care directly related to the treatment of the terminal 24 illness.

1 “(c) PERMISSIBLE TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—A
2 group health plan may condition coverage of continued 3 treatment by a provider under subsection (a)(1)(B) upon 4 the provider agreeing to the following terms and condi-
5 tions:

6 “(1) The provider agrees to accept reimburse-7 ment from the plan and individual involved (with re-8 spect to cost-sharing) at the rates applicable prior to 9 the start of the transitional period as payment in 10 full (or, in the case described in subsection (a)(2), 11 at the rates applicable under the replacement plan 12 after the date of the termination of the contract with 13 the group health plan) and not to impose cost-shar-14 ing with respect to the individual in an amount that 15 would exceed the cost-sharing that could have been 16 imposed if the contract referred to in subsection 17 (a)(1) had not been terminated.

18 “(2) The provider agrees to adhere to the qual-19 ity assurance standards of the plan responsible for 20 payment under paragraph (1) and to provide to such 21 plan necessary medical information related to the 22 care provided.

23 “(3) The provider agrees otherwise to adhere to 24 such plan’s policies and procedures, including proce-25 dures regarding referrals and obtaining prior au-

1 thorization and providing services pursuant to a 2 treatment plan (if any) approved by the plan.

3 “(d) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this sec-4 tion shall be construed to require the coverage of benefits
5 which would not have been covered if the provider involved 6 remained a participating provider.

7 “(e) DEFINITION.—In this section, the term ‘health 8 care provider’ or ‘provider’ means—

9 “(1) any individual who is engaged in the deliv-10 ery of health care services in a State and who is re-11 quired by State law or regulation to be licensed or 12 certified by the State to engage in the delivery of 13 such services in the State; and 14 “(2) any entity that is engaged in the delivery 15 of health care services in a State and that, if it is 16 required by State law or regulation to be licensed or 17 certified by the State to engage in the delivery of 18 such services in the State, is so licensed.

19 “(f) NO IMPACT ON SOCIAL SECURITY TRUST
20 FUND.—

21 “(1) IN GENERAL.—Nothing in this section
22 shall be construed to alter or amend the Social Secu-
23 rity Act (or any regulation promulgated under that 24 Act).

25 “(2) TRANSFERS.—

1 “(A) ESTIMATE OF SECRETARY.—The Sec-
2 retary of the Treasury shall annually estimate
3 the impact that the enactment of this section
4 has on the income and balances of the trust
5 funds established under section 201 of the So-
6 cial Security Act (42 U.S.C. 401).

7 “(B) TRANSFER OF FUNDS.—If, under
8 subparagraph (A), the Secretary of the Treas-
9 ury estimates that the enactment of this section
10 has a negative impact on the income and bal-
11 ances of the trust funds established under sec-
12 tion 201 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C.
13 401), the Secretary shall transfer, not less fre-
14 quently than quarterly, from the general reve-
15 nues of the Federal Government an amount
16 sufficient so as to ensure that the income and 17 balances of such trust funds are not reduced as 18 a result of the enactment of this section.

19 “(g) NONAPPLICATION OF CERTAIN PROVISION.—
20 Section 2721(b)(2) of the Public Health Service Act shall 21 not apply to the provisions of this section.

21 “(A) ESTIMATE OF SECRETARY.—The Sec-
22 retary of the Treasury shall annually estimate
23 the impact that the enactment of this section
24 has on the income and balances of the trust

1 funds established under section 201 of the So-
2 cial Security Act (42 U.S.C. 401).

3 “(B) TRANSFER OF FUNDS.—If, under
4 subparagraph (A), the Secretary of the Treas-
5 ury estimates that the enactment of this section
6 has a negative impact on the income and bal-
7 ances of the trust funds established under sec-
8 tion 201 of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C.
9 401), the Secretary shall transfer, not less fre-
10 quently than quarterly, from the general reve-
11 nues of the Federal Government an amount
12 sufficient so as to ensure that the income and 13 balances of such trust funds are not reduced as 14 a result of the enactment of such section.

15 “(f) NONAPPLICATION OF CERTAIN PROVISION.—
16 Section 2721(b)(2) of the Public Health Service Act shall 17 not apply to the provisions of this section.

Viz:

1 Beginning on page 28, strike line 10 and all that fol-
2 lows through the item following line 4 on page 48, and 3 insert the following:

4 SEC. 121. ESTABLISHMENT OF GRIEVANCE PROCESS.

5 (a) ESTABLISHMENT OF GRIEVANCE SYSTEM.—

6 (1) IN GENERAL.—A group health plan, and a
7 health insurance issuer in connection with the provi-8 sion of health insurance coverage, shall establish and 9 maintain a system to provide for the presentation 10 and resolution of oral and written grievances

1 brought by individuals who are participants, bene-2 ficiaries, or enrollees, or health care providers or 3 other individuals acting on behalf of an individual 4 and with the individual's consent, regarding any as-5 pect of the plan's or issuer's services.

6 (2) SCOPE.—The system shall include griev-7 ances regarding access to and availability of services, 8 quality of care, choice and accessibility of providers, 9 network adequacy, and compliance with the require-10 ments of the amendments made by subtitle A.

11 (b) GRIEVANCE SYSTEM.—Such system shall include 12 the following components with respect to individuals who 13 are participants, beneficiaries, or enrollees:

14 (1) Written notification to all such individuals 15 and providers of the telephone numbers and business 16 addresses of the plan or issuer personnel responsible 17 for resolution of grievances and appeals.

18 (2) A system to record and document, over a 19 period of at least 3 previous years, all grievances 20 and appeals made and their status.

21 (3) A process providing for timely processing 22 and resolution of grievances.

23 (4) Procedures for follow-up action, including 24 the methods to inform the person making the griev-25 ance of the resolution of the grievance.

1 SEC. 122. INTERNAL APPEALS OF ADVERSE DETERMINA-
2 TIONS.

3 (a) RIGHT OF APPEAL.—

4 (1) IN GENERAL.—A participant or beneficiary 5 in a group health plan, and an enrollee in health in-6 surance coverage offered by a health insurance is-7 suer, and any provider or other person acting on be-8 half of such an individual with the individual's con-
9 sent, may appeal any appealable decision (as defined 10 in paragraph (2)) under the procedures described in 11 this section and (to the extent applicable) section 12 123. Such individuals and providers shall be pro-13 vided with a written explanation of the appeal proc-14 ess and the determination upon the conclusion of the 15 appeals process.

16 (2) APPEALABLE DECISION DEFINED.—In this 17 section, the term “appealable decision” means any of 18 the following:

19 (A) Denial, reduction, or termination of, or 20 failure to provide or make payment (in whole or 21 in part) for, a benefit, including a failure to 22 cover an item or service for which benefits are 23 otherwise provided because it is determined to 24 be experimental or investigational or not medi-
25 cally necessary or appropriate.

1 (B) Failure to provide coverage of emer-
2 gency services or reimbursement of mainte-
3 nance care or post-stabilization care under sec-
4 tion 721 of the Employee Retirement Income
5 Security Act of 1974.

6 (C) Failure to provide a choice of provider
7 under section 722 of the Employee Retirement
8 Income Security Act of 1974.

9 (D) Failure to provide access to specialty 10 and other care under sections 723 or 724 of the 11 Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 12 1974.

13 (E) Failure to provide continuation of care
14 under section 725 of the Employee Retirement
15 Income Security Act of 1974.

16 (b) INTERNAL APPEAL PROCESS.—

17 (1) IN GENERAL.—Each group health plan and 18 health insurance issuer shall establish and maintain 19 an internal appeal process under which any partici-20 pant, beneficiary, enrollee, or provider acting on be-21 half of such an individual with the individual's con-
22 sent, who is dissatisfied with any appealable decision 23 has the opportunity to appeal the decision through 24 an internal appeal process. The appeal may be com-25 municated orally.

1 (2) CONDUCT OF REVIEW.—The process shall 2 include a review of the decision by a physician or 3 other health care professional (or professionals) who 4 has been selected by the plan or issuer and who has 5 not been involved in the appealable decision at issue 6 in the appeal.

7 (3) DEADLINE.—

8 (A) IN GENERAL.—Subject to subsection
9 (c), the plan or issuer shall conclude each ap-10 peal as soon as possible after the time of the re-11 ceipt of the appeal in accordance with medical 12 exigencies of the case involved, but in no event 13 later than—

14 (i) 72 hours after the time of receipt 15 of an expedited appeal, and 16 (ii) except as provided in subpara-17 graph (B), 30 business days after such 18 time (or, if the participant, beneficiary, or 19 enrollee supplies additional information

20 that was not available to the plan or issuer
21 at the time of the receipt of the appeal, 22 after the date of supplying such additional 23 information) in the case of all other ap-24 peals.

1 (B) EXTENSION.—In the case of an appeal 2 that does not relate to a decision regarding an 3 expedited appeal and that does not involve med-
4 ical exigencies, if a group health plan or health 5 insurance issuer is unable to conclude the ap-6 peal within the time period provided under sub-7 paragraph (A)(ii) due to circumstances beyond 8 the control of the plan or issuer, the deadline 9 shall be extended for up to an additional 10 10 business days if the plan or issuer provides, on 11 or before 10 days before the deadline otherwise 12 applicable, written notice to the participant, 13 beneficiary, or enrollee and the provider in-14 volved of the extension and the reasons for the 15 extension.

16 (4) NOTICE.—If a plan or issuer denies an ap-17 peal, the plan or issuer shall provide the participant, 18 beneficiary, or enrollee and provider involved with 19 notice in printed form of the denial and the reasons 20 therefore, together with a notice in printed form of 21 rights to any further appeal.

22 (c) EXPEDITED REVIEW PROCESS.—

23 (1) IN GENERAL.—A group health plan, and a 24 health insurance issuer, shall establish procedures in 25 writing for the expedited consideration of appeals

1 under subsection (b) in situations in which the appli-
2 cation of the normal timeframe for making a deter-
3 mination could seriously jeopardize the life or health 4 of the participant, beneficiary, or enrollee or such an 5 individual's ability to regain maximum function.

6 (2) PROCESS.—Under such procedures—

7 (A) the request for expedited appeal may 8 be submitted orally or in writing by an individ-9 ual or provider who is otherwise entitled to re-10 quest the appeal;

11 (B) all necessary information, including 12 the plan's or issuer's decision, shall be trans-13 mitted between the plan or issuer and the re-14 quester by telephone, facsimile, or other simi-15 larly expeditious available method; and 16 (C) the plan or issuer shall expedite the 17 appeal if the request for an expedited appeal is 18 submitted under subparagraph (A) by a physi-

19 cian and the request indicates that the situation 20 described in paragraph (1) exists.

21 (d) DIRECT USE OF FURTHER APPEALS.—In the 22 event that the plan or issuer fails to comply with any of 23 the deadlines for completion of appeals under this section 24 or in the event that the plan or issuer for any reason ex-25 pressly waives its rights to an internal review of an appeal

1 under subsection (b), the participant, beneficiary, or en-
2 rollee involved and the provider involved shall be relieved 3 of any obligation to complete the appeal involved and may, 4 at such an individual's or provider's option, proceed di-5 rectly to seek further appeal through any applicable exter-6 nal appeals process.

7 SEC. 123. EXTERNAL APPEALS OF ADVERSE DETERMINA-
8 TIONS.

9 (a) RIGHT TO EXTERNAL APPEAL.—

10 (1) IN GENERAL.—A group health plan, and a 11 health insurance issuer offering group health insur-
12 ance coverage, shall provide for an external appeals 13 process that meets the requirements of this section 14 in the case of an externally appealable decision de-15 scribed in paragraph (2). The appropriate Secretary 16 shall establish standards to carry out such require-17 ments.

18 (2) EXTERNALLY APPEALABLE DECISION DE-
19 FINED.—For purposes of this section, the term “ex-20 ternally appealable decision” means an appealable 21 decision (as defined in section 122(a)(2)) if—

22 (A) the amount involved exceeds a signifi-23 cant threshold; or

24 (B) the patient's life or health is jeopard-25 ized as a consequence of the decision.

1 Such term does not include a denial of coverage for 2 services that are specifically listed in plan or cov-3 erage documents as excluded from coverage.

4 (3) EXHAUSTION OF INTERNAL APPEALS PROC-5 ESS.—A plan or issuer may condition the use of an 6 external appeal process in the case of an externally 7 appealable decision upon completion of the internal 8 review process provided under section 122, but only 9 if the decision is made in a timely basis consistent 10 with the deadlines provided under this subtitle.

11 (b) GENERAL ELEMENTS OF EXTERNAL APPEALS

13 (1) CONTRACT WITH QUALIFIED EXTERNAL AP-14 PEAL ENTITY.—

15 (A) CONTRACT REQUIREMENT.—Subject to 16 subparagraph (B), the external appeal process 17 under this section of a plan or issuer shall be 18 conducted under a contract between the plan or 19 issuer and one or more qualified external appeal 20 entities (as defined in subsection (c)).

21 (B) RESTRICTIONS ON QUALIFIED EXTER-
22 NAL APPEAL ENTITY.—

23 (i) BY STATE FOR HEALTH INSUR-
24 ANCE ISSUERS.—With respect to health in-25 surance issuers in a State, the State may

1 provide for external review activities to be 2 conducted by a qualified external appeal 3 entity that is designated by the State or 4 that is selected by the State in such a 5 manner as to assure an unbiased deter-6 mination.

7 (ii) BY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT FOR 8 GROUP HEALTH PLANS.—With respect to 9 group health plans, the appropriate Sec-10 retary may exercise the same authority as 11 a State may exercise with respect to health 12 insurance issuers under clause (i). Such 13 authority may include requiring the use of 14 the qualified external appeal entity des-15 ignated or selected under such clause.

16 (iii) LIMITATION ON PLAN OR ISSUER
17 SELECTION.—If an applicable authority 18 permits more than one entity to qualify as 19 a qualified external appeal entity with re-20 spect to a group health plan or health in-21 surance issuer and the plan or issuer may 22 select among such qualified entities, the 23 applicable authority—

24 (I) shall assure that the selection
25 process will not create any incentives

1 for external appeal entities to make a 2 decision in a biased manner, and

3 (II) shall implement a procedures 4 for auditing a sample of decisions by 5 such entities to assure that no such 6 decisions are made in a biased man-7 ner.

8 (C) OTHER TERMS AND CONDITIONS.—

9 The terms and conditions of a contract under 10 this paragraph shall be consistent with the 11 standards the appropriate Secretary shall estab-
12 lish to assure there is no real or apparent con-13 flict of interest in the conduct of external ap-14 peal activities. Such contract shall provide that 15 the direct costs of the process (not including 16 costs of representation of a participant, bene-17 ficiary, or enrollee) shall be paid by the plan or 18 issuer, and not by the participant, beneficiary, 19 or enrollee.

20 (2) ELEMENTS OF PROCESS.—An external ap-21 peal process shall be conducted consistent with 22 standards established by the appropriate Secretary 23 that include at least the following:

1 (A) FAIR PROCESS; DE NOVO DETERMINA-
2 TION.—The process shall provide for a fair, de 3 novo determination.

4 (B) DETERMINATION CONCERNING EXTER-
5 NALLY APPEALABLE DECISIONS.—A qualified 6 external appeal entity shall determine whether a 7 decision is an externally appealable decision and 8 related decisions, including—

9 (i) whether such a decision involves an 10 expedited appeal;

11 (ii) the appropriate deadlines for in-12 ternal review process required due to medi-13 cal exigencies in a case; and 14 (iii) whether such a process has been 15 completed.

16 (C) OPPORTUNITY TO SUBMIT EVIDENCE, 17 HAVE REPRESENTATION, AND MAKE ORAL
18 PRESENTATION.—Each party to an externally
19 appealable decision—

20 (i) may submit and review evidence 21 related to the issues in dispute,

22 (ii) may use the assistance or rep-23 resentation of one or more individuals (any 24 of whom may be an attorney), and 25 (iii) may make an oral presentation.

1 (D) PROVISION OF INFORMATION.—The 2 plan or issuer involved shall provide timely ac-3 cess to all its records relating to the matter of 4 the externally appealable decision and to all 5 provisions of the plan or health insurance cov-6 erage (including any coverage manual) relating 7 to the matter.

8 (E) TIMELY DECISIONS.—A determination
9 by the external appeal entity on the decision 10 shall—

11 (i) be made orally or in writing and,
12 if it is made orally, shall be supplied to the 13 parties in writing as soon as possible;

14 (ii) be binding on the plan or issuer;

15 (iii) be made in accordance with the 16 medical exigencies of the case involved, but 17 in no event later than 30 days (or 72 18 hours in the case of an expedited appeal) 19 from the date of completion of the filing of 20 notice of external appeal of the decision;

21 (iv) state, in layperson's language, the 22 basis for the determination, including, if 23 relevant, any basis in the terms or condi-24 tions of the plan or coverage; and

1 (v) inform the participant, beneficiary, 2 or enrollee of the individual's rights to seek 3 further review by the courts (or other proc-4 ess) of the external appeal determination.

5 (c) QUALIFICATIONS OF EXTERNAL APPEAL ENTI-
6 TIES.—

7 (1) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this section, 8 the term “qualified external appeal entity” means, 9 in relation to a plan or issuer, an entity (which may 10 be a governmental entity) that is certified under 11 paragraph (2) as meeting the following require-
12 ments:

13 (A) There is no real or apparent conflict of 14 interest that would impede the entity conduct-15 ing external appeal activities independent of the 16 plan or issuer.

17 (B) The entity conducts external appeal
18 activities through clinical peers.

19 (C) The entity has sufficient medical, legal, 20 and other expertise and sufficient staffing to 21 conduct external appeal activities for the plan 22 or issuer on a timely basis consistent with sub-23 section (b)(3)(E).

1 (D) The entity meets such other require-
2 ments as the appropriate Secretary may im-3 pose.

4 (2) CERTIFICATION OF EXTERNAL APPEAL EN-
5 TITIES.—

6 (A) IN GENERAL.—In order to be treated
7 as a qualified external appeal entity with re-8 spect to—

9 (i) a group health plan, the entity 10 must be certified (and, in accordance with 11 subparagraph (B), periodically recertified) 12 as meeting the requirements of paragraph 13 (1) by the Secretary of Labor (or under a 14 process recognized or approved by the Sec-15 retary of Labor); or

16 (ii) a health insurance issuer operat-
17 ing in a State, the entity must be certified 18 (and, in accordance with subparagraph 19 (B), periodically recertified) as meeting
20 such requirements by the applicable State 21 authority (or, if the States has not estab-
22 lished an adequate certification and recer-23 tification process, by the Secretary of 24 Health and Human Services, or under a

1 process recognized or approved by such 2 Secretary).

3 (B) RECERTIFICATION PROCESS.—The ap-
4 propriate Secretary shall develop standards for 5 the recertification of external appeal entities.
6 Such standards shall include a specification 7 of—

8 (i) the information required to be sub-9 mitted as a condition of recertification on 10 the entity's performance of external appeal
11 activities, which information shall include 12 the number of cases reviewed, a summary
13 of the disposition of those cases, the length 14 of time in making determinations on those 15 cases, and such information as may be nec-16 essary to assure the independence of the 17 entity from the plans or issuers for which 18 external appeal activities are being con-19 ducted; and

20 (ii) the periodicity which recertifi-
21 cation will be required.

22 (d) CONTINUING LEGAL RIGHTS OF ENROLLEES.—
23 Nothing in this subtitle shall be construed as removing 24 any legal rights of participants, beneficiaries, enrollees,

1 and others under State or Federal law, including the right
2 to file judicial actions to enforce rights.

3 SEC. 124. DEFINITIONS.

4 The definitions contained in section 2791 of the Pub-
5 lic Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 300gg-91) shall apply 6 for purposes of this subtitle.

7 SEC. 125. APPLICABILITY.

8 The provisions of this subtitle shall apply to group 9 health plans and health insurance issuers as if included
10 in—

11 “(1) subpart 2 of part A of title XXVII of the 12 Public Health Service Act;

13 “(2) the first subpart 3 of part B of title
14 XXVII of the Public Health Service Act (relating to 15 other requirements); and

16 “(3) subchapter B of chapter 100 of the Inter-
17 nal Revenue Code of 1986.

The Honorable James M. Jeffords
Chairman
Committee on Health, Education, Labor and Pensions
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Mr. Chairman:

This responds to questions forwarded to the Department of Justice following the appearance before your Committee on April 27, 1999, of Mr. John T. Bentivoglio, the Department's Special Counsel for Health Care Fraud and Chief Privacy Officer, regarding the confidentiality of health care records. Our responses are enclosed. In accordance with your request, we have also enclosed a diskette, which contains identical responses.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. If we may be of additional assistance, we trust that you will not hesitate to call upon us.

Sincerely,

Jon P. Jennings
Acting Assistant Attorney General

Senator Wallstone:

In the course of a fraud and abuse investigation of a substance abuse clinic, what happens if DOJ uncovers evidence of illegal drug use on the part of a patient - - can that information be used to prosecute the patient?

The short answer is no. Pursuant to the implementing regulations of the Substance Abuse Prevention, Treatment, and Rehabilitation Act, a law enforcement agency investigating a substance abuse clinic may obtain the clinic's patient records without the consent of the patients only (i) for a Medicare or Medicaid audit or evaluation under 42 C.F.R. § 2.53, or (ii) through a court order under 42 C.F.R. § 2.66 that permits use and disclosure of the records to investigate the provider. Records obtained by law enforcement for a Medicare or Medicaid audit or evaluation may only be used for the audit or evaluation activity (see 42 C.F.R. § 2.53(c)(4)), and records obtained through the court order to investigate the provider may not be used to conduct any investigation or prosecution of the patient, or even to seek authority to use records for such a purpose. (See 42 C.F.R. § 2.66(c)(2)).

Do these protections apply only to patients who receive federally funded treatment?

The inclusive definitions included in substance abuse patient regulations insure that a broad universe of patients is protected. The protections stated above apply to patients whose records are held by any program or activity relating to substance abuse education, prevention, training, treatment, rehabilitation, or research, which is conducted, regulated or directly or indirectly assisted by any department or agency of the United States. 42 U.S.C. § 290dd-2 (a). This covers nearly all substance abuse programs and activities as set forth in the implementing regulations. The term "program" is broadly defined in 42 C.F.R. § 2.11.

The term "federal assistance" is also broadly defined and includes programs which, for example: 1) receive direct or indirect financial assistance for any purpose; 2) are conducted by a State or local government which receives revenue sharing funds which could be (but are not necessarily) spent on the substance abuse program; 3) are certified Medicare providers; 4) are ruled tax exempt charitable organizations by the Internal Revenue Service whose contributors may deduct contributions to the programs on their income tax; 4) authorized to conduct methadone maintenance treatment; or 5) registered to dispense controlled substances, all pursuant to 42 C.F.R. §2.12 (b). There are specific exceptions from these regulations only for the Veterans' Administration and the Armed Services.

What can be done for those citizens whose confidentiality has been violated? For example, recently, at the University of Michigan, medical records were made available through the Internet. Anyone searching for publications by name could also find the medical records of the same person online. To avoid this in the future, what mechanisms would be most helpful to your job to proactively uncover breaches of confidentiality?

The bills being considered by the Committee on Health, Education, Labor and Pension, S. 573, S. 578 and S. 881, all contain strong criminal provisions which will act as an effective deterrent to knowing and intentional breaches of medical record confidentiality for personal or commercial gain. The Department of Justice strongly endorses these provisions. In addition, the pending bills would also create an administrative process for circumstances which do not arise to criminal violations, where aggrieved individuals would be able to seek the imposition of civil monetary penalties on persons or entities which violated medical record privacy. These two complementary provisions should provide new assurance to patients that confidentiality of their medical records will be maintained, and when it is not, that strong penalties will be applied.

Senator DeWine:

Could you please briefly describe the significance of the "routine use" exception to the Privacy Act, how often your agency relies on this exception, and examples of cases in which your agency invokes this exception?

The Department of Justice relies on the "routine use" exception to the Privacy Act both to access patient records held by other agencies, and to disclose such records as appropriate to investigate, prosecute and file civil actions based on misconduct. For example, the Department of Justice will sometimes request patient records from the Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA) in connection with an investigation of a provider's billings to Medicare. HCFA is authorized to release records covered by the Privacy Act to the Department of Justice by its published routine uses, which permit disclosure for "... the purpose of preventing, deterring, discovering, detecting, investigating, examining, prosecuting, suing with respect to, defending against, correcting, remedying, or otherwise combating fraud or abuse in a health benefits program funded in whole or in part by Federal funds." See 63 F.R. 38414 (7/16/98). With regard to the Department of Justice's disclosure of those patient records in its files which are covered by the Privacy Act, the Department's published routine uses as a general matter permit the Department to use information covered by the Privacy Act to investigate, litigate and prosecute potential violations of law. See, e.g., 63 Fed. Register 8659 (2/20/98)

Currently, if you obtain health information during a Medicare fraud investigation against a doctor and you discover in those records that some patients of the doctor were also involved in the fraudulent record keeping scheme in order to defraud an insurance company (and not just Medicare), what would you currently do with that additional information and would any of these bills inhibit your ability to pass on the results of your investigation to the private insurance company?

An evaluation would be conducted by the investigative agency and the Department of Justice officials handling the matter to determine whether the patient's behavior in the scheme justifies further investigation. If a decision were made to proceed with a criminal or civil investigation of the patient for participation in the fraudulent activity, a new case file, or sub-file might be opened by the investigative agency. The investigative agency would use customary investigative techniques in support of the new investigation which could include interviews of witnesses (including private insurance companies which may have been victimized by the scheme), issuing compulsory process for production of documentary evidence, including medical records, conducting grand jury proceedings in criminal cases for the presentation of oral and documentary evidence.

The disclosure of general investigative results to a victim health insurance company should not be foreclosed by any of the three pending bills. However, the disclosure of personally identifiable health information as part of such a report could be problematic. For example, pursuant to S. 881, § 206, a health oversight agency, including a law enforcement agency acting in that capacity, would be foreclosed from further distributing protected health information for a purpose unrelated to the oversight activity. Since the victim insurance company is not a health oversight agency, and could not conduct health oversight as defined in the bill, this section could be interpreted to prohibit disclosure of protected health information to the victim. Similarly, S.

578, § 206, and S. 573 § 207 which both address oversight functions, do not include any authorization for oversight agencies to disclose protected health information to victim health insurance companies. New language would have to be added to explicitly authorize the health oversight agency to disclose protected health information to a victim health care benefit program for the purpose of enabling the victim to pursue other lawful and available remedies.

Mr. Bentivoglio, in your testimony you stated that in cases involving Medicare billing fraud, investigators would need access to hundreds of patient medical files, generally through an administrative or grand jury subpoena. How often are such subpoenas quashed upon filing of a motion to quash, and would this ability to quash a court order under S. 573 create difficulties for law enforcement?

Although motions to quash grand jury or administrative subpoenas in Medicare billing fraud investigations are sometimes filed now, they are seldom granted because federal law does not provide a general medical record privacy privilege. Furthermore, federal courts have been unsympathetic to medical record holders who argue for a new patient medical record privacy privilege to shield record holders from producing the medical records which would document the record holders' wrongdoing, thereby thwarting oversight investigations into health care fraud.

S. 573 would create a new patient privilege which could be used to thwart legitimate law enforcement investigations. Two specific provisions of S. 573 would operate to create serious problems for law enforcement.

Sec. 207 of S. 573 would prohibit an oversight agency from obtaining protected health information unless: 1) the purpose for which the disclosure is to be made cannot be accomplished without protected health information; 2) the purpose for which the protected health information is sought is of sufficient importance to "warrant the effect on, or the risk to, the privacy" of the individuals "that additional exposure might bring"; and 3) there is a reasonable probability that the purpose of the disclosure will be accomplished. While Sec. 207 itself does not provide for judicial review of these factors, such a review may occur anyway when law enforcement resorts to obtaining a court order during an oversight function to obtain protected records, thereby invoking the requirements of Sec. 208.

Sec. 208 imposes new prerequisites to be met before "a court order for access to protected health information" can be issued. The use of the term "court order" will apply to a broader range of situations than seems to be anticipated and potentially could cover many situations where a warrant or subpoena is used, even during health oversight functions. While Sec. 207 authorizes law enforcement to obtain protected health information for health care fraud oversight activities, law enforcement will continue to use warrants, subpoenas and court orders, as it does now, before protected records will actually be produced. Whenever a record holder does not comply with a subpoena, or seeks to quash the results of an executed search warrant, a "court order" will be necessary. Sec. 208 creates a special process for court review of requested disclosures of protected health information through all "court orders."

Sec. 208 would require a Court to consider a three part test before granting such an order: 1) the information sought is relevant and material to an ongoing criminal investigation; 2) "deidentified" information would not be sufficient, and 3) the law enforcement need would outweigh the privacy interest of the individual to whom the information pertains. The third standard under Sec. 208 for the first time would permit a record-holder to oppose disclosure of protected health information on behalf of a patient. In addition, the review process under Sec. 208, would provide a vehicle by which the Sec. 207 standards would be subject to Court review as well.

The provisions of S. 578 would invite a substantial increase in the numbers of motions to quash, and would override judicial precedent limiting medical record holders from concealing their wrongdoing by asserting patient privacy concerns as a shield to disclosure. The successful assertion of patient privacy by a medical record holder that is under scrutiny could result in the suppression of critical evidence and cause the termination of a legitimate investigation. The requirement of S. 578 would divert law enforcement resources and could result in substantial delays while Courts consider whether to grant disclosure orders, and while such decisions are on appeal. Since these proceedings would not suspend statutes of limitations, the timing and length of such delays could extend beyond the expiration of statutes of limitations foreclosing certain criminal or civil proceedings entirely.

Would you please give an example that illustrates the significance of the hot pursuit or exigent circumstances exception in S. 573, and why a simple waiver of any notice requirement to the individual when a risk of destruction of property or unavailability of the evidences may result is not enough to negate the need for this hot pursuit or exigent circumstances exception, as some may argue?

The hot pursuit and exigent circumstances exceptions to the general compulsory process requirement that would be imposed under S. 573, §208 (i) would be of limited utility to law enforcement insofar as "hot pursuit" and "exigent circumstances" are terms of legal art which have been narrowly defined by judicial precedent which carves out limited exceptions to the necessity for search warrants. The exigent circumstance and hot pursuit exceptions in S. 573 appear to restrict current law enforcement practice.

For example "hot pursuit" is generally defined to include "immediate and continuous pursuit" of the escapee. Welsh v. Wisconsin, 466 U.S. 740, 753 (1984). Where the suspect has fled, possibly to unknown emergency rooms, the police could not be said to be in immediate and continuous pursuit.

The term "exigent circumstances" has also been narrowly interpreted. "As an exception to the warrant requirement, exigent circumstances must be 'jealously and carefully drawn.' " United States v. Anderson, 981 F.2d 1560, 1567 (10th Cir. 1992) (quoting United States v. Aquino, 836 F.2d 1268, 1270 (10th Cir. 1988). Accord, United States v. Anderson, 154 F.3d 1225, 1233 (10th Cir. 1998). One trial court recently defined exigent circumstances to exist when a warrantless search is made: 1) to render emergency aid or assistance to persons reasonably believed to be in distress or in need of assistance; 2) to prevent destruction of evidence or contraband; or 3) to protect officers from other suspects or persons from whom [the law enforcement officers] reasonably believe may be present, and if so, whom they reasonably believe may be armed and dangerous. Tamez v. City of San Marcos, Texas, 118 F.3d 1085, 1095, note 4 (5th Cir. 1998). The Supreme Court has found as a matter of law that exigent circumstances justify a warrantless search when in the first instance, there is probable cause for the search or seizure, and in addition: 1) there is an imminent danger someone may destroy evidence; 2) the safety of law enforcement officers or the general public is threatened, or 3) the suspect is likely to flee the premises before the officer can obtain a warrant. Tamez, 118 F.3d, at 1095 (citations omitted).

A simple waiver of patient notice where destruction of evidence or unavailability of evidence is a concern, would not obviate the need for the exigent circumstances exception to a requirement for compulsory process. Furthermore, the waiver of patient notice would also be insufficient to preserve current law enforcement practice.

This can be illustrated by the following example: A victim is raped in the District of Columbia, and during the course of the crime, a car door is slammed on the assailant's hand. By the time the D.C. police arrive at the scene, the assailant has fled ten minutes earlier by running into the Metro Center Metro station. The D.C. police have no idea which Metro line the assailant took, in which direction he headed, or what stop he may have gotten off. This would not be a situation that could be classified as "hot pursuit."

The D.C. police do have a general description of the victim and know that the assailant's right hand was slammed in the car door, probably causing injuries sufficient to require emergency room care. The D.C. police put out an all points bulletin within the District and surrounding counties in Maryland and Virginia, and request law enforcement agencies in those jurisdictions to check with hospital emergency rooms and all night emergency clinics to determine whether any persons with the injury described and the physical description have been treated within the last three hours. Information comes back that 7 individuals meeting the description with the injury have been treated. The facilities are in Fairfax, Montgomery and the District of Columbia. Since 7 facilities have reported back, it is unlikely the threshold requirement of probable cause exists to search any of the emergency rooms since the law enforcement agencies could not show that there is probable cause to believe there is evidence of a crime at each of the emergency rooms. After all, there was only one assailant and only one of the emergency rooms of the seven would have evidence of the crime. The officer would have to show that there was probable cause to search each emergency room individually. United States v. Johnson, 26 F.3d 669, 694 (7th Cir. 1994) (probable cause for each apartment to be searched in a multiple dwelling facility must be shown).

In a multi-location search warrant, the reviewing magistrate must make a probable cause determination for each of the locations to be searched independently. Greenslee v. County of San Bernardino, 41 F.3d 1306, 1309 (9th Cir. 1994).

Even if probable cause could somehow be shown for each emergency facility, under search warrant jurisprudence defining exigent, it is unlikely that the "exigency" test could be met. There would be no fear of destruction of evidence, or threatened harm to the public or a law enforcement officer, and the law enforcement agency would not be able to demonstrate a belief that the suspect would flee, particularly if a suspect who matched the description recently left a particular emergency room.

Senator Jeffords:

At the hearing, the Chairman asked for a copy of any new guidance the Department issues regarding obtaining and using protected health information.

As Mr. Bentivoglio testified at the hearing, the Department is in the process of developing more comprehensive guidance on obtaining and handling protected health information. When this guidance is finalized, a copy will be supplied to the Committee.

In the interim, the Department previously circulated two documents which address medical record confidentiality which are attached for your information. The first is an excerpt from the "Guidelines Implementing the Fraud and Abuse Control Program" jointly issued in January, 1997, by the Attorney General and the Secretary of Health and Human Services, as required by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996. The second is a memorandum dated October 15, 1998 from Deputy Attorney General Eric H. Holder, Jr. which contains an extended discussion of medical record privacy considerations.

The Honorable James M. Jeffords
Chairman
Committee on Health, Education, Labor and Pensions
United States Senate

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Thank you for the opportunity to present the views of the Department of Justice on behalf of the law enforcement community on pending legislation to protect the confidentiality of personal medical information. We look forward to working with the Committee to protect the privacy of confidential health information, while preserving the ability of Federal, state and local law enforcement agencies to enforce the laws within their jurisdictions and to oversee the integrity of the health care payment system.

The Department recognizes that additional safeguards are necessary to prevent future abuses of medical records privacy, particularly in response to the growing use of computers to store, analyze, and distribute confidential health information. Moreover, the Department believes it would be appropriate to establish reasonable restrictions on law enforcement access to, and use of, confidential health information that reflect current law and practice. The Department offers the following specific suggestions on how to strike the appropriate balance between the need to protect confidential health information and the need to protect public health and safety and investigate and punish illegal activity.

At a minimum, medical records privacy legislation should prohibit Federal, state and local law enforcement agencies and employees from obtaining or using such information except for official law enforcement activities. In addition, as a general principle, we believe it would be appropriate to codify current practice by requiring law enforcement to use lawful compulsory process, such as a search warrant, grand jury subpoena, summons, warrant, judicial subpoena, administrative subpoena or a civil investigative demand in order to obtain protected health information; provided, that the legislation include limited but important exceptions, discussed below, that are necessary to protect public health and safety.

The Department supports legislation that requires law enforcement agencies to take appropriate and reasonable steps to minimize the public disclosure of identifiable health information, consistent with the requirements of due process and the needs of law enforcement to present a complete case. Law enforcement also should be required to destroy or return medical records to the original record holder when the official law enforcement activity requiring the retention of those records has concluded, and no other applicable law or regulation requires that the medical records be retained.

We support reasonable restrictions on law enforcement access to and use of confidential health information. We also believe medical records privacy legislation should not unduly hinder the ability of Federal, state and local law enforcement to investigate and prosecute illegal activity and to protect the integrity of the health care payment system. Thus, we believe the requirement for law enforcement to use compulsory process, discussed above, should not apply in four circumstances: (1) when law enforcement is performing a health oversight function authorized by law (subject to the derivative use limitations discussed below); (2) pursuant to Federal, state or local mandatory reporting laws (including laws requiring the reporting of gunshot wounds, rape, abuse of children or the elderly, or diversion of controlled substances); (3) in time-sensitive circumstances to prevent threatened or imminent physical harm to any person; and (4) to obtain limited name or other essential identifying information, but not the entire medical file, to enable law enforcement to locate and identify a patient who is a fugitive, suspect, or material witness.

With respect to the issue of derivative use, there are special concerns that may arise when law enforcement obtains access to large numbers of health records during health oversight activities. Therefore, we recommend that law enforcement should not be permitted to use information discovered during the oversight function against a patient for an unrelated, non-health care matter, unless authorized by a court under procedures similar to those in 18 U.S.C. 3486(e). However, because these concerns are not replicated when law enforcement obtains health records in non-health oversight law enforcement activities pursuant to compulsory process, any legislation should reflect current law which provides no restriction on the derivative use of confidential health information obtained by a law enforcement agency in the discharge of its general (i.e., non-health oversight) enforcement responsibilities.

Finally, we believe jails, prisons and detention facilities present unique situations with respect to medical records privacy. While the Department supports legislation that prohibits correctional facilities and employees from disclosing, using or obtaining medical information for non-official purposes, we believe such institutions should be exempted from the general obligations and duties imposed by medical record privacy legislation. These facilities also should be permitted to exchange prisoner or detainee health records without patient authorization with community health care providers providing health care services to the prisoners or detainees.

There are other technical drafting issues on which we would like to work with the Committee, including issues relating to certain definitions, the procedures for the imposition of penalties for violations, and government legal department access to health records from governmental departments and agencies while representing these bodies in civil matters prior to the initiation of legal proceedings.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. If we may be of additional assistance we trust that you will not hesitate to call upon us. The Office of Management and Budget has advised that there is no objection from the standpoint of the Administration's program to the presentation of this report.

Sincerely,

The Honorable James M. Jeffords
Chairman
Committee on Health, Education, Labor and Pensions
United States Senate
Washington, D.C. 20510-6300

Dear Chairman Jeffords:

I understand that the Committee on Health, Education, Labor and Pensions may soon consider a bill entitled the "Health Information Confidentiality Act of 1999." I would like to take this opportunity to present the views of the Department of Labor on that bill.

The bill's purpose is to ensure confidentiality with respect to medical records and health care-related information. It would impose guidelines for the use and disclosure of medical records by health care providers, researchers, insurers, and employers. It would also impose civil and criminal penalties on individuals who use information improperly through unauthorized disclosure.

The Department of Labor strongly supports the bill's intention of protecting the confidentiality of personal health care information. We do, however, have a number of general comments regarding the bill as well as questions and concerns about specific provisions. These comments are listed in the enclosure for the Committee's consideration.

The Office of Management and Budget advises that there is no objection to the submission of this report from the standpoint of the President's program.

Sincerely,

Alexis M. Herman

Enclosure

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR COMMENTS
ON THE HEALTH INFORMATION CONFIDENTIALITY ACT OF 1999

GENERAL COMMENTS:

Relation to Civil Rights Laws

Several civil rights laws, such as the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as well as their implementing regulations, incorporate standards of confidentiality of medical information and specify those individuals who may have access to that information and the circumstances under which access is available. We recommend that language be added to the bill to ensure that the rights and protections provided under laws such as the ADA and the Rehabilitation Act are unaffected by this bill.

After-the-Fact Notice

Except where it would interfere with an on-going civil or criminal investigation, an "after-the-fact" notice should be required to be given to individuals when their health information has been disclosed to third parties (including law enforcement) without their notice or consent. Such a provision would allow patients to pursue appropriate legal remedies.

Technical Security

Pursuant to HHS model standards, the bill should include provisions regarding technical security for computerized data, including audit trails showing who accessed the information.

Workers Compensation Application

We believe that workers compensation programs should not be included in the proposed legislation, which would add an unnecessary and burdensome step to the existing regulations. Our current mechanisms already provide sufficient protection and confidentiality of claimants' records and rights. This bill, however, is silent concerning whether workers compensation programs are to be covered. We suggest adding a provision similar to S. 881, presently before Congress, which expressly excludes "any policy, plan or program to the extent that it provides, arranges or administers health benefits pursuant to a program of workers compensation or automobile insurance" from the definition of health plan.

OALJ Application

The application of this bill to the Office of Administrative Law Judges (OALJ) is problematic. The OALJ conducts public hearings under the Administrative Procedure Act (APA). Thus, hearing transcripts and documents submitted to the OALJ are public court records, generally subject to public inspection. Section 201 of the bill, however, bars disclosure of protected health information by a "health oversight agency," a "public health authority," and a "law enforcement official," among others. When adjudicating physician/health care provider debarment cases under the Longshore and Harbor Workers Compensation Act and the Federal Employees Compensation Act, OALJ might meet the definition of "health oversight agency." OALJ might also meet the other two definitions when adjudicating many types of cases, such as workers compensation claims under the Black Lung Benefits Act and the Longshore and Harbor Workers Compensation Act. Arguably, then, OALJ could be simultaneously subject to the nondisclosure provisions of the bill and the full disclosure provisions of the APA. It is not clear that this situation is addressed by section 401(a)(3) which provides that the bill should not be construed as "repealing, explicitly or implicitly, other Federal laws or regulations relating to protected health information or relating to an individual's access to protected health information or health care services." This situation should be clarified.

MEWA Application

It is not clear whether Multi Employer Welfare Arrangements (MEWAs) would be covered by this bill. Generally, a MEWA is any arrangement established for the purpose of providing benefits to employees (or their beneficiaries) of two or more employers. The question arises whether the MEWA itself (as distinct from the employer whose employees receive benefits from the MEWA) should meet the requirements of the legislation. To ensure that MEWAs are covered, those MEWAs that provide health benefits could be included in the definition of "health plan" or "group health plan."

SPECIFIC COMMENTS:

Section 4(9) -- Definition of Health Oversight Agency.

It is unclear whether the Department of Labor's Pension and Welfare Benefits Administration (PWBA) is a "health oversight agency" as defined by this section, or whether it is subject to the more stringent standards imposed on law enforcement agencies. Clearly, PWBA conducts some law enforcement activities such as investigations and litigation of cases involving pension plans and employee benefit plans. However, the agency also conducts oversight activities such as audits of health plans to ensure compliance with the fiduciary requirements of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA), its claims review procedures and other requirements of ERISA. Thus for purposes of this law, PWBA could be considered a "health oversight agency." However, only some parts of the definition of "health oversight agency" apply to PWBA. Specifically, subsection 4(9)(B)(i) does apply to PWBA, i.e. "Person who performs or oversees performances of an audit, ...or investigation relating to...compliance with...legal...standards." In contrast, the language regarding a public agency dealing with the licensing, accreditation, or provider credentialing in subsection 4(9)(B)(ii) does not apply to PWBA. We recommend changing the "and" to an "or" between subsections 4(9)(B)(i) and (ii).

Section 4(10) -- Definition of Health Plan.

As written, the definition of "health plan" includes health insurance plans such as Health Maintenance Organizations and Provider Sponsored Organizations, as well as ERISA employee welfare benefit plans and group health plans. Because these are two different concepts, the definition could be confusing. We recommend, therefore, defining the terms "ERISA employee welfare benefit plans" and "ERISA group health plans" separately from the term "health plan."

Moreover, the definition of "health plan" does not include third party administrators who contract with group health plans to administer health benefits (even though such administrators regularly handle personal health information). We recommend that the definition of "group health plan" be amended to include "third party administrator or other person acting for or on behalf of the plan." Alternatively, the definition of "agent" in section 4(2) could be expanded to specifically include third party administrators.

Section 4(24) -- Definition of School or University.

We recommend adding preschools and day care centers to this definition. Both have health information about students as well as employees.

Section 101 -- Inspection and Copying of Protected Health Information.

Subsection 101(d)(3) would give an individual the right to file with the person who denies a request for inspection or copying of protected information a "concise statement setting forth the request for inspection or copying." In order to conform this subsection with subsection 102(c)(3) which deals with a refusal to amend the information, the following should be added to the end of subsection 101(d)(3): "and the individual's reasons for disagreeing with the refusal."

Section 103 -- Notice of Confidentiality Practices.

Section 103(a) states that health care providers, employers, insurers, etc., shall "post or provide, in writing and in a clear and conspicuous manner, notice of the entity's confidentiality practices...." This notice needs to be available in alternate formats (including, but not limited to, braille, large print, and electronic format) for those individuals with disabilities who are unable to read a written notice that is posted or handed out.

Section 202 -- Procurement of Authorizations for Disclosure of Protected Health Information for Treatment, Payment and Health Care Operations.

Subsection 202(a)(2) allows for a "consolidated" authorization: a single authorization may be secured for each individual in connection with treatment, payment, and health care operations. We strongly oppose this type of authorization. Authorizing release of information for payment purposes can be totally unrelated to what an individual feels is necessary to release for treatment purposes. In addition, the term "health care operations" is very broad. Allowing a single authorization to release information for "health care operations" would allow release for many more purposes than the average person would expect. Furthermore, it is inappropriate to impose a requirement that patients sign blanket consent forms for release of information as a condition of getting treatment.

Subsection 202(a)(3) [and subsequent paragraphs allowing for a one-time authorization] states that "every employer offering a health plan to its employees shall, at the time of, and as a condition of enrollment in the health plan, obtain a signed, written authorization." Again, we strongly oppose this "one-time only" consent at the time of enrollment. S. 573, addressing this same subject, requires patient consent for each instance of sharing information. That is a better approach. In addition, the term "legal, informed authorization," as used in this and the following sections, needs to be defined.

Subsection 202(a)(4), when referring to authorizations for disclosure by individuals in plans other than employer-provided plans, refers to both individual and non-employer groups. This is redundant because the definition of "individual market" in Section 2791(e) of the Public Health Service Act as amended by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act, already encompasses non-employer groups, i.e., "Market for health insurance coverage offered to individuals other than in connection with a group health plan." Therefore, we recommend substituting "through the individual market" for "to individual and non-employer groups", and defining "individual market" consistent with Section 2791(e) of the Public Health Service Act.

Section 202(b)(3) -- Termination of Plan.

This section would allow a health plan to terminate an enrollee's coverage if the enrollee revokes the disclosure authorization. We oppose this section and recommend that it be deleted.

Section 204 -- Next of Kin and Directory Information

Section 204(b)(1)(A) would permit unlimited disclosure where a person with a mental condition has not objected and there are no indications that he or she would object. A person who is not capable of objecting because of either a physical or mental condition is entitled to some form of representation before a disclosure is made.

Section 206 -- Oversight

Section 207 -- Public Health

Section 208 -- Health Research

Unauthorized disclosures are permitted in far too many circumstances. Each of these sections allows the disclosure of protected health information, with very few limits or restrictions. There is no justification given and, without such justification, it is unclear to the Department of Labor why this should be allowed.

Section 210 -- Disclosure for Law Enforcement Purposes.

Again, this appears to be overly broad, allowing the release of protected information in many circumstances. The legislation states that protected health information may be used only for purposes of a "legitimate law enforcement activity" but that term is not defined. At a minimum, the meaning of this term should be clearly delineated.

Section 213(d) -- Application to Deceased Individuals.

There does not appear to be a reason to limit the confidentiality protection after a person dies. The U. S. Supreme Court has held that the attorney-client privilege continues after death because of the risk of embarrassment to the family, and other reasons. We believe that a time limit is equally inappropriate when dealing with confidential medical records. If, however, a time limit is deemed necessary, two years (as provided by the bill) is too short.

Section 312 -- Procedures for Imposition of Penalties.

This section of the bill would establish a procedure for imposition of civil and criminal penalties on all entities that violate the Act, including ERISA plans. Sections 501 and 502 of ERISA respectively provide procedures for imposing criminal and civil penalties on ERISA plans. Thus, although the Department of Labor has the tools to enforce these protections against group health plans, and this bill would apply to ERISA plans, the Department is not given a role. This may complicate the coordination of regulation and enforcement.

Section 401(a) -- Relationship to State and Federal laws.

Section 401(a)(1) would preempt any State law "treatment, payment and health care operations...or...health research" if such State law is less restrictive than the provisions of this Act. This language may give the bill an overly broad reach by preempting State laws that are not directed at entities covered by the bill. We recommend adding language clarifying that this section only preempts State laws related to the privacy of protected health information that are directed at the entities covered by this bill.

Section 401(a)(2) would preempt State laws that grant more protection to confidential health information if they were enacted after the effective date of the Act. This legislation should create a minimum acceptable standard for basic Federal privacy protection. It should not preempt States from taking even stronger steps to protect privacy.

Committee on Health, Education, Labor and Pensions
Washington, D.C. 20510-6300

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Thank you for the opportunity to present the views of the Department of Justice on behalf of the law enforcement community on pending legislation to protect the confidentiality of personal medical information. We look forward to working with the Committee to protect the privacy of confidential health information, while preserving the ability of Federal, state and local law enforcement agencies to enforce the laws within their jurisdictions and to oversee the integrity of the health care payment system.

The Department recognizes that additional safeguards are necessary to prevent future abuses of medical records privacy, particularly in response to the growing use of computers to store, analyze, and distribute confidential health information. Moreover, the Department believes it would be appropriate to establish reasonable restrictions on law enforcement access to, and use of, confidential health information that reflect current law and practice. The Department offers the following specific suggestions on how to strike the appropriate balance between the need to protect confidential health information and the need to protect public health and safety and investigate and punish illegal activity.

At a minimum, medical records privacy legislation should prohibit Federal, state and local law enforcement agencies and employees from obtaining or using such information except for official law enforcement activities. In addition, as a general principle, we believe it would be appropriate to codify current practice by requiring law enforcement to use lawful compulsory process, such as a search warrant, grand jury subpoena, summons, warrant, judicial subpoena, administrative subpoena or a civil investigative demand in order to obtain protected health information; provided, that the legislation include limited but important exceptions, discussed below, that are necessary to protect public health and safety.

The Department supports legislation that requires law enforcement agencies to take appropriate and reasonable steps to minimize the public disclosure of identifiable health information, consistent with the requirements of due process and the needs of law enforcement to present a complete case. Law enforcement also should be required to destroy or return medical records to the original record-holder when the official law enforcement activity requiring the retention of those records has concluded, and no other applicable law or regulation requires that the medical records be retained.

We support reasonable restrictions on law enforcement access to and use of confidential health information. We also believe medical records privacy legislation should not unduly hinder the ability of Federal, state and local law enforcement to investigate and prosecute illegal activity and to protect the integrity of the health care payment system. Thus, we believe the requirement for law enforcement to use compulsory process, discussed above, should not apply in four circumstances: (1) when law enforcement is performing a health oversight function authorized by law (subject to the derivative use limitations discussed below); (2) pursuant to Federal, state or local mandatory reporting laws (including laws requiring the reporting of gunshot wounds, rapes, abuse of children or the elderly, or diversion of controlled substances); (3) in time-sensitive circumstances to prevent threatened or imminent physical harm to any person; and (4) to obtain limited name or other essential identifying information to enable law enforcement to locate and identify a patient who is a fugitive, suspect, or material witness.

With respect to the issue of derivative use, there are special concerns that may arise when law enforcement obtains access to large numbers of health records during health oversight activities. Therefore, we recommend that law enforcement should not be permitted to use information discovered during the oversight function against a patient for an unrelated, non-health care matter, unless authorized by a court under procedures similar to those in 18 U.S.C. 3486(e). However, because these concerns are not replicated when law enforcement obtains health records in non-health oversight law enforcement activities pursuant to compulsory process, any legislation should reflect current law which provides no restriction on the derivative use of confidential health information obtained by a law enforcement agency in the discharge of its general (i.e., non-health oversight) enforcement responsibilities.

Finally, we believe jails, prisons and detention facilities present unique situations with respect to medical records privacy. While the Department supports legislation that prohibits correctional facilities and employees from disclosing, using or obtaining medical information for non-official purposes, we believe such institutions should be exempted from the general obligations and duties imposed by medical record privacy legislation. These facilities also should be permitted to exchange prisoner or detainee health records without patient authorization with community health care providers providing health care services to the prisoners or detainees.

There are other technical drafting issues on which we would like to work with the Committee, including issues relating to certain definitions, the procedures for the imposition of penalties for violations, and government legal department access to health records from governmental departments and agencies while representing these bodies in civil matters prior to the initiation of legal proceedings.

Sincerely,

NOTE: Italicized language reflects issues that may be resolved before markup tomorrow.

Dear Chairman Jeffords,

On behalf of the Administration, I want to commend you and the other Committee members for working in a cooperative, bipartisan manner to bring the "Health Information Confidentiality Act of 1999" to markup. While we continue to have significant concerns that would need to be addressed before we could support passage of this legislation by the full Senate, we are encouraged by the bipartisan progress made to date. This is an important piece of legislation that has the potential to help us to achieve the goal of so many Americans – the right to privacy for medical and health information.

The President has indicated his strong desire to see the Congress enact a comprehensive medical privacy bill this year. At the same time, we are working hard to make sure the Department is prepared to go forward with the regulations specified under HIPAA, if Congress is unable to pass such a bill. As the President said in his State of the Union Address:

"As more of our medical records are stored electronically, the threats to all our privacy increase. Because Congress has given me the authority to act if it does not do so by August, one way or another, we can all say to the American people, we will protect the privacy of medical records and we will do it this year."

In this regard, we are pleased to see that the Chairman's mark places important limits on the ways that health plans, providers and other health care-related organizations and individuals use and disclose personal health information. The mark incorporates changes that clarify that these limits apply both to disclosures between health care organizations as well as to disclosures within such organizations, requiring that protected health care information be provided to and used by only those individuals necessary to accomplish the purpose for which the information was obtained. For example, an employer generally could not disclose protected information gathered for the purpose of health care treatment and payment by the employer's group health plan to employees charged with job performance or job placement functions. These limits are vital if Americans are to have confidence that they can seek treatment under their health insurance without fear that their personal information could be used against them in the workplace.

Similarly, we are very encouraged to see the Committee recognize that it should be unlawful for someone to disclose information that is not identifiable with the knowledge that the recipient will re-identify that information. We could not support a bill that includes loopholes that allow disclosure of information from which identifiers have been stripped or encoded to people who intend to re-identify that information.

We are also encouraged that the notice and authorization provisions together will provide consumers with the crucial information they need to understand how their health information will be used and their rights and responsibilities with respect to that information. While the notice provisions are vastly improved, we continue to have concerns regarding a provision that would make use of a model notice an "absolute defense" to a claim of inadequate notice, even if the information contained in the notice was not accurate for the circumstances in which it was used. While use of the model should provide some special legal protection, it should only do so if it accurately reflects use of the model.

With respect to non-federally funded health research, we are pleased that the Committee has included a review mechanism for researchers who wish to use medical records without obtaining a patient's prior authorization. We believe this section would be strengthened to provide greater protection for the public if some form of independent oversight were incorporated into this new process.

We are also pleased that the bill now makes clear that the allowable uses of protected health care information for health care operations apply only within the health plan or provider (and their agents) that originally obtains the information. Any sharing beyond that entity requires a separate authorization. Even within the entity, the allowable uses could not be expanded by contract beyond those for the purpose of the delivery of health benefits.

While the improvements to your legislation have been significant, there are other areas that we believe require changes. The strength of any law conveying rights to individuals is their ability to enforce such rights. The standard in the bill under which an individual could bring a private action is too high.

In the ever expanding, technology-based environment we live in, it is becoming easier and easier to identify individuals with only tidbits of either demographic or personal information. Because the Chairman's mark has a loose definition of "non-identifiable information", it is imperative that it be a crime for anyone to transmit the 'key' that allows such information to become identifiable. Absent such a prohibition, the bill would contain a significant loophole through which protected health information could be available to numerous parties for marketing or other purposes, all of which would be legal. Disclosing the key to re-identifying such information is no different than disclosing the identified information itself, and should be just as unlawful.

We understand that there is a general consensus that this legislation should not affect state laws that pertain to minors and their rights to either permit or prevent access to their health information. Unfortunately, it appears that the provision currently in the bill may not achieve this purpose. The language should be changed to ensure it is consistent with this original purpose.

As you know, the Administration's general view is that federal statutes that establish new health protections for individuals should set a floor upon which states can build to address their unique circumstances. We are concerned, therefore, about a statutory design that preempts State laws, and are still analyzing the particular approach taken in your bill. We intend to consider this issue carefully as we work with you to further strengthen the federal protections included in this legislation.

Finally, we agree that an insurer or health plan has a right to request certain personal information for underwriting purposes before an individual enrolls in the plan. After enrollment, the insurer or the plan should not be permitted to use that information to conduct ongoing internal plan operations. Allowing access to such information may undermine State laws prohibiting genetic discrimination. Given the Committee's past interest in addressing such discrimination, we urge that the language be dropped from the bill, so that no one can misconstrue the intent of the bill.

In closing, let me reiterate that we believe that this bipartisan effort represents a positive step toward meaningful privacy legislation, and we are very pleased with the progress you have made in working with us on various issues. We look forward to working with you to strengthen the bill further prior to Senate floor consideration.

Sincerely,

Donna E. Shalala

5 Amendments

1. exigent circumstances
2. hot pursuit "attempting to locate or identify"; DOJ (striking) doesn't like this.

210(g) doesn't give comfort b/c it's of great concern to Kennedy people.

not clear that we need both exceptions.

Bentivoglio giving in on exigent circumstances → they'll hold on 210(g) Name, address, SSN, type of injury & treatment, MD providing treatment.

hot pursuit is too narrow.

Stop ~~exigent~~ exigent after request
