Puppy love? Pomeranian Buddy got a response to fan mail sent to the president's pup of the same name.

Scat, Socks; Buddy's got mail

□ Who gets the most mail? The White House isn't saying. But plenty of fans want paw prints from the dog.

By Sherri M. Owens

OF THE SENTINEL STAFF

Buddy, a pet Pomeranian in Belle Isle, has a new pen pal — make that "paw pal."

Buddy's owner, Richard Synan, in December wrote to President Clinton's dog, who also is named Buddy. Synan enclosed a snapshot and an excerpt from an Ann Landers column about giving pets love and attention.

"Could you send me your picture and paw print for my album?" Richard Synan, 83, wrote on his dog's behalf. "I want to be a pal of yours. We Buddies have got to stick together."

Over the weekend, he received a response from the presidential pooch.

"Thank you for writing to me," reads the letter. "Living at the White House is very exciting, and I am enjoying my new family."

The letter is signed with a paw print and Buddy's name. Also enclosed was a photo of Buddy sitting on a park bench with Clinton.

Thousands of letters have poured in regarding Buddy, but Socks, the Clintons' cat, also has been popular with the public. Which one gets the most mail?

"We would never say that one is favored over the other," said Lori Abrams, spokesperson for the White House correspondence department. "Actually, we don't have a count broken down to show which first family member gets the most mail."

In addition to responding to letters about White House pets, staff also sends letters to those who write in about a new baby, an 80th or subsequent birthday, a 50th or subsequent anniversary, an Eagle Scout Award or the Girl Scout's Gold Award.

Requests must be sent at least four weeks in advance, but not more than six weeks, to The White House, Washington D.C. 20500. Allow four to six weeks for processing.

Dear Socks, Buddy

Our first grade class in Pigeon Falls, Wisconsin has been learning about presidents and the White House. We used books, magazines, calendar pictures, and the Internet to help us answer the questions we had about the White House. It must really be a special house to live in!

We wanted to know more about what it is like for a pet to live there. Could you please tell us more about you and what your life is like living in the White House? Some questions we had were:

When is your birthday?
How old are you?
What is your favorite food?
Where do you sleep?
Where are you allowed to go in the White House?
What do you like to do? Play with yarn? Play outside?
Do you get lots of mail at the White House?

We know you and your presidential family are very busy, but could you and your helpers please write a letter back to us? It would be fun to get some mail from the White House! Our address is:

Dear Buddy,

We are students in Mrs. Maggio's first grade class. We live in Elgin, Illinois. We have been studying about Presidents this month. We are interested in Buddy, the dog.

We want to know if he howls. We would like to have a picture of him. Mrs. Maggio's class got a picture of Socks and Bill Clinton and Al Gore a few years ago.

What color is Buddy? How old is he? What does he eat? How is he doing in the White House? Does he chase Socks? We hope not. Does he sleep on the President's bed? Does he play alot? What does he do all day? Does he like baths?

To Socks, ~~and~~ Buddy

We are in Kindergarten at Forest Creek Elementary School. We are learning about famous people, including President Clinton. We learned that you are his cat and we decided to ask you some questions.

If possible, could Socks write back to us?

We hope you enjoy our questions.

1. We like to eat pizza. What do you eat? Does President Clinton feed you?

2. In school we learn about staying healthy. Do you take a bath?

3. What color are you?

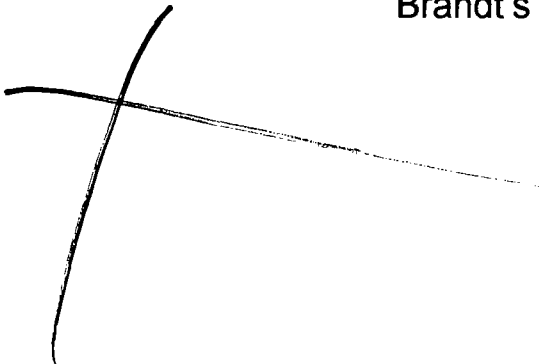

4. We live in Round Rock, Texas. It is chilly today. We like Texas. Do you like your home?

5. We like to drive our pretend cars. We play hide and go seek. We play "Guess Who?". We play video games. We play legos. We play blocks. What do you play?

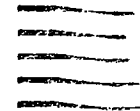

6. We have pets. We have dogs, cats, birds, turtles, horses. We know you have a dog living with you now. WATCH OUT FOR THE NEW DOG IN YOUR HOUSE, sometimes dogs and cats do not get along.

Have a nice day!

From,

Dear Buddy,

Several years ago, I sent for and received a picture of "FIRST CAT" Socks Clinton, which I now have framed in my home.

Since you are now our "First Dog," I would very much like to have a picture of you also.

If this is possible, please send your photo to me at the following address:
