Social Security Administration

FEB 8 1995

Dear Colleague:

You are cordially invited to attend a meeting with the White House Domestic Policy Council's (DCP) Federal appointees, serving on the DCP's National Disability Policy Review Panel.

The meeting will be held on Monday, February 13, 1995, from 1:30 p.m. - 3:30 p.m., 200 Independence Avenue, S.W., HHH Bldg., Room 703A.

Briefly for your background, the White House convened a team of Administration officials last fall to conduct the National Disability Policy Review of Federal programs serving people with disabilities. Five work groups were established to aggressively address all Federal disability policy related to the following areas: Accommodations, Children's Issues, Employment of Working-Age Adults, School-to-Work Transition, and Guiding Principles.

As the Convener of the Employment of Working Age Adults Work Group, I would like the opportunity to briefly update you on the activities of the Clinton Administration's National Disability Policy Review Panel.

More importantly, we want to hear from you. We would like for you to share your ideas, concerns, and solutions to the national problem of unemployment and underemployment of people with disabilities.

Attached for your review is the agenda, our charter, a one page highlighter and a list of questions from our Employment Work Group, which may serve as a springboard for our discussion.

We look forward to hearing your insights as we problem-solve together to improve opportunities for people with disabilities. Please contact April Waugh (410) 965-8046 or Marie Strahan (410) 965-5774 of my staff if you have any questions.

See you next week!

Sincerely,

A FEW STATISTICS TO PONDER:

(From the 1993 Current Population Survey, U.S. Census Bureau)

Work disability² is highly prevalent in the working age population. An estimated 9.6% of the population aged 16-64, or approximately 15.6 million persons, have a work disability. Over half of these - 9.1 million people, have a severe work limitation³.

People with disabilities are twice as likely to be unemployed. Of the 5.4 million labor force participants with disabilities, 870,000 are actively looking for work, for an unemployment rate of 16.2%. This rate is twice as high as the 7.2% unemployment rate of people without work disability. Since the unemployment rate includes only people actively seeking employment, it excludes many people with disabilities who might want jobs but have given up looking.

Two-thirds of working age people with disabilities are not working. Of the 15.6 million people who have a work disability, 10.2 million or 65.6%, are not in the labor force. Only 19.7% of working-age people without work disabilities do not participate in the labor force.

People with work disabilities are poorer than those without disabilities. An estimated 28.9% of people with work disabilities have incomes below the poverty level⁴ compared to 10.1% of the working-age population without work disabilities. Among persons with a severe work limitation, 35.8% have incomes below the poverty level.

²Defined by the Bureau of the Census as a self-reported limitation in the type or amount of work a person is able to perform due to chronic illness or impairment.

³Defined by the Bureau of the Census as a disability causing a person not to work at all or to receive Medicare or Supplemental Security Income (SSI).

⁴In 1991, the poverty level was $6,932/year for a person living alone, $13,924/year for a family of four.

THE NATIONAL DISABILITY POLICY REVIEW
WORK GROUP ON EMPLOYMENT OF WORKING AGE ADULTS

Some questions to consider from the Employment Work Group Members:

- o How can the Federal government improve its role as an enforcer of civil rights laws that impact on employment like the ADA and the Rehab Act?
- o What are the strategies for leveraging or assuring access to adult job training services by individuals with disabilities? Will the need for categorical job training for disabled individuals remain?
- o To what extent is the issue of low self-esteem and/or self-consciousness a problem in employability for people with disabilities? Are there program solutions to this phenomenon?
- o Within the context of disability and other forms of discrimination, how do employment (hiring and promoting) barriers and discrimination related to disability compare with those related to gender, race/ethnicity, age, sexual orientation?
 - rates or hiring/promoting?
 - ease of getting accommodations?

(For people with AIDS and probably others, the stigma attached ("undeserving disabled") is often as big a barrier as the physical problems).

- o The Veterans Administration provides a variety of specialized rehabilitation services (spinal cord treatment, blind rehabilitation, etc.) To the extent that resources permit, should legislation be introduced to permit the VA to contract (provide) these services to non-veterans on a reimbursable basis?
- o What do you see as the major reason why so few of SSA's beneficiaries with disabilities attempt to work?
- o What program changes are needed to further the goal of placement of persons with disabilities into competitive employment, at and above minimum wages and in jobs with opportunities for advancement?

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

December 16, 1994

To all participants in the 11/2/94 meeting:

Thank you for attending the meeting held last month to discuss the National Disability Policy Review. We have now launched that Review, and we plan to schedule a second meeting with you in the near future.

Following our November meeting and the first meeting of the Review Team, the Team reached an agreement to initially divide into the following five working groups: Accommodations, Children's Issues, Employment of Working-Age Adults, Guiding Principles, and School-to-Work Transition. While we are beginning the work in these five broad areas, we are interested to know your thoughts and are open to further suggestions.

As we discussed, we want to expand our outreach in an effort to involve a larger number of groups in the Review process. We have enclosed what we hope is a more thorough and inclusive list of key organizations to contact regarding future meetings and briefings. It includes the original ten groups that participated in November's meeting and has been expanded with the assistance of some of the participants in that meeting. Please contact Elisabeth Cohen (202-456-2846) if you have any additions or comments.

At our next meeting, representatives of the five work groups listed above will give presentations to familiarize you with our initial proceedings and discuss progress to date. Thanks again for attending the first meeting, and we look forward to working with you.

Sincerely,

Jeremy Ben-Ami

Domestic Policy Council

MEMORANDUM FROM JEREMY BEN-AMI AND STAN HERR

TO: ADVOCACY GROUPS ????

SUBJECT: NATIONAL DISABILITY POLICY REVIEW

Attached please find a list of the groups we would like to include in a series of meetings to discuss the National Disability Policy Review.

We found our initial meeting on 11/2/94 to be very helpful and we plan to schedule a second meeting in the near future. The review team has divided into the following five working groups: Accommodations, Children's Issues, Employment of Working-Age Adults, Guiding Principles, and School-to-Work Transition. During our next meeting, the convenors of the five groups will give presentations in an effort to familiarize you with our initial proceedings and receive comments on progress to date.

The expanded list was compiled with input from various parties who attended the first meeting. Please contact Elisabeth Cohen, 202-456-2846 if you have additional suggestions.

Thank you.

MEMORANDUM TO JEREMY BEN-AMI AND STAN HERR

FROM Elisabeth Cohen

SUBJECT Advocates

I looked for you to discuss my meeting with Debbie -- since I can't find you I am attempting to outline some of her remarks. The main points are listed below:

- * she suggested I contact Skyla Harris (sp?) of Mrs. Gore's staff to review this list further -- I wanted to ask you before contacting her; ✓
- * when one or more contacts per agency have been suggested, she felt we should let the agency decide by contacting one person, but asking them if they are the appropriate contact;
- * she suggested we consider having a core group and a separate list of groups we contact on rotating or less frequent basis -- possible rotating contacts are marked below with a  before their name; also, I have deleted from this list a few contacts she felt we could include but were "not necessary" - these groups can be added if we decide to go with this suggestion.

Some of Debbie's remarks are written on this list in bold, I can go over additional comments on Monday or by phone -- I'll keep a copy and you can call me at 215-564-1786 if you want to discuss it further. Debbie also has a copy, so you can call her.

Debbie has a copy of peg's list and will get back to you by Friday with 2 or 3 groups of 10-12; peg says they would like 2 or 3 breakfasts with 10-12 people.

This memo and attached list is saved as "127adv"

Lisa and Richard updated to do list and updated review team list

I talked to Lisa and she received the inter-office mail I sent her on Monday (it was also faxed to her)
