Dear Joe:

Thank you for your efforts to secure passage of H.R. 3244, the Victims of Trafficking and Violence Prevention Act of 2000.

This landmark legislation strengthens and improves the Nation's efforts to fight violence against women. The bill also provides important new tools and resources to combat the worldwide scourge of trafficking in persons and provides vital assistance to victims of trafficking. In addition, this Act will help American victims of terrorism abroad to collect court-awarded compensation.

Thanks, again, for your leadership in enacting this measure. As a token of my appreciation, please accept the enclosed signing pen and redline copy of the bill.

Sincerely,

Dear Representative Miller:

Thank you for your efforts to secure passage of H.R. 3189, designating the United States Post Office in Chino Hills, California, as the Joseph Iletto Post Office.

Joe Iletto served his country honorably as a letter carrier for the United States Postal Service. On August 10, 1999, while delivering mail, Joe fell victim to the hand of a racially motivated criminal. The naming of this post office in his honor is a fitting tribute to a man who loved his family and served his community and his country with pride. In recognizing Joe Iletto, we also recognize all postal carriers who serve their fellow citizens every day.

Please accept the enclosed signing pen and redline copy of the bill as a memento of your leadership in enacting this legislation.

Dear Ike:

Thank you for your efforts to secure passage of H.R. 3639, designating the headquarters of the U.S. Department of State in Washington, D.C., as the Harry S. Truman Federal Building.

This bipartisan legislation honors a truly great American, our Nation's 33rd President and Missouri's favorite son. President Truman was a man of courage and conviction. During the critical years that ended and followed World War II, he set our Nation on a course that would shape American foreign policy for decades. Naming the Department of State after him is a fitting tribute to the man who helped end isolationism and establish this country's critical role in international relations.

Dear Mr. Chairman:

Thank you for your efforts to secure passage of H.R. 2559, the Agricultural Risk Protection Act of 2000.

This bipartisan legislation authorizes permanent reforms to the crop insurance program, provides temporary farm income assistance in FY 2000, and provides funding and authorities for other agricultural and nutrition programs for FY 2001. This bill's farm income assistance will help many producers get through what is shaping up to be another tough year, and the crop insurance reforms should enhance producers' ability to survive natural disasters for years to come.

Thanks, again, for your leadership on this important legislation. As a token of my appreciation, please accept the enclosed signing pen and redline copy of the bill.

Dear John:

I would like to congratulate you and extend my sincere appreciation to you and your colleagues who have recently formed the bipartisan Climate Change Caucus in the House of Representatives. As you know, I consider the issue of climate change to be one of the greatest challenges faced by our country and the world in this new century. However, it is a challenge I know we can meet, and one in which we can and should play a leadership role for the rest of the world.

Your support and your work with your Congressional colleagues are critical as we work to find the most cost-effective, environmentally beneficial means to reduce and stabilize our emissions of harmful greenhouse gases. I am convinced that we can meet the challenge of climate change without sacrificing strong economic growth.

I commend you for your vision and leadership on this issue that will be critically important for our Nation's future.

Dear John:

Thank you for being a part of the Congressional delegation that accompanied me on my recent trip to Vietnam. I greatly appreciated your participation.

This visit provided us with an historic occasion to help our two nations continue to build a partnership for the future. One important element of that partnership is our bilateral trade agreement, and your presence illustrated America's commitment to help Vietnam continue to take positive strides toward economic and social reform and seize the new opportunities of the 21st century. In less than a decade, Vietnam's per capita income has risen over seventy percent, fifteen million Vietnamese have been lifted out of poverty, and the polio virus has been eradicated from their nation.

With our continued support in helping Vietnam combat infectious diseases, expand science and technology cooperation, provide disaster relief, strengthen labor protection, and continue, with us, to ensure the fullest possible accounting for American POW/MIAs in Vietnam, I am confident that our dynamic partnership will help ensure a better future for the people of Vietnam, the people of the United States and for all those whom we can reach together.

As a Vietnam veteran, your presence played a vital role on the trip and significantly broadened the message of U.S. support for Vietnam. Please accept the enclosed photo album as a token of my appreciation for helping me represent our nation. I hope you enjoy this memento of our historic journey.

One important element of that partnership is our bilateral trade agreement, and your presence illustrated America's commitment to help Vietnam continue to take positive strides toward economic and social reform and seize the new opportunities of the 21st century. In less than a decade, Vietnam's per capita income has risen over seventy percent, fifteen million Vietnamese have been lifted out of poverty, and the polio virus has been eradicated from their nation.

With our continued support in helping Vietnam combat infectious diseases, expand science and technology cooperation, provide disaster relief, strengthen labor protection, and continue, with us, to ensure the fullest possible accounting for American POW/MIAs in Vietnam, I am confident that our dynamic partnership will help ensure a better future for the people of Vietnam, the people of the United States and for all those whom we can reach together.

As a Vietnam veteran, your presence played a vital role on the trip and significantly broadened the message of U.S. support for Vietnam. Please accept the enclosed photo album as a token of my appreciation for helping me represent our nation. I hope you enjoy this memento of our historic journey.

Sincerely,

Dear Fritz:

Thank you for your efforts to secure passage of S. 2327, the Oceans Act of 2000, which establishes a Commission on Ocean Policy to make recommendations to the President and Congress for a coordinated and comprehensive national ocean policy.

This important legislation will enhance the ocean policy of the United States by promoting the protection of the marine environment, improving marine-related commerce, and building partnerships with local governments with respect to ocean and coastal activities. Preserving our coasts and oceans is critical to our nation's environment, and this act goes a long way toward meeting that goal.

Thanks, again, for your leadership in enacting this measure. As a token of my appreciation, please accept the enclosed signing pen and redline copy of the bill.

Dear John:

Thank you for your leadership in securing passage of H.R. 4794, the Washington-Rochambeau Revolutionary Route National Heritage Act of 2000.

This bipartisan legislation directs the Secretary of the Interior to perform a resource study of the 600 mile route taken by General Washington and French General Rochambeau during the American Revolutionary War. This important study will help identify the means to preserve the path of this historic journey for the education of present and future Americans and, in doing so, will help us commemorate a significant piece of our humble and difficult beginning as a nation.

As a token of my appreciation, please accept the enclosed signing pen and redline copy of the bill.

Dear Senator Roberts:

Thank you for your efforts to secure passage of H.R. 2559, the Agricultural Risk Protection Act of 2000.

This bipartisan legislation authorizes permanent reforms to the crop insurance program, provides temporary farm income assistance in FY 2000, and provides funding and authorities for other agricultural and nutrition programs for FY 2001. This bill's farm income assistance will help many producers get through what is shaping up to be another tough year, and the crop insurance reforms should enhance producers' ability to survive natural disasters for years to come.

Please accept the enclosed signing pen and redline copy of the bill as a memento of your support for this important measure.

PURPOSE: To return Congressman J.C. Watts' phone call and thank him for his support for your New Markets legislation.

BACKGROUND: Congressman Watts called to talk with you and thank you for your work on community renewal and all of your work over the last eight years. As you know, the budget agreement you reached last week included your historic New Markets legislation and the Watts/Talent Community Renewal Initiative.

As you have said, this legislation is the most significant effort ever to help hard-pressed communities lift themselves up through private investment and entrepreneurship. With the help of the new markets tax credit, 40 strengthened empowerment zones and 40 renewal communities, this initiative will spur billions and billions of dollars in private investment to communities that have not share in our nation's great economic revival.

Congressman Watts has been the leader for community renewal legislation. He would like to thank you for your work in this area and wish you well.

卷之四

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

December 22, 2000

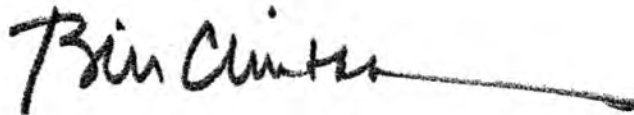

Dear J. C.:

I am sorry that I missed your recent telephone call, but I wanted to thank you for your steadfast support for community renewal and new markets legislation. I am pleased that our final budget agreement included both of these initiatives, and I appreciate your work in this area.

I believe that this legislation is the most significant effort ever to help hard-pressed communities lift themselves up through private investment and entrepreneurship. With the help of the new markets tax credit, 40 strengthened empowerment zones and 40 renewal communities, this initiative will spur billions of dollars in private investment to communities that have not shared in our nation's great economic revival.

Thanks, again, for your dedicated efforts on behalf of this legislation. I'm glad we were able to work together to take this important step toward bringing prosperity to all our nation's communities.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Bill Clinton", followed by a long horizontal flourish line.

The Honorable J. C. Watts, Jr.
House of Representatives
