Please be advised that those of us actively engaged in the manufacture of appael products feel that Mr. Donald L. Dotson, current Chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, is doing an excellent job.

MEMORANDUM FOR: JAMES K. COYNE
FROM: MICHAEL K. DEAVER Mike
SUBJECT: PERSONNEL

Your memo on replacing Holly Stewart has reached my desk just as I was reviewing the personnel needs of my entire organization.

With the campaign upon us, I have been inundated with requests from the First Lady's Office, Advance, and Scheduling to provide additional support to help with the increased workload they are experiencing. Unfortunately, we have a finite number of personnel slots, and the chances of increasing allocations are slim, at best.

While I will be unable to satisfy all of these requests, I must try to allocate our limited resources where they can do their best. By not filling Holly Stewart's position, her slot can be transferred to an area of more immediate need.

Jim, I know this will put a burden on you and your plans for the young astronauts program; but I am sure you will agree that meeting the needs of the coming months is our most important priority.

Thank you.

Dear John:

I, too, enjoyed seeing you the other night at the Wicks' home. I want you to know I have received your letter recommending Mrs. Joseph Gildenhorn for the position of Kennedy Center Trustee. I am taking the liberty of forwarding your correspondence along to John Herrington, Director of Presidential Personnel. I am sure you will be hearing from him soon.

Thank you again for writing, I sincerely appreciate your interest in bringing to our attention Mrs. Gildenhorn's qualifications for the position.

Dear Mike:

It was good seeing you again at the Wicks' home this past Thursday. I am writing this letter to urge you to support the candidacy of Mrs. Joseph Gildenhorn for Kennedy Center Trustee and I am enclosing a package of information about her.

Alma is a member of the Planning Committee for the Endowment of the National Cultural Center (Kennedy Center). She was co-chairman last year of the highly successful Placido Domingo Gala which benefited the Kennedy Center's project for the renovation of the Opera House. She will now be serving as co-chairman of the Washington Committee for the Kennedy Center's Capital Fund Campaign. It is my understanding that her personal contribution to this effort is $100,000.

Joe and Alma are good friends of the Administration and are outstanding Jewish community leaders. I would highly recommend that Alma be considered as a candidate for Kennedy Center Trustee. I believe that this appointment would have the endorsement of the Chairman, Mr. Roger Stevens. As an alternative, she would be effective on an appropriate high level Presidential Arts or Humanities Board.

Mike, I would very much like to visit with you to further discuss Mrs. Gildenhorn's qualifications and the importance of this appointment. Any help or suggestions that you might offer would be greatly appreciated.

Best regards,

John S. Erthein

Dear Mike:

"Nuclear Proliferation: Toward Global Restraint,"
a major new study produced by UNA-USA, is enclosed.

It takes a close look at a global problem of concern to all of us and makes a series of balanced recommendations for United States policy and for the international community.

The report has already prompted U.S. Senate hearings which are expected to lead to legislative initiatives. Vice President Bush and other top officials have met with UNA leaders to discuss the report, which has received worldwide press attention, including the enclosed article in The Washington Post.
The UN Secretary-General has welcomed the study
as an important and timely contribution.

The report represents a synthesis of studies conducted by 30 citizen panels from communities all over the United States. It therefore reflects the considered views of a cross section of informed American opinion.

This is the first in a series of studies to be produced by the Multilateral Project, a new UNA program focusing on global issues and the international institutions created to deal with them.

I hope you will find the report a useful reminder that there are multilateral options worthy of careful consideration by national policymakers seeking to cope with global problems. Thanks very much for your attention and all best wishes.

The Other Arms Race

PERHAPS TWO DOZEN countries have the resources—technical and economic—to build nuclear weapons. Some, such as Japan, are adamantly opposed to it for reasons embedded deeply in their politics. Others remain ambivalent. A few are actively trying to build weapons. Each government's decision depends on other governments' decisions. That has made nuclear proliferation, and the strategy for restraining it, an extraordinary challenge to international politics. Success depends on giving undecided countries good reasons not to pursue these weapons. It also depends on giving other countries good reasons for trusting the worldwide nonproliferation system.

This other arms race—mostly covert, mostly in the Third World—is no less a menace than the more visible competition between the United States and the Soviet Union. But it's harder to follow, and draws less attention. In an altogether useful contribution to the discussion, the United Nations Association of the United States has now published two brief and well-informed guides for citizens who think that they ought to know a little more about the subject. (You can write to the UNA at 300 E. 42nd St., New York 10017.)

Several of the UNA's suggestions can be illustrated by Israel's decision three years ago to bomb Iraq's Osirak reactor, fearing that it would be used to manufacture a bomb. It was purely a research machine, but it was to have highly enriched fuel with which it would have been capable of producing weapons. Question: Why run research reactors on highly enriched fuel? The United States could set a healthy precedent by converting the reactors on university campuses in this country to less-enriched fuel.

The Iraqi reactor was under inspection by the International Atomic Energy Agency. But countries can veto individual inspectors, and nearly all of the inspectors who visited Osirak were from the Soviet bloc. The Soviets have been strict on nonproliferation enforcement, but the Israelis didn't trust them. Question: How about a rule that inspectors from neutral countries, such as Finland or Austria, are not subject to veto? And a rule that these neutral inspectors can visit any safeguarded plant at any time?

The nonproliferation system rests on a bargain. The countries with much nuclear technology undertake to give the others assistance with peaceful nuclear power development in return for their pledges not to pursue the manufacture of weapons. That bargain has not always been adequately observed on either side. The Reagan administration has occasionally been guilty of inattention here, and inattention is perilous.

The United States cannot by itself enforce the rules on the world. But the quality of American leadership sets the degree to which other governments take the rules seriously.

About Kenneth 'Kim' Brimer

Education — Kim graduated from Stephen F. Austin State University in 1967 with a B.S. in Business Administration.

Professional Background — Kim now serves as President and principal owner of American Insurance Agency, Inc., a full line Independent Insurance Agency that he founded in 1976. Kim taught at Grand Prairie High. He served in the Air Force Reserve and Texas Air National Guard for six years as an Electronic Instrument Specialist. In the early 70's Kim worked in Sales and Marketing for Worldwide Metal and Flooring Manufacturers.

Professional Accomplishments — Kim has served as Vice President of the Independent Insurance Agents of Tarrant County, Director of the Texas Chapter of Certified Insurance Counselors, Regional Vice President of the Insurance Men's and Women's Political Action Committee of Texas, and Chairman of the St. Paul Insurance Company Communique Panel.

Community Service — Active in helping his community prosper, Kim is a Director of the Arlington West Rotary Club, Past President of Reveille Toastmaster Club of Fort Worth. Kim was Alumnus of the year for '82 - '83 of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity, Texas Eta Chapter. Kim is Director of InterFirst Bank S.W. Arlington, and is a Director for Texas Insurance Computers, Inc. in Houston. Kim actively participated in such youth activities as YMCA Baseball, Optimist Football and Baseball in a coaching capacity.

Religion — Kim has been involved in leadership at The United Methodist Church of the Covenant since 1978. He has served as a Certified Methodist Lay Speaker and also as Chairman of the Administrative Board.

Take a good look at the man who will serve ALL the people of the District ... that man is Kim Brimer.

Kim is intelligent, young and attractive, and able to articulate his opinions in public forums. The 96th Legislative District deserves a representative who is in touch with the wishes and needs of the people in his district. Kim Brimer will accurately reflect and represent the views and desires of the people of the district.

Here's what Kim has to say about important issues facing the district today.

1. Quality Education:

I believe it is essential that we put stronger emphasis on the Basics, Discipline, and Professionalism in education. It is time to reapportion the Education dollar to enable a greater concentration of time, effort, and money on teaching the basic academic subjects to all students.

2. Top Quality Highways:

I remember a time when my parents and I would vacation in Texas and travel on what was then a highway system that was the envy of the nation. Sad but true, this is not the case today. It's past time that we move toward a comprehensive plan to restore and upgrade our highway system.

3. Stronger laws to protect the victims:

It's time that we consider the victims of crime. The Scales of Justice regarding the "search and seizure law" have put the victims in jeopardy and allowed lawyers to get the criminal freed on technicalities.

4. Work towards better communications between communities and municipalities to control a coordinated effort for future anticipated growth.

Legislative District 96 will be the core of this dynamic expanding Metroplex Area. Its growth will require careful planning and coordination by all governmental agencies: this can be accomplished with sound conservative business sense and leadership.

5. Keep "The Right to Work Law":

I believe that a worker need not join a union to hold a job.

KIM BRIMER WILL BE A STRONG VOICE FOR CONSERVATIVE SOLUTIONS.
THE PEOPLE OF THE 96TH DISTRICT DESERVE MATURE REPRESENTATION.

June 20, 1984

The President of the United States
White House
Washington, D.C.

Dear President Reagan:

I am convinced that now is the time to take positive steps in determining the kind of representation we have at the State level.

The magnitude of the decisions made by our Legislators and the long term consequences of these decisions are awesome. It is imperative that we elect men who will carry forth the President's ideas and platforms at a state level.

We have a gentleman who is running for State Representative in the 96th Legislative District who will carry forth the President's philosophy. That man is Kenneth "Kim" Brimer.

Kim Brimer is an established business and community leader who understands the Free Enterprise System, and strongly feels that the philosophy of the President must be implemented at a state level.

Presently, Kim is serving as President and principal owner of American Insurance Agency, Inc. He has served as Vice President of the Independent Insurance Agents of Tarrant County, Director of the Texas Chapter of Certified Insurance Counselors, Regional Vice President of the Texas Insurance Men and Women's Political Action Committee, and is a member of the Presidential Task Force Committee.

Statistics from the State Republican Party show that this District will give a strong Republican candidate 56% of the vote in November 1984. With your help and support in the form of a letter of endorsement we can take this seat lost only two years earlier. The 96th District is historically conservative. We must give these people a clear choice of the conservative candidate and with your help we will be able to get that message to them.

Warmest Regards,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read "Pat Jacobson", is written over the typed name. The signature is stylized and includes a large circular flourish.

Pat Jacobson

Suggestive copy

On November 6, 1984, the people of the 96th State Legislative District have an opportunity to elect a strong, conservative leader to represent them in Austin.

I would like to bring to your attention one such individual, who I believe, merits your consideration and support....Kenneth "Kim" Brimer.

Kim is a strong conservative businessman who has the ability to get things done. Because of Kim's conservative philosophy, he will be an independent voice working towards an end to bureaucratic growth.

I hope I have succeeded in conveying my genuine enthusiasm for Kim, his campaign, and the opportunity they present for the people of Texas in his District.

I look forward to hearing that through your efforts, you have endorsed not only Kim's conservative philosophy, but further my effort to put more power in the hands of the Local and State governing bodies.

Sincerely,

President Ronald Reagan

FROM:

MICHAEL K. DEEVER M

SUBJECT:

Recognition of Defense Department Support for Private Sector Initiatives

Jim Coyne has brought to my attention the outstanding Defense Department support that Cap Weinberger has developed for our Private Sector Initiatives (PSI) program. Recently he wrote to Cap to highlight some of the most important contributions. A copy of his memorandum is attached.

By providing significant voluntary resources to help achieve domestic policy objectives, Cap has helped to increase public awareness of the indirect contributions that the defense program makes to social and economic needs. This has occurred at a time when public support for strengthening national security was critical.

I think it is appropriate for you to personally recognize DOD's achievements, and it would help to ensure even greater PSI support from the hundreds of defense installations around the Country. Therefore, I recommend that you approve the attached correspondence to Cap.

Mr. Michael Deaver
Deputy Chief of Staff and Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Mr. Deaver:

We are greatly concerned over the efforts of organized labor and other groups exerting pressure to force the resignation of Donald L. Dotson as Chairman of the National Labor Relations Board. We urge a halt to any drive to force Chairman Dotson to resign.

Chairman Dotson has shown himself to be a fine leader. We applaud his fresh, objective review of labor management relations. It is our view that his decisions help bring labor management relations more in tune with events of the 1980's.

Very truly yours,

PATHWAY BELLOWS, INC.
