Dear Jimmy Chris Meredith

Buddy and Socks, JUSTIN Drew

Our first grade class at Pleasant Valley recently read the book FLAT STANLEY by Jeff Brown. In this book Stanley becomes a "flat boy" after a bulletin board falls on him while he is asleep. Stanley goes many places a normal boy can't. In one adventure Stanley is placed in an envelope and mailed to California to visit a friend.

Brittney
We decided to see how many places Stanley could visit with our help. Please send a postcard to us so we can keep track of Stanley's travels. Please try to send a postcard that shows a picture of something special in the state or country you are from. We have a U.S. and world map in our room so we can mark all the places our friend Stanley has visited.

STEPH
Please feel free to send Stanley on another adventure! Thanks for helping us with this project.

Dear Socks and Buddy,

I am in Kindergarten at Decker Prairie Elementary in Texas. I am six years old. We are studying about farm animals in our class. Today, we learned that the White House use to keep farm animals. I know there are not any farm animals at the White House now, but you live there. I have have pets too. I have three dogs, two chickies, eight big chickens, and a bunny.

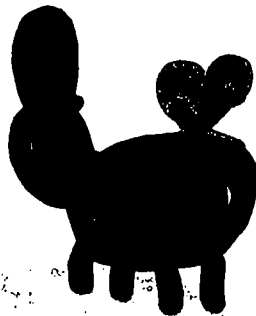

Someday I would like to visit at the White House. I hope I see you both playing at the White House lawn.

Dear Buddy,

Hi, my name is Daniel VanBuren and I am 9 years old. I am writing to you for a school assignment. I have a few questions. How does it feel to have all the food you want? Did you learn how to go poop outside? Who takes care of you in such a big house? I have two puppies. They haven't been housebroken yet, just paper trained. One is a beagle and the other is a bassett hound. These are all of the questions I have for you.
