Memo. for Bill Hassett: or
Mr. Forster.

Please transmit following to Mr Messersmith: " Advise the Duchess of Atholl that the President regrets exceedingly that she is compelled to sail on Saturday or return to England before he can return to Washington; that the President had looked forward to seeing Her Grace in Washington early next week but that his enggements here for the remainder of his stay are such that he cannot possibly accommodate a single additional request for appointments at Hyde Park".

Also please tell Mrs. Scheider of the contents of this message so that she may, in turn, advise Mrs. Roosevelt.

Memo. for Mr. Hasset:

Bill: We understand that the Duchess of Atholl is in Washington; that she asked Ronald Lindsay to arrange an appointment for her to meet the President; that he refused and forbade her to seek an appointment saying that United States officials could learn all they wanted of English opinion through official Embassy channels. Messersmith, of the State Department, is supposed to know about this. Tell Messersmith confidentially that the President would like to know if this report is true and on what grounds -- whether she is liberal or conservative, socialist or whatnot. For your information, I think the President is likely to see her despite the Ambassador. Should this happen, what would the consequences be? Please get the low down from Messersmith and let me have it. If Messersmith can't give you the information the President wants, tell him to make inquiries and get it for us.

CLIFFORD, Sir Bede Edmund Hugh, K.C.M.G., C.M.G., Governor of the Bahamas
March 16, 1937

The President wrote and thanked him personally and in the name of the American people for his letter of February 25, re recent floods in this country. States that through the Secretary of State, the President has received from the British Ambassador in Washington a similar message on Sir Bede's behalf, and he says these expressions of sympathy are deeply appreciated. Says he has learned through the Secretary of State that the check for five hundred pounds, tendered by the Colony for flood relief, was not delivered by Sir. Ronald, since he is familiar with American Red Cross practice to decline to accept gifts from Governments of other countries, but that we are none the less grateful for this splendid act of friendship on the part of the Government and the people of the Bahamas. -- This reply was drafted in compliance with Miss LeHand's memo of March 5, by the Acting Chief of Protocol, Department of State, March 13. -- Sir Bede's letter of Feb. 25 and copy of Sir Ronald Lindsay's letter of March 5, are attached.
