Dear Mr. President:

I hope this reaches you before you depart for Nebraska for I would like to reiterate a couple of things I said to you on the phone the other day.

You are the President. Do not stupe to arguing with another candidate. Your speeches are a little bit too long. Get a good speech that is short and use it and use it and use it. Reagan's trick, as you know, is to have a whole handful of cards and he shuffles out whatever comes out to be ten minutes of speaking, and I don't think this deck has changed much over the years. Your speech writer has to be more punchy. It has to sound like you and no matter how much you have to rehearse it, do it.

You are not going to get the Reagan vote. These are the same people who got me the nomination and they will never swerve, but ninety per cent of them will vote for you for President, so get after middle America. They have never had it so good. They are making more money and they are not at war and, for God's sake, get off of Panama, but don't let Reagan off that hook.

God speed and with best wishes,

Barry Goldwater

Dear Barry:

This is just to advise you that we are in receipt of your letter under today's date.

I can assure you it will be brought to the President's immediate attention.

With cordial regard.

Sincerely,

Max L. Friedersdorf

SUBJECT:

Special Kiplinger Magazine
November 1948
"What Dewey will Do"

The above mentioned Special Kiplinger Magazine of November 1948 was returned in the President's outbox with the following notation:

"What a story.

The Tribune wasn't the only one to make a mistake.

I wonder what the following Kiplinger booklet said."

Please follow-up with appropriate action.
