Dear Mr. President:

I have submitted to the Congress of the United States my fourth annual review of American foreign policy. In it I have described the major developments in our policies during the past year and over the course of my first term. I have also set out the issues and opportunities which I believe lie ahead. As this document reflects my personal thoughts on international affairs, I wanted you to have a copy.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

RICHARD NIXON

His Excellency
Francisco Macias Nguema
President of the Republic of Equatorial Guinea

Dear Mr. President:

The Apollo lunar landing program conducted by the United States has been brought to a successful conclusion. Men from the planet Earth have reached the first milestone in space. But as we stretch for the stars, we know that we stand also upon the shoulders of many men of many nations here on our own planet. In the deepest sense our exploration of the moon was truly an international effort.

It is for this reason that, on behalf of the people of the United States I present this flag, which was carried to the moon, to the people of the Republic of Equatorial Guinea, and this fragment of the moon obtained during the final lunar mission of the Apollo program.

If people of many nations can act together to achieve the dreams of humanity in space, then surely we can act together to accomplish humanity's dream of peace here on earth. It was in this spirit that the United States of America went to the moon, and it is in this spirit that we look forward to sharing what we have done and what we have learned with all mankind.

Sincerely,

RICHARD

His Excellency
Francisco Macias Nguema
President of the Republic of Equatorial Guinea

Thank you for your message during the recent Middle East war.

You can be sure that the United States has worked energetically to stop the fighting and to lay the basis for peace-making in the Middle East. We intend to continue our efforts to help ensure movement towards a just and durable peace for all peoples in the area. Your thoughtful message has been very much appreciated. Sincerely,

Richard Nixon.
