Dear Mr. Baker:

I've been a long time admirer of yours. I have been waiting for your announcement to run for President of The United States. At that time I was going to offer you whatever assistance I could to get you elected. Now that you are the Chief of Staff, it doesn't look like that will happen. However, this weekend I read an article in our local newspaper that said you may be the Party's choice if the Party can't agree and come up with enough ballots to get one of the candidates nominated. I'll keep my fingers crossed that this will happen.

I think I know how important your current job is. I believe that you have your hands full trying to hold the current administration together. I have no doubts that you can handle this position. I believe that you deserve more.

I hope this country hasn't lost the opportunity to have you as President.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Baker,

The announcement of your being named Chief of Staff for President Reagan met me with ambivalent feelings. I was most pleased to know of your appointment, but distressed to hear that you would not seek the Republican nomination for President. I was so hoping that you would succeed Mr. Reagan as our next President.

I have followed your career closely and gained tremendous respect for you during the Watergate Hearings. Your leaving the Senate was also a disappointing event. I felt that the Senate lost a brilliant mind and an influential voice of moderation and compromise.

As a black American and Democrat, there are few Republicans to whom I would give this support. But I, along with many of my friends and associates would welcome you as a candidate.

I do hope your decision not to run is not final. I am hoping that the members of your Republican Party would recognize what a fine candidate and President you would make. America needs you.

You are doing a great job as Chief of Staff.

Sincerely

The President is tremendously fortunate to have you at his right side during these difficult days. Dear Howard:

It was with pleasure that Jean and I read of your appointment as Chief-of-Staff of The White House, which has received very good coverage in Brazil. We think prayerfully of you in this position of such importance and are sure you will fulfill the responsibilities in an excellent way.

After forty years with the Presbyterian Mission in Brazil, we retired but continue in the same work. We have no idea when we'll stop and have no desire to do so. Eventually our permanent retirement home will be Campinas, São Paulo, Brazil, where we purchased a house, and where we will be near three of our children and five grandchildren. We do expect to visit our two children and one grandchild in Florida each year, and to spend some time in the house we inherited from my parents in Crossnore, (western) North Carolina.

I hope that we shall have occasion to see you again, perhaps in Huntsville.

Jean and I send our greetings to Joy, and our prayers for her health.

I'm Thankful

If I should try to think
Of all the things I'm thankful for,
I would be thinking when I die;
For I am thankful that I think.

If I could think and count
The things of beauty that I see,—
The lacy sea, the gem-filled sky,
The homely things that most men miss:

Could I record the words
Of kindness spoken through the day
That I have heard from others' lips
Which swept dismay and grief aside—

As I recount the deeds
That have been done, when day is past,
Which, in my dreams, live on and on;
I'm thankful for them—everyone.

For if I try to think
Of all the things I'm thankful for,
I will be thinking when I die;
Because, I'm thankful that I think.

Dear Mrs. Baker,

I've long been an admirer and supporter of yours since the Watergate hearings in the seventies.

I was also an admirer of your father-in-law Everett Dickinson.

It is my sincere wish, as I am sure it is the wish of the majority of Americans, that you decide to run for president in 1988.

The people in America trust you implicitly and everyone I'm sure feels the same way as I do, that this country would be in good hands under your capable leadership.

Once again the time is at hand when this country needs to be united under the leadership of a president with strong policies regarding both the domestic situation regarding the farmers, and our relationships with our allies and adversaries abroad.

Towers

I sincerely believe you are the man America needs at the "helm."

I hope with all my heart that you are the man with his hand on the Bible taking the oath of office as President of the United States on January 20th, 1989.

America needs you Mr. Baker.

If there's anything I can do to help you in this endeavor, I would be honored to do so.

I'll be forty years of age on July 27th, and I've worked as a photographer, writer, and in public relations for the past twenty years.

Thank you for your time,
