Dear Mr. Trump:

I want you to know how much I appreciate the interest which prompted you to write as you did.

Your comments regarding the approach we should take in this campaign were certainly most welcome, as I fully agree that only a direct and forceful presentation of our cause can bring victory on November 8.

I have been greatly heartened by the response to our efforts so far. In a race this close, however, the issue is yet to be decided, and I shall be counting on you, and on all who believe as we do, to join me in working even more vigorously during the critical weeks ahead for the success which an all-out campaign will assure.

With every good wish,

Sincerely,

Richard Nixon

Dear Dick:

Greatly pleased to note recent change of pace and move into an "in-fighting" stance, following the first Great Debate.

This business of Kennedy's saccharine platitudes, emotional appeals to minorities and emphasis on rosy futures with inaccurate definition of means and costs may be best countered by your more aggressive gambit. His obvious recognition of the truism wherein minorities in aggregate constitute the majority, reached a new high in ridiculousness at Salt Lake City, when he even denominated Protestant groups - equating with his "minority" faith.

Please refer to Sen. K, not by name, but as the "Junior Senator from Massachusetts"! When will Democrats at large be treated to vociferous pre-convention opinions of the Junior Senator, as stated by his running mate!

Should the President appoint you to represent him at the October 24th anniversary of the Berlin Freedom Bell, it would be a major coup. As before, polls would react as a Geiger counter over rich uranium lode. There is substantive precedent for such a trip. Surely, it's also needed as a symbol of our Free World determination to remain firm.

Pour it on, Dick!

Personal regards.

Sincerely,

Fred Trump

Dear ~~Mr. Trump~~

This is just a note to thank you for writing as you did recently concerning events on the international scene.

Certainly the firm and resolute policy of the President is one which we must all support and, in my opinion, is the only stand which can preserve the peace. For that reason I particularly appreciate having the benefit of your views and suggestions which I know will be helpful during any discussion in which I may participate on this situation.

Dear Mr. Dreyfus:

This is just a note to thank you for the invitation which Mr. Fred Trump has extended to me on your behalf to address the national convention of the National Association Men's Apparel Clubs in Seattle on August 10-13. He also urged that I give your invitation every possible consideration and I was glad to do so.

I am sure that this would provide an excellent opportunity to meet and talk with those who will be attending the convention and I want you to know how much I appreciate your thoughtfulness in inviting me to participate in the program. Unfortunately, however, my schedule for the month of August is already completely committed and, consequently, it will not be possible for me to attend your meeting at that time.

Since I am unable to be with you, I would like to extend my very best wishes for a most successful convention.

Perhaps appropriate needling of Mr K, in the anatomical region one has an overwhelming urge to kick, would stimulate more "goat" type lamnerts. If well turned, timed & confined - results could be nothing but helpful to the Campaign gambit.

Am convinced on ~~over~~ a real majority of Americans, while of undoubted peaceful intention, feel the time has come, if not passed, for us to go right down the line in a stronger stance.

This, assuming we retain an edge. The European, on-the-street, seems to feel the USSR has emerged victorious at & around tables - not by merit or might, but by masterful bluff & bluster.

I think most of our people are increasingly little moved by Stevenson's prattlings on peace - which oftentimes fall dangerously

Dear Mr. Trump:

It has been much too long since your letter of February 14, but I certainly do want to keep up on your current situation and your previously expressed desire for a position in Washington. I know the "Boss" would want to be helpful but, as I am sure you know, he can not take a direct hand in personal matters involving the various agencies.

Nevertheless, I would suggest that you complete at least a couple of copies of the standard Form 57, which all departments require, send them to me and I will see that they are put into the appropriate channels. Support from your elected representatives out there would naturally be most helpful.

Republican FRED TRUMP For Governor

"Arizona's Greatest Salesman"

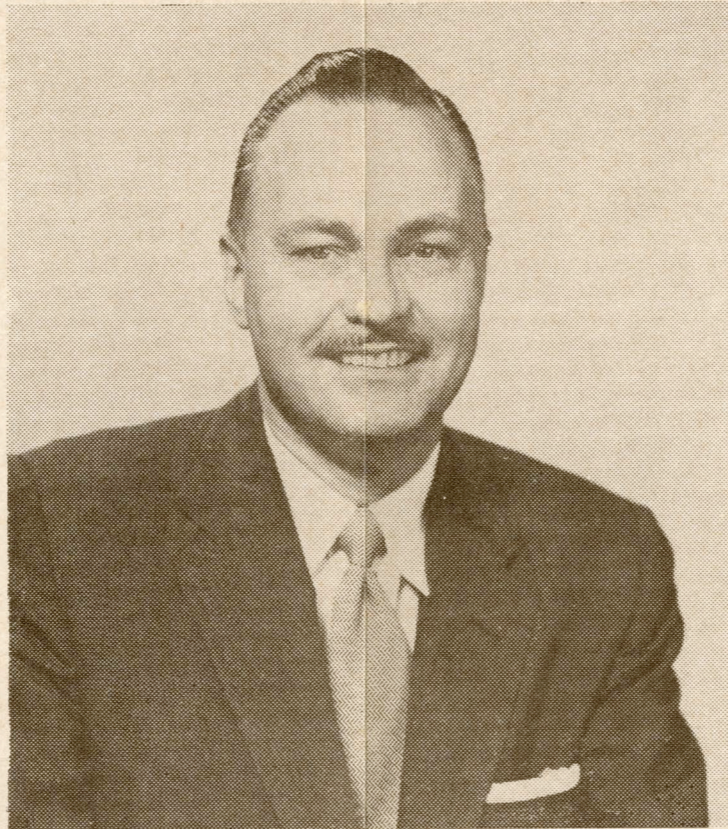

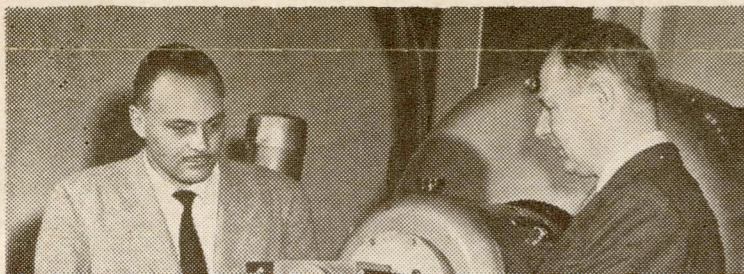

Fred Trump's good friend, Vice President Richard Nixon, has written "All good luck in your campaign, Fred."

Shown conferring with Chauncey Robbins, Executive Director of the Republican National Committee, at Republican National Headquarters, Washington, D. C.

Fred discusses Arizona with the U. S. Assistant Secretary of the Interior, Wesley D'Ewart, at the Dept. of Interior, Washington.

Fred Trump is known and liked by soldiers, statesmen, religious leaders, businessmen and by all who meet him. He is a born salesman, and as these pictures show, he has sold the State of Arizona, its beauties and its opportunities, to big people and little people everywhere. In Washington, New York, Mexico City, Chicago, Los Angeles and every metropolis he has visited, he is known as "Mr. Arizona."

With Fred Trump as Governor, Arizona will be the mecca for new industry, for greater payrolls, for citizens who will be proud to make this great State their home. When you elect Fred Trump you will be voting into office an enterprising, able man of real dignity, honesty and incorruptibility. Fred Trump will give Arizona the stature it deserves.

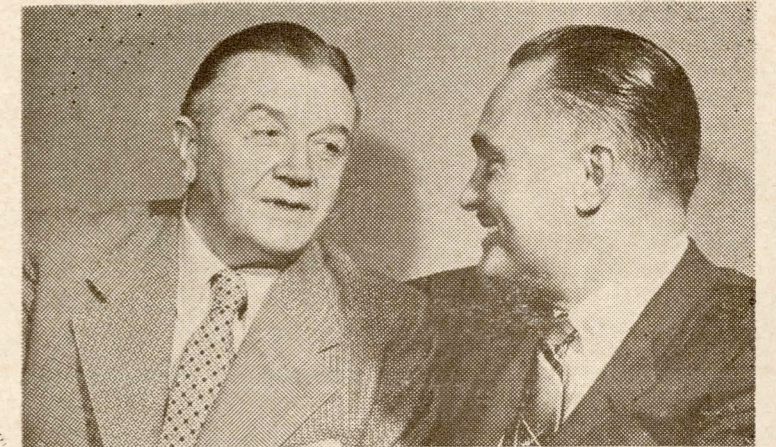

ARIZONA'S NEEDS INCLUDE:

- Forthright Leadership • Competent, Decisive Administration*
- Deeds Matching Promises • Tax Overhaul*
- Expansion into New and Greater Payrolls*
- Government for The People, Not by Special Interests*
- School, Higher Educational Facilities, Health and Other Urgent Issues Met by the Measure of What Is Good for Arizona as a Whole.*
- Realistic Re-organization of Our Party to Insure a Dynamic Majority Republican Party.*

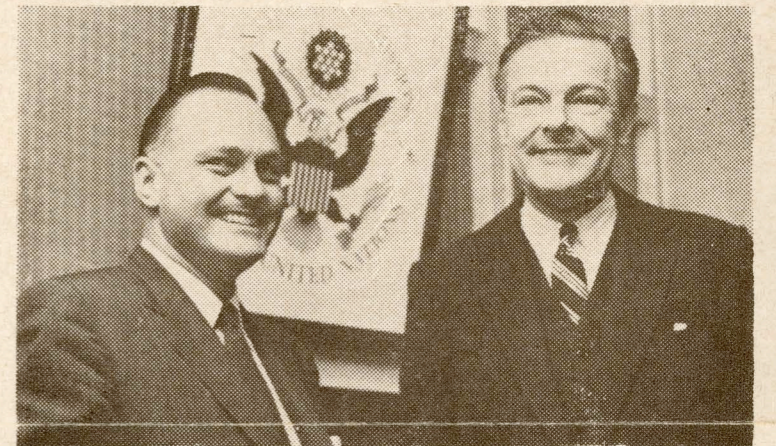

If your tax bills, the school problems, the nightmare of waste and extravagance in State government are real close-to-the-pocketbook worries — you want a change from politics for a politician's sake. Uncontrolled, uncoerced by any special interests; Arizona's Trump is the BEST man to fully meet all of Arizona's needs.

HE'S THE MAN ONLY THE PEOPLE WANT!

Fred Trump is amply qualified by the requisite experience in business, industry and government — it takes to do the job well. He has successfully met major national administrative responsibilities. At 42, he is the most able of the candidates based on a real record of performance. He's tried and proven.

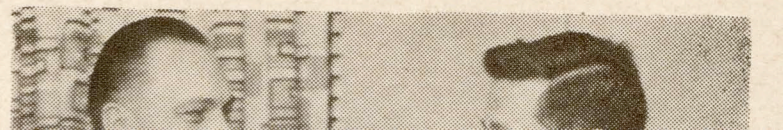

Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, USA, Ret., General MacArthur's Chief of Intelligence in peace and war, has written "... being familiar with the good work you have done for our Country and our Allies, I know what you can do for Arizona. I take the liberty of suggesting that your State needs men like you, Fred, and the United States needs a great many more of the same calibre!"

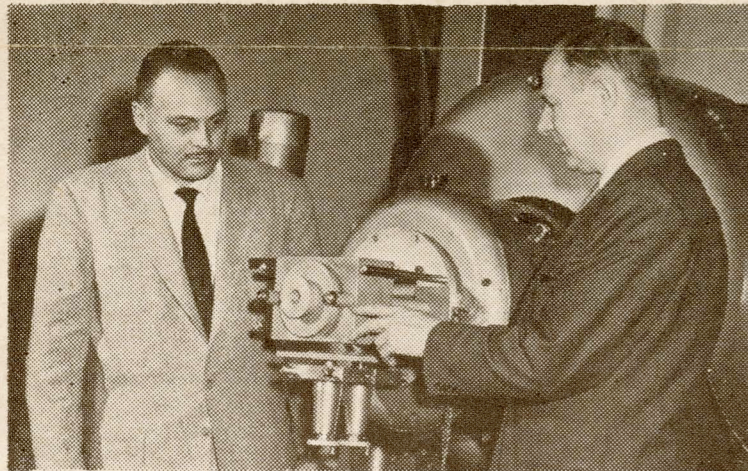

Fred Trump and Henry Cabot Lodge, Ambassador to the United Nations, one of the world's busiest men, yet who always has time to chat with Arizona's greatest salesman.

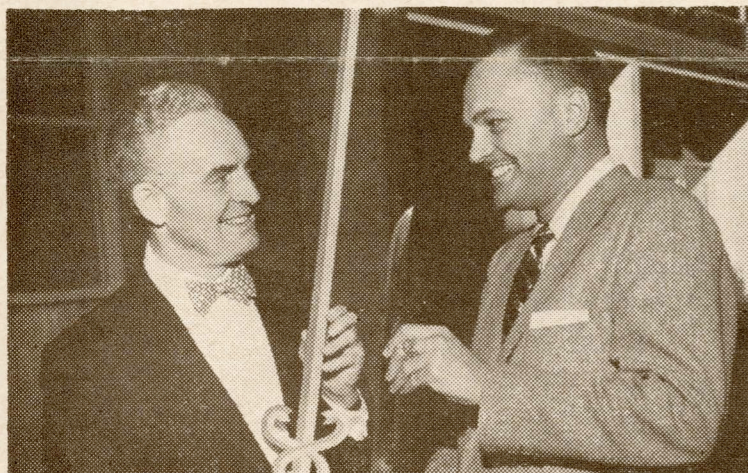

President Eisenhower's chaplain, the Reverend Dr. Edward L. R. Elson, with Fred Trump outside of the President's church in Washington, D. C. A practicing Christian, former Treasurer and Vestyman of his church, Trump respects the creeds of all men, as his sterling work as Pima County Chairman for Arizona's Shrine of the Ages proves.

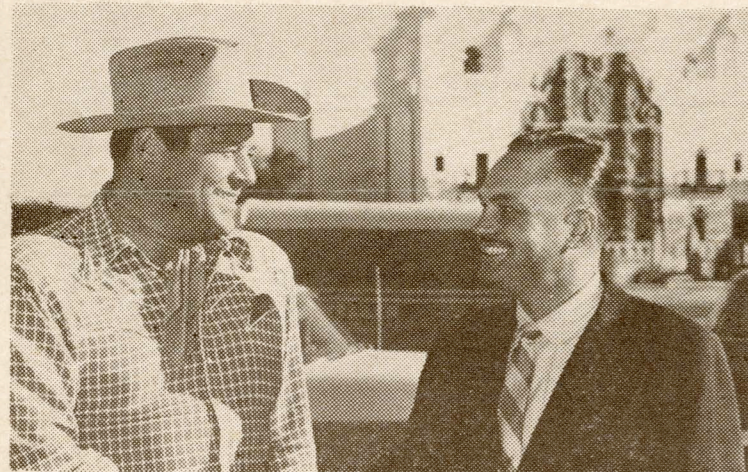

Fred discusses Arizona with the U. S. Assistant Secretary of the Interior, Wesley D'Ewart, at the Dept. of Interior, Washington.

Typical of interest in matters affecting the people, here Fred inspects a 4 million volt super X-ray machine, one of the deadliest weapons against cancer, invented by his famous cousin, Dr. John Trump. Dr. Trump, one of the world's great physicists, who pioneered in smashing atoms, is head of M.I.T.'s High Voltage Engineering, and holder of the Presidential Citation.

Shown joining forces with Fred Waring in the Cancer Crusade, Fred Trump was Arizona State Campaign Chairman of the American Cancer Society.

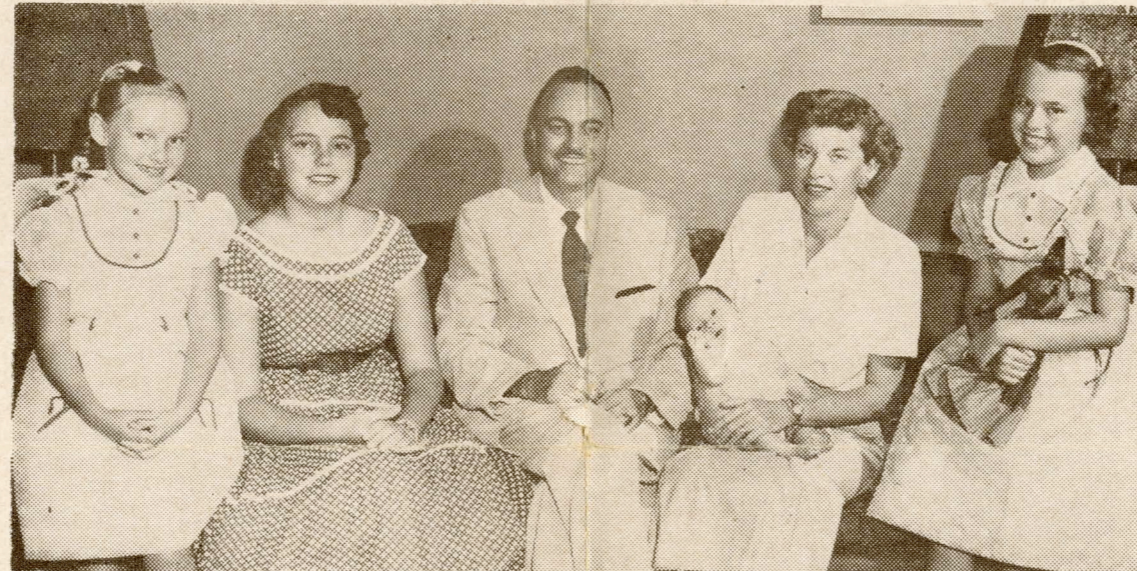

Jack Carson, movie and television star, is welcomed to an Arizona location by Fred Trump, who tells him, "One of these days a group of men will be farsighted enough to build complete movie studios here in Arizona. Then you fellows can spend more time away from smog-ridden Hollywood!"

If your tax bills, the school problems, the nightmare of waste and extravagance in State government are real close-to-the-pocketbook worries — you want a change from politics for a politician's sake. Uncontrolled, uncoerced by any special interests; Arizona's Trump is the BEST man to fully meet all of Arizona's needs.

At 42, he is the most able of the candidates based on a real record of performance. He's tried and proven.

NOW'S THE TIME FOR TRUMP!

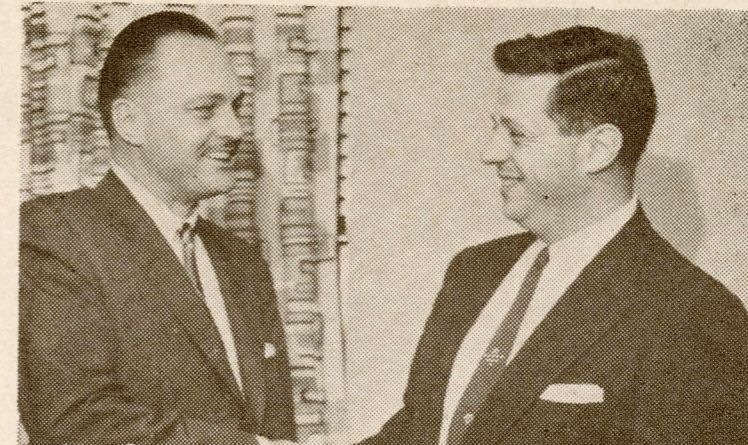

As a family man, Fred Trump is indeed a proud father, shown here with the very new and distinguished Fred Trump, Jr., born July 17th, his lovely wife, Julie, his daughters, L to R: Penny, Nancy and Juliann. Mrs. Trump, too, is a staunch Republican. Her father served 24 terms as Secretary of State and State Treasurer of Minnesota. He was popularly called "The Grand Old Man of the Grand Old Party."

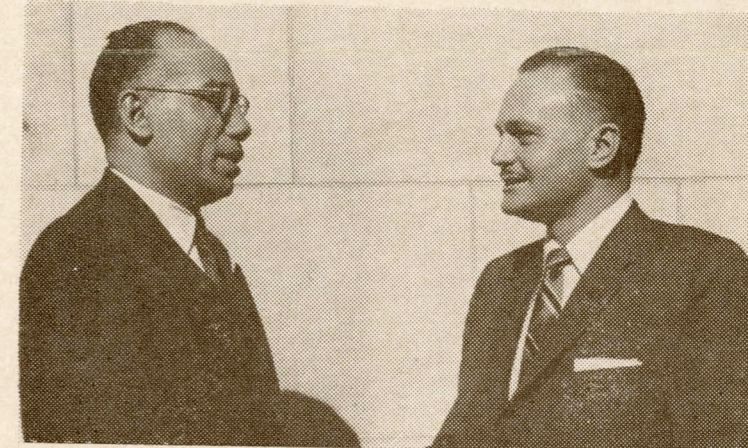

The Vice President has inscribed this picture, "To Fred Trump with appreciation for his service to the Republican Party and with every good wish from Dick Nixon." Fred has been a staunch party worker, at many levels, for over two decades. These services include County Precinct Committeeman, City Ward Captain, Young Republican Officer, Delegate to Arizona Republican State Conventions, member Advisory Committee to the Republican State Central Committee, active in National Conventions, Republican nominee for State Senate, etc.

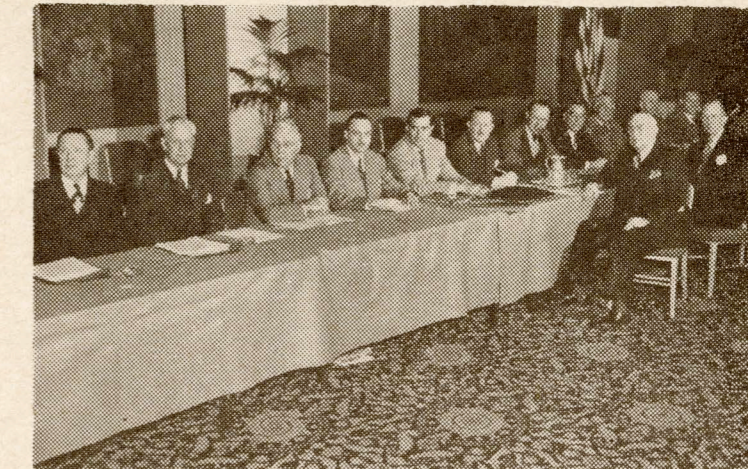

President Eisenhower's chaplain, the Reverend Dr. Edward L. R. Elson, with Fred Trump outside of the President's church in Washington, D. C. A practicing Christian, former Treasurer and Vestyman of his church, Trump respects the creeds of all men, as his sterling work as Pima County Chairman for Arizona's Shrine of the Ages proves.

As can be seen here, where Trump is conferring with Rabbi Eugene Lipman, prominent national United Hebrew Congregation leader, in New York City.

As U. S. Government Staff Consultant to the Anglo American Council on Productivity, Trump worked closely with the top industrial, labor and government leaders of the United States and Great Britain. He commands their outspoken respect for his accomplishments, as well as their personal goodwill.

I have just returned from a few days down Florida way and was pleased to find your letter of November 7 here, containing as it did your analysis of the Arizona situation as well as some mighty nice words about me personally.

There will undoubtedly be some shifts and changes some time after the new term begins and right now it's a little too early to see what might be done along the lines of your suggestion. However, I am asking my Assistant, Bob King, to follow this up and he will certainly be in touch with you later.

Dear Dick:

Having lost in the gubernatorial primary, I was not in the official welcoming party when you were in Arizona recently! I was present, however, for your talk, and it was a mighty good one.

The national ticket's margin in Arizona, as of now, appears uncomfortably close. Our state ticket is the weakest we've ever fielded, and is a deterrent. Our candidates, for the most part, including the gubernatorial aspirant who received substantially less than a majority in the primary, have not been associated with party organization. He and they, significantly lack grass roots support.

Our people voted Ike Dick in '52. However, in '54 half our registration failed to go the polls. The chief reason Howard lost their support, and hence the governor's chair to McFarland, was due to his cultivation of the Democrats. This is illustrated by his appointments in a 4 year tenure, 52% of which were staunch Democrats. Those that follow this line again lead our ticket.

The majority of the hardworking Republicans have deep convictions on this and other aspects of our present Arizona party leadership. They're sitting on their hands.

For my part, I'm working hard to persuade them to go all out national, even if we cannot get them to buy our state ticket. We shall keep at it aggressively all the way.

Best wishes and kindest personal regards.

Sincerely,

Fred

About six weeks ago I cabled you from Cuba requesting an appointment. Upon arrival in Washington, I determined that you were unfortunately out.

While in Haiti, President Magloire and Daniel Theard requested that I carry their respects to you; as did de Moya in the Dominican Republic. Throughout Latin America, I found that you had accomplished a really tremendous job in building goodwill.

My contest for the Arizona gubernatorial nomination is making great progress. We believe we'll make it.

I'd like to ask a small favor. Should H. L. Hunt of Dallas contact you, kindly pass the word that I am what I am a solid, conservative Republican! Thanks.

Have you any plans for a personal appearance in Arizona? Will appreciate your advice.

THE TRUMP NEWSLETTER

Tucson, Arizona
March, 1956

Dear Friends:

Major General Charles A. Willoughby U.S.A. Ret., who knows and likes Arizona has kindly written this present newsletter for us. The General has had varied service, ranging from Mil. Attaché U.S. Embassies in Venezuela, Colombia and Ecuador to MacArthur's chief of intelligence, in peace and war. Since his retirement, he has written best-sellers like "Shanghai Conspiracy" and "MacArthur: 1941-1951" and has appeared in "Cosmopolitan", "Readers Digest" and syndicated articles. It is with profound gratitude, and considerable humility that I present his letter.

"... In 1916, I was stationed in Nogales, one of my first military assignments, and I remember Tucson most pleasantly—between skirmishes along the border. I am aware of the tremendous developments in your State, since that time, and compliment you on taking an active part in its politics. Being familiar with the good work you have done for our Country and our Allies, I know what you can do for Arizona.

Harking back to those distant days of 1916, it is a far cry from Pancho Villa to Hitler, Stalin and Bulganin. The skirmishes along the Rio Grande were minor family squabbles, compared with the global, back-breaking burdens we have taken on so blithely, in three wars—and the end is not in sight!

Parallel with the drainage of our substance in foreign commitments, there is an equally dangerous, corrosive influence in what Mr. Hoover has termed "creeping socialism", a philosophy of the welfare State, an acceptance of British Fabianism in spite of its scandalous failure; and an arrogation of fiscal powers and Statism that will eventually paralyze business and stifle the incentives of free enterprise.

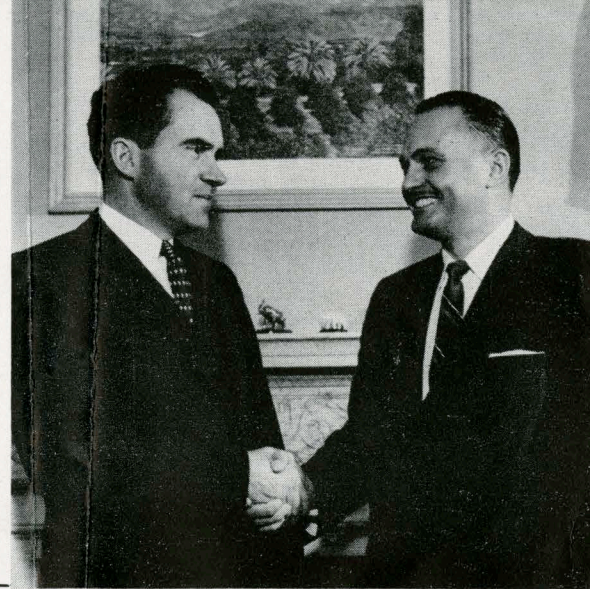

It is later than we think. The great American heritage is in gravest danger. It will take men of your caliber, Fred, to stop and reverse this pernicious trend. I applaud those Arizonans who would draft you for governor. In a real sense, the Southwest may well become the leader in a return to old principles and the historic States' Rights spirit of the Confederacy may yet find its modern triumph. The Eastern Seaboard is politically hybrid, completely internationalized, brainwashed by two decades of a phony liberalism and utterly corroded by alien influences. There is a light on the horizon, in the South and Southwest. The pioneering spirit of the Great Plains has somehow preserved a clean-cut Americanism that, like charity, puts its own country first.

As an old soldier, who once served in Arizona and enjoyed its hospitality, I take the liberty of suggesting that your State needs men like you, Fred, and the United States needs a great many more of the same caliber. This is still America. Let's keep it so!"

THE TRUMP NEWSLETTER

Tucson, Arizona
December 28th, 1955

Dear Friends:

Please let me take this opportunity to wish each and every one of you a very Happy 1956, and to assure you that we will have a prosperous political New Year!

They say a prophet is without honor in his own country, nevertheless I'll go ahead and lead with my chin now that I'm back home in Arizona. Here it is:

The Republicans will win by a handsome majority!

I believe this to be true regardless of who is selected by the next National convention to head the ticket. Of course, one Republican might potentially poll more votes than another, but the final result will find the GOP on top again.

In a five week swing across the nation . . . Washington, D. C., New York City, Chicago, the Twin Cities . . . in big towns and small towns . . . I talked with Big Republicans and little republicans.

I use the words little republicans because some are still thinking along small lines. This is needless, for the Democrats are desperate. Looking at their shopworn issues and potential candidates only makes us proud of the men on our side and what they stand for.

Among those I visited were Vice President Richard Nixon, (as you can see in the upper corner), Major General Charles Willoughby, Admiral C. S. Freeman, Ass't Secretary of the Interior Wesley D'Ewart, Harry Everingham, Republican National Committee Executive Director Chauncey Robbins, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Marjorie Kunstader, President of 22,000 Illinois Republican Women Volunteers and many others who have heard the voice of the people proclaiming, "We've never had it so good!"

A hardboiled taxi driver in New York summed it up very well as he fought through the quagmire of traffic. "Look at those mobs," he said, "buyin' everything they can get their mitts on. 'Y'see any apple sellers amongst 'em, buddy?"

The evidence of solid prosperity everywhere I went was not window-dressing as it is in the store fronts of Moscow. Shopkeepers in America can't keep the goods in their windows!

Speaking again as a prophet, I can only say that with the Republicans remaining in power, the only thing that will drop is unemployment insurance payments!

All the best to all of you in the year to come!

Dear Mr. President:

The vast majority of Arizona party organization, both at grass roots and at all key levels, are enthusiastically in favor of an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket. We are deeply concerned in respect to various unseemly pre-convention moves to sidetrack Vice President Richard Nixon.

It is our deep conviction that those who are at work in this direction constitute a disproportionately small albeit vociferous minority. Many of them, in any event, would not vote for any Republican.

We have canvassed this subject quite thoroughly, and estimate that Mr. Nixon can contribute far more weight to the ticket, as your running mate, than those currently being prominently mentioned.

I expect to enter the gubernatorial contest in Arizona, subject to the Republican primary. Therefore, my comments are actuated by personal, as well as party interests.

Respectfully yours,

Dear Dick:

It was a pleasure to visit with you, however briefly, early in November. Your courtesies were greatly appreciated.

Enclosed, a review by partisans touting me as as Arizona gubernatorial candidate. I send this merely so that you'll be acquainted with more of my background.

Please also note, herein, a recent Newsletter, one of a series being distributed to all Arizona Republican precinct and ward committeemen. We're endeavoring to inject a little "calcium" into the party backbone. It's needed in Arizona! Too, I've been hitting the theme that the Party will not founder, should the President not be a candidate to succeed himself.

Without any authorization, I have been plugging for Nixon, in such eventuality. You have many solid friends here who may be counted upon.

One of the pictures taken by the Life photographer is enclosed. Would you kindly return it to me with a suitable inscription?

Warmest regards.

Among those I visited were Vice President Richard Nixon, (as you can see in the upper corner), Major General Charles Willoughby, Admiral C. S. Freeman, Ass't Secretary of the Interior Wesley D'Ewart, Harry Everingham, Republican National Committee Executive Director Chauncey Robbins, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Marjorie Kunstadter, President of 22,000 Illinois Republican Women Volunteers and many others who have heard the voice of the people proclaiming, "We've never had it so good!"

A hardboiled taxi driver in New York summed it up very well as he fought through the quagmire of traffic. "Look at those mobs," he said, "buyin' everything they can get their mitts on. 'Y'see any apple sellers amongst 'em, buddy?"

The evidence of solid prosperity everywhere I went was not window-dressing as it is in the store fronts of Moscow. Shopkeepers in America can't keep the goods in their windows!

Speaking again as a prophet, I can only say that with the Republicans remaining in power, the only thing that will drop is unemployment insurance payments!

All the best to all of you in the year to come!

Col. James C. Wood
Republican State Committee
Phoenix, Arizona

Dear Colonel Wood:

We understand that slate committees are being formed for purposes of making recommendations of specific state-wide candidates.

A group of Republicans, for whom we're the speakers in this instance, wish to be assured that the committee at point has the opportunity to meet and discuss the gubernatorial contest particularly with Fred Trump. Mr. Trump, we believe, is certainly one of the best qualified in Arizona for that office; and, we're confident he is one who would make a winning race.

We have definite reason to know that he has very strong grass roots support; and, in addition, the financial backing requisite for a standout candidate. We further believe Mr. Trump would seriously consider being the Republican candidate for governor, even subject to a primary contest.

Mr. Trump's personal qualifications are well known and may be readily ascertained by those not wholly conversant. At this time we merely wish to point out some pertinent political considerations that favor his candidacy, as follows:

1. He is a lifelong ardent Republican with no uncertain background or convictions. He has long been active in party interests, i.e. an officer of West Coast YR's, active in YR's in Minnesota and Arizona, accomplished special party work in the Minnesota legislature, active in GOP finance and publicity phases in Eastern states and in connection with two national conventions.
2. Mr. Trump is not new to government service. After acceptance by the F.B.I. he was retained as one of the U.S. Government's top rated consultants, Staff Consultant to the Anglo American Council. Here he made an outstanding record in his work with the leaders of industry, labor and government in both the U.S. and United Kingdom.
3. In 1952, in one of the most predominant Democratic legislative districts in the state, he polled 46%, running significantly ahead of most of our ticket including state-wide candidates.
4. As some criteria of his acceptance, it's noteworthy that despite late decision to file, his 1954 nominating petition was the largest ever filed by a Republican in Pima County history.

5. In his '54 State Senate campaign Mr. Trump ran a strong race that not only commanded the outspoken respect of both parties, but sustained more support than the majority of the ticket. His name then and since has emerged as one of the best known and most valuable political names in Pima County.
6. In Arizona party circles, where he has served as a hard-working county precinct committeeman, city ward committeeman, state delegate, and captain of the Tucson Ward 4 organization in the '55 municipal contest - he has developed a real respect amongst the workers of our party. We might point out that we believe Ward 4, which accounted for about half the Tucson vote, had a record 64% turnout of Republican registrants.
7. As 1955-56 State Campaign Chairman in behalf of a major charity, Mr. Trump has already personally met community leaders, addressed service clubs, appeared on radio and/or TV broadcasts and conducted drive meetings about the entire state. In connection with this and other public service activities which he chairmans, Mr. Trump is personally reaching each Arizona county, speaking to diverse groups, etc.

Letters have also gone out under his signature to over 300,000 Arizonans, and more continue. He is the only potential Republican candidate, other than those now in Federal office, generally well known around the state. He has had the widest and best press of any non-office holding Republican this year. From personal observation we know for a fact that this total impact is gaining momentum and that by early next year, Fred Trump will, without doubt, constitute one of the strongest pre-campaign candidates that our party has had in Arizona.

8. We like the fact that Mr. Trump advocates the position and policies that Senator Barry Goldwater represents. We believe he is the type of "uncompromising" Republican that our party so greatly needs in Arizona and the nation.

In closing, Colonel Wood, we strongly commend this entire matter to the careful consideration of the Slate Committee; and, to all those concerned with the responsibility of promoting party unity and strength via definite encouragement of candidates, like Fred Trump, who are real Republicans with positive winning potentialities.

Yours very sincerely,

/s/ Col. C. H. Clinton

Shrine Boosters Fred Trump, Pima County chairman for Shrine of the Ages Chapel at Grand Canyon, made a trip to Washington to enlist support of some of the nation's leaders. Trump's visit came as nationwide fund drive for chapel gained momentum. Here he shakes hands with Vice President Nixon who said, "The Grand Canyon Chapel will be a permanent American tribute to the brotherhood of men."

BACKER — An enthusiastic backer of the chapel drive in Washington was the Rev. Edward L. R. Elson. He is President Eisenhower's pastor.

READER — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge learned about the chapel drive by reading copy of Arizona Highways Magazine which Trump gave him.

Dear Mr. Schmahl:

As you probably have noted in the papers, the Vice President has had an extremely busy schedule in the past few weeks, and consequently he has not had any time to autograph pictures. There is quite a sizeable stack of various articles to be autographed on his desk, and I know he will be more than glad to autograph the picture which Mr. Trump sent in just as soon as he has an opportunity to do so.

We will make every effort to put this picture on top of the stack and send it to Mr. Trump as promptly as possible.

With all good wishes,

Sincerely yours,

Rose Mary Woods

Dear Vice President:

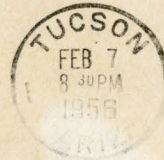

Mr. Trump has asked me to send on the enclosed clip, similar to numbers; and, to also enquire concerning our letter of December 29th with enclosed picture for your appreciated message and signature.

You will perhaps be interested to know that it is most likely that Mr. Trump will be in either the gubernatorial or U.S. Senatorial race here in Arizona.

Very truly yours,

J. Schmahl
