Resnick - we know a lot about healthy development. All health study. recurring protective factors. 1) connection to parents & families 2) connection to school - kids have community in school setting. ~~3) adults~~ good school performance..... kids who perceive themselves having a short life timeline. protection effects ~~not~~ looking 2) kids involved in substance abuse & have gone 2 suicide they have strong correlation to violence perpetration but when kids are connected w/ parents they are less likely to be violent.

Sarah Brown - Campaign to prevent teen pregnancy

Brandi Chapel - BET teen summit co-host

Sarah - parents are an influence on teens want more guidance. $\frac{2}{3}$ children talk to children. Parents fail to talk about tough issues. focus on parents first, teens on parents first. many other groups. looked for tips from parents. tips for drug control & tips for preventing pregnancy are identical. The campaign for tobacco free kids, youth violence.

- 1) know where your kids are & what they are doing
- 2) know friends, parents & families.
- 3) filling time w/ parents.
- 4) how do we challenge the parents?

Brandi - open communication w/ parents must be comfortable w/ kids & need a 2 way conversation. committed providing information about.

- 3) responsibility to take responsibility of their actions.

Sharon - Pres. of Hunter College.

Harold Kopelowitz - NYU professor - story of depression - mental illnesses critical & we need to take away the stigma & an enhanced effort to fund teenagers. funding requires us to find how many teens.

Carol Morris - teens may talk to parents but not about problems. parents & teens want to communicate w/ each other - establish trust & any info will not be shared w/o permission. even if in notes before

bad boys father & Mother died of AIDS father parents engage in them. Story of an open access program

Matt Mayas - Campaign for tobacco free

Richmond - Some of the discussion needs to consider some way to institutionalize the programs & services. enhance wellness. we need to deal w/ variations. head start program came into communities in 1965 they are comprehensive child development ~~and~~ organizations. so children don't get lost & children have an abundance of things

Shabazz

Angela Day - feeling connected. help them get jobs it is very comprehensive help than w/ access to sports. parents even participated in the programs.

Bernie Harris - patterns are being set now i.e. interpersonally. 3 areas to touch on. Mind Matters - Education about mental health issues.
& how to resolve issues. 1) how do we build physical education - sports for life. 3 on 3 basketball
3) suicide prevention - life promotion after your life.

Sally Cunningham - youth sports - their issue is protecting the youth & making sure they are positively active in organized, supervised programs. the message is to combine all the physical, sociological & psychological

John Butler - Pop Warner founded in 1929 to keep kids off streets below a Carnegie they have to have a parent sign off on. kids watched by Age & weight. The people on the field saying We are giving up our ~~precious~~ time but why are you making rules. Coaching education & background checks

Steve Culbertson - are we dealing w/ youth in a wellness aspect. Kids are the hope of today they are assets.

Bradi - get involved in doing things that you like.

Matt Meyers - the marching army is missing. We have a good idea of what we need to do w/these kids but we lack commitment from our community to embrace these things. We need to get the word out that this is our biggest priority.

Yann Barringer - alcohol is problem in urban America today. They know that helping these kids making connections w/ school using programs to connect kids back to school. We need to bring families into the group we need to make effective parents we need kids to connect w/ parents & when they are connected the risks of suicide drops.
youth development emerges need to be continued
how to motivate people how to we organize a campaign to

Sarah ~~we need~~ no matter what issue group you work with

Leppowitz - some sort of version of head start w/structure needs to happen.

70% of households don't have school.

County social service system can't expand.

Carol Ann - talking about children w/ fixable problems, we need to look @ children in minority.

Diaz - we need to look @ families as well what about sexual abuse the kids need to be taken out of the home - many communities are not safe many have seen people shot the issue of abuse is violence. the issue of mental health is important.

Deament - teenagers are not sleeping as much as they should. high jumpers can jump higher when they have more sleep.

Brayeli - point out specifics w/ kids & positive reinforcement is very important.

Jackson Lee - Chips program. access to health care legislation on the sex problem & high school starts to earlier. important to bolster parents' confidence to listen is applaud. Depression is an illness & we have to see that for what it is. we can face the issue of whether America will stand up & be counted. sports is important for youngsters to have something to do,
