380,000 Americans Repudiate Madalyn Murray O'Hair Demand Military Chaplains Stay

Despite attempts by atheist Madalyn Murray O'Hair to censure their nation-wide poll results, the Chairman of Americans for a Sound Foreign Policy (ASFP) today released the results. Most Americans, 96%, oppose reported actions to abolish military chaplains.

The survey, conducted in a recent one month period, had tens of thousands of respondents answering the question: "Do you support efforts of atheist Madalyn Murray O'Hair to abolish military chaplains from all branches of the US armed forces?"

Final results indicate that 96%, or 380,000 of those surveyed, oppose any atheist efforts to do away with military chaplains in the US armed forces, while only .05% support atheist attempts to remove military chaplains with 3.5% undecided.

National Chairman of ASFP, Phil Luce, remarked that "since again the values of the First Amendment have overcome the blatant attempt by O'Hair to censure free speech and free religion. We will continue to struggle to express the efforts and views of thousands of religious and patriotic Americans.
