RE: Attendance at White House Social Functions
by Senior Administration Officials

Recently Bob Haldeman asked me if -- in my capacity as Cabinet Secretary, or "Cabinet Coordinator" -- I would insure equal or near-equal time at White House social events for our Cabinet and senior sub-Cabinet members. Of course I realize, and so does Bob, that persons like the Secretary and Under Secretary of State will be invited to State dinners far more often than will other Cabinet members and we realize too that there are a host of "other considerations". But, to the extent possible, we want to give about as much attention to one Department head as we do another -- and to one Under Secretary as we do to another in that category.

Consequently, I obtained from Sandy Fox the "invited-accepted-regretted" figures for Department and prime Agency heads and Under Secretaries. The figures cover the principal types of social functions: dinners; after-dinner entertainment; evenings at the White House; receptions; and religious services.

Because I know that you keep this information in a card file similar to, or the same as, Sandy's, I thought it might be helpful to see the record of each of the three categories on a single sheet. It makes it easy and quick to spot the low and high people.

Incidentally, there is no intention on my part of getting into a realm which is not mine. I am interested in the record only from a "Cabinet Coordinator's" point of view. However, as a convenience to you and your staff, I will be glad to forward Xeroxed copies of each monthly revision.

Note: I should say also that I expect to improve a little on this format. This was the first stab at putting something together. Certainly there are a few more "prime Agency heads" and "other Presidential appointees" who should be included.

RE: Apollo XIII

Bill Anders said that some time ago you had asked him to give you a rundown on the Apollo XIII Accident Review Board report when it was completed.

The time is now, and the promised "rundown" is attached. You will probably want to pass it on to the President -- by hand or via the next inbound FYI folder.

In that the full report is scheduled to be in tomorrow's newspapers (and some of the comment may well be adverse), Anders was especially anxious for you to know that in his humble opinion:

- the Board did an excellent and very thorough job ... and remained wholly objective throughout the investigation.
- Dr. Payne was effective and impressive at this afternoon's press conference.

FROM: ALEXANDER P. BUTTERFIELD
RE: The Next Cabinet Meeting

John Ehrlichman has reviewed the proposed Cabinet Meeting agenda and relayed to me the following opinions:

- A meeting on Thursday, June 18th, would be okay.
- The agenda should cover
 - an economic status report by McCracken
 - an OMB briefing by Shultz
 - a "campus unrest" presentation by Heard.

However, in light of information which has come to me since mid-morning (the tentative schedule for the President's delivery of his economic talk to the Nation and the scheduled Camp David meeting of all domestic Cabinet officers on the same day), I personally find the timing of a Cabinet Meeting this week less appropriate than it would be next week. The presentations of both McCracken and Shultz would be better received on June 23rd, 24th or 25th some 5-7 days after the relatively major events programmed for the 17th and would no doubt contain more enlightening material. In short, I recommend postponement of the Cabinet Meeting until the 24th or 25th. Hopefully you will be able to get a reading on this prior to tomorrow noon.

RE: Meeting with the President on the Textile Matter

When the President met recently with Secretary Stans, Dr. Kissinger, Alex Johnson, Peter Flanigan, and I believe one or two others, he said that the group should meet again on June 16 or 17 for the purpose of giving a final review to our position on the textile matter prior to Maury Stans' testifying on the Hill on the 18th. According to Maury Stans, the President was quite serious about wanting to meet again prior to his (Stans') scheduled appearance on the Hill but you may want to check it out with Henry Kissinger.

If you discover that it was, in fact, the President's intention to review the textile matter prior to the 18th, the slipup (in not insuring that you were notified) was the fault of the note-taker. That's what our note-takers are for, and I shall make a point of emphasizing that responsibility in a near-future memorandum.

RE: Model Cities Group from St. Louis

Late last night I received a telephone call from a friend in St. Louis. She thought that we might be interested in knowing that a "model cities" group will be steaming into town today (arriving around noon) to lambast us in every way possible for our "continued ineffective administration" of the Model Cities Program. She said that this particular group had sent a letter to the President early last week -- June 1st I believe -- and had as yet received no answer. Yesterday they fired off a telegram informing him that they were at the end of their patience and were coming to Washington, D. C. along with their City Mayor to:

- go enmasse to the Hill and pick up their champion, Congressman Bill Clay (1st term Democrat 1st District),
- storm into Robert Baida's office at HUD at 2:00 p.m., and
- get in touch with the media and "let us have it."

This sort of thing is probably routine at HUD and I know that Clay for sometime has been hammering away at that Department on the subject of the Model Cities Program. However, I thought that you would be interested in getting a lead on this group's plans so that you and others concerned can give some thought to appropriate handling of the matter.

Although the PICTUREPHONE facility will serve certain teams of people especially well (i.e. Haldeman-Ehrlichman, Haldeman-Kissinger, Haldeman-Chapin, Chapin-Bull, etc.) I think we will elicit less comment from staffers if we go the seniority route during this relatively short trial period ... and at least ask the preference of each of the 9 senior people assigned offices in the West Wing. They are:

George Shultz
Bryce Harlow
Pat Moynihan
Bob Finch
Don Rumsfeld
Bob Haldeman
John Ehrlichman
Henry Kissinger
Peter Flanigan

You will find attached to this memorandum 3 PICTUREPHONE brochures. I suggest that you circulate them among the 9 persons named above and ask each if he wants a PICTUREPHONE set on his desk during the trial period (August 15-April 1) -- and if so, in which of the 5 available colors. If one or more of the 9 do not want the service, I suggest you approach Rose Mary Woods, Ron Ziegler and Dwight Chapin, in that order. But be certain not to exceed 9 installations so that we can accommodate the President if he should at any time want a set on his Oval Office desk.

Dear Mr. Appleyard:

It was good to hear from you again. Your summer program for college students home on vacation sounds great -- really well worthwhile -- and I commend you and your "Project Alert" colleagues for your continuous forward motion. Only those dedicated to the cause can keep coming up with new ideas and ways and means to implement them. Unfortunately, there seems to be only a handful of such people in the country. The vast majority of oldsters register the same "deep concerns", but almost always from the sidelines free of involvement.

As for my suggestions for improvements to the program, I have none at the moment. But this is not to say that my personal interest in the subject matter is on the wane. Not at all. It is a fact, though, that I am working in a somewhat different role now -- one which allows less time for communicating with "outside" individuals and groups. For this reason I am going to forward your letter to two other staffers -- Dr. Alexander Heard, Special Advisor to the President, and Mr. Rob Odle, an assistant and project officer working for Mr. Herb Klein. Both of these gentlemen maintain an active interest in youth activities nationwide and will be pleased, I know, to read over your report and give consideration to your request.

I have just come across a copy of Don Johnson's June 8th memorandum to you -- the one in which he requests your assistance in reserving the SEQUOIA for a VA-VFW affair on June 15th.

I am sure you recognize the "back-door" approach when you see it. If not, take a long look at that particular correspondence, for it is a classic example. I know that Don is a good guy ... and all that, but we must adhere to our single-channel scheduling system where those persons and organizations requesting use of the Presidential yacht are concerned (especially now that there is only one).

As you may be aware, Don knows that General Hughes' office has the scheduling responsibility. He tried that route and was unsuccessful -- and now is seeking to bring some pressure to bear. Please hold fast; or better yet, refer him back to General Hughes.

RE: Proposed Cabinet Agenda

I am attaching a proposed agenda for Friday morning's Cabinet Meeting.

Secretary Volpe's item will take only 6-8 minutes. It is a matter which he wrote to you about on April 20th ... suggesting on that occasion that he be allowed to elaborate, for the benefit of his Cabinet colleagues, during a regular meeting of the Cabinet.

McCracken, Flanigan and others are in agreement that in view of the current economic situation slightly more than the usual 10 minutes should be allotted to the economic report. They feel too that the discussion period should lead into the possibilities of a near-future Presidential TV address.

Alex Heard has been preparing a memorandum for you which in essence characterizes today's youth attitudes on campus. He is fully prepared to talk from this memorandum for 15-20 minutes, then turn the topic over to open discussion by the Cabinet members.

PRESIDENT CONTINUES GAINS IN POPULARITY
DESPITE PROTESTS OVER CAMBODIA

The President's 'Approval' Rating

President Nixon's high point in popularity to date, 68 per cent approval, was recorded following his speech last Nov. 3 in which he spelled out his plans for troop withdrawal. His low point to date, 53 per cent approval, was recorded last March as pressures for further troop withdrawals mounted. His latest rating is 59 per cent.

PRINCETON, N. J., June 6 — President Nixon has registered steady gains in popularity over the last two months. In the latest survey, completed prior to his report to the nation last Wednesday on Cambodia, 59 per cent of adults expressed approval of his performance in office.

This finding will come as a surprise to interpreters of the national mood who expected the President's popularity to drop sharply in the wake of widespread student protests over his decision to send troops into Cambodia.

The previous survey, conducted soon after the President's announcement on April 30 of his decision to send troops into Cambodia, showed him with an approval rating of 57 per cent, up a point from his pre-Cambodia rating. The President's ratings have climbed steadily since late March when his popularity had hit its low point to date, 53 per cent approval.

Protesting the Protestors

One factor helping to explain today's surprising survey result is the overwhelming (5-to-1) opposition of the adult population to recent student strikes that focused on Nixon's Cambodian action, as reported by the Gallup Poll last week.

Another factor which undoubtedly is helping sustain the President's approval rating is his policy of "Vietnamization"—the staged withdrawal of U.S. troops as South Vietnamese forces are trained to take over the fighting. This plan has been popular with the American people for more than four years, as reported in numerous Gallup Poll surveys.

President Nixon is accorded a higher popularity rating than his predecessor, former President Lyndon B. Johnson, at a comparable point in time.

A year and a half after President Johnson took office, in January, 1965, for his first full term, his approval rating stood at 47 per cent. Shortly after Johnson began his second term, the U.S. greatly stepped up its commitment in Vietnam.

1509 Adults Interviewed

A total of 1509 adults were interviewed in person in the survey which covered more than 300 scientifically selected localities across the nation. Field work was undertaken May 22-25. Following is the question asked and the trend since January:

Do you approve or disapprove of the way Nixon is handling his job as President?

Nixon Trend Line
	Ap- prove	Disap- prove	No Opin.
May 22-25 . . .	59	29	12
May 2-5 . . .	57	31	12
April 30: Cambodia Decision
April 17-19	56	31	13
March 20-22	53	30	17
Feb. 28-Mar. 2	56	27	17
Jan. 30-Feb. 2	66	23	11
Jan. 16-19	63	23	14
Jan. 2-5	61	22	17

Unpopular With Negroes

President Nixon's popularity is greatest among whites living in the South, where approval outweighs disapproval 3-to-1. The President is least popular with Negroes, with disapproval outweighing approval by a 2-to-1 ratio.

The larger the community or city, the more likely the resident is to disapprove. In cities of one million people or more, 50 per cent express approval of the President's performance in office. In the smallest communities of the nation — those under 2500 — 67 per cent voice approval.

FROM

ALEXANDER P. BUTTERFIELD

RE

Visual Recognition of Key Staff
Members by Executive Protective
Service Guards

During the past several weeks, as the 250-man White House Police force has begun to expand transitionally to an 850-man Executive Protective Service (EPS), there have been instances of failure on the part of some newly-assigned EPS guards to recognize Staff members moving from one location to another within the White House complex. It is understandable, of course, that new EPS personnel must start assuming certain guard post duties before gaining visual familiarity with the faces of all Staff members, but they should most certainly be able to recognize the relatively few top-level Presidential Counsellors and Assistants regardless of the time, place, or condition. Moreover, when posted in the immediate vicinity of the President's office they should be able to recognize in addition those 8-10 Staff members (senior and junior) who are routinely involved in the President's activities.

The purpose of this memorandum is twofold. First, to tell you ...

- that action has been taken to insure the assignment of only those EPS guards with considerable longevity at guard posts in proximity to the President's office, and
- that emphasis is being given to accelerating improvements to the visual recognition capabilities of the EPS by way of formal Academy courses and periodic on-the-job training exercises, secondly, to ask you ...

- to give a moment of your time to the Secret Service photographer who will come to your office within the next few days to obtain a full view 35mm photograph for use in the EPS's visual recognition training program,
- to realize that with the expansion of this Protective Service to nearly 4 times its current strength there will, indeed, be some problems ... and to bear with the Secret Service and EPS supervisors when problems are minor and shortcomings insignificant, and
- to report to me all incidents which you consider discrepancies of consequence.

Thank you.

MEMORANDUM FOR: DR. KISSINGER
FROM: ALEXANDER P. BUTTERFIELD
RE: Preparation of a Presidential Letter to General Mark Clark

This is to confirm the message passed to General Haig earlier this morning -- that your staff should prepare for the signature of the President a short note to General Mark Clark, USA (Ret.) thanking him for so quickly and willingly flying to London to personally represent the President at the funeral services for General Wladyslaw Anders, the Polish war hero of World War II.

It is my understanding that General Clark accepted this duty only a few days after having returned from Europe with the Battle Monuments Commission. If that is true, it would seem to me appropriate to mention the President's understanding of that fact, and the inconvenience to Clark of the second trip abroad.

One other small point. Whoever prepares the letter should know precisely what service or services Clark attended. I think there were 3 altogether -- two in London and one at Monte Cassino, Italy.

Thank you.

My only purpose in writing this memorandum is to remind you to follow up in some way ... so that we are not letting the issue dangle (dangle?) for a matter of months.

From what I gathered, Dale was highly flattered and would love to join the Administration as a member of the White House Staff. He does, however, feel some obligation to Bill Brock in that he is serving Brock now as his campaign Finance Chairman.

I mentioned to you the importance of coordinating all of your "PICTUREPHONE" actions with WHCA personnel and/or the office of the Military Assistant to the President. They are understandably interested in any communications facilities which are to be installed in White House offices. Moreover, they will be interested in getting a reading on the approximate cost of PICTUREPHONE services in that payment for same (after the trial period) must come from the WHCA budget.

RE: Travel by White House Car to Dulles

I can fully appreciate the reasoning behind the establishment of the policy which restricts White House limousine travel to Dulles and Friendship Airports to only our top Presidential Assistants. However, in view of the factsthat:

- Mr. Charles Colson is Special Counsel to the President and among the 12-15 senior members of this Staff;
- He must depart Dulles at 8:15 a.m., fly the length of the continent and on to Anchorage, Alaska, and deliver a speech to a large group almost immediately upon his arrival ... which will be approximately 3:30 a.m. EDT;
- Two Staff members authorized portal to portal transportation will be out of town during the period to which this request pertains.

I request that an exception be made to the rule and that Mr. Colson be picked up at his residence (4840 Loughboro Road, N.W., Washington, D.C.) at 7:20 a.m. Friday, June 5, and driven to Dulles Airport.

RE: Arrival Ceremony for the President of Venezuela (June 2)

I realize that the procedures by which we admit certain persons in the "public tour line" to enter the White House grounds to observe arrival and other ceremonies leaves much to be desired. However, on the occasion of the arrival ceremony for the President of Venezuela and Mrs. Caldera up to 1,000 persons from the public line were cleared to come into the South Grounds area by previous arrangement. After due consideration of the facts I had approved this action while at San Clemente and had called you to ensure proper coordination. Art Godfrey took my call and told me that he would pass the information on to you and that additional agents would be on hand to handle the situation. I then called Mike Ferrell and told him that it was essential that his people hand the "admission fliers" to women, children and family members.

We will not be admitting people from the public tour line very often ... but when we do, we will simply have to be prepared to cope with resultant problems. This is not to say that we should not strive to find solutions to these problems. I am with you on that score, and will meet with you and John Davies anytime for a discussion of possible improvements to the system.

Prospective Employee

I am attaching to this memorandum a letter just received today from Miss Mary C. Egan, an especially outstanding young girl about to graduate from the University of Maryland. As you will note, she appears to be an ardent Republican and admirer of the President. Moreover, she attained an enviable scholastic record, held sorority offices and was chosen as the outstanding Senior Class woman of that organization, represented her Senior Class, represented all 2,000 University of Maryland sorority women, won the Sally Sterling Byrd Citizenship Prize at her university and was named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." With interest and training in family life and community development, she seeks employment -- preferably with this Administration -- in the fields of consumer affairs, urban affairs and/or youth education. And I would guess that she is looking for something other than secretarial work.

Because she appears to be the kind of young person we want, and have a great need for, I thought you might want to arrange a near-future interview.

For You

- An ivory, handpainted medallion miniature of George Washington ... oval shaped, measuring approximately 2-3/4" x 2-1/4". It is inset in an 18 carat gold case. (The original of this piece was presented in 1825 to Simon Bolivar by George Washington Parke Custis, the adopted son of George Washington. It and the original letters which explain its history are in the Bolivar Museum in Caracas.)
- A maroon leather letter portfolio containing facsimiles of the letters which are a part of the history of the medallion.
- A maroon leather book entitled "Venezuela and the U.S. -- Historical Relations" ... and subtitled "The Dissemination in Venezuela Before 1777 of the Letters of the Congress at Philadelphia, 1774 and 1775". (To show that the people in Venezuela were influenced by the writings of the members of our Congress.)
- A 2-volume set of selected writings of Simon Bolivar.

For Mrs. Nixon

- An especially attractive, heavy gold bracelet composed of 24 separate gold bars (which look like pieces of bark). Over the bars are scattered pearls and 12 marquis-cut diamonds, about 1/5 carat each.
