

THE NATIONAL MENTORING PARTNERSHIP

July 15, 1999

Chairman and President
Mr. Geoffrey T. Boisi

National Spokesperson and Co-President
Mrs. Marian L. Heard

Members

Mr. James M. Allwin
Morgan Stanley Dean Witter

Mr. Ronald Bernard
NFL Enterprises

Mr. Michael Bolton
The Michael Bolton Foundation

Mr. Raymond G. Chambers
The Amelior Foundation

Senator Daniel R. Coats
Verner Lipfert

Mr. Robert J. Dayton
Okabena Company

Mr. James E. Duffy
Project Learning U.S.

Mr. George A. Fertitta
Margeotes Fertitta + Partners

Mr. Jonathan N. Grayer
Kaplan Educational Centers

General Robert T. Herres, USAF (Ret.)
USAA

The Honorable Thomas Kean
Drew University

Dr. Roy Keith
Carson Products Company

Mr. Willem Kooyker
Blenheim Investments, Inc.

Mr. Lawrence Lederman
Milbank, Tweed, Hadley & McCloy

The Reverend J. Donald Monan, S.J.
Boston College

Dr. Frank Newman
Education Commission of the States

Mr. Paul O'Brien
The O'Brien Group, Inc.

Mrs. Vivian W. Piasecki

General Colin Powell
US Army (Ret.)

Mr. Phil Ramone
National Association of Recording Arts & Sciences

Mr. Roy S. Roberts
General Motors

Mr. Gerard R. Roche
Heidrick & Struggles

Mr. George M. Ross
Goldman, Sachs & Co.

Mr. Bill Russell
Center Court Productions

Mr. John A. Schneider
Allen & Company, Inc.

Mr. Alan D. Schwartz
Bear, Stearns & Co., Inc.

James D. Sinegal
Costco Companies, Inc.

Mr. Vincent A. Wasik
Morningside Capital Group, + L.L.C.

Dr. Susan G. Weinberger
Mentor Consulting Group

Mr. H. Ronald Weissman
Arthur Andersen LLP

Dr. Jay Winsten
Harvard School of Public Health

Shirley Sagawa
Deputy Chief of Staff
Deputy Assistant of the President
White House OEOB Room 100
Washington, DC 20502

Dear Shirley:

Once again, we thank you for agreeing to be on the review team for our book.
And now the work begins!

Enclosed is a working table of contents of "Why Every Child Deserves A Mentor." We would very much appreciate your thinking on: 1) the outline itself; 2) people you believe we should be sure to interview; 3) examples of programs that illustrate mentoring that works; 4) examples of truly exemplary programs or mentors; 5) any literature you think important for us to review.

We will be happy to receive your feedback in whatever form works best for you. You can annotate the enclosed outline, give us a call (Frank at 401-423-1629; Gail at 202-729-4369) or e-mail us (all e-mails go to Gail at gmanza@mentoring.org).

Thanks, thanks, thanks. You are wonderful to do this.

Best regards,

Frank Newman
Chair, Strategic Review Committee &
President Emeritus, Education
Commission of the States

Gail Manza
National Executive Director
The National Mentoring
Partnership

P.S. Our publisher, Penguin Putman, is particularly interested in stories about young people for whom mentoring has been a genuinely transforming experience. If you have stories to suggest, it would be especially helpful if you could provide guidance regarding how to contact the adult and young person involved. Thanks, again.

“WHY EVERY CHILD DESERVES A MENTOR”
Working Table of Contents

FORWARD

PROLOGUE (Story on a Mentor/Mentee)

SECTION I: Why Do Young People Want And Need Mentors?

Chapter 1 -- Young People’s Views on Mentoring

Chapter 2 -- Expert Opinion on Why Mentors are Important to Young People

SECTION II: What Is Mentoring ... How Prevalent Is It And In What Settings Is It Offered?

Chapter 3 -- Defining Mentoring and Delineating Prevalence

Chapter 4 -- Settings In Which Mentoring Is Available

- Schools
- Civic Organizations
- Not-for-Profit Organizations
- Faith-Based Organizations
- Corporations

SECTION III: Who Mentors/Who Is Mentored?

Chapter 5 -- Individual Stories about Mentor/Mentee Pairs

Chapter 6 -- Profile on Adults Who Mentor

Chapter 7 -- Profile on Young People Who Seek Mentors

SECTION IV:

When Does Mentoring Work /When Doesn't It?

Chapter 8 -- Evidence That Mentoring Works to Produce Positive Outcomes for Young People

Chapter 9 -- Exploration of Circumstances Under Which Mentoring Doesn't Work

SECTION V: How Can You Find Mentors For The Children You Care About?

Chapter 10 -- For Parents and Families

Chapter 11 -- For Teachers, School Administrators, Human Service
Professionals and Church and Community Leaders

SECTION VI: How Can You Become A Mentor?

Chapter 12 -- Attributes of a Good Mentor

Chapter 13 -- Opportunities to Mentor

SECTION VII

How Can You Get A Mentoring Program Started?

Chapter 14 -- Settings in Which to Operate

Chapter 15 -- Attributes of a Good Program

Chapter 16 -- Sources of Help

SECTION VIII: What Can Be Done To Ensure That Every Child Who Wants Or Needs A Mentor Has Access To One?

Chapter 17 -- The Ten Barriers to Bringing Mentoring Opportunities to Every Child Who Wants or Need a Mentor

Chapter 18 -- What is Happening at the National Level

Chapter 19 -- What States Are Doing

Chapter 20 -- What Communities Are Doing

Chapter 21 -- What You Can Do
