NOTE TO PLANNING COMMITTEE
"IMPROVING HIV CARE INTO THE 21ST CENTURY
INTEGRATED CARE FOR THE MULTIPLY DIAGNOSED"

All of you have agreed to help plan this conference to one degree or another. I have attached a current draft of a proposal for the conference and fully expect it to change once we begin to work.

I would hope that most of the work of the planning will take place in a few conference calls. If you feel we need to get together in person, I will take care of those arrangements. Virginia Stancil will be in touch with your office to find available times for our initial conference call meeting.

I hope we can hold this conference in the late fall/early winter – say early/mid November. Washington, DC is booked through the fall. Support for this conference will be in the form of unrestricted educational grants from several pharmaceutical companies. I will be engaging a top notch conference specialist with whom I worked at NIH, Social Scientific Systems.

Attached is a list of the members of the planning committee as it currently is constituted. I expect to add a few more people. If you have any suggestions in the interim, please do not hesitate to contact me (numbers, address and email are on the fax cover sheet).

Thanks very much and I look forward to talking with you soon.

Health Care Policy Experts Evaluate HIV/AIDS Treatment, Policies Behind Bars

The lack of a consistent standard of HIV care inside and outside of the nation's correctional system continues to undermine the provision of care and treatment for current and former inmates with HIV disease, raising concerns that numerous offenders and ex-offenders are developing drug resistant strains of the HIV virus and are thus endangering their own health.

HIV and AIDS care within correctional settings varies from state to state and even among institutions within certain states, creating an uneven, divergent system of care, according to analysts and advocates interviewed by Positive Populations.

"There are as many different levels of care as there are prisons and jails," said one analyst close to the process. "There are some that are absolutely excellent, there are some that meet or exceed the [federally endorsed] HIV treatment guidelines and there are some systems where AZT monotherapy is the only thing available."

It's important to note that HIV care also varies on the outside, falling well below the standard of care provided by certain correctional institutions in some cases. There are, in fact, incidences where former inmates with HIV have purposely violated the terms and conditions of their parole in order to reenter the penal system and access a certain level of health care unavailable to them on the outside.

"These folks may receive good care for a six month period and then they come out of prison and there has been no provisions made for follow up and they fall through the cracks," commented Anne De Groot, MD, Chief of the TB/HIV Research Lab at Brown University's School of Medicine in Providence, Rhode Island.

Successful Strategies for Overcoming Barriers Moderator Information

Thank you for agreeing to act as a moderator for the session/subsession on Successful Strategies for Overcoming Barriers. As of today, approximately 400 people are registered. The purpose of the concurrent sessions is to take advantage of the expertise and experiences of the participants in the specific topics presented. The goal of this particular session is to identify strategies to overcome patient/client, policy, and institutional barriers to meet the needs of persons with HIV and comorbidities and to prevent HIV infection among people with these other conditions. The product of this session will be a set of recommendations and priorities for overcoming these barriers as well as research that is needed in these areas.

There will be two moderator/rapporteurs in the main concurrent session and one in each of the subsessions. The role of the moderator/rapporteur in each concurrent session will be to conduct the session, record the recommendations/findings of the session, and report on those points in a 15 minute presentation during the closing session. The moderator/ rapporteurs in each subsession will report findings and recommendations to the moderator/rapporteur of their main session.

The Council Room at the Omni Shoreham Hotel will serve as a meeting place for moderators and will be accessible 24 hours a day. Several computers and a printer will be available.

Your session will be held twice. Following is the schedule, room assignments, current registration numbers, and contact information for session and subsession moderators. An overhead projector, screen, flip chart and markers will be provided.

Executive Office of the President
736 Jackson Place, N.W.
Washington, DC 20503

Dear Mr. Summers:

"Improving HIV Care and Prevention Into the 21st Century: Integrated Care for the Multiply Diagnosed" will be held on June 28 and 29, 1999, at the Omni Shoreham Hotel in Washington, DC. This will be the first national dialogue on the increasingly complex issues facing care providers and policy makers for persons with HIV and comorbidities such as homelessness, substance abuse, and mental illness. The planning committee for this conference invites you to participate in this conference as a moderator/rapporteur for the session entitled, "Successful Strategies for Overcoming Barriers." A flyer describing the conference and an agenda with confirmed speakers for the conference are enclosed.

The purpose of the concurrent sessions is to take advantage of the expertise and experiences of the participants in the specific topics presented. Two of these sessions are divided into subsessions on specific topics germane to the main session. As you will see, the concurrent sessions will be held two times, first on the afternoon of June 28 and then again on the morning of June 29. The goal of the concurrent session noted above will be to identify strategies to overcome patient/client, policy, and institutional barriers to meet the needs of persons with HIV and comorbidities. The product of this session will be a set of recommendations and priorities for overcoming these barriers as well as research that is needed in these areas.

There will be two moderator/rapporteurs in each main concurrent session and one in each of the subsessions. The role of the moderator/rapporteurs in each concurrent session will be to conduct the session, record the recommendations/findings of the session, and report on those points during the closing session. The moderator/rapporteurs in each subsession will report findings and recommendations to the moderator/rapporteurs of their main session.

I hope you will be able to be a moderator/rapporteur at this important meeting. If you are able to do so, your transportation, hotel, and expenses will be covered by the conference. Please contact Ms. Andrea Hall at Social & Scientific Systems, Inc., at 301-986-4870 or by fax at 301-913-0351 to let us know if you can participate, or if you have any questions. Improving HIV Care and Prevention into the 21st Century: Integrated Care for the Multiply Diagnosed

HIV disease in the United States is increasingly a condition complicated by multiple comorbidities such as substance abuse, mental illness, and homelessness. On June 28 and 29, 1999, the HIV/AIDS Service of the Department of Veterans Affairs—in conjunction with the Department of Health and Human Services, the Office of AIDS Research of the National Institutes of Health, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, and the White House Office of National AIDS Policy and Office of National Drug Control Policy—will sponsor a conference to convene service providers, health professionals from public and private agencies, representatives of advocacy organizations, administrative and policy leaders, and public and science media involved with HIV/AIDS. This conference will be the first forum for interdisciplinary discussions about the medical, social, resource, and programmatic needs of persons with HIV and comorbidities.

Conference Location

Omni Shoreham Hotel
2500 Calvert Street, N.W.
Washington, DC 20008
Telephone: (202) 234-0700
Fax: (202) 265-7972

The goals of the conference will be twofold:

- ▶ Initiate collaborations that will address the medical, social, psychological, resource, and research needs to improve care of person with HIV and comorbidities.
- ▶ Identify best practices in ongoing programs that address these issues.

Registration Fees

This conference is being supported by unrestricted education grants from several pharmaceutical companies. It is open to the public and there are no registration fees; however, all individuals must pre-register by June 10, 1999.

The conference will also address HIV prevention among persons at risk who have comorbid conditions.

The conference will feature nationally recognized leaders in the areas of HIV care and prevention as well as HIV and substance abuse, HIV and homelessness, and HIV and mental illness. These leaders in the field will highlight issues, innovative approaches, and design solutions as well as target research needs by the following means:

- ▶ Identify the medical, psychological, social, and resource needs for prevention of HIV infection and care of persons with HIV and comorbidities.
- ▶ Identify how these needs are currently being met as well as address service and resource gaps.
- ▶ Identify barriers to meeting the identified needs.
- ▶ Identify research needs to address uncertainties in these areas.

Additional Information

Please call Ann Borlo or Andrea Hall, Social & Scientific Systems, Inc., at (301) 986-4870, for additional information or visit the web site at:

The conference format is structured so the first day will include morning plenary presentations on the most current research, programs, issues, and barriers to HIV/AIDS care and prevention in the multiply diagnosed. During the afternoon of the first day and morning of the second day, methods and strategies for addressing the challenges of care for this population will be developed during breakout sessions with the participation of the attendees and led by experts in these different areas. The conference will close on the afternoon of the second day with presentations of each group's efforts, followed by a panel discussion of future service needs, research, and models.

DRAFT CONFERENCE PROPOSAL – November 6, 1998IMPROVING HIV CARE AND PREVENTION INTO THE 21st CENTURY:
INTEGRATED CARE FOR THE MULTIPLY DIAGNOSED

Goals: Highlight issues, innovative approaches, design solutions and identify research needs for a) prevention of HIV infection in persons with mental illness, substance abuse, and homelessness and b) the clinical management of persons with HIV infection and those comorbidities. This will be accomplished by:

1. Identification of the medical, psychological, social and resource needs for prevention of HIV infection and care of persons with HIV and comorbidities,
2. Identification of how these needs are currently being met as well as service/resource gaps,
3. Identification of barriers to meeting these identified needs, and,
4. Identification of research needs to address uncertainties in these areas.

Faculty: Experts in integrated service delivery for HIV prevention and care of HIV patients from VA, HHS, HUD and other state, local or private programs. Experts and best practices will be featured in the areas of HIV prevention programs, HIV medical care, mental health, substance abuse, homelessness, prison, and public health service delivery as well as policy, planning and research activities required for provision of these services.

Attendees: HIV service providers and interested health professionals from relevant public and private agencies, program staff in relevant programs, AIDS advocacy organizations, Veterans Service Organizations, administrative and policy leaders for agencies responsible for HIV programs (HHS, HUD, VA, DoD), and public and science media.

- I. Welcome/Introduction - 10 minutes
- II. Epidemiology of HIV/AIDS and Comorbidities: What is Known: What is Unknown (practical and research issues) - 30 minutes
- III. Overview Presentation: What are the Medical, Psychological, Social and Resource/Program Needs of Patients with Comorbid Conditions/Multiple Diagnoses? How do we know this? (60 minutes) (NB – this would be based on qualitative and quantitative research among the relevant patient populations.)
 - a. for HIV prevention
 - b. for HIV care

Suggested speakers: Mindy Fullilove, Ezra Susser, Todd Summers, Andrea Barswell, Jim Curran

- IV. Overview Presentation: How are the Medical, Psychological, Social, and Resource/Program Needs of Patients with Comorbid Conditions/Multiple Diagnoses Being Met? (60 minutes) (NB – this would describe research, interventions, services, and best practices. A suggestion was made to make this presentation focus NOT on agencies but address programs from a ‘client focus.’)

- a. for HIV prevention
- b. for HIV care

Session Chair: George Woody has volunteered.

Suggested speakers: Jerry Friedland, Todd Summers (to review government programs with a panel of agency reps for q/a), Fred Carnes, Francine Cournos

- V. Overview Presentation: What are the Medical, Social, Cultural, Legal, and Resource Barriers to Meeting the Needs of Patients with Comorbid Conditions/Multiple Diagnoses? How Can These Barriers Be Overcome? (60 minutes) (We had talked about this also addressing institutional/policy barriers as well as issues at the client/patient level)

- a. For HIV prevention
- b. For HIV care

Suggested Chair: Paul Farmer (anthropologist) from Harvard.

Suggested speakers: Wafaa El-Sadr, Jerry Friedland, Mike Merson

- VI. Concurrent Sessions: (3 hours) Each will be asked to prepare a report.

- a. Methods For Determining Patient Needs (qualitative, quantitative, needs assessment, etc) We suggested having e three separate ‘subsessions’ within this breakout for each important condition/population; mental health, substance abuse, homeless, etc.
- b. Successful Strategies for Addressing the Needs of Multiply Diagnosed Patients (examples of best practices in HIV prevention and care including integrated services model). Our discussion seemed to suggest this remain a ‘show and tell’ session where individual programs that have attempted to address the needs of multiply diagnosed patients/clients are presented (SPINS projects, HUD programs, VA, etc, etc). The job of the Chair would be to identify best practices or themes that run across those programs – what works and what does not work.
- c. Successful Strategies for Overcoming Barriers (this might focus on mechanisms to overcome barriers, e.g., regulatory, legislative, resource, etc., to distinguish it from session b.) Our discussion suggested subsessions that would identify how to overcome barriers that address patient/client barriers, policy barriers, institutional barriers.

Suggested Chair: Barbara Davidson and Ken Lowery volunteered to help with this session.

IMPORTANT: we discussed the problems with only 3 large breakout sessions and suggested the possibility of conducting each for 1.5 hours and repeating them. This would allow participants to attend two of the three breakouts but does not deal with the likely possible problem of each breakout having over 100 participants.

- VII. Presentation of Concurrent Sessions' Reports (30 minutes each/90 minutes total) Integration of Service Models – presentation of models of best practices for HIV prevention and HIV care
- VIII. Future Needs – panel discussion focused on service needs, research and models?? (60 minutes)

Folks, Thanks so much for your input on the conference call the other day. Attached is a redraft of the Conference Proposal in which I have attempted to integrate the suggestions made on the conference call.

I am having trouble with the actual organization of the conference itself – particularly how to productively have concurrent sessions and the goals of those sessions. The distinction I am making in this draft is that there will be three separate overview presentations on 1) what patients need, 2) what is currently being provided and 3) what barriers exist and then these topics will be further defined/refined in concurrent sessions. My hope is that the concurrent sessions will give the time/space for the informal networking and information sharing that Jane mentioned.

Your thoughts on this draft before I send it out?

Thanks, BOPPER
