Dear Mike:

Thank you for your letter of July 2, supporting the proposal for the issuance of a stamp honoring Moses Ben Maimon on the 850th anniversary of his birth in 1985.

The Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee has the task of reviewing the thousands of stamp subject proposals we receive and making recommendations to me for final approval. Of course, only a few subjects can be selected because of the limited number of stamps issued annually.

The Committee previously considered the proposal to commemorate Moses Ben Maimon, but did not recommend issuance of such a stamp. However, in view of continued interest in this subject, and especially your personal interest, the proposal has been placed on the agenda for reconsideration at the next Committee meeting.

Sincerely,

Bill

DATE: July 13, 1984

Our Regional Campaign Director for Texas spoke with Pat Jacobson in two hour-long phone conversations following receipt of Bob Rowland's letter. Rick Shelby informed her that she was being appointed to the Reagan-Bush '84 National Advisory Committee and she was very happy about that. He further followed-up with her when she was in town in June for the National Advisory Committee meeting and she was fine.

We suggest that Cecil Haden be invited to a state dinner.

Ed,

One of our longtime Reaganites informed me that "Reagan Round-up Day in Massachusetts was a complete flop. No Reagan people were present. The few who attended were from the Richardson and Shamie campaigns. Less than three people wore Reagan buttons. Andy Card and others are so busy running Bush's 1988 campaign they have forgotten there is a President named Ronald Reagan. We won by 4,000 votes in '80; if something isn't done soon, you can forget Mass. in '84. It's a sad situation."

For what it is worth, Ed, I am hearing the same complaint from our people in other states.

RE: Proposed Presidential Trip to McGuire Air Force Base, New Jersey

General Mike Jackson has contacted me about a pending invitation to the President to dedicate the Major Thomas B. McGuire Memorial at McGuire AFB, New Jersey.

This would be an excellent forum for the President to present a major National Defense speech in the Tri-State area of Connecticut, New York, and New Jersey where defense related industry is particularly heavy.

Regarding the McGuire Memorial dedication:

- 1) A crowd of 200,000 to 300,000 people comprised of both military and civilian personnel could be raised in the region due to the accessibility of McGuire.
- 2) The National Defense/Leadership issue is a major plus with blue collar Catholic voters, essentially the swing votes in all three states.
- 3) Because the dedication is on a military base, security will be easier to handle. The turnout of military families for the event also satisfies a major target for our voter registration drive.

To William Stankov
with sincere best wishes.

U.S. DEFICITS CITED BY J. PETER GRACE AS BURDEN TO DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

BRUSSELS, June 29, 1984--The U.S. deficit is a serious world problem causing developing nations to pay three percentage points higher interest rates than they would otherwise have to pay, according to J. Peter Grace, former chairman of the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control and chief executive officer of W. R. Grace & Co. He outlined this difficult international economic situation as a reason why his cost control survey's recommendations must be implemented.

At a speech here today to the American Club of Brussels, he called the 3-1/2 billion people living in less developed countries "the real poor in the world." He noted that the U.S. has "an annual gross national product per capita of $14,130, while they are working with an average of $700, so we have 20 times what they have."

On the developing countries' total external debt of about $800 billion, Mr. Grace states, the additional interest caused by U.S. deficits "amounts to a special tax on them of $24 billion per year, and that's the total GNP of 34 million of the world's poorest people."

Mr. Grace cited Argentina, which must pay an additional $600 million over the next year on its $45 billion foreign debt because of rising U.S. interest rates.

Mr. Grace, however, rejected the idea of raising taxes as the solution to the deficit situation.

"This solution is no solution at all," Mr. Grace found. "You have to understand that 90 percent of all taxable income in our country is accounted for by income which flows through the $35,000 bracket and below. Only 10 percent is generated by brackets above $35,000.

"Therefore," he pointed out, "if a significant amount of money is to be raised by increasing taxes, it is the lower- and middle-income taxpayers--who are already overburdened--who will have to pay." Mr. Grace cited disparate increases in earners' taxes and incomes since 1948, saying, "The very people we have to look to for increased taxes have already seen their taxes go up 246 times while their income rose only 7.6 times."

Mr. Grace rejected this solution as inequitable to lower wage earners. "If we were to attempt to balance the budget by raising personal income taxes, the median family would pay 73 percent more than they do now."

For the critics that propose raising taxes on the rich to balance the budget, Mr. Grace said: "Even if you started at the fairly modest level of $35,000 and confiscated all the income not already taxed from that level and above, you would net only enough to keep the government running for 41 days."

Stating that "Congress serves, first, its own special interest groups," Mr. Grace called for Congress to address itself to the 2,478 cost-cutting recommendations outlined by the Grace Commission. "They will find that they can improve the government's financial situation in the next 16 years by a total of $10.5 trillion." He added: "That's a long-term solution, not just a quick fix."

As part of the survey Mr. Grace headed, Data Resources, Inc. examined all the government's formularized expenditures, projecting transfer payments of $1.3 trillion in 1995 and $2.44 trillion in the year 2000. "Therefore," Mr. Grace warned, "the annual deficit in the year 2000 will be $1.966 trillion; the Federal debt will be $13 trillion; and annual interest on debt will be $1-1/2 trillion." Mr. Grace told of his commission's savings amounting to $122 billion a year, and go or no go with them means $10.5 trillion through the year 2000.

Mr. Grace called for spending cuts to reduce Federal deficits. "All the waste and inefficiencies in the Federal government can be traced to system failures and restraints put on the management of the Executive Branch by the Congress."

Illustrating some Federal government failures relative to the private sector, Mr. Grace said:

- The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) makes only three attempts to collect delinquent loans versus 24 to 36 tries in the private sector and, therefore, a high delinquency rate prevails.
- The U.S. Forest Service gave away $235 million of firewood in 1981.
- The Federal grazing program collected $15 million in grazing fees while providing $41 million in services.
- A Veterans Administration (VA) hospital in the Bronx cost $191,300 per bed, about double the $97,400 per bed spent constructing the comparable Duke University hospital.
- Half the government's computers are so old that manufacturers no longer service them. Additional personnel expenses amount to $1 billion over three years.
- Private sector inventory replenishment techniques could save the government $4.5 billion over three years.
- It costs the Army $4.20 to process a payroll check vs. a $1.00 average in the private sector.

- The Federal government does not negotiate volume discounts on its enormous freight charges.
- The General Services Administration employs 17 times as many people and spends almost 14 times as much on building management as a comparable private sector firm.
- Pension benefits in the Civil Service Retirement System are three times those in the private sector.
- Average utilization of Federal vehicles (excluding the Postal Service) is 9,000 miles per year, which is 64 percent less than the 25,000 miles per year that private rental firms consider to be effective utilization. Failure to recondition vehicles prior to resale, as is common in the private sector, lowers the government's resale revenues by $15.8 million over three years.

Deputy Chief of Staff & Assistant to the President

28 June 84
Will

Dear Mr. Deaver,

Enclosed you will find a copy of your letter to Robert C. Cozens concerning your action to his request that the U.S. Postal Service issue a B-17 commemorative stamp in 1985 to mark the 50th anniversary of the B-17 Flying Fortress.

Mr. Cozens wrote to you upon a request from a fellow B-17 crewman by the name of Leonard Herman that lives in Jenkintown, Pa..

I have been one of the many proposers to the U.S. Postal Service for a B-17 stamp in 1985 to be first day issued in Seattle, Wash. during the B-17 50th anniversary celebration 26 - 28 July 85. For the past eight years we proposers for such a stamp have compiled many thousands of petitions and hundreds of endorsements from veteran and political areas.

My proposal is "B-17 Flying Fortress 50th Anniversary Stamp Block" and it has gained endorsement from Vice President Bush, U.S. Senators and Congressmen, National Air & Space Museum, U.S. Air Force Museum and I could go on and on.

The Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee is a hand appointed committee by the Postmaster General that is composed of persons outside of the Postal Service. They review the many stamp proposals and select the 20 or so commemorative stamps to be issued each year. The PMG has the final approval. The Citizens' Committee has been negative on veteran area stamp proposals. After much pressure thru veteran groups they got the Citizens' Committee to approve for issue a stamp to honor World War I and Korean War vets. There has never been a stamp to honor these vets.

For years WW II stamp suggestions have been sent to the Citizens' Committee which they keep diverting to a World War II 50th Anniversary Stamp Series 1991-1995. This series sounds nice but these WW II vets wish to see these stamps while their number is still large. They wish to see this WW II Stamp Series now, but the Citizens' Committee won't budge.

Well our B-17 stamp proposals keep landing in this WW II stamp series for consideration in 1995 not 1985.

We have invited President Reagan to this B-17 celebration in July 1985 to be on hand with our 20 some thousand B-17 veterans that will in attendance. Frederick J. Ryan, Jr. advised to resubmit our request eight weeks ahead.

I know this is not the place to put or ask the President to contact the Postmaster General on the issue of a B-17 stamp or my stamp block for 1985 but there is no other means. I say this because even with the Vice President's endorsement the Citizens' Committee won't switch from the WW II Series.

If you feel this is not a position for the President could you Michael contact the Postmaster General on this matter that concerns Robert Cozens and all of us B-17 vets. I know you forwarded Mr Cozens letter directly to the PMG but our feeling is this won't do the trick. A direct inquiry by you or the President we feel will be the only saving factor to gain a B-17 stamp in 1985.

So in behalf of Robert Cozens, the B-17 vets and myself thank you for time and consideration!

William J. Opferman Jr.
810 Atlantic Ave.
Trenton, N.J. 08629

William J. Opferman Jr.

William J. Opferman Jr.

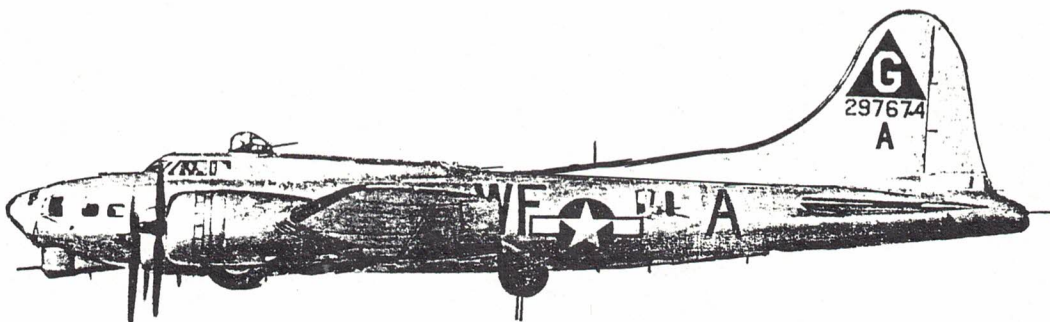

P.S.

The Citizens' Committee completes it's work on 1985 in the second week of July 84. So if you elect to contact the Postmaster General on this issue please do so before this second week in July 84. The Citizens' Committee then moves on to 1986 and 1987 stamp proposals.

If you wish, contact Senator Barry Goldwater he knows of our concern for this B-17 stamp. He has been backing my stamp block proposal because he flew the B-17 in WW II.

Last of all the B-17 is America's most famous aircraft in more then the sense of it's main role of a military bomber as Bob Cozens made light to you. This aircraft in the post war years has served as a means in geographical survey and mapping , and still today a few B-17s are in the U.S. Forest Service being used as water bombers to fight forest fires.

The issue of a commemorative stamp in honor of the B-17 in July 1985 will pay tribute to the B-17 military veteran , but to the American aviation industry which is still a world leader today as back in 1935 when the Flying Fortress first saw light!

Dear Bob:

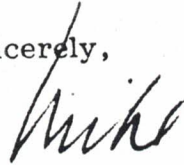

Thank you for your recent letter. It was good to hear from you and I appreciate your kind remarks.

In regard to your request for having a stamp issued commemorating the 50th anniversary of the B-17 Flying Fortress, I have taken the liberty of forwarding your request directly to the Postmaster General. I know that he will be glad to take a look at your suggestion and will let you know if there is a possibility of having the stamp issued by July, 1985.

Dear Mr. Opferman:

Very best wishes for the approval of the B-17 Flying Fortress' 50th anniversary commemorative stamp.

The 50th anniversary of the Boeing B-17 will be a cause for much celebration. The 8th, 12th and 15th Air Force reunions will be important to the 1985 Seattle festivities. As prime users of the B-17, these patriots will have many rich and meaningful stories to tell.

My warmest regards to all the veterans of this famous and beloved World War II aircraft -- a cherished and highly significant chapter in America's history.

God bless each of you. The veterans' generous contributions and sacrifices to this nation continue as an inspiration that commands our deepest respect and gratitude.

Our prayers are with you.

More Dangerous Than a Hardened Criminal?: The Gun Owners of America have found a new man they label as among the "most dangerous people in America ... more dangerous than drug addicts and hardened criminals."

That man is Michael Deaver, a top aide to President Reagan.

In a letter to gun owners, the club said it had wanted to give Reagan recognition "for his pro-gun stance" by presenting him with "a beautiful Colt Peacemaker ... and things were proceeding until Deaver learned of the presentation plans."

Deaver, the letter says, nixed the idea.

"Friends, President Reagan does not need people like Mike Deaver on his staff," says the letter, signed by Larry Pratt, executive director of the group. "I want to flood the White House with postcards over this outrage. Deaver must go!"

Ms. Schroeder predicted last week that women delegates are likely to hold a floor demonstration on behalf of a female vice presidential candidate _ unless Hart is chosen for the No. 2 spot on the ticket.

Dear Mr. Deaver:

I recall where you wished to transfer a substantial amount from the Defense Dept budget to famine relief in Africa. This is good and creditable of you, and I am in favor of relief to Africa, but this can not be enough, as Africa is under the Wrath of God since an African deity who makes dollars disappear was bugged onto the AT&T satellite system here in a '77 ritual. The wited doctor who did this then moved to a privileged apt in the Kuwait Staller. The general environment for dollar disappearance was set by a John Saturn working in the Convention Center and another man, tied with the DOT, of Arab or Armenian appearance with an encircled partner, working nights out of the County Bldg; and presently, buttressed by a fine radiography set by roving criminals. This Ibo(?) - Nuel involves all military, police, fire and traffic control communications here, and a system of vertical glass pipes moved along on horizontal radar rods, drawn recently into the city by Spanish CB.

Russian navy has been tied into Bebbob's traffic control signal system since the late 70's. I derived a print of one of their observers, here last fall, from a photo of the crippled Russian sub that surfaced off South Carolina then.

Prisoners coming from Cuba say all kinds of Caribbean black major was taken to Russian for study of military application.

I don't know whether this Spu-Nault is foreign domestic, but I do know there are criminals from all over the world in western and northern NY State working in privileged communication projects.

I believe in separation of church and state in compelling beliefs and attendance or non-attendance at particular churches, but the begging of our African dollar-stealing debt onto a US regulated satellite system and ground reception grid has destroyed Africa, the center of origin, and is bringing the death of God on involved North American civilizations.

Cast Iba off the satellite system, or the North American continent will heave up and burn.

The astrologically programmed, 3D autopsy environment for this satanic nuclear cult may extend well into Canada, and recent murders on the Q E highway may be tied to a time lapse after a barbecue restaurant arson, with a protest armed BP car with Q & X license positioning here.

The ground environment includes interrelated license and tel. no's, recharging the reception grid.

Get this African dirty off the satellite system, and clean out muledeys and police, fix and traffic communications here of criminal activity, or the North American continent will be destroyed as the continent of Africa is being destroyed.

Big small town publisher

Publisher-emeritus Newton Wallace of the Winters Express is a man who has ordered his paper to stick to local stories.

"I can't recall a single big story we've ever had," Mr. Wallace has said.

Under Mr. Wallace, however, the Express earned a worldwide reputation for covering news that folks at home care about.

Mr. Wallace and the Express were featured in a 1968 U.S. Information Agency movie that has been shown in 100 countries.

On Thursday, Mr. Wallace and his 100-year-old paper were honored by the City of Winters.

The party fell on Mr. Wallace's 65th birthday.

Although he has turned the publishership over to his son, Mr. Wallace has no intention of retiring from the paper he has been writing, printing and delivering since 1947.

"I put out the garbage cans every morning, sweep out the shop, tie up all the old newspapers for the paper drive and do other highly skilled executive work," Mr. Wallace said.

Mr. Wallace, of course, does much more than all those things. He remains a responsible voice for an American community.

Happy birthday, Mr. Wallace.

Dear Michael Deaver,

The Reagan Admin has its thumb in Jackson's Crusade foreign policy like a foot in circumference.

When will the Crusade circumvent the "complex" butchered democratic institutions of the founders' Republic, to negotiate a US-Soviet Non Aggression Treaty to complement the peaceful trading US-Soviet Grain Sales Agreement?

I note the INS needs more border patrol agents to repel the economic invasions from Mexico and Canada. I suggest the use of the "rapid deployment" troops the Arabs intimated couldn't defend their oil facilities against missiles; and the troops defending West Germany's end of the Soviet natural gas pipeline, against Warsaw Pact SS-20 missiles; and troops defending competing Japanese plants operated with Soviet oil, against Soviet sub based SS-19s - be used to help the INS repel the economic invasions.

Also, the savings for overseas basing costs, would add to the "down payment" on the deficits, which would improve our economic security; as our no war time, pen point destruct; may effective defense pasture, sea based Polaris, Poseidon, Trident and Cruise missiles; plus Euro based Pershing II's and Cruise missiles assure our physical security.

The missiles do not require nuclear warheads, since "smart bomb" ones, can pen point assassinate the military and political leaders of the Soviet Union; and the nuclear weapons impasse implies that potential military enemy "smart bomb" headed missiles can ^{pen point} assassinate U.S.
military and political leaders.

~~This~~ This is the no more WWII A Missile Age!

Damned concerned for our children and theirs - from Onuska Beach to the Elbe River - WWII Veterans.

The having of unneeded troops in Germany, on Okinawa and in Japan, desecrates the graves of those who died destroying the Third Reich and Pearl Harbor - Japan.

Did they die in vain?

Eisenhower warned, beware of the "complex"!
Heed the warning!
