MEMORANDUM FOR: MICHAEL K. DEAVER
FROM: FREDERICK J. RYAN, JR. FJR
SUBJECT: Presidential Involvement in Key Decisions

As you know, there have been press stories recently suggesting that the President is removed from the decision-making process in key substantive areas. They suggest that his staff makes the actual decisions and involve the President only when the plans are nearly finalized.

To prove that this is not true, we have reviewed the President's schedule and summarized the time that he has spent on the two major issues of the administration in the past few months: the budget and arms control.

Budget

Since November 1984, the President has been involved in twenty-three different meetings involving the 1986 budget. The total amount of time spent was 28 hours and 35 minutes.

Arms Control

Since November 1984, the President has been involved in twelve different meetings relating to the Geneva Arms talks for a total time of 8 hours and 55 minutes.

Of course, both the totals reflect only the time that he spent attending the actual meetings and do not account for the many hours he spent in preparation.

I hope this will be of assistance to you in dealing with the Press.
