Dear Dr. Soong:

Thank you for the lovely pictorial book you sent to Mr. Deaver. You can be assured that he will enjoy this commemorative edition that records the achievements of the Republic of China on Taiwan during President Chiang's first term.

Again, thank you for your thoughtfulness which prompted your sending Six Years of Progress for Mr. Deaver's enjoyment.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Deaver:

On behalf of all your friends in the Republic of China, I wish to present you with this pictorial book which commemorates the inauguration of President Chiang Ching-kuo as the seventh president of the Republic of China on May 20, 1984.

The book is a pictorial record of the achievements that were registered by the Republic of China on Taiwan during President Chiang's first term in office, 1978-1984. Progress was made in all aspects of our national development, and we are proud that President Chiang's leadership has been our guiding force. We are confident that the next six years will open an even brighter future for our country.

On this occasion I might also note that President Chiang's administration remains committed to an even better future for the longstanding and close friendship our two countries have shared.

I hope you will enjoy this book.

With warm personal regards,

Sincerely,

James C. Y. Soong, Ph.D.

Dear Allan:

Thank you for your recent letter concerning the City of Vancouver and its desire to acquire Officer's Row for redevelopment purposes.

I have confirmed with the General Services Administration that the City of Vancouver will be given the opportunity to submit an application to acquire the property for historic monument purposes. Under existing law, the application will be subject to review by the Department of Interior before a final decision is made by the General Services Administration.

Again, thanks for writing to let me know of your interest. I hope you will find this response helpful in answering your concerns on the matter.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

Dear Mike:

This letter should be a shock to you. My writing anyone in the Administration should be a shock to you.

There is a local issue of paramount importance to the community at large. We have several old buildings called Officer's Row which have great historical value. The buildings have been a part of old Fort Vancouver, from when it was a military reservation. The GSA has declared them surplus property and the City of Vancouver would like the government to transfer them to the city at no cost. The buildings are over a hundred years old and sit in the center of a city parks area. One of the buildings is the General Grant Museum and another is the George Marshall House. I don't have to explain to you the historical value of buildings used by the aforementioned. Oh and Generals Sherman, Sheridan and Bradley all lived in our Officer's Row, too. This area is right across the street from and a part of the first settlement in the entire Northwest - the Fort Vancouver National Historic Site.

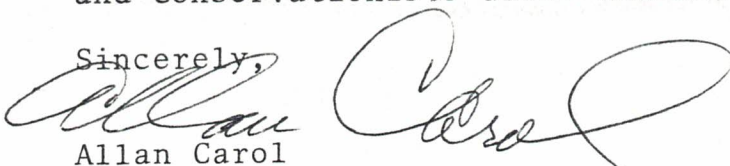

I know with the historical background you have through your family, your prime interest would be to see this property used for proper historical purposes. If our Officer's Row were sold, it would neither balance the budget nor pay off the debt. The best use would be to develop them to the benefit of the local community. This proposition has the support of both Governors Spellman and Atiyeh, as well as the entire Congressional delegation from the Northwest.

These buildings will take an enormous amount of restoration. We know that and the community has already pledged a great deal of volunteer labor to the project. If we have to pay for the buildings "as is", we'll have nothing left to spend on saving them.

You see, the GSA had actually helped the City prepare its plan for preserving the Row and the key element was and still is a no-cost transfer. Unfortunately the GSA switched horses in midstream and now demands its pound of flesh. This is a big issue here.

I know you're a busy man and have many things on your mind, but I remember you told me when Reagan was in Sacramento that he was a better conservationist than his record showed - this is a fantastic opportunity to make big points with preservationists and conservationists alike and not cost you a cent.

Sincerely,

Allan Carol

MEMORANDUM TO WHITE HOUSE STAFF

FROM: MICHAEL K. DEAVER M
SUBJECT: White House Staff Pins

The new White House Staff Lapel Pins are due for issuance on June 15, 1984.

Pins will be issued by Mrs. Mastrangelo, Mr. DeProspero's secretary, in Room 10, OEOB. I would like the transition to be completed by June 25, 1984.

Old pins are to be returned when you pick up your new ones.

Please note that, at this time, pins issued to military support personnel are not being re-issued.

Thank you.

Dear Judy:

Lyn Nofziger forwarded to me your letter of May 11th concerning the Little Rock school bussing situation.

It is my understanding that you have brought this matter to the attention of Assistant Attorney General Reynolds and that he is considering the possibility of filing a friend of the Court brief in opposition to the lower Court ruling. Unfortunately, the President will be unable to receive the petitions you mention in person. However, I encourage you to send them to him and he will forward them to the Justice Department.

Thank you for providing us with your views on this subject.

Best wishes for victory in your race for Congress in November.

Mr. Lyn Nofziger

Dear Lyn:

I really need your help on this one!

Federal Judge Henry Woods (nominated by Senator Bumpers and appointed by President Carter) recently ruled that the Pulaski County Special School District and the North Little Rock School District must undergo court-ordered consolidation with the Little Rock School District and that students must be bussed across the three district lines to meet racial quotas.

All three school districts were well integrated and functioning beautifully. The voters - black and white - have gone into collective apoplexy. The black parents are particularly upset because their children would be bused the greatest distance...some as long as 1 hour, 45 minutes each way.

Before this decision a few weeks ago, you could not get 20 parents to turn out for anything. Now, there have been meetings with as many as 800 parents - black and white - to protest this judicial activism.

The ruling is now before the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals, and there have been several news articles about local school officials writing to the President to ask his assistance.

All the Democratic candidates for Congress are expressing outrage at this decision; what I want to do is distinguish myself from them is to show that I am the only one who has a working relationship with the President and can bring it to his attention.

My request is this: I would like to have an appointment with the President to present him with petitions from an equal number of black and white parents and school patrons who want to bring this matter to his attention. The petitions can ask the President to have the Justice Department file an Amicus Curiae on behalf of the Pulaski County School District.

Dear Mike:

Pat and I have followed your outstanding efforts on behalf of the President with a great deal of interest and pride. We often think of our most enjoyable and productive days in Sacramento working with the "Reagan Team."

The responsibilities of the Presidency are of such an overwhelming magnitude that I hesitate to ask for his assistance on a matter as miniscule as the issuance of a commemorative stamp. However, I believe that the issuance of such a stamp in 1985 commemorating the 50th anniversary of the B-17 Flying Fortress warrants his consideration.

Last evening NBC News presented an hour long program titled "All The Fine Young Men" in which it was effectively demonstrated that daylight precision bombing of German military and manufacturing targets would not have been sustainable without the outstanding characteristics of the B-17 Flying Fortress. And without the precision bombing in 1943 and in the early months of 1944 it is questionable that the Allied invasion could have been undertaken with any reasonable expectation of success.

I have been advised that the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee have placed all B-17 stamp proposals in the future file for consideration eight to ten years hence for WWII 50th anniversary stamp series. In reality, however, the 50th anniversary of the B-17 is to be celebrated in late July 1985. It would certainly be anti-climatic to issue a commemorative stamp for that event some eight to ten years late!

Mike, anything you might be able to do to support the issuance of such a stamp by July 1985 will be greatly appreciated by the hundreds of thousands of Americans who were privileged

MEMORANDUM FOR ASSISTANTS TO THE PRESIDENT

FROM: MICHAEL K. DEAVER

SUBJECT: CHRONOLOGY OF PRESIDENTIAL TRIPS

Below is the "standard" chronology for Presidential trips which reiterates our policy on courtesy trip notifications to elected officials and other dignitaries.

The chronology is as follows:

Trip Scheduled Fred Ryan schedules the trip, project officers are assigned and set-up papers are sent out.

- * Notification to Legislative Affairs, Intergovernmental, Political and others, as appropriate, of upcoming pre-advance is done by the assigned Trip Coordinator (Advance Office).
- * Courtesy calls advising elected officials and other dignitaries of a possible Presidential trip are done by these offices at their discretion before or at the same time as the White House pre-advance team is departing Washington.

Sometimes the Advance Office works directly with the elected official's staff to prepare the pre-advance, if the elected official is hosting the event or actively involved.

The Pre-Advance (generally done one week before the trip).

Trip Concept Memo Immediately following the pre-advance, a memorandum is prepared for Mike Deaver by the Advance Office outlining the concept of the event(s) and including a proposed summary schedule.

Trip Meeting (usually the day after the pre-advance). This meeting reviews, with representatives of the offices that are involved in the trip, the proposed summary schedule approved by Mike Deaver.

Manifest and greeter requests are discussed with Intergovernmental Affairs, Legislative Affairs and Political Affairs as well as any special dignitary involvement.

Agreement on the timing of the White House Press Announcement is established at the trip meeting.

Press Announcement (usually 5 days before the trip).

- * Immediately before the White House Press Office trip announcement (or simultaneously), courtesy calls again are made to the same elected officials, etc. and a general outline of the trip is discussed.

Draft Schedule memorandum Several days prior to the trip's departure, a memorandum with a draft detailed schedule is sent to the offices involved in the trip.

Manifest Manifest requests are submitted to William Sittmann and Margaret Tutwiler for approval three to four days before the trip departs.

- * Trip information to those traveling with or greeting The President should be coordinated closely with the Advance Office.

Traveling Guest/Staff Memorandum Distributed the day (or business day) before the trip departs, this memo gives the departure information for the guests and staff.

Final Trip Schedule Distributed the night before or the day of departure.

Dear Mr. Netanyahu:

It was a pleasure to meet you this week. In follow-up to our conversation, I appreciate your sending the material on the Conference on International Terrorism and reiterating an invitation for the President to attend.

This certainly looks as if it will be a most interesting conference and you are to be commended for your efforts in this direction. The brochure that you sent about your brother was thought provoking and I know that all who read it will be quite moved.

In regard to your invitation to the President, unfortunately, his schedule during the time of your conference is such that he will be unable to participate. I regret that my response could not be more favorable. However, on behalf of the President, please accept our best wishes for a most productive meeting.

Second
Conference
International
Terrorism

June 13, 1984

Dear Mr. Deaver,

I was very glad to meet you last night. As you may recall, we talked very briefly about the upcoming Conference on International Terrorism. The Conference is sponsored by the Jonathan Institute, a private research foundation with offices in Israel and the United States. It will take place on June 24-26, 1984 at the Four Seasons Hotel in Washington, D.C. The date is a week before the eighth anniversary of the rescue mission to Entebbe (July 4, 1976).

The Conference will be chaired by Lord Chalfont, a former minister of the British government. Participants will include statesmen, parliamentarians, scholars, security officials, and journalists from the United States, England, France, West Germany, Italy, Japan, Australia, and Israel. Among the Administration officials who will address the Conference will be Secretary of State George Shultz, Edwin Meese, Ambassador Jeane Kirkpatrick, and Judge William Webster. Senators Laxalt, Cranston, Moynihan and D'Amato will also participate. Israeli participants will include Defense Minister Arens, former Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin, and the Chief Justice of Israel's Supreme Court. Ted Koppel and David Brinkley will be among the moderators.

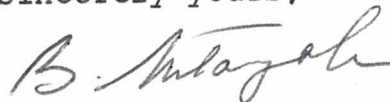

The Conference is attracting considerable media interest. The senior diplomatic correspondents of the television networks and the major newspapers will be covering the sessions, as will many leading columnists.

Of course, the greatest honor of all would be if the President could address the Conference. From his very first days in office President Reagan has made the fight against international terrorism a cornerstone of his policy. He has repeatedly and eloquently warned of the dangers of state-sponsored terrorism, and his warnings have been borne out by events. Tens of millions have been shaken by the attempted murder of the Pope, the bombings in Beirut and Kuwait, the murder of South Korea's cabinet, and the killing of a British policewoman by Qaddafi's agents.

Millions, too, have taken heart from the President's resolute stand. The Conference could provide the President with an appropriate forum to express his views before a major assembly of intellectual and political leaders from the democratic world. The opening session will be on Sunday night (June 24) and the closing on Tuesday night (June 26), but of course any time the President desires would be suitable. I have no doubt that the heightened public awareness of the problem, and the interest generated by the Conference will provide a splendid opportunity for a Presidential statement on this matter.

I enclose a brochure describing the Conference. I thought you might also be interested in the booklet about my brother for whom the Institute is named.

Sincerely yours,

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

June 28, 1984

Dear Mr. Sugahara:

I want you to know that your June 22nd letter to Mr. Deaver apprising him of the highly successful U.S. Asian Institute Leadership Conference has arrived in our office.

Thank you for taking your time to send the informative material to him for his perusal. He appreciates knowing of the Institutes efforts.

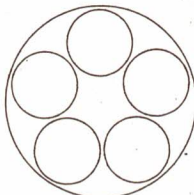

With best wishes,

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Donna L. Blume". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long, sweeping underline.

The Honorable Michael K. Deaver
Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Deaver:

The U.S. Asia Institute Leadership Conference was highly successful. Besides prominent representatives from five nations, including the Secretary of Defence from New Zealand, there were about 75 participants from the State and Defense Departments. The positions of Japan, People's Republic of China and South Korea were clearly articulated. Generally, they will work closely with the U.S., but will maintain their own integrity. The fallout from your visit to Japan and PRC, I felt, was extremely helpful.

I enclose a message sent to the Conference by the Prime Minister of Japan.

I think it should be significant that world leaders recognize the role of the Institute and we hope that the White House will use the Institute more effectively. I am making this report to you because you are my contact with the Republican Eagles.

With warmest personal regards,

Kay Sugahara
Chairman

Mr. Kay Sugahara, Chairman
U.S. Asia Institute
209 C Street S.E.
Washington, D.C. 20003

Dear Chairman Sugahara:

On the occasion of the Fourth National Leadership Conference, I should like to express my highest esteem of long standing for the US-Asia Institute and its outstanding achievement. It is my greatest pleasure to say how very much I appreciate the great contribution the Institute has made over the years to solidifying the bridge over the Pacific between Asia and America. To mention but one, I think very highly of the important role played by the Institute, with its eminent members with Asian background, in the assimilation of Asian-Americans into US society, which is one of many excellent examples of close trans-Pacific ties.

In light of the growing importance of the Pacific, not only in terms of international economy but also in the field of global military strategy, it is of great significance that the Conference on the US-Asia Security should be held at this time by this distinguished Institute. I very much hope, and I am quite sure that the Conference will be a total success with valuable and fruitful discussions.

May I finally conclude my message by congratulating in anticipation on the success of the Conference and expressing my very best regards to the distinguished participants of the Conference. Thank you very much.

Yasuhiro Nakasone

Prime Minister of Japan

"U.S.-ASIA SECURITY:
ECONOMIC & POLITICAL DIMENSIONS"

US-Asia Institute
1984 National Leadership Conference
June 18-19, 1984
U.S. Department of State
Washington, D.C.

SECURITY in the global context has become a complex issue with economic, geo-political, military and cultural dimensions. This holds true in the Pacific Basin as well with these interwoven facets forming the underpinnings for security.

In light of this, the 1984 US-Asia Institute National Leadership Conference focuses on "U.S.-ASIA SECURITY: ECONOMIC & POLITICAL DIMENSIONS." This conference is policy-oriented and multinational in scope, including speakers from the United States, Japan, the People's Republic of China, the Republic of Korea, New Zealand, Australia, and the countries of ASEAN.

The conference which began with a CONFERENCE PREVIEW in May with Admiral W. J. Crowe, Jr., Commander-In-Chief, U.S. Pacific Forces, continues June 18-19 at the U.S. Department of State and examines international security from the perspective of United States foreign policy towards Asia and including the Asian nations' security perceptions. Key issues include the promotion and protection of trade and investment in the Pacific Basin; the dependence and need for secure international water routes; continuing and emerging military, political, and economic alliances between nations of the area; and technological development, cooperation and exchange to name but a few.

Re NARA CCO Date 4/25/11

Dear Mike:

Thank you for your letter of June 15.

Regarding the upcoming election, my recommendation has been, and will continue to be, that we re-organize the grass roots voter group coalition effort which we did so successfully in 1980. As you know, Mike, it really did the job and I really think you ought to give this matter very serious consideration. To me this is our victory insurance policy. I would be more than happy to do this for the President, and I think it is very important that we reinstitute the 1980 winning format.

Best personal regards,

Sincerely,

Max Hugel

Dear Ms. LeFevre:

Thank you for your recent letter regarding the "Thank God I Am An American" Show. You have obviously given a great deal of thought to its production, and have developed an interesting concept.

Unfortunately, it would be inappropriate for me to provide the kind of advise you are seeking.

Best of luck in your endeavors, and again, thank you for writing.

Sincerely,

MICHAEL K. DEAVER

Re: Underwriter for Presenting the "Thank God I Am An American" Show

Dear Mr. Deaver:

Mr. Jerry Naylor suggested that I contact you regarding the production of the "Thank God I Am An American" show. It is a family type theme variety show that emphasizes patriotism and loyalty. The show has been successfully produced annually since 1980 in Glendale, California. Jerry headlined the first show.

Your outstanding success and influence leads us to believe that you are the one person who can help get this show into nationwide production and to secure the performance of Frank Sinatra at the Washington, D.C. finale.

The "Thank God I Am An American" show is a "grass roots" show; something for everyone. The purpose of the show is to furnish good entertainment and to promote a feeling of pride in America and faith in its leaders. The show is suitable to be seen any day or season.

The plan is to take the show on tour to different towns and states of the nation, with a grand finale planned for Washington, D.C., with bigger and brighter stars such as Mr. Frank Sinatra and Mr. Red Skelton and a sprinkling of smaller stars and dramatic fireworks. Mr. Pat Buttram has expressed interest and enthusiasm for the show and is expected to tour with the show as much as his previous commitments will allow. The possibility of taping the show for television viewing should also be considered.

It is proposed that a portion of the net income from the show and cast parties be donated to repair and maintain our national landmark -- THE STATUE OF LIBERTY -- the need for maintenance after the renovation is very important, a must.

Because of the nature of the presentation, the sponsor and show will generate recognition far beyond the value the advertising dollar usually purchases.

The general public's nominees for each of the cities' patriotic citizen and outstanding educator to receive a special award and recognition, plus the presence and introduction of the local, state, and national leaders during the show, will create valuable involvement and interest of the people and will cause more media coverage, with a lasting impact.

Community barbecues, old-fashioned picnics, luaus, etc., held by the various service organizations before the evening presentation of the "Thank God I Am An American" show, will be a means to create exciting fund raisers for the local service clubs and politicians, and will sell a lot of good old "American Spirit".

Without it becoming a partisan affair, the shows and celebrations will be a great national asset. People usually vote for the candidates that have been seen at close range and spoken to by the average citizen. To be involved in a project that the leaders endorse and attend motivates pride, allegiance and a feeling of togetherness -- working for one cause with a common denominator, to attain the same goals, and will inspire people to get out to vote, to support their friends -- the visible candidates -- at the polls and in their efforts.

Please review the proposal. The estimated budget is a "ball park" figure calculated with the cost perhaps high and the income low. The original monies invested are expected to be repaid from the show's receipts. The full amount of the cost will not be needed to be extended. After production starts, the show will become self-sufficient.

Any directions and help you can offer for funding and sponsoring the "Thank God I Am An American" show and celebration will be most appreciated.

I will be delighted to meet with you at your earliest convenience. Time is of the essence.

Most Sincerely,

Rita H. LeFevre, Creator

P.S. - In 1966, my late husband, Ned LeFevre, a well-known Hollywood announcer and actor, got out of his death bed, drove himself to the polls to cast one vote -- for Ronald Reagan -- for Governor of California. President Reagan has kept that faith, as a great Governor and now as President.
