No. 464, February 14th, 1943.

Statement this substitute for Legation cable 1016 which cannot be sent.

Paragraph A. Switzerland will face grave crisis if Italy invaded, perhaps not as long as line of Po is held but when German Army forced back to Alps. If Germany not convinced then that Switzerland will remain entirely neutral she will invade. Swiss must not be taken by surprise.

Paragraph B. Full strength Swiss Army needed in National Redoubt. With it active defense can be carried out. Fact that there is no certainty that entire Army can be concentrated within National Redoubt in time is causing great apprehension (strength of about 450,000) mentioned.

Paragraph C. Two Thirds can be mobilized quickly but in order to mobilize other third it will be necessary for Federal Council to issue another general mobilization order. At two thirds strength a successful passive defense can be carried out.

Paragraph D. Necessity for prompt action when time comes pointed out frequently to Federal Council but delay feared. There is always apprehension that a general mobilization order will be considered by Germany provocative act Federal Council apt to delay action too long effort being made find new way circumvent this.

Paragraph E. Is Switzerland's position really understood in Washington? Switzerland dependent upon Germany for coal and other essential raw material in order to keep factories operating. If coal supply is cut off or materially reduced faculties must close. Unemployment then disorder will ensue. This will be Germany justification interfere with Swiss internal affairs which of course Switzerland will not permit and invasion will follow. America's help and materials not moral support needed.

Paragraph F. There is no immediate danger invasion because Germany has not the troops available for attacking Switzerland at present she has recently withdrawn all available troops from France Belgium Holland and rushed them east.

No. 450 January 29, 1943

Following 600:303 has been aware some for Special General Staff studying new plan invasion of Switzerland under direction Diete recently in Munich latter reports have stated event invasion of Italy by Allies Germany could not have large part mountainous frontier held by a nation which was only advance guard of Allies.

Plans based on surprise air invasion before Swiss could concentrate in National Redoubt parachute and air landings troops neutralizes troops concentration, Deny roads and destroys critical points. Motorized and mechanized ground invading forces in order to retain surprise makes last march considerable distance from frontier.

1:25000 scale map of Redoubt prepared by Germans have been obtained by 303 agent.

Situation German Army precludes this as present danger but Swiss alert to possibility.

From: X9

The Germans have been fortifying Belle Isle-in-Mer since the commando raid at St. Nazaire. Three thousand workers, according to eye witness reports, have passed through Quiberon enroute to Belle Isle. Supplies are sent from Lorient it is believed.

(off St Nazaire)

From C14.

War material is being shipped to Thailand for Japan from Germany and from Switzerland. Ships departing from Spanish ports reportedly of Spanish registry are routed by way of Cape Horn. It is believed that refueling takes place at Portuguese Guinea, Rio de Janeiro and some point in the Pacific not known to this source. Several vessels have to date transported 35,000 tons and have brought back rubber and rice.

From: XIA.

With regard to Italian air fields.

At Trieste three seaplanes.

At Gorizia from 10 to 15 bombers and between 50 and 60 fighters--also a great deal of training.

Air field at Cervignano located 200 yards northwest of railway station. There are two large hangars at this field and 25 fighters and 6 bombers.

At Bolzano--since May second a number of JU52.

There is an emergency landing field in the Vipava Valley east of Gorizia--small hangar located here.

It is understood from a reliable source that an order for 80 ships of the corvette type has been placed by the Italian Admiralty. Following firms have been awarded 650 tons: Piaggio, Ansaldo, and shipyards at Leghorn, Castellamare and Adriaticoc.

From X14.

The Swiss Consul at Cologne has reported that 200,000 citizens are being evacuated from Cologne. An excellent source has informed Wight that the Germans have produced new long range flame thrower through using powder of aluminum content.
