Other physical characteristics:

Personal characteristics and hobbies: Scion of an old Eifel industrial family, as a young man already a leading figure in the German iron industry. "Usually sparing in public pronouncements". Known for being glad & willing to give co-workers a free hand, giving them their chance generously & trustingly, but for demanding in return accomplishment & the respect of his subordinates. Good companion at work & sport, which he still engages in today.

Criminal record:

Other remarks: One of the men to whom Germany^{industry} owes its high state of development. Prototype of these German leaders of heavy industry who from their first breath could not think in terms other than national. Commands the labor of hundreds of thousands, sits on countless Boards of Directors of cartels & syndicates, fills numerous honorary positions, is neither autocrat nor "schleibaren" (shoddy industrial baren), as he is frequently caricatured. Was chairman of the steel trust of the iron industry until they went out of existence. One of founders of International Raw Steel Co. & of International Rail Cartel (Tema). Responsible for smooth relationships within the iron producing industry, & its relationships to the processing industry. Result of these efforts is "Avis" Agreement which is still in effect. As late as 1939 was leader of the German delegation at the German-English economic conferences in Duesseldorf. Always interested in maximum P.T.O.

(continued): production he was not only open to all technical innovations but also to political demands. Thus was one of the determined opponents of the "tribute paying" policy and more than once opposed it in public. The concern for national health & a corresponding social policy he always considered as something which was to be taken for granted. Under his energetic direction the production of domestic ores, as for example, in the Pertena Mine in Salzgitter region was increased. Went with great energy at the task set posed by the 4-year plan & by the requirements of arming the nation. Not only the driving force in the plants of his own trust, but in the entire iron industry. (CID #14724, taken from Der Deutsche Volkswirt, September 12, 1941).
