PROCESSIONAL HYMN

O God, Our Help in Ages Past      Sung by all
Composition attr. William Croft

O God, our help in ages past, our hope for years to come,
our shelter from the stormy blast, and our eternal home:

Under the shadow of Thy throne Thy saints have dwelt secure;
sufficient is Thine arm alone, and our defense is sure.

Before the hills in order stood, or earth received her frame, from everlasting Thou art God, to endless years the same.

A thousand ages in Thy sight are like an evening gone;
short as the watch that ends the night before the rising sun.

Time, like an ever-rolling stream, bears all our years away;
they fly, forgotten, as a dream dies at the opening day.

O God, our help in ages past, our hope for years to come,
be Thou our guide while life shall last, and our eternal home.

PRAYER

Read by Dr. Muzammil H. Siddiqi
Imam, Islamic Society of North America

Lord, You said and Your words are true: If any do seek for glory and power, to God belong all glory and power. To Him mount up all words of purity. He exalts all righteous deeds. But those that lay the plots of evil, for them is a terrible penalty; and the plotting of such will be not abide. (Holy Qu'ran 35:10) Goodness and evil are not equal. Repel the evil with the good. Then will He between whom and you was hatred become as it were Your friend and intimate. But no one will be granted such goodness except those who exercise patience and restraint, none but persons of the greatest good fortune. (Holy Qu'ran 41:34-35) We turn to You, our Lord, at this time of pain and grief in our nation. We see the evil of destruction and the suffering of the many of our people before our eyes. With broken and humble hearts and with tears in our eyes, we turn to You, our Lord, to give us comfort. Help us in our distress, keep us together as people of diverse faiths, colors and races, keep our country strong for the sake of good and righteousness, and protect us from all evil.

SCRIPTURE READING

Lamentations 3:22-26, 31-33
Read by Rabbi Joshua O. Haberman
Rabbi Emeritus of Washington Hebrew Congregation

The steadfast love of the Lord never ceases, His mercies never come to an end; they are new every morning; great is Thy faithfulness. "The Lord is my portion," says my soul, "therefore I will hope in Him." The Lord is good to those who wait for Him, to the soul that seeks Him. It is good that one should wait quietly for the salvation of the Lord.

For the Lord will not cast off forever, but though He cause grief, He will have compassion according to the abundance of His steadfast love; for He does not willingly afflict or grieve anyone.

SCRIPTURE READING

2 Corinthians 4:16-5:9

Read by The Reverend Kirbyjon Caldwell

Pastor, Windsor Village United Methodist Church, Houston

So we do not lose heart. Even though our outer nature is wasting away, our inner nature is being renewed day by day. For this slight momentary affliction is preparing us for an eternal weight of glory beyond all measure, because we look not at what can be seen but at what cannot be seen; for what can be seen is temporary, but what cannot be seen is eternal.

For we know that if the earthly tent we live in is destroyed, we have a building from God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. For in this tent we groan, longing to be clothed with our heavenly dwelling—if indeed, when we have taken it off we will not be found naked. For while we are still in this tent, we groan under our burden, because we wish not to be unclothed but to be further clothed, so that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life. He who has prepared us for this very thing is God, who has given us the Spirit as a guarantee. So we are always confident; even though we know that while we are at home in the body we are away from the Lord—for we walk by faith, not by sight. Yes, we do have confidence, and we would rather be away from the body and at home with the Lord. So whether we are at home or away, we make it our aim to please Him.

HYMN

A Mighty Fortress is Our God

Sung by all

Composed by Martin Luther

A mighty fortress is our God, a bulwark never failing;
Our helper He, amid the flood of mortal ills prevailing;
For still our ancient foe doth seek to work us woe;
His craft and power are great; and, armed with cruel hate,
On earth is not His equal.

And though this world, with devils filled, should threaten to undo us;
We will not fear, for God hath willed His truth to triumph through us;
The prince of darkness grim, we tremble not for him; his rage we can endure,
For lo! his doom is sure, one little word shall fell him.

That word above all earthly powers, no thanks to them, abideth;
The Spirit and the gifts are ours through Him who with us sideth:
Let goods and kindred go, this mortal life also; the body they may kill:
God's truth abideth still, His kingdom is forever.

GOSPEL READING

Matthew 5:2-12a

Read by His Eminence, Theodore Cardinal McCarrick

Archbishop of Washington

Then He began to speak, and taught them, saying: "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. "Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted. "Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the earth. "Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be filled. "Blessed are the merciful, for they will receive mercy. "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God. "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God. "Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. "Blessed are you when people revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on My account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven."

PRAYER FOR LEADERSHIP

Prayer and Psalm 27: 1-3, 13 & 14

Read by The Reverend Kirbyjon Caldwell

The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the stronghold of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? When evildoers assail me to devour my flesh—my adversaries and foes—they shall stumble and fall. Though an army encamp against me, my heart shall not fear; though war rise up against me, yet I will be confident.

I believe that I shall see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living. Wait for the Lord; be strong, and let your heart take courage; wait for the Lord!

CLOSING HYMN

Battle Hymn of the Republic

Sung by all

Composed by William Steffe

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord;
He is trampling out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored;
He has loosed the fateful lightning of His terrible swift sword;
His truth is marching on.

Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
His truth is marching on.

I have seen Him in the watch-fires of a hundred circling camps;
They have builded Him an altar in the evening dews and damps;
I can read His righteous sentence by the dim and flaring lamps;
His day is marching on.

Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
His truth is marching on.

I have read a fiery gospel writ in burnish'd rows of steel;
"As ye deal with My contemnners, so with you My grace shall deal;"
Let the Hero, born of woman, crush the serpent with His heel;
Since God is marching on.

Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
His truth is marching on.

He has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat;
He is sifting out the hearts of men before His judgment-seat;
Oh, be swift, my soul, to answer Him! be jubilant, my feet!
Our God is marching on.

Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
His truth is marching on.

In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in His bosom that transfigures you and me:
As He died to make men holy, let us die to make men free,
While God is marching on.

Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
Glory! Glory! Hallelujah!
His truth is marching on.

PRAYER OF REMEMBRANCE

O God Our Creator:

In this time of unspeakable tragedy, we ask for Your comfort and healing upon our Nation—and in particular for those whose friends and loved ones perished in last Tuesday's evil attacks. They carry with them unspeakable pain and grief. Bestow on each of them Your tender mercies. Comfort those who mourn. Bind up the brokenhearted. And help those who now sow in tears to one day reap with songs of joy.

We give thanks for the courage and compassion of those who have come to the aid of their fellow citizens, including men and women who were willing to risk death so that others may live. Amidst death and devastation, we have witnessed incredible acts of self-sacrifice and valor.

We pray for our Nation and its leaders. Grant them wisdom and resolve, patience and strength, and a deep commitment to justice and righteousness, as they confront wickedness in our midst.

And remind each of us, O God, that You will bring to judgment both the righteous and the wicked. That all wrongs will be righted. That all suffering will be redeemed.

You have promised us that weeping may remain for a night, but rejoicing comes in the morning. Our hearts long for the dawning of that morning. And even as we seek to do good in this world, help us look beyond this hour to a time when You will wipe away every tear, and when death itself will be swallowed up in victory.

Amen.

THE PRESIDENT

National Cathedral Prayer Service
September 14, 2001
Draft #6

We are here in the middle hour of our grief. So many have suffered so great a loss, and today we express the Nation's sorrow. We come before God to pray for the missing and the dead, and for those who love them.

On Tuesday, our country was attacked with deliberate and massive cruelty. We have seen the images of fire and ashes and bent steel. Now come the names – the list of casualties we are only beginning to read.

They are the names of men and women who began their day at a desk or at an airport, busy with life.

They are the names of people who faced death, and in their last moments called home to say, “Be brave,” and “I love you.”

They are the names of passengers who defied their murderers, and prevented the murder of others on the ground.

They are the names of men and women who wore the uniform of the United States, and died at their posts.

They are the names of rescuers – the ones whom death found running up the stairs and into the fires to help others.

We will all read these names. We will linger over them, and learn their stories.
And many Americans will weep. To the children, and parents, and spouses, and families, and friends of the lost, we offer
the deepest sympathy of the Nation.
And I assure you: You are not alone.

Just three days removed from these events, Americans do not yet have the distance of history. But our responsibility to history is already clear: to answer these attacks, and rid the world of this evil. War has been waged against us by stealth and deceit and murder. This Nation is peaceful, but fierce when stirred to anger.

This conflict was begun on the timing and terms of others; it will end in a way and at an hour of our choosing.

Our purpose as a nation is firm. Yet our wounds as a people are recent and unhealed, and lead us to prayer. In many of our prayers this week there is a searching, and an honesty.

At Saint Patrick's Cathedral in New York on Tuesday, a woman said, "I've prayed to God to give us a sign that He's still here." Others have prayed for the same, searching hospital to hospital, carrying pictures of those still missing.

God's signs are not always the ones we look for. We learn in tragedy that His purposes are not always our own.

Yet the prayers of private suffering – whether in our homes or in this great cathedral – are known and heard and understood. There are prayers that help us last through the day, or endure the night. There are prayers of friends and strangers that give us strength for the journey. And there are prayers that yield our will to a Will greater than our own.

This world He created is of moral design. Grief and tragedy and hatred are only for a time. Goodness, remembrance, and love have no end. And the Lord of Life holds all who die and all who mourn.

It is said that adversity introduces us to ourselves. This is true of a nation as well. In this trial we have been reminded, and the world has seen, that our fellow Americans are generous and kind, resourceful and brave.

We see our national character in rescuers working past exhaustion ... in long lines of blood donors ... in the thousands of citizens who have asked to work and serve in any way possible.
And we have seen our national character in eloquent acts of sacrifice.

Inside the World Trade Center, one man, who could have saved himself, stayed until the end at the side of his quadriplegic friend. A beloved priest died giving the last rites to a firefighter. Two office workers, finding a disabled stranger, carried her down 68 floors to safety. A group of men drove through the night from Dallas to Washington to bring skin grafts for burn victims.

In these acts and many others, Americans showed a deep commitment to one another, and an abiding love for our country. Today we feel what Franklin Roosevelt called the “warm courage of national unity.” This is a unity of every faith, and every background. It has joined together political parties and both houses of Congress.

It is evident in services of prayer, and candlelight vigils, and American flags displayed in pride and defiance. Our unity is a kinship of grief, and a steadfast resolve to prevail against our enemies. And this unity against terror is now extending across the world.

America is a nation full of good fortune, with so much to be grateful for, but not spared from suffering. In every generation, the world has produced enemies of human freedom. They have attacked America, because we are freedom's home and defender – and this commitment of our fathers is now the calling of our time.

On this National Day of Prayer and Remembrance, we ask Almighty God to watch over our Nation, and grant us patience and resolve in all that is to come. We pray that He will comfort and console those who now walk in sorrow. We thank Him for each life we now must mourn, and for the promise of a life to come.

As we have been assured: “[N]either death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth” can separate us from God’s love.

May He bless the souls of the departed. May He comfort our own. And may He always guide our country.
