The Honorable Richard Nixon, President Elect
National Campaign Headquarters
New York City, New York

Dear President Elect Nixon:

I assure you that Dr. Joseph R. Jenkins shares my joy in your election.

On Thursday Evening, December 12, 1968, the citizens of Savannah will honor Dr. Jenkins for his many years of service to both the youth and the adults of Savannah.

Perhaps you will recall several years ago during your tenure as Vice President, Dr. Jenkins honored you with a citation from the West Broad Street YMCA.

Realizing your tight agenda and schedule, it would very much be appreciated if you would send to Dr. Jenkins a telegram or message on the night of his honor.

May I wish you the very best in the forthcoming years as President of These United State. Please accept my personal congratulations.

Respectfully yours,

Special

Dear Mr. Nixon

If you will check your files you will see that your staff sent my son and his wife a telegram the day before the election, thanking them for the job they had done on your behalf. Enclosed is an article and picture of my son's help your old good friend (chirder) who played a big part also.
Yours truly a proud to be New Enclosed are some of our new brochures describing our engineering and management company.

We would appreciate the opportunity to serve you should the need arise.

DRILLING WELL SUPERVISION

This service includes the pre-planning of optimum mud, cement, and casing programs, including the logistics of road building and the assemblage of various service people, including coring, drill stem testing and electric logs during the drilling operation. Because of the strategic location of our District Managers, we are able to provide close supervision for many of the drilling activities throughout the Midcontinent area. In addition, we have supervised drilling operations from the Gulf Coast to Canada.

SECONDARY RECOVERY

KWB can furnish the initial feasibility study for any secondary recovery project. This would include the economic analysis and the computations of unitization factors for the individual operators. Presentation of the proposed unit project can then be made to the state regulatory bodies and upon approval, actual operation can be implemented by our management and operating personnel.

GAS GATHERING AND TRANSPORTATION

KWB will design and supervise the installation of gas gathering systems including compressors, dehydrators, meter runs and stripping facilities.

COMMENTS

Since our formation, we have served many hundreds of clients, ranging from individuals to large corporations listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Classes of many of our clients include the following: non-resident operators, independent oil companies, small oil companies, major oil companies, public utility companies, banks, insurance companies, attorneys, accounting firms, U. S. Corps of Engineers, state government agencies, gasoline plant owners, crude oil purchasers, estates, trusts and cooperatives.

● In this age of curtailed oil production, economics governs oil expenditures. KWB, Inc. is qualified to undertake feasibility surveys prior to any cash outlay for drilling, workovers, equipment replacement, secondary recovery installations, gas sales, pipeline construction and lease automation.

TYPES OF SERVICE ARRANGEMENTS

KWB, Inc. operates under two types of service arrangements.

SHORT TERM SERVICE, covering limited-time operations, include well completions, workovers, special trouble-shooter jobs, plant design, lease automation design and gas line design and construction.

LONG TERM SERVICES, for specified contract time periods, include complete management of one or more producing leaseholds or a unit operation.

Due to the many different types of services available and the conditions under which they are performed, it is difficult to describe them in terms which are applicable in all cases. KWB, Inc. will determine with the client the type and quantity of service required with particular attention being paid to the special problems.

KWB, Inc. fees are defined more particularly by the individual job according to quantity and type of personnel required. The charges for short term projects are usually based upon per diem rates plus incidental expenses. Fees charged by KWB, Inc. with respect to long term contracts are also dependent on the activity required and the length of the contract. Usually a specified monthly charge is made on a particular project, with provisions for per diem rates to be charged for services not included in the basic agreement.

ORGANIZATION

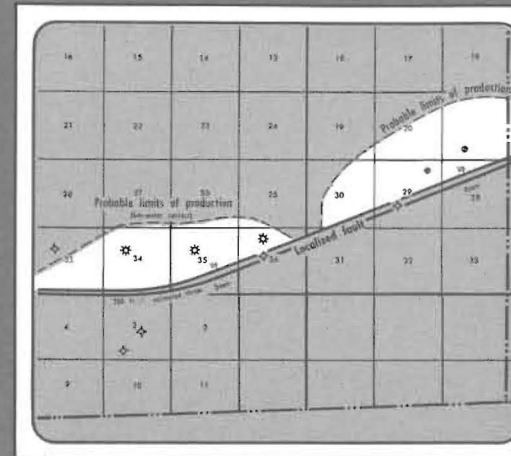

KWB OIL PROPERTY MANAGEMENT, INC. is a management and engineering company organized in 1963 to offer their services to the oil and gas industry. The steady growth testifies to our acceptance by the industry and the competency of our personnel. Our goal is to furnish a reliable efficient "total management" service to our clients.

KWB, Inc., in addition to its petroleum and production engineers, has competent accounting, clerical and equipment specialists qualified to provide all of the facilities of a large oil producing company. The training and experience of our personnel qualifies us to manage petroleum projects ranging from leasehold operations to total company management.

SERVICES

1. OIL PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

This service includes the physical operation of the properties in the field, as well as the complete management including periodic reviews by our staff. We are continually keeping abreast of new developments in production engineering, equipment design and actual physical operations in an effort to keep the properties producing at the maximum efficient and economic rate. Communication is constantly maintained with our clients to keep them fully informed on all phases of the operation. Our total management service includes preparing monthly billing, paying all bills, completing necessary state and federal reports and submitting operations reports and cost analysis.

2. RESERVOIR ENGINEERING

Our staff prepares reserve estimates; appraises oil and gas properties; makes feasibility studies for pipeline and extraction plant construction; and prepares economic analysis of contemplated secondary recovery projects. We review drilling prospects and prepare technical testimony before state and federal regulatory bodies and courts.

3. WELL COMPLETIONS AND WORKOVERS

Blending our technical staff with our practical field personnel, we are qualified to plan and recommend the optimum procedure and equipment for well completions and workovers. This would include an initial feasibility study, supervising the completion work at the wellsite and the installation of production equipment and testing.

4. GEOLOGICAL

KWB can furnish competent geologists to assist in development, planning and feasibility determination of drilling prospects. These technicians, when assisted by our reservoir engineers, will help insure the success of any exploratory and/or secondary recovery program.

Of names mentioned for appointment to your Cabinet none is more impressive than that of Congressman Rogers C. B. Morton, of Maryland for Secretary of the Interior. Congressman Morton would bring to the office character, popular appeal and ability. Congressman Morton's appointment would be pleasing to your many friends and supporters whose interests lie in the responsibilities of the Department of the Interior. Urge that you seriously consider his appointment. With every good wish for your continued success and good health.

Dear Mr. Editor:

Your editorial of this date on Dr. Kissinger put a fire under my chair and this sentence in particular "... Kissinger has never a fire-eating jingoist." This is pure rottenness and contemptible in extreme and unworthy of an American newspaper.

There are just two kind of Americans living in the United States at the present Americans and renegade-Americans. And Theodore Roosevelt expressed himself quite bluntly on the latter type some half century ago.

It is for certain that Walt Rostow is not to be mourned; but who have we got in his place - Kissinger a Council on Foreign Relations man. And Mr. Editor how many CFR men can you count on your fingers as patriots in the sense of Theodore Roosevelt, Douglas MacArthur and Abraham Lincoln, John Adams or Daniel Webster? More over Dr. Kissinger is a member of the Atlantic Union Committee and rather active in it at that.

So the Daily News thinks his appointment on Foreign Policy is a good one! Just where does the News stand? For months upon months it has run a series of editorials on "What Has Made American Great. And yet it welcomes a notorious Internationalist, whose sole aim is to destroy the right and independent action of the United States in the conduct of its foreign affairs. I personally think that The Worker is clearer to interpret.

Did you at any time during the "campaign" hear Mr. Nixon express his love for the United States or hear him re-affirm his faith in the purpose and principles of the Constitution of the United States?

Then he wanted to bring Herbert Brownell back into the cabinet, a man allied with him in the efforts to rescind the Connally Reservation. The radio reports that he invited Mr. Humphrey to be the United Nation's ambassador. It's untoward. Then Mr. Saranton is roving around the Middle east, Mr. Lodge's image is deeply stained by the assassination of "Iem.

What is Mr. Nixon, a weakling or what would the News call him? Does the News really think that a major change will take place from the Johnson Administration to the Nixon one?

Fire-eating jingoist - bosh.

Sincerely,

Mary T. Kearfoot

DEC 7 1968

Dear Sir.

Your desire to unite this country will never take place until the shadow over this land has been removed. Its much less race relations than open blatant communism. When these people are on our University staffs, teaching our young children in school. In our churches and even running for public office. When our own Government forces us to fight communism in other lands & permits them by orders of the Supreme Court to undermine our own country. How can any president expect the people to unite behind him. When the decent law abiding citizens, & among them believe the U.S. Government to be our biggest enemy. So I do urge you to propose to congress the enactment of new anti-subversive legislation to supplant some of the laws cut down by the Supreme Court under the guise of Free speech, assembly & press.

I wish & pray for your success for the next four years and I hope that you will some times listen to the people. The people don't listen to Hitler either. And too of us who have bled & died for this country deserve better than this.

Respectfully.

M. Bailey.

Dear Friend:

I am one of those who feel guilty that in this richest of all nations millions of our children, black and white, are victims of hunger. At least 10 million people are subsisting on a hunger level. The National School Lunch Program reaches fewer than 2 million of 6 million school age children from poor families. These are not statistics for one of the developing areas of the world; they represent the harsh facts of sufferings inflicted upon children in our own country.

The effects of hunger and malnutrition have been clearly stated by the Citizens' Board of Inquiry in a report on "Hunger USA": diet deficiencies in early childhood causes severe and irreversible organic and psychological brain damage; twice as many poor babies die before their 12th month for lack of good food; malnutrition causes lowering of resistance to infection and other disabilities which result from inadequate growth. Beyond those clinically diagnosed cases of starvation, there are the greater number of Americans who never get enough to eat or a proper diet. The ultimate social costs are to be found in patterns of unrest, distrust, alienation and withdrawal.

The Board's report, summarized in the enclosed leaflet, presents myths and facts surrounding government-subsidized food programs intended to help feed the poor. Because of the inherent inadequacies of these food programs, the burdens on the poor are often increased.

Many of these poor families know their real problem. They want to improve the lives of their children.

We have begun a program of self-help Food Production Centers in Sunflower and Bolivar Counties, Mississippi and Macon County, Alabama, three of the hunger counties of the U.S. Sites have been selected for the erection of pre-fabricated Food Centers which will be manned by the poor. Families have planted seeds that will produce a crop to be harvested before winter arrives. Canning and storage are in process. A cooperative pig bank with the first fifty participating families was initiated October 11th. Garden clubs are looking for additional plots of land to be launched in the spring.

We are determined that no child shall go to bed hungry, if we can help. It can be done, if you support this effort. Please help with your tax-deductible contribution today. The children of Sunflower, Bolivar and Macon Counties await your response. Your gift to this pilot program will help poor families help themselves demonstrate what can be done to end hunger throughout the land.

Sincerely,

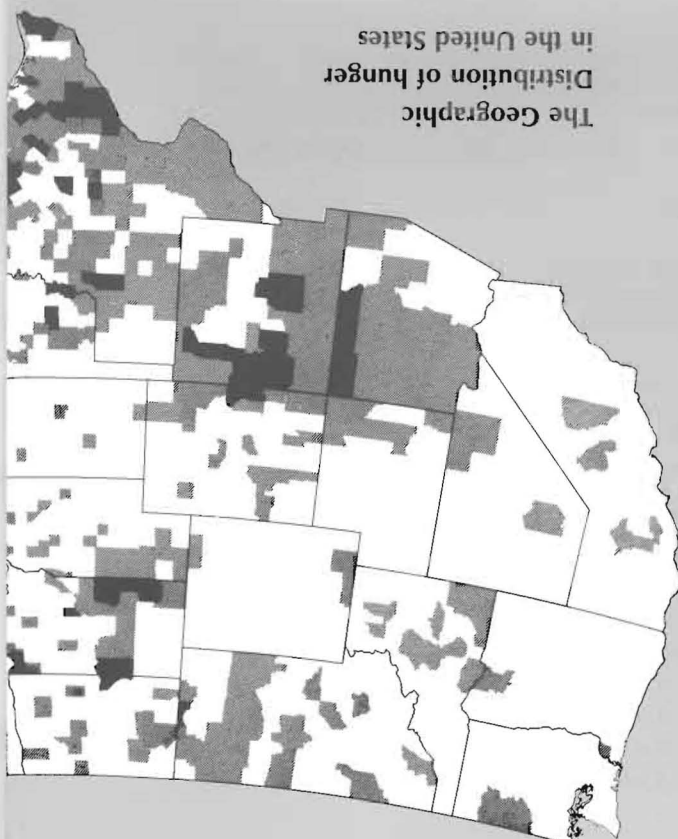

Lena Horne

"sometimes they cry"

the VOICES of the poor

No food, no meat, no milk — and the children go to bed hungry.
Sometimes they cry.

That is the Litany — heard wherever we went. This is the testimony we heard from:

Mrs. Benita Lune, San Antonio, Texas
Mr. Sherman Neace, Perry County, Kentucky
Mrs. Ruth DuBois, Bullock County, Georgia
Mrs. Clara Bolton, Jasper County, South Carolina
Mrs. Porter Salazar, San Antonio, Texas
Mrs. Jessie May Dash, Elloree, South Carolina
Mrs. Matha Moore, Savannah, Georgia
Mrs. Tjeodoro Hernandez, San Antonio, Texas

the litany

And joined by countless and faceless voices, heard by us and others —

There are days without any food four or five at a time the parents go hungry and the child may live on powdered milk for a week at a time when we just “make do” and mix whatever we have with water and the end of the month when food stamps run out, commodities run out, the Headstart doctor refers to this as a time of “discomfort”; to a school teacher from South Carolina it means taking teenagers home suffering from hunger pains or times when we have a little something because you get food from “the white lady” you work for or you eat what you can while you have it because you want to know what a full belly feels like or you buy the cheapest meat you can, neck bones and that kind of stuff and have it a couple of times a month

And always there are the days without milk for the children

No fresh milk?

No Sir

No milk for the children?

No Sir

Do they get milk? The small ones?

No

No milk at all?

No

Ain't no one of them has milk every day. They lucky to have it twice a month.

And there are days without meat, or vegetables or fruit.

And days with only one meal or two — or three and they aren't really meals

And the children go to bed hungry.

Sometimes they cry.

Sometimes they ask me for something

I am not able to buy milk or food or nothing

But when they do eat, they eat the same food, day in and day out black eyed peas, grits, flour, maybe fatback, sometimes potatoes, beans, and where we visited homes and looked in the kitchen, the shelves were empty —

and the refrigerator if there was one, was empty

And the sick do without medicine

...

And never enough money to buy food

$25 per week plus $10 every two weeks from son's part time job to feed 12 children, ages three to 21

$25 every two weeks planting cotton, to feed 10 children from 10 months to seven years

Eight children living on commodities while the father looks for work; three times rejected by welfare

$84 in stamps to feed parents and nine children for a month

And always the refrain is the same

No food, no meat, no milk — and the children go to bed hungry.
Sometimes they cry.

DEC 9 1968

Dear Mr. President:

I have just these three comments to make, and they are not complimentary to our Washington Administration, nor to the individual administrations of most of our states.

- (1) We have reached the point where we can no longer ask, or expect MEN to join our Police Departments. They will have to switch to pansies, or to women cops, so that our dear little college, and other dissidents and rioters may be slapped on their bare wrists when they call them vile names, and spit on them, and throw rocks and urine, and potatoes imbedded with razor blades at them, or when they set our buildings and institutions on fire.
- (2) 98% of the people of this country say "Hurrah for Mayor Daley and for the Chicago Police" - regardless of Mr. Daniel Walker's untimely report - which we needed like we need a hole in the head. Would that they (these Chicago people) were copied all over the country - in two-fold strength - so that we would be rid of these dregs of humanity who are trying to make us look helpless and stupid, and are succeeding at it because of the weak permissiveness of our said administrators, our laws and our Constitution - which was never originally intended to cover anything like what is going on now in this country. I can imagine what would have happened to these squirts 50 or more years ago, when we knew what law and order really meant.
- (3) If Washington and our Governors for some reason or other cannot act individually (and need I mention what almost happened to France recently) why not put it up to a vote of the people, and let them decide what to do with these Communists and Anarchists. You know, and we all know, that they would be promptly stamped out if it were left up to us to decide - the Supreme Court and our Constitution notwithstanding, because, as mentioned before, it was never intended that our Constitution cover and protect anything so vile. These organized groups of destruction are as much our enemies as the Viet Cong and North Vietnam - and we are fed up with the lack of decisive action on the part of our Government heads.

Sincerely

Leo Parker

Premier Alexi Kosyken
President Elect Richard Nixon
Senator Edward Kennedy

Gentlemen:

First I want to thank Premier Kosyken for his herculean efforts to get some kind of a truce to stop the killing in the mid-east--I am hopeful that the United States will join these efforts and try to get positive action through the United Nations to control both sides until sense and reason can prevail instead of killing, terrorizing and other unacceptable behavior by both parties--

If we all stand together and say this sort of thing must be stopped, it will be stopped, but it is up to you all to show the world that co-operation can exist between opposing parties and opposing political philosophies--I know you will be able to do it--The whole world is watching and waiting for things to come, we felt this same sort of excitement when President Kennedy was in office, but he was stopped by an assassin's bullet before he could accomplish the things he wanted to do--We felt the same things when his brother Robert was running for office, he too was stopped by an assassin's ^{Bullet} brother, but now we feel it again, this time with President elect Nixon, but another Kennedy has a chance to really make history, by being a whip in the minority party, this whip can work in a positive way instead of a negative way for the good of the world, this would be a first and I would love to see it happen--

I am hopeful for a much more active United Nations, with the United States and Russia agreeing on many things instead of opposing each other out of fright and the inability to communicate in any way except a destructive way, I believe these days of hate, fear and suspicion should be put behind us, let nobody try to get on with any kind of missjustice they have suffered, just be determined not to let it happen again--

Try to do something to really cement better relations between our countries--

I think a marriage arranged between a wellknown communist and some American of fame would be a good thing--Like Jacqueline Kennedy did, she married a Greek but kept her citizenship, this will bring these two countries closer together--Why not arrange a marriage between another famous American and a Russian, wouldn't this bring our countries closer together, we would be on the way to becoming a world family of human beings--

I just want you all to know, I'm expecting great things from all of you--

Best of luck to you all, I know between you you will find a way to save this world and bring peace on earth--

Sincerely yours

Dear Mr. Nixon:

We acknowledge with thanks your letter of December 2.

We are in accord with the objectives desired. However, we think that this method is very ineffective and will be nonproductive, inasmuch as it is extremely difficult to fit good men with varying capabilities to unknown jobs, which is precisely what you request.

We would like very much to be of assistance to you, but we simply cannot approach those people whom we think are qualified unless we know precisely what type of job assignments you have in mind.

We appreciate your problem and stand ready to give you assistance in whatever direction possible.

Very truly yours,
