Dear Mr. Deaver, I'd like to thank you for assisting me in a difficult situation a few months ago. I quite literally could never have made it to Maryland if it were not for your help. I felt rather helpless and was very lucky to have a father with such a friend.

Since I've been here I have only been to Georgetown and a few small cities in the Fort's vicinity, but I know there is much to see. Maybe when buy a car I will get up to the capital and see some of the government buildings.

The job here should prove to be an interesting and challenging one. As of now I am doing secretarial-type work. But in approximately two months I start a chinese course which will last for six months. I want to learn as much as I can concerning chinese right now because when I get out, the economic opportunities for a chinese linguist will be numerous.

I hope your new job goes well and that it turns out to be a goos career move for you. Thanks again and hope to meet you sometime in the future.

Sincerely,

Sincerely,

FROM: Larry Speakes S

Regarding your note from Tom Brokaw on network interviews, my suggestion is that we do the four White House network correspondents later in the spring. We could tape it in an informal setting -- making it as "conversational" as possible -- similar to the independent radio interview. to TB.

It strikes me that this would give us the same exposure as an anchor interview, discharge our "obligation" to television, and give our own regulars an opportunity to participate.

Good idea

Dear Mike:

Recently, following the Inauguration as I was flying west on a business trip to Salt Lake City, I sat next to your friends John and Carolyn Reed of Sacramento. We enjoyed talking about the events of the Inauguration and particularly the unfortunate aspect of your serious illness and indisposition. They are very fond of you and your wife.

Judging from the press, you are now feeling much better. I hope this continues.

While I was home recently recovering from some routine surgery, I noticed the article in the Post, accompanied by your picture, reporting that the Inauguration was finishing in the black. I had just finished talking with Fred Hale about a number of our mutual concerns and he had given me a similar report.

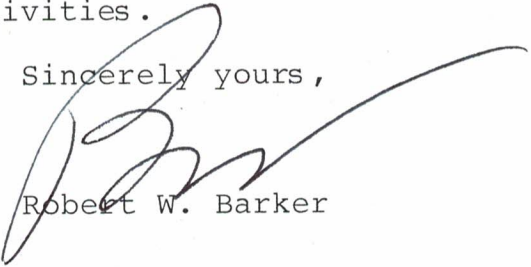

I wanted to drop this letter to you to express appreciation for the opportunity of working with you, Fred Fielding and the others in connection with the Inauguration. I feel that the procedure and organization we set up in the General Counsel's office not only helped expedite the work and protect you and the other leaders involved in management of the Inauguration, but resulted in saving considerable money.

I am sorry you and I did not have more opportunity to become better acquainted, but we were all under considerable pressure at the time and I know you had preoccupation with matters away from the Inaugural Committee, namely the White House, and I was also trying to keep my law firm running.

Hon. Michael K. Deaver

Dear Mr. Deaver,

As one of the ten outstanding young working women chosen by Glamour Magazine who had the unique honor of meeting President Reagan on January 15th, I would like to thank you and your staff for your efforts in making this meeting possible. It is truly an honor which I will always cherish.

I genuinely believe that it is efforts like these which will help show the administration's interest and appreciation of women's issues and concerns. I hope the opportunity of meeting and talking with President Reagan will be open to other women who work hard in an effort to serve and excel in whatever venture they undertake.

ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT

SUBJECT: Administration Activities - National Governor's
Association Meeting

The National Governor's Association (NGA) holds its annual Midwinter meeting in Washington, D.C., on February 24-26. Major themes for this year's meeting are the federal budget and tax simplification, however, I expect that agriculture issues will receive a heightened level of attention. Governor John Carlin (D-KS) serves as Chairman of NGA and Governor Lamar Alexander (R-TN) is Vice-Chairman.

Outlined below are the major events during the Conference.

White House "Shirtsleeves" Workshops

Saturday, February 23, 1985

10:00 a.m. - 1:45 p.m.

West Wing Offices

Press Recommendation: Closed

First initiated last year, Governors will participate in two sessions of small, principals only, discussion groups with senior Administration officials on the topics of: (A) Budget and Deficit Reduction with Dave Stockman, (B) International Trade with Secretary Baldrige, (C) Natural Resources with Secretary Hodel, (D) Arms Control & National Security Affairs with Bud McFarlane, (E) Farm Credit & '85 Agriculture Bill with Secretary Block and Jack Svahn. A lunch with Vice President Bush will follow the work sessions. List of attendees is attached.

Arms Control Briefing for Gubernatorial Spouses

Sunday, February 24, 1985

2:00 p.m.

Department of State

Press Recommendation: Closed

Ambassador Paul Nitze has agreed to address the spouses on the subject of arms control. The Ambassador's presentation should provide the proper balance in response to Dr. Carl Sagan's remarks, earlier that same day during the spouses business luncheon, on the topic of a nuclear freeze.

NGA Executive Committee Meeting

Sunday, February 24, 1985

12:00 noon - 4:00 p.m.

Hyatt Hotel

The NGA Executive Committee will meet and hear from Senator Dole and Congressman Gray.

White House State Dinner

Sunday, February 24, 1985

7:00 p.m.

The White House

Press Recommendation: Pool

The President and Mrs. Reagan are scheduled to host a State Dinner for the Governors as they traditionally have done. The President and NGA Chairman, Governor John Carlin (D-KS), will make toasts.

Governors Meeting with the President

Monday, February 25, 1985

10:30 a.m. - 11:45 a.m.

East Room, The White House

Press Recommendation: To be determined

The meeting, to be attended by all Governors, will be opened with a half hour presentation by Dave Stockman on the FY '86 Budget. The President will then make brief formal remarks and close with a question and answer period. Historically this session is viewed as an opportunity for a dialogue with the President.

Traditionally, the President calls on the Chairman of the NGA, Governor Carlin (D-KS) this year, and then the Vice Chairman, Governor Alexander (R-TN), and then takes questions from other Governors. (See attachment of possible issues that the Governors may raise to the President.)

* I would additionally recommend that Governor's Carlin (D) and Alexander (R), in their roles as Chairman and Vice Chairman respectively, be taken to the press room or to the microphones outside upon conclusion of the meeting.

NGA Committee Meetings

Monday, February 25, 1985

12:00 noon - 4:00 p.m.

Hyatt Hotel

NGA Committees will meet and hear from Secretaries Dole and Block.

NGA Plenary Session

Tuesday, February 26, 1985

Hyatt Hotel

The NGA Conference will conclude with voting on policy resolutions.

Dear Mr. Deaver:

In my study in our home in Palm Springs, California, I have a collection of several personally-autographed pictures of political friends dating to the Eisenhower years. They include President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon, Senator Hugh Scott, Senator Duff, Cabot Lodge, Herbert Brownell, Jim Haggerty, Bill Rogers, etc.

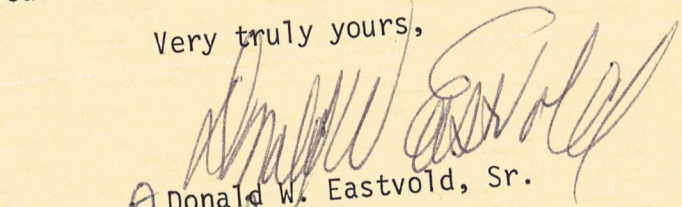

I was "The Young Man With a Book" who presented the Minority Report of the Credentials Committee to the National Convention in 1952 when I served as the Chairman of the Minority Committee on Credentials. I subsequently served as a State Senator and Attorney General of the State of Washington.

I have contributed financially in a rather substantial way to the Republican Party and its candidates in the past ten years. I have been semi-retired in Palm Springs during that period of time.

I would be very pleased to receive from you a personally-autographed picture to join the Republican leaders presently on display in my office.

Thank you in advance for your courtesy.

Very truly yours,

Donald W. Eastvold, Sr.
