A desperate situation confronted the President. He had to deal with extraordinary conditions and extraordinary action was

I sat in forty feet of him and heard his masterful

EXCERPTS FROM FORMER SENATOR HEFLIN'S SPEECH AT GUNTERSVILLE, ALABAMA,
Dec. 2nd, 1933.

SEN. HEFLIN said:

President Roosevelt has the ability, courage, disposition, and firm determination to do the things necessary to get us out of this horrible panic brought upon us by the money lords of Wall Street.

No other president was ever confronted with as many different kinds of money jugglers and financial highwaymen as those who stood with brazen front before Franklin D. Roosevelt when he took office as President of the United States. They were not in the least ashamed of what they had done. The fact that they had robbed a whole nation of people - many of them of the earnings of a life time - produced no sign of regret or repentance in their demeanor. On the contrary, they insolently boasted of their power, mocked the Courts of the country and defied the government itself.

A desperate situation confronted the President. He had to deal with extraordinary conditions and extraordinary action was necessary.

I sat in forty feet of him and heard his masterful inaugural address. He arraigned in strong language the panic producing culprits of his country, and in the presence of God and the citizens assembled at the Capitol registered a vow that he would drive the money-changers out of the Temple of Liberty and restore this government to the use and benefit of the American people.

True to his vow he forthwith commenced to beat back the marauding minions of Mammon and clear the way up which his people must go to the promised land of the New Deal and the New Day for the American masses.

Yonder on the mountain ranges, with head erect and light upon his face, he is moving onward and upward fulfilling his promise to the people and, like Aaron of old, stretching forth the healing Rod to give his people deliverance.

Financial "gangsters" and their hired "bushwhackers" have sought, and still seek, to prevent his successful journey. Lying in ambush, they have tried to hinder and halt him at every step of the way boasting that they would stop him and turn his efforts into failure. But not so. He has bruised and beaten them in every attack they have made. He has outfought and outgeneraled the money masters of America and is still the master of the situation, bravely buffeting the waves of opposition and rising superior to all opposing forces.

They have inspired and sent forth to attack him various kinds of "highwaymen" who felt assured that the kind of ferocious assaults they would make upon him would slow him up and would, certainly, in time, stop him, but he is still moving steadily onward and upward. So they who boasted they would stop him boasted in vain.

I am reminded of a story of a strong willed boy who was sent to a school of correction for the purpose of curing him of an objectionable habit he had acquired. One day a man in the community, visiting the school, met this boy at the entrance of the institution and requested to be shown through the buildings. The boy slapped him on the shoulder, took him by the arm, and escorted him through the school buildings. He favorably impressed the man with his interesting conversation and cordial treatment. Finally, when about to bid the boy good-bye, the visitor said: "Are you a professor in this school?" The boy replied: "No, I am an inmate, or student, here." The visitor inquired: "How on earth did it happen that a bright boy like you ever got into a place like this?" The boy answered: "When a small boy I acquired the habit of writing curse words with chalk on black boards, walls of schools, churches, and other buildings, and I am still doing it." Then the visitor, unaware of what had happened to him on the journey through the school, said: "I'll bet if I had charge of you I would stop you." And the boy replied: "Why, they've got a gang of fellows following me all the time trying to keep rubbed out all the cuss words I write, but I'm forty dozen "damns" ahead of them and I've written "hell" all over your back.

President Roosevelt is still far ahead of his, and his country's enemies and he is putting the stripes of defeat all over their backs.

The President has always been just a little too smart and a little too quick for those who have so persistently sought his undoing and downfall.

When foreign agents of International bankers had planned to make a run on the United States Treasury at Washington and demand payment in gold of hundreds of millions of dollars of gold certificates, the President acted in the nick of time to save the gold supply of the United States. He took the country off the gold standard in an hour. It was the sickest looking bunch you ever saw when they learned what the President had done. Some of them were too feeble to sit up and others were too weak to speak above a whisper.

I am reminded of the story told by Sam Jones, the great Southern evangelist, about a farmer who had a sick mule. The farmer asked a jug peddler what was good medicine for a sick mule. The jug peddler told him to get eight doses of powdered calomel- each dose representing a full dose for a man - and mix them all together in one big dose for his mule, and then to cut a big cane quill out of a fishing pole, get the pith all out of the cane quill and put the powdered calomel in it. The peddler then advised the farmer to catch the mule under the chin with one hand and hold his head up even with his face and then insert at the corner of the mule's mouth the cane quill with the calomel in it and "blow" the full dose down his throat.

PPF 1211
HEFLIN, J. THOMAS

The next day when the peddler passed that way again the man who owned the mule was pale and wan and the "emptiness of ages was in his face" as he leaned against a gate post and gazed wearily into space. The peddler said: "Bill, how is your mule?" Bill replied feebly: "The mule blowed first."

The money masters and panic producers of our country had prepared a terrible dose, not only for the President but for the people of the United States, but fortunately for him and for us, the President "blowed" first.

Dear Mr. President:

Your kind telegram was greatly appreciated, and it has been of comfort and help to me in the deep distress and sorrow that have come in the passing of my dear boy.

He was hurt in the chest in an automobile accident and would have recovered from that, but pneumonia developed and took him away. He was just 33 years old--had been practicing law about a year and had been married a little over two months when this sad dispensation of God's providence came and took him into that higher life that awaits us all. The future seemed so bright for him. He was growing in knowledge and in usefulness in every ennobling way, and I was happily looking forward to what I felt would be for him a bright and successful future.

I cannot understand this sad dispensation of God's providence, but I am doing my best to accept it as I believe God would have me accept it, and He is helping me to do that, but I shall never cease to miss his helpful, comforting comradeship and unfailing love. There is sweet comfort and consolation in the thought that up yonder "Where those angel faces smile", I shall see again the dear boy that "I have loved long since but lost awhile".

With my very best wishes for you and yours, I am

Sincerely your friend,

March 6, 1937

Mr. Marvin H. McIntyre
Assistant Secretary to the President
The White House

Dear Mac:

The matter of an appointment for Tom Heflin in the new farm tenancy program is exceedingly difficult. I think you would feel as I do that a man of that type with all his personality would not really be a good organization man; he can't be charged with administrative responsibility, couldn't fit into a working organization. Rather, he would have to be a free agent to come and go pretty much at will, to make speeches in certain circumstances. An appointment of that kind is an appointment of a person wholly additional to the organization, an appointment representing an expenditure and an activity that would not be undertaken if it were not for the representations that lead to consideration of the matter.

The personnel having to do with the tenancy program already is pretty much engaged in the Resettlement staff. The organization is completely classified so that all persons appointed have to fit into the regular hierarchy which is based on the principle of administrative responsibility. This would make it difficult to get a place classified for Senator Heflin that would be in line with his salary expectations.

I hope you will discuss these difficulties with the President and get from him a pretty definite statement of what his wishes are. I'll be glad to do what he thinks desirable, of course, but I do think that any determination should be made with the fact in mind that it would be an unusual and somewhat difficult kind of arrangement.

Sincerely yours,

J. A. Waller

Dear Mr. President:

I know I share the views of many of my colleagues who served with former Senator Heflin when I express the hope that it may be possible for you to find, in the Governmental set-up, some place to which Tom might be appointed. He was given an appointment in the Department of Justice as Special Attorney which tied him over for a while. Later his services were utilized to some extent by Stewart McDonald in the Federal Housing Administration. At this time he is un-employed.

In talking with him the other day, he expressed the hope of getting on the Un-employment Compensation Commission but in the event that was not available, some other place that would pay a reasonable compensation. If there is anything available in the Agriculture Department in connection with the Farm Tenancy Program, it would seem to me that he would be admirably equipped for that.

I am writing you this letter to express my personal interest in Tom, and the hope that something can be worked out for him.

Very sincerely yours,

My dear Senator:

Your letter of June 19th has caused me considerable concern and I am sorry to learn of your financial straits, but am glad that you wrote me so frankly.

Just at the moment I do not know how to place you, but I will try to find something in the near future.

I want you to know, of course, how I appreciate your loyal support of the administration's program, and it may interest you to know that quite a few gentlemen from the Hill have spoken very highly about you and have asked that consideration be given you.

With all best wishes,

Very sincerely yours,

ORIGINAL RETIRED FOR PRESERVATION

UNITED STATES SENATE
WASHINGTON

June 19, 1934.

The President,
The White House.

My dear Mr. President:

In the spring of 1932 I helped to elect the Roosevelt delegation in Alabama and I supported you in the general election. I have supported your great administration from the beginning, to the very best of my ability.

In my recent race for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the new 5th District of Alabama I defended and praised your wonderful work. For months before the primary I was urged by Democrats in every county in the District to become a candidate for Congress. They said "we need you up there to help the President". I had not intended to run for Congress at that time but yielded to the suggestions of friends all over the District and announced my candidacy.

While I was in Congress, House and Senate, I helped financially a lot of poor people in my State, and some who were relatives of mine. When I went out of Congress I had not very much money. So, when I entered this recent race for Congress I borrowed the money to make the race on. I mortgaged my home for $3000 - mortgage due in September this year. The Congressional situation looked so promising and success seemed so certain I felt justified in borrowing the money as I did and taking the risk. Everywhere I spoke I had two or three times as many people as heard my opponents. I called on the audiences to stand if they intended to vote for me, and always more than four-fifths of the people would stand, pledging their support to me. When the sum total of the ballots cast in six counties out of the eight, I had more votes than either of my opponents. But in another county where I had more than 2000 votes pledged to me the election managers gave me only 464 votes. If I had received the vote cast for me there I would have led in the run-off in second primary and would, I believe, have been nominated on the 12th of June. My friends claim that Allgood got a good many votes by telling the people that you told him that you wanted him reelected. He also used a letter that you wrote him on April 20 about Muscle Shoals in which you used the expression that you hoped to have his continued cooperation in the development of Muscle Shoals. Of course your letter had no reference to the congressional primary election in the 5th District of Alabama, but it was used for the purpose of making the voters believe that you wanted Allgood reelected. The letter was published in all the papers in the District the last week before the election and Allgood's friends laid stress on that part of it where you said you hoped to have his "continued" cooperation, etc. They claimed that that expressed your desire for his reelection. I denied that it did, but the truth is a good many people believed it and it cost me a good many votes.

My only son who is a lawyer practicing law in my home town got married about two months ago. My election to Congress seemed so certain and feeling that I could then help him along I gave my consent for him to get married, and he did so. Now, I find myself embarrassed financially because of the strange turn the counting of ballots took in sixteen precincts in one county of the 5th Congressional District. I was shut out of the second primary by that count by 500 votes.

While conditions are improving there is not much yet in the law practice in small towns like mine, LaFayette, Alabama. I am anxious to get a government position right away, one that will pay a reasonably good salary so that I can get along, help my boy, and pay off the mortgage on my home. There are several positions that you will have to fill at an early date, and I will greatly appreciate it if you will appoint me to one of them. Vice President Garner will endorse me if you will ask for his position in the matter. Senator Pittman of Nevada, Senator McKellar, Senator Shappard, Senator Connally will all help me.

General Edwin M. Watson
The White House
Washington, D. C.

My dear "Pa" Watson:

I am enclosing a letter just received from former Senator Heflin, a constituent of mine. Lister, Henry Steagall and I conferred about this matter at lunch yesterday and agreed we would join in asking that whatever action necessary be taken in order to keep the Senator on his job. We decided the best thing and the only thing we could do was to bring the matter to your attention so that you would have it before you at any time.

When, and if, you have the inclination to do some real fishing in the most beautiful body of water in the world come to Guntersville and fish with me in the Guntersville Lake. There are no mud cats in these waters. A reel and rod with a "Mae West" on the end of it, or a fly rod with a beautiful butterfly with have to be used in order to lure or attract our fish. They disdain worms and creek-bank fishermen.

With kindest personal regards and every good wish,
I am

Sincerely your friend,

Dear Joe;

I understand that under the new order of things, that I being over 70 years of age am barred from getting a civil service status that will continue me in the Federal Housing Administration Service. and the only way that I can be continued in my present position is by an Executive Order. So I will thank you very much to use your good offices in my behalf with the President.

Your kindness in this matter of so much importance to me will be greatly appreciated. I have written, Lister Hill, John Bankhead and Henry Steagall. and I am counting on you boys ^{get} the ~~fact~~ Order. With best wishes, I am sincerely your friend, J. Thos. Heflin.

General E. M. Watson,
The White House,
Washington, D. C.

My dear General:

Former Senator J. Thomas Heflin, of LaFayette, Alabama, has written me that due to his age he is fearful that he will not be continued in the service of the Federal Housing Administration. He is now over seventy years of age.

Senator Heflin has asked that I contact the White House with the request that an Executive Order be issued to retain his services with the Federal Housing Administration.

As you know, Senator Heflin served as a Member of both Houses of Congress for many years. Any consideration the White House may give to this request for an Executive Order will be appreciated.

Please reply to my letter so that I may transmit the answer to Senator Heflin.

With every good wish, I am

Very sincerely,

Lister Hill

Sent a copy of his statement in favor of government control of cotton acreage and in which he urges cotton farmers not to vote against government control of cotton acreage for 1939. He said in his statement that the law does work a hardship on some small cotton farmers and it should be and he thinks will be amended so as to make it fair to all. Said also that the government should notify the farmers by the 1st of Jan. just what the plan for 1939 will be.
