To Richard M Nixon
President of The United States
The White House,
Washington, D.C.

Welcome to Arizona dear President, We love you, and are honored and happy that you have come to visit us and also any members of your family who have come with you

My patriotism and interest in Presidents began in 1901 in a little school house in Ohio. That was many Presidents ago and I think you are very worthy of your high place among them. I have admired your courage and restraint under very trying circumstances which showed you cared more for this nation and its welfare than for your own personal feelings. Your appearance in Paris was inspiring and gained further respect for us among other nations. We hope very much that you will find relaxation in our western state that will renew your well being and happy memories of being with us.

Sincerely, Mrs M L Crabtree

We also love our lovely First Lady, Pat Nixon
