Dear Mr. Dever and/or Mr. Baker:

LISTEN! I am a Reagan supporter, an Independent who would have voted for Hart but never even considered Mondale.

Cool it on the religion issue. Those ultraconservatives will do the Republican party in yet! An ad by a former Miss America which I saw in whole on CNN was a hatchet job unworthy of the President; and it can only hurt him. Nor was Miss Prewitt an effective speaker afterwards, not even knowing the difference between Bush's stand and Ferraro's. Another ultraconservative saying this ad was being shown because some people might be ignorant of the facts did Reagan no good either. Truly, we are more intelligent than most politicians give us credit for.

Last evenings news showing Mondale being heckled constantly did more to get him votes than anything he has probably done recently. Mondale was practically licking his lips. STOP IT! This is the best thing that has happened to Mondale in a long time.

The anti-abortionists better be careful also, or they will overplay their hand. You have to understand--many of us against abortion do not favor an amendment. Many of us say, for a "Quiet Moment" do not favor an amendment for prayer in public schools.

There is a long way to go in this too long election year! Don't get cocky. Reagan has peaked early. Get those ultraconservatives in line; or they will close the gap FOR Mondale yet!

Sincerely,

Mary Ann Bienas

Dear Mr. Sittman:

The City of Hope members express their deepest appreciation for your most gracious reply to my letter suggesting that a Medal of Freedom be considered for Major Glenn Miller posthumously.

It is a pleasure to report that the Miller Estate and the Miller children (who will be attending our event) have approved of the use of the Glenn Miller name for our chapter.

Through the good offices of the Department of the Army Los Angeles Branch Public Affairs, we have also located a fine 16 minute Army Signal Corps film of Glenn Miller and his Air Corps Band shortly after arriving in England in 44, which we intend to run during our Salute ceremonies. All in all, the Glenn Miller Benefit Ball bids fair to be one of Orange County's outstanding events this year. The Medal of Freedom would honor Glenn Miller far more than our modest efforts in this area.

Most gratefully,

Re: Glenn Miller City of Hope Chapter

Dear Mr. Altieri:

Reference is made to your letter of September 1, 1984, and our subsequent telephone conversation about the proposed Glenn Miller City of Hope Chapter.

Both of the Miller children, Jonnie D. Soper and Steven D. Miller, and Polly Davis Haynes, as Successor Executrix and Successor Trustee of Trust Under the Will of Helen D. Miller, have approved use of the name of Glenn Miller for the newly organized Glenn Miller City of Hope Chapter.

Please consider this letter a formal clearance for the use of the name for that chapter.

We would appreciate being kept advised of the activities of the Glenn Miller City of Hope Chapter so that we can pass this information on to the family members and to Polly Davis Haynes.

Sincerely,

Charles A. Collier, Jr.

Dear Mike:

The enclosed news release by Martin Evans is, as one might suspect, inaccurate. The statement I made regarding this Administration is as follows:

"With the desperate need for digestive disease centers, of which we have none, Mr. Meyerhoff and I decided that, as the Reagan Administration has suggested, private sector should take the lead. For that reason and the desperate need for centers such as this, as well as the hope that after the Center is established the Federal Government will respond to medical needs and help, as an example has been set..."

That is what I said. I did not chide our President.

As the article suggests, Bud is the Vice Chairman of the Hopkins. This Center came about at an opportune time since the Hopkins is embarking upon the largest campaign of its sort in the country. So that was the catalyst -- but the main purpose, of course, is a leadership gift to this campaign.

Michael, Michael, I feel badly being out of the country November 6th. Please notify someone in your realm of activity that they should let the lil' old lady in tennis shoes aboard "The Moose" get the good ness.

Fondly,

Dear Mike:

Enclosed is a copy of the letter from Paul Hegness and a color photograph of a bronze eagle outlined in the letter. In talking to Paul this morning, essentially they would like:

- a. If possible, to have a decision by next Tuesday prior to their benefit (outlined in paragraph two).
- b. They would like at some time to come to the White House to present this to the President. This certainly could be done after the election.
- c. They would present it to the President on behalf of his friends in Orange County.
- d. They would like to give this in such a way that it could be on display during part of the President's term and then be part of the permanent collection of the Reagan library.

If you could review this at your convenience and get back to me, I would be happy to work with you on any basis that you would like. Possibly you could express your intention or your willingness to accept this request as soon as possible, and in turn that would help them with their Benefit auction next Tuesday. I am told the cost of this has been appraised at $45,000.

Sincerely,

HAND-DELIVERED

Dear Joe:

Pursuant to our telephone conversation of yesterday, enclosed please find two photographs of "Spirit of America", the original bronze casting with marble base that I discussed with you on the telephone. The piece is a unique and impressive lifesize wildlife sculpture in bronze of an American Bald Eagle poised in the "yak" position with wings flared, all of which sits on top of a verde granite base. The entire piece, created by Harold Shelton, stands an impressive 6'2" and weighs approximately 1200 lbs. The limited edition of 76 issued bronzes are included in the collections of Gene Autry and Burt Reynolds, among others.

At a recent cocktail reception to unveil the tenth issue in the series of 76 for benefit sale in Orange County on September 25, proceeds of which go to Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Orange County, Don Koll, Bruce Nestande, Brad Gates (Orange County Sheriff) and I were discussing the imposing feeling created by the sculpture and unanimously came to the conclusion that one of these pieces really should find its way to the White House and ultimately to President Reagan's library.

After obtaining a commitment from the artist to sell us the 40th piece in the series (commemorating the 40th President), we decided that we would like very much to purchase this piece, and make a donation of the piece under whatever circumstances would seem most advisable so that ultimately the piece might rest in the White House during President Reagan's second term, and then ultimately in his Presidential Library. We would propose to put together a group of the President's Orange County friends who would jointly acquire the piece and make a gift of it in a presentation to the President in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Joe Canzeri
September 18, 1984

The purpose of our proposal is several fold. Foremost, all of us are friends and supporters of the President's and we believe that this particular piece of art is so unique that it is the kind of thing that we would simply like to do as a demonstration of our friendship and support. The peripheral benefits include, we hope, enhancing the value of a sister piece to the issue which will be auctioned September 25. Concurrently, we hope that the act of a presentation of this nature might tend to enhance the kind of demonstrative support for the President in this very import election year and have some positive impact upon our mutual efforts to re-elect the President.

While we recognize that this is extremely short notice, one of our motives, as I have previously pointed out, is to enhance the value of the sister piece at the auction next Tuesday evening, and accordingly, if there is anyway we could have some kind of a positive response prior to that auction, we would sincerely appreciate the same.

On behalf of all of us who are interested in this project, I extend our appreciation for your willingness to present our plan and concept.

Very truly yours,

Paul C. Hegness

Dear Mike:

I am enclosing a copy of some recent reports I received from our Television and Film Service describing the enthusiastic response that some of the latest USIA efforts have received overseas.

USIA attempts to acquire limited rights for commercial programs where the situation warrants. For instance, since drug abuse is a growing concern in Barbados, our PAO requested a film for Barbados Television. TV sent him a videotape program hosted by Nancy Reagan. The show got rave reviews from both the press and the public.

USIA provides technical and facilitative assistance to foreign television organizations operating in the US. I'm enclosing our "Key," which explains how this system works. Recently, our Television Co-production staff received kudos for a 45-minute documentary on the Olympic Arts Festival co-produced with Austrian Television.

Finally, our "TV Satellite File," a weekly videotaped compilation of brief news and feature stories, continues to receive high praise (and increased usage) from foreign broadcasters. Through this service we're able to bring positive, informative stories on American society directly to foreign audiences in more than 90 countries around the world.

These are just a few highlights from the work performed by our Television and Film Service. I am sure you will share my enthusiasm for the job our people are performing.

Your comments, as always, are welcome.

Best regards.

RAVES FOR BARBADOS TV SCREENING OF DRUG VCR

Both USIS Barbados and the Caribbean Broadcasting Corporation (CBC) were flooded with calls of praise following the showing of THE CHEMICAL PEOPLE: THE CHEMICAL SOCIETY, a VCR on drug problems. USIA-TV had arranged special one-time TV rights. The Post reports that "the response has been so overwhelming that the show is to be repeated at a later date." A columnist for the Sunday Star Newspaper wrote "Five stars and grateful congratulations to the United States Information Service (USIS) and CBC for bringing THE CHEMICAL PEOPLE here [which] is a much needed and excellently produced eye-opener that deserves to be repeated more than once." In response to growing concern in Barbados about growing drug use, the Post had ordered that VCR and another one, THE CHEMICAL PEOPLE: THE COMMUNITY ANSWERS, for which we are also seeking special TV rights at the Post's request in order to take advantage of the great interest generated by the showing of the first segment.

AUSTRIAN TV AIRS CULTURAL OLYMPICS CO-OP

Austrian TV's 45-minute documentary on the Olympic Arts Festival, made in cooperation with USIA TV, was aired in prime time for an estimated audience of 900,000. USIS Vienna reports that "reviews were very favorable." The Hoer Zu TV Guide commented that "this report offered just the right mixture of information and entertainment," while the conservative daily Neues Volksblatt said, "this cultural magazine from L.A. was by the way much better than the broadcasts which one can see right now on German language TV." The producers of the program praised the professional advice and assistance provided by USIA-TV staffer Rosemary Mitchell. She and USIA recieved a credit byline, the first time in the Post's co-op history with ORF that that had happened.

MORE PRAISE, PLACEMENTS FOR TV SATELLITE FILE

Positive assessments and placement reports on TV SATELLITE FILE keep coming in. Recent examples:

- A representative for UPITN in London has written that he finds SATFILE "invaluable" and "as a rule of thumb, I'd say I use around 50 percent of the feature-oriented material."
- Channel 4 in Manila is using SATFILE clips regularly on "Trends," a new daily program. The show uses SATFILE clips as a lead-in to the day's topic, which is then discussed by a local guest.

- Jordan TV (JTV) has been using a high percentage of segments regularly on prime time immediately following the major Arabic and English newscasts. JTV also put together a 30-minute "Olympic Preview" from SATFILE stories, and they are planning a special biweekly program called "Far From Politics," which will be made up exclusively of SATFILE material.
- Belgrade Television uses approximately 60 percent of the material received and retains the remainder in its archives for possible future use.
- The producer of a world news report on the Sydney-based network 0-28 writes that he regards SATFILE "as a valuable addition to the news department's sources."
- USIS Santo Domingo reports that both SATFILE and SCIENCE WORLD " have been very popular with media here. Continue the high quality. And keep them coming."

Dear Sir:

My son is a recent graduate of Georgetown University Law Center. For all of his life he has been an admirer of President Reagan and is currently working for his reelection.

My request may strike you as unusual, but I want to present him with a pair of White House cuff links. I realize that there is a limited supply available but I will pay any price to secure a pair for him. He has quite a collection of Ronald Reagan memorabilia and the cuff links would be the piece de resistance of his collection.

I am very much aware that you are in the midst of an election campaign; however, your attention to this request would be very much appreciated.

Cordially,

Dear Mr President,

I have enclosed a copy of an invite I sent to you last year to speak at Bishop McNamara High School in Forestville, Md Prince George County. In October we are planning several programs in the school on the upcoming national elections.

I would appreciate your consideration to come and address us next month and continue to help us endorse the programs that Nancy spoke about 2 years ago. Dear Mr President,

Over thirteen months ago Nancy came to our school to kick off a drive against drugs and drug abuse. The visit sparked within the school a renewed hope to get our students involved in the American system of government and to do our part in attacking this problem.

During the 1983-84 school year we inaugurated 'The Assembly Program' and in addition an internship program to get students involved in government and to attack the problem of drug abuse.

In reporting to you our success far beyond our hopes, I am asking you as President as Nancy did as First Lady to help our efforts by coming and addressing the students at our assembly program, the final one for the year in April or early May.

I know, Mr President, you are certainly busy and have a difficult schedule but as I outline our accomplishments I think you will see why you as President would enrich our efforts even more.

First, The SADD-group staged an assembly in November to get students to sign the the SADD contracts. A chapter was set up in our school and an overwhelming number of students signed the contract. Our keynote speaker was Robert G. Kramer, National President of the Federation of Parents for Drug Free Youth.

The other assemblies speak for itself in the enclosed portfolio of the programs we have set up since Nancys visit. However, the assembly on Teenage Depression and Suicide had a tremendous effect and impact on all of use

One of our students Russell Harris lost his brother last year when he was murdered over a parking space in Atlanta Georgia and his remaining close cousin was killed this year in the Beirut Bombing.

To additionally get the students involved in a participatory way in government, I have enclosed our program of internships and other programs in the portfolio. Since the inception of the various programs and the publicity they have engendered schools and other churches are getting behind us and it is spreading. Mr President, as a teacher I have seen first hand in coordinating these efforts the effects they have had on us as teachers and students.

I need your help, Mr President, and I ask you to give us a one-half hour of your time this spring to endorse our continued effort inaugurated by the First Lady.

In your state of the Union message you said "It is not Who is right, it is what is right"; it is these efforts that are right, and Mr President I need you to help.
