Dear Carla:

Thank you for your letter of December 19th with reference to the American Dietetic Association. As you know October will be very busy for us and I really can not commit the President to an event so far in the future at this time.

If you would re-submit your request early this summer I am sure we would have a better idea of the President's schedule.

Thank you for wanting the President with the Association for their Sixty-Seventh Annual Meeting.

The Honorable Michael K. Deaver
Assistant to the President and
Deputy Chief of Staff
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mike:

The American Dietetic Association would like very much to invite the President to address its Sixty-Seventh Annual Meeting which will be held the week of October 15, 1984 at the D.C. Convention Center. The time that the Association would like to schedule the President's speech is Wednesday, October 17 at 10:00 a.m., but it is more than willing to schedule it at any time on October 15 through 18 that meets the President's convenience.

As you may know the American Dietetic Association is a professional association of approximately 50,000 registered dietitians. It is vitally concerned with nutrition and the role that nutrition plays with respect to this nation's health. It is cognizant that one of the best ways for this nation to cut soaring health costs is to emphasize disease prevention and health maintenance. Sound nutrition not only controls many diseases (e.g., diabetes, hypertension, heart disease), but it can prevent them from occurring.

The members of the Association, who are predominantly female, have been extremely supportive of this Administration and understanding of the need for program reduction and budget cuts. I know that the President would be warmly and enthusiastically received by the 10,000 members who are expected to attend the 1984 annual meeting. The President could use this occasion to speak on health issues in a very positive way before a very positive audience.

Can you ascertain whether this is an invitation the President could accept?

Many thanks for your help and every best wish for a healthy, happy and rewarding 1984.

Sincerely,

Carla A. Hills

BASIC PREPARATIONS

- 1 raw cup = 3 cups cooked or 8 servings
- ½ cup = 6 servings
- ½ cup = 4 servings
- 1 pound raw = 2¾ cup raw

OVEN METHOD

In order to remove starch, soak and drain rice, using a sieve, first in hot water, then in cold water, until soak water is clear. This process usually takes three rinses in hot water followed by three cold rinses, each rinse taking at least five minutes. Then soak in chicken broth or stock (three times liquid to rice) overnight or all day in heavy covered casserole. Cook in same container uncovered at 350 degrees for 45 minutes (chewy) to 60 minutes (fluffy), using bay leaf if desired. Before serving, remove bay leaf and excess liquid; add butter to taste.

MICROWAVE METHOD

Soak and drain rice as provided above. In an uncovered 2 quart glass bowl or casserole, combine the rice and chicken broth. Microwave on high speed for 5 minutes or until the mixture boils. Reduce the speed to medium and cook for 40 to 45 minutes, then let the rice stand for 10 to 15 minutes. Drain.

OTHER METHODS

1. Rinse 1 cup raw wild rice thoroughly in a small mesh sieve. Drain and place in a covered baking dish. Add 3 cups of water and three heaping teaspoons of granulated chicken bouillon. Stir. Cover and bake in a 350 degree oven for 1½ hours. Check after one hour's time. If more water is needed, add it and fluff with a fork. Continue baking for the additional half-hour. Rice should be moist, not dry. If you are serving wild rice as a breakfast cereal, or if for any reason you don't want the meat flavor, eliminate the bouillon and add ¾ teaspoon of salt instead.
2. Rinse 1 cup wild rice thoroughly in a small mesh sieve. Drain and place in a heavy saucepan with 4 cups salted water. Bring to a boil, simmer covered for about 45 minutes, or until tender but not mushy. Uncover, fluff with a fork and simmer for an additional 5 minutes. Drain excess liquid, if any.

Wild rice can be cooked ahead of time and stored in the fridge for about one week, or frozen, in a tightly closed container. By doing this you can prepare many dishes in as little as 20 minutes time. Re-heating is particularly easy with the microwave.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

December 7, 1983

Dear Tom,

President Reagan has asked me to thank you for your letter and he looks forward to seeing you on the 12th.

Regarding the needy, the President liked your suggestions and I think you will be pleased to hear about the programs being coordinated by the White House Office of Private Sector Initiatives.

On December 19, by Presidential Proclamation, the President will announce "National Care and Share Day" encouraging citizens across the country to donate food to their less fortunate neighbors. As in the past, the White House and General Services Administration will sponsor a nationwide food, clothing and toy drive to help the needy.

Also, the Departments of Health and Human Services and Defense are permitting military commissaries to transfer unmarketable items, with torn labels or dents in the containers, to food banks. 192 military installations will be donating to 129 food banks across the country.

A number of other private sector examples are being showcased across the country to encourage people to take care of their neighbors at Christmas time and beyond.

The President sends his regards and hopes you have some more jokes for him on the 12th.
