Dear Mr. President:

I would like to register a complaint about the disgusting medical care available in the United States. It has become impossible for the average family in the United States to cope with the continuing rise in costs for medical care. Just care for a case of the flu can run a family in debt. Hospital care for a member of a family can virtually wipe a family out, running them into debt that will take years to come out of.

I suggest some sort of government aid for persons in debt because of high medical bills. Another suggestion might be government control of hospitals with the government paying expenses and even doctors' wages, thereby giving the public free care or just charging a nominal fee. Although this may sound like socialism Government control is the only way to release the burden on the public.

I hope that these solutions may be of some help to you and I sincerely hope that this great problem to America can soon be solved.

Respectfully yours,

C. Edward Seitz Jr.
